CRUELTY CASES IN CITY COURT

Baggageman Worked Hired Horse so Hard It Had to Be Shot.

CHARLES BAKER FINED

It was S. P. C. A. day in the city court this morning and Judge De-Meza gave over an hour to the consideration of four cases brought before him by Mrs. S. G. VanHoesen, the society's agent. Convictions were secured in all cases, but only one fine was imposed, the other three being allowed to go on suspended sentence.

Joseph Darby drove a horse with a collar sore, belonging to the United States Express Company; but said that he did not know anything about the sore until the patrolman, which called his attention to the matter, as he did not hook up the horse, the stableman doing that. Sentence was suspended in his case.

Charles Baker borrowed a horse from Jacob Voehl one day last week, and sent one of his drivers after a big load of trunks. Chief Kiely saw the horse trying to pull the load up a hill, and noticed that he was weak and emaciated, and that he had a bad sore on his neck. Baker said that he did not know the horse was in such bad condition, as he had not hitched it up himself, but the court decided that he had had several complaints previously about Baker, he would fine him $5, with the privilege of spending twenty days at the county jail, if he preferred. Baker paid.

William Willis pleaded guilty to driving a horse with a sore on his back, but said that he had been treating the horse, and had been doing so for several weeks, taking the best of care of him. The Judge let him go on a suspended sentence.

Walter Thompson hired a horse from Mrs. Jennie Peterson, of 321 Berckman street, to use on his baggage wagon. When he hired the horse Mrs. Peterson said that it was thin, but was in good condition. When he returned it the horse could not stand up, and had to be shot, according to witnesses called in the case. Thompson proved that the horse had been fed properly, but it was brought out that in the judgment of witnesses the horse had been overworked. Thompson was given a lecture and sentence was suspended on his case with the understanding that if he came back again, he would get a stiff sentence.

Henry Frisbie and Edward Fitzgerald were fined $5 for mixing it up with their fists in the alley alongside the Plainfield theatre, last Saturday night.

HUSKY YOUNG WOMEN APPEAR AT PROCTOR'S

The decadent idea that strenuous athletic sports are not meant for the fair sex is receiving a rude jolt at Proctor's theatre, this week, in the daily performance of five sturdy young women who are winding their way around the vaudeville circuit under the title of, "Will Roehm's Athletic Girls." The young women in the troupe are the Misses Edna Howard, the Bothner Twins, Aidah Chrysie and Beth Roehm. Their performance consists of boxing, wrestling, fencing, bag-punching and similar stunts that demand judgment of distance, quickness and superlative condition.

Included in the excellent program is a comedy play, by Maud Parker & Company; Smith & Garnier, juggling stunts; Barrett & Bayne, singers and laugh producers, and Elvia Bates, a comedienne.

ROUNDSMAN AND BRACE OF COPS SURROUND A BLACK CAT

Patrolman Thomas Flatley was patrolling his beat at the corner of Plainfield avenue and West Third street early this morning when he heard a suspicious noise in Wilson's grocery store. As there have been complaints about petty thefts there, he thought it best to make sure of capturing his quarry in the act, and he telephoned to police headquarters for re-enforcements. Roundsman Higgins and Patrolman Dobson went post-haste to the place, took advantageous positions where they could watch all sides of the building for a possible escape, and then one of the officers entered the building, through a cellar door which was open. When he reached the store he found the cause of the noise.

It was a big black cat.

EIGHTY-ONE, BUT SHE IS HALE ENOUGH FOR A PARTY

Mr. Charles Gaskill and son, Arthur, gave a birthday party last evening to Mrs. Elizabeth Burdick. Mrs. Burdick has just passed her eighty-first birthday. She is still hale and hearty.

A goodly number were present last evening to congratulate Mrs. Burdick and to wish her "many happy returns." Mrs. Burdick was the recipient of many and varied gifts.

EXPRESS THEIR GRIEF

A member of the faculty, an alumnus and an undergraduate will comprise the committee.

SCHOOL HEADS DRAFT CALENDAR FOR YEAR

At the meeting of the North Plainfield Board of Education, held in the Somerset School building, last night, the working calendar for the ensuing year was drafted and Supervising Principal Vossler presented a new course of study for the first six grades. The latter will be taken up in detail at a special meeting to be held Monday evening, October 7.

Objections was made to the continuing of the single session for the fifth and sixth grade pupils. It was claimed that one session, without a long intermission, was too great a strain on the health of a growing child, so it is probable that the pupils in these grades will soon be compelled to attend school in the morning from 9 o'clock to 11:45, returning for the afternoon session at 1 o'clock, to be dismissed again at 2:30.

Prominent among the changes in the calendar, covering activites for the next terms, is the addition of the annual prize speaking contest, to be held May 29. Rewards in the shape of gold coins will be given to the girl and boy orator named the winner by a committee of judges to be appointed. These prizes will undoubtedly be donated by citizens of North Plainfield. The complete schedule follows:

FOURTH WARD MOOSE TO NAME GREENLEAF

Voters from the Fourth ward submitted the name of George E. Greenleaf as councilmanic nominee to the exectutive committee of the Progressive League, at a meeting of that body held in their headquarters in North avenue, last night. He was heartily endorsed and will be nominated by petition on the Bull Moose ticket.

Mr. Greenleaf is a mechanical engineer at the Pond Machine Tool Company's plant and is extremely popular with the men in the Fourth ward. He has been active in the Bull Moose campaign and has consented to make the run. His opponents will be Francis J. Blatz, a lawyer, who is on the Republican ticket, and Frank Cullen, a grocer, the Democratic choice.

The local Bull Moose ticket is now complete, excepting for city treasurer, tax collector and Third ward councilman, for which no nominations will be made. This is their ticket: For mayor, G. W. V. Moy: for freeholder, A. M. Morrell; for ward councilmen—First, A. D. Edgar; Second, Stanley E. Gunnison; Fourth, George E. Greenleaf.

An enthusiast from the East End section made a canvass of the voters living in that vicinity to see how they stood on their choice for President. The result, he reported, showed 28 in favor of Roosevelt; Wilson, 16; Taft, 5, and three citizens undecided.

MARTINE AS AN ELECTION ORACLE

Senator Says Taft Will Run Second, Roosevelt Third, in the Race.

AIDS DILTS CAMPAIGN

Under the direction of the National Democratic Committee, United States Senator James E. Martine, of this city, is speaking daily on behalf of Wilson and Marshall. Yesterday, he paused long enough to make a prediction. It is that Woodrow Wilson will receive the largest popular and the largest electoral vote ever given to any nominee for the Presidency. Despite all the "hurrah" talk of the Bull Moosers, the Senator says, William Howard Taft has a good chance of winning second place. He discounts the Progessives' claims, declaring that "the Roosevelt people are talking louder, but the Taft people are thinking harder."

The Senator added that he considered Mr. Taft the noblest type of a true gentleman and a God-fearing man but that he was not cut out for the Presidency and that his proper place is in the judiciary. Mr. Taft, he stated, is too weak and too gentle for the Presidential office.

Last night, Senator Martine spoke at Trenton and tonight he addresses a Democratic club at Union Square, New York. His assignment for tomorrow night is at Newton, Sussex county. Thursday afternoon will find him at the Trenton Fair, and on Friday night he will speak before the Men's club of fashionable Grace church, New York.

Although the National campaign is occupying most of his time these days, the Senator said yesterday that he is very much interested in the local campaign and hopes to see the municipal and ward candidates of the Democrats sweep the city. He predicts Stewart's election to the mayoralty and is so much concerned over J. V. F. Dilts' fight for the tax collectorship that he resorts to the advertising column today to give out a bit of his correspondence in the hope that it will aid Mr. Dilts.

SERVICE SR RELIABILITY

A Prominent Politician Said to Me, "We Should Have More Confidence In Each Other."

But he forgets that confidence is a plant of slow growth.

He forgets that to ASK for it, is to LOSE it.

He forgets that only those who EARN it, ever GAIN it. The men of Plainfield have confidence in my store, not because I ASKT them to—oh, no!

But because suit after suit I have demonstrated, proved, shown that nowhere are garments STYLED and PRICED as I style and price mine. Nowhere do you get better service than at my new men's wear shop.

And so, Mr. Politician, don't whine about a lack of confidence. Go out and earn it, deserve it, be worthy of it—and it will come your way all right, all right.

AMERICAN HEIRESS BRIDE OF A BRITISH PEER'S SON

New York, Oct 1 (Special).—An international love romance somewhat out of the ordinary culminated in the marriage today of Miss Antoinette Hecksher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Hecksher, of this city, and the Hon. Oliver Sylvain Baliol Brett, eldest son and heir of Viscount Escher of England. The wedding took place in Win Coma, the county estate of the bride's parents at Huntington, L. I. The bride had Mrs. Drelincourt Martin as matron of honor and the only attendant. Cyril Stephenson, a countryman of the bridegroom, was best man. The engagement of the couple was first announced more than a year ago. Some months later society was surprised to learn that the engagement had been broken. Mr Brett was quite ill for some time, and after his recovery he was seen frequently with Miss Hecksher's brother and other members of the family during his former fiancee's absence in Europe. But there was never any suggestion of the engagement being renewed until the cable announced some two or three weeks ago that Mr. Brett had sailed for New York to claim his bride. Mr. Brett is the eldest son of Viscount Escher. The title is a recent one, having been conferred on Mr. Brett's grandfather in 1885. The bride of today will inherit a fortune of many millions from her father. She is highly cultivated, has traveled much, and is actively interested in the woman suffrage movement.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS.

JUSTIFIES HIS CHOICE.

(From the Baltimore Sun.)

A correspondent tells us, apropos that recent slighting reference to Senatore Martine, of New Jersey, in the letter column of the Sun, that whatever may be said of Senator Martine's ability, compared with that of some of those intellectual giants in the Senate, this much may be said: that he is one of the hardest working members of the present Congress, that he rarely misses a roll call and that he has invariably voted right on all progressive measures that have come before the Senate. That, we may be reasonably assured, is more than could have been said of "Jim" Smith had the latter been elected instead of Mr. Martine. Consequently it may reasonably be argued that the Legislature of New Jersey was justified in electing Martine, and Governor Wilson was justified in supporting him before the Legislature. And the same thing applies with reference to Governor Wilson's support of Hughes, who was nominated for United States Senator by the Democrats of New Jersey yesterday. Hughes is a fearless Irishman, thoroughly imbued with the doctrines of progressive Democracy, a man who has shown his sympathy with the working people of his State and country and who, if elected, can be counted on to support enthusiastically the promises of the Democratic platform. When the tariff bills of the next Congress are under consideration, Senator Hughes will not help to mutilate the Administration measures or by any act of his cause President Wilson to speak of "party perfidy and party dishonor."

END POLLUTION OF THE LAKES.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 1 Special).—The international joint commission on waterways met in this city today for what is regarded as the most important session that has yet been held by that body. The chief purpose of the meeting is to formulate a program for the investigation of the pollution of the great lakes and other boundary waters between the United States and Canada. This question, in the opinion of officials of the two governments, has become the most pressing of all problems affecting the welfare of the people of the two countries.

Plainfield, N. J., October 1, 1912.

THE "PRODIGALS."

Our fellow townsman, United States Senator James E. Martine, says in our news columns today that President Taft personally is a loveable man, and as he adds, he is too gentle to be the chief magistrate. No one who comes in personal contact with Mr. Taft can help but like him, but the fact is, that the President is not so gentle as he is made to appear. Harken unto his edict of banishment for the Progressives and all who do not agree with the course pursued at the National Republican convention: "If they are not Republicans, throw them out. No half baked Republicanism or wavering half way business should be tolerated within the ranks." By this order, put in effect, former Governor E. C. Stokes and thousands of other good men would be cast out of the party. But the more mightier fact is that to excommunicate, rather than to convert, is a bad course for any party to pursue. If any within the ranks are really heretics, show them the error of their way. Mr. Taft would "throw them out" and at the same time he would go about the country appealing for the support of those probably never identified with his party. Is this not inconsistent? Mr. Taft has been viewed as a broad, big, well meaning man and statesman. Better be it by far, to take to the hustings and appeal for the return of the prodigal sons of the great Republican party.

POLLING PLACES.

Much money is wasted at primary and general elections, and there is little if any excuse for some of the expenditures. Take for instance the hiring of vacant stores and halls as polling places on Election Day. Why should that be done when in many, many cases, a school house or other public building is available for the purpose? In North Plainfield, for example, there are two school buildings properly located for the holding of elections, but instead of resorting to them, the election authorities pay out the people's money by renting private property.

The same condition applies in Plainfield and for that matter all over the country. Election day is a holiday and consequently the schools are closed. Then why not save the taxpayers' money by designating them as polling places? There may be some room for argument as the merits of the claim of Woodrow Wilson and other leaders among men that the school house should be the gathering place for political debates and mass meetings. There can be none as to its use for primary and general elections.

Now that Mayor Moy has consented to become the candidate of the Progressives for a re-election, we may expect a lively campaign, and when he gives an account of his stewardship at cart-tail meetings and at mass meetings undoubtedly some interesting things will be told. His is the strongest possible sort of a nomination for the mayoralty and we misjudge the calibre of the voting population should he fail of election.

J. Hervey Doane went into the Republican party primaries as a candidate for a Freeholder nomination. That he was fairly and honestly beaten is unquestionable. Therefore, how can he consistently run for election as an independent candidate? There is such a thing as true American sportsmanship in politics and Mr. Doane would have won more friends by accepting his defeat gracefully.

It is now assured that the Plainfield Kennel Club's fourth annual bench show on Saturday, October 12, will be the largest in the club's history. The entry lis, was closed last night and now all that remains to make the exhibition a grand success is good weather on that day.

Charley Murphy is one of those who has survived the assaults against bossism, but concentrated and persistent fire of an united Metropolitan press should make him a political corpse in a very short while.

Jack Johnson is a Wilson rooter, while Lanky Bob Fitzsimmons and John L. Sullivan are Roosevelt shouters. That's natural; the colored champion does not want to be identified with the "has-beens."

No, no, dear misguided one, that handsome new library building in Elizabeth was not donated by Charles Newell Fowler, of pie-crust promise fame. Aren't you ever going to forget it?

Like President Taft, Governor Johnson is a baseball fan. Roosevelt is a tennis enthusiast. The only sport Governor Wilson seems to enjoy is knocking out political bosses.

The sight of 5,000 men marching in the Holy Name Society parade here next Sunday should be an object lesson to those who use profanity.

Practical One Piece Dresses For the Coming Season.

Many practical one piece dresses for fall will be in navy, seal brown, taupe and black, always with some touch of color in the girdles, cuffs, collars and buttons. Navy blue may have cerise.

For evening the hair is dressed flat and close to the head, and a large aigret or beaded band with drooping ornaments is worn or an arrangement of gauze that looks like a turban and is trimmed with ostrich plumes.

The glowing rosy pink, which must be worn with discretion, but which is most chic, is loveliest in taffeta. If you cannot wear a solid dress of this gay color you can have a belt or bow.

Every variation of the Norfolk idea is smart this autumn. Here is a girl's costume combining a Norfolk blouse with a box plaited skirt which can be used for both street and home wear.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

USING GREEN TOMATOES.

GREEN tomatoes may be used in making many nice pickles and preserves.

Green tomatoes may be ripened if picked from the vine and laid in the sun until they reddeu.

Nice For Breakfast.

Fried Green Tomatoes.—Take firm green tomatoes and cut them into half inch slices. Roll in salted and peppered flour. Heat a mixture of half butter, half lard, in a frying pan. Lay in the floured tomatoes and fry rather slowly, turning once. Take up with a skimmer and drain. Serve on a hot platter. Garnish with bacon.

Cheap For Pies.

A mincemeat which is a good substitute for the more elaborate and richer preparation generally used may be made with green tomatoes.

Green Tomato Mincemeat. — Mince two pounds of green tomatoes fine and mix with four pounds of light brown sugar. Boil for two hours. Mix with this one-quarter of a pound of cleaned and seeded raisins and the same of cleaned currants, one-half cupful of vinegar, one-half teaspoonful each of cinnamon and cloves and juice of a lemon. Boil for five minutes after it begins to bubble and turn into fruit jars. Seal while hot.

Tempting Pickles.

Pickle of Green Tomatoes. — Take five pounds of green tomatoes. Cut them into slices a half inch thick. Let these stand in salt water for twenty-four hours. Drain and boil tender in clear fresh water. Drain all this off. Put the tomatoes into the pickling kettle and cover with a sirup made of two and one-quarter pounds of sugar, one-quarter pint of vinegar and one-half tablespoonful of cloves and cinnamon. Boil together for a minute before pouring over the tomatoes in the kettle. Cover closely and cook for five minutes. Turn into air tight fruit jars and seal while hot.

A Nice Relish.

Green Tomato Chowchow.—Take a gallon each of green tomatoes, chopped; cabbage, tiny cucumbers, green sweet corn cut from cob, ripe cucumbers, seeds which have been chopped; one-half gallon each of string beans, chopped; small onions, lima beans, four bunches celery, cut small; one head cauliflower, one dozen pickled mangoes, chopped; one quart diced carrots, one pint nasturtium seeds.

Parboil the string beans, onions and carrots. Put the ripe cucumbers in salted water, cook the lima beans tender and mix together.

Put five pounds granulated sugar into one and three-quarter gallons of vinegar, salt to taste. Add two tablespoonfuls mixed spices, ground; four ounces ground mustard, two ounces ground mustard seed, one ounce celery seed. Let this boil. Add the chopped vegetables and cook twenty minutes.

For the Children

There are many time honored ways of peeping into the future on Halloween, such as paring apples, roasting chestnuts, the apple seed game and many more, too numerous to mention. All are supposed to foretell with more or less accuracy what the future holds in store for the players. Perhaps the lucky candle game is as good a fortune teller as any other.

For this game provide a large tub of water and small candles for those who wish to try their luck. The candles are mounted on bits of wood by means of a pin or thin nail driven through it. Each player then launches his little boat, and the candles are all lighted as quickly as possible. The owner of the candle that burns the longest will be the luckiest guest of the party. The good luck is supposed to remain with the fortunate winner for the ensuing year.

The Game of Gossip.

The game of gossip is played thus: One of the company invents and writes down a short, striking narrative, say in about a dozen lines. This he reads to himself carefully and then folds away out of sight. Taking the person on his left side, he repeats to him as accurately as he can what he has written.

Number two repeats this to number three, and so it passes round till it reaches the last player. The last person recites the story, and it is then compared with the original record. It is never the same, and the variations are generally very amusing.

Thus one end of a row gave:

"All over Dublin homes it is written eloquently cross the American Atlantic monthly because a suffering freedman is about to take the life of Snobbs, who has given permission and a fortune of £50,000."

While the original document was:

"Oliver Wendell Holmes, who has written so eloquently in the American Atlantic Monthly for the cause of the suffering freedmen, is about to relate the life of Snobbs, who has a commission and a fortune of £15,000."—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Three Glasses.

Take three glasses, one of which shall contain clear water, one soapy water, the other nothing. Blindfold one of the party and lead him or her to the table on which the glasses are arranged. With the left forefinger she or he tries to dip into one of the glasses. Should it be the empty dish she will remain single; if into soapy water, she will marry a widower; if into clean water, her husband will be young and handsome.

Alphabet Pumpkin.

In a doorway hang a pumpkin on whose fat, yellow sides you have previously burned the outlines of all the letters of the alphabet with a hot poker.

While some one keeps the pumpkin rapidly twirling let all the guests take turns hurling long meat skewers at the pumpkin. Whoever succeeds in stabbing a letter may be assured that that letter will be the initial of his fate.

Bobbing For Apples.

In bobbing for apples the hands of the contestants are tied behind them. In the heart of each apple a name may be placed, carefully incased in tin foil. Each player draws two apples with his teeth from the tub of water in which they are floating. The apples should be without stems. If you do not care to go to the trouble of putting a name in the apple, cut an initial in the skin.

SOME EGG FIGURES.

The following is taken from the current issue of Farm and Fireside: "Chanticleer may well crow with gusto for Biddy these days, in view of her industrial performance. Ten years ago our annual home-produced egg allowance per capita was 207, which had a market value of $1.86, or 9 cents each. The last census report gives the annual per capita egg allowance a decade later as 200, but the value of each egg had advanced to 1.7 cents, or our egg-supply for the year cost each of us $3 40. Collectively, our American biddies filled a sizable egg-basket containing eighteen billion eggs. These eggs would require 6,500 full-capacity freight-cars to transport them to market."

FOUGHT A PYTHON

EXCITING BATTLE FOR LIFE.

Plucky and Successful Struggle to Escape the Embrace of the Writhing Monster, Which Would Have Crushed Its Victim Like an Eggshell.

Few men after having been roughly squeezed by a python have lived to tell of their sensations while in the embrace of the big snake. An Englishman employed in the London zoological gardens was, however, one of the fortunate few.

The Britisher while in Antwerp visited the Jardin Zoologique, where he observed that a big python—a female about fourteen feet in length—was suffering from caries of the jaw, with ulceration of the mucous membrane, a condition often fatal to snakes in confinement.

Having pointed this out to the resident director, the Englishman obtained permission to make trial of an ointment that he had found efficacious in the early stage of the disease among his own snakes.

Now, as ill luck would have it, the regular keeper was absent on this particular occasion, and his place was filled for the time by another from some other department of the institution. This man spoke nothing but Flemish, a tongue of which the Briton was ignorant.

The Englishman went into the python's den with this attendant, taking it for granted, of course, that the man was accustomed to snakes and handing him the box of ointment to hold until the Briton should be ready to use it.

When the Englishman had brought the python fairly down to the floor he gripped her hard by the neck, which action had the effect, as he intended it to have and which it always has with snakes, of making her open her mouth While holding her thus he pressed her head away from him at the same time to prevent her catching hold of any portion of his clothing in her efforts to overcome him.

In her fright and rage she drew her body up across the Britisher's back and twisted her tail round and round his other arm. All that the Englishman now required of the keeper was, by teasing or pinching her here and there or by unwinding the tail when necessary, to cause her to shift her coils constantly and prevent her resting long enough on one spot to apply undue pressure.

The Englishman turned to make a sign to the Fleming to be ready to hand him the ointment. To the foreigner's dismay the Fleming's face, with a sort of full, impartial interest, looked at him through the glass in front, the door closed on the outside! He had become frightened by the python and had quietly departed.

At the same instant that the Britisher turned the serpent tightened on him so suddenly and violently that he momentarily lost consciousness. Then he found himself staggering about the den fighting for life. He expected his ribs to give way every moment, yet his chief fear at the time was of falling through the glass.

He pushed the reptile's head away from him with all his strength lest it should cross his breast, and he can remember catching sight of himself, a mulberry colored figure, in the mirror All the time that he fought he knew that he was trampling over the other pythons, who, furious at the disturbance, were now darting about the den above and all around him in every direction.

The Britisher exerted every energy to keep his feet, for he had retained sufficient presence of mind to realize that were he to go down all would be over with him. The heat was stifling. He felt that he could endure it no longer. The cage spun madly round before his eyes, and he let go the snake's head.

The big serpent now twisted sharply over his right shoulder close to his face and slid off to the ground.

The Englishman remembers falling against the door with outstretched hands, but nothing more until he found himself sitting on the steps outside coughing violently, while the phlegmatic keeper was for some occult reason putting a hot key down his back.

Fortunately the snake had only a small part of her body across the Englishman's left side and back. Had she encircled him with a complete coil he would have been crushed like an eggshell.—Harper's Weekly.

Dieting the Seals.

"Why have the seals been put on reduced rations?" was the first question put by the new assistant at the aquarium.

"To keep them from getting too fat," he was told. "Of all specimens in the aquarium none takes on flesh so rapidly as the seals. If their diet was not cut down when signs of obesity appear they would soon get so fat that they couldn't swim."—New York Times.

Home of Wisdom.

"I was just thinking about Diogenes."

"What of him?"

"Why not? It was probably a tub of axle grease setting on the front porch of some Athenian grocery."—Kansas City Journal.

BATTINS' OPENING GAME AT WESTFIELD

When Battin opens her football season with Westfield High School tomorrow she will be represented by as fine a team as any of the high schools in New Jersey. The squad is under the leadership of Captain Luster, a veteran of last year's crack team, and being tutored by Coach Harry Briton, a shining star in the Southern college field.

Priff, Luster, Briton, Walthon, Benners and Van Arsdale are all trying for back field positions. Priff, Capt. Luster and Van Arsdale are of last year's team and all three can be relied upon for good gains. Briton, a member of the All-interscholastic team of Ohio will undoubtedly play the pivot position.

On account of the large number trying for line positions it is impossible to pick the first string men as yet.

Wednesday, Oct. 2—Westfield H. S., at Elizabeth.
Saturday, Oct. 5—Jersey City H. S., at Elizabeth.
Saturday, Oct. 12—Roselle H. S., at Elizabeth.
Saturday, Oct. 19—Summit H. S., at Summit.
Wednesday, Oct. 23—Montclair Academy, at Elizabeth.
Wednesday, Oct. 30—Somerville H. S., at Somerville.
Saturday, Nov. 2—Rutgers Prep. School, at New Brunswick.
Tuesday, Nov. 5—Battin Alumni, at Elizabeth.
Saturday, Nov. 9—Rahway H. S., at Rahway.
Thursday, Nov. 28—Pingry School, at Pingry Oval.

JUST TAPS BY "BUNTS"

That was quite a debut which Lewis Bowlby made against the Dunellenites last Saturday afternoon. It is seldom that a youngster of his experience scores such a win as that one on his first appearance. Even if Case had shown up, it is doubtful if [illegible] would have done any better.

Any [illegible] that needs baseball to keep [illegible] alive must have enough nourish[illegible]ent stored up by this time to last [illegible] all winter.

Nev[illegible] before has there been so many [illegible]ms in Plainfield and everyone s[illegible] to have his own little band of fol[illegible]ers.

Wh[illegible]er conditions tend to make our [illegible]ing instincts turn more towa[illegible] football at this time of the sea[illegible] however. In some places there [illegible]ill be seen a football game on one [illegible] and a ball game on the adjoin[illegible] field. Two attractions of a diffe[illegible]nt nature have it on to a three-ring [illegible]ircus.

N[illegible]ark's barnstorming trip was a litt[illegible] disastrous to the reputation of Man[illegible]ger Dorflinger's Pets. But, then, the Iron man did the heaving, so that's a consolation in itself. He is noted for shattering "reps."

Dunel[illegible]n got the worst end of the deal at t[illegible]e tin can diamond at Bound Brook Saturday afternoon. Those who have witnessed games played on the Main street diamond this summer will agree that the most dangerous spot at or near the baseball field is the roof of that shack in centre field. Anyone who squats there is liable to get bounded on the head by one of those home run clouts similar to Harter's, which occur frequently.

On paper the teams appear to be exceptionally well matched.

A number of Sunday-school league players are scouting around the town with a look that makes you sink down into your pockets and keep a hand on your keys if you haven't any loose coin about. It is said that they are taking up voluntary contributions to purchase a (silver) trophy for Monroe Avenue.

We might suggest that it would be better to purchase something that is undentable. There is sure to be a scrap over it.

No school for the Boroughites because of the cold! Well, it is bound to be chilly over in Canada this time of the year anyway.

Some bright schoolboy has just discovered the fact that Columbus Day falls on Saturday this year. It certainly is tough to be cheated out of a holiday, and during the World series, too.

We will have to celebrate in some way however. It might be a good thing to hold a session Saturday just to do something out of the ordinary for Christopher.

HOLY CROSS CLUB WILL REORGANIZE

Borough Athletic Association Will Place Some Old-Time Teams on Field.

Those who followed athletics during the years of 1906-7 will recall a faction of athletes in this city who led in every branch of organized sport and which numbered among its members some of the finest football, baseball and basketball players in this section of the State. All of this vast number of sport lovers were banded together under the name of the Holy Cross Boys' Club and many prominent men in this city and borough gave up a large amount of their time and money to the support of the widely known organization. Since the club disbanded in 1908 a number of the members have clung together and put teams on the field and played under the old name. There has been one drawback to this independent playing, however, and that was the difficulty those interested had in obtaining sufficient backing.

Since the organization of the football team for this year those connected with the Holy Cross church have suggested a reorganization of the long disbanded club and a movement is at present on foot which will probably bring this end about before much more time elapses. Although the club has been out of existence for nearly four years it would not be difficult at present to band the members together again and effect an athletic enrollment which would be hard to duplicate.

Rev. M. Coy, of the Holy Cross parish, has promised to lend his efforts to produce the necessary organization and without doubt the club will be made a reality before the end of this week.

GRIDIRON PUNTS

There was enough variety in Saturday's game at Cricket Field to indicate that all sorts of things are possible under the new code of rules but there was practically nothing pulled off Saturday afternoon to attest either one way or another what the new rules are going to do for football.

The additional down looks as though it will prove a big advantage to the elevens of the stronger class and will give the weaker or light teams an opportunity to make something like a real attack.

When the new rules were made there was some criticism in regard to them on the grounds that the day of the smaller and lighter elevens had passed, but as far as it applies to the Holy Cross team, there does not appear to be a whole lot of truth in it. The church team is one of the lightest turned out in years and although their attack has scarcely been developed as yet, what is being planned along that line has not been disclosed.

It looks like a safe bet, however, that "Doc" Hamilton is due to make some substitutions before the hard game scheduled with the St. Alphonsus eleven for next Saturday afternoon.

Hamilton appears to have given close attention this year to formations back of the line for the rushing game, simple as these formations may be for the most part.

Holy Cross appears to have a surplus of good booters and this department of the game can be ably handled by either Coyle, Nash or Wilson.

The coaching department of the Plainfield High School team is putting on the finishing touches for the opening game which is due to come off on the twelfth of next month.

It is a good thing that N. P. H. S. has no representative gridiron team this fall as they would have practically no time to get into condition. The boroughites are holding an afternoon session now in order to avoid freezing to death by going in the morning.

We might suggest that they get an eleven up to play the P. H. S. freshmen who also go to school in the afternoon. It ought to be a pretty even fight, at that.

JUNIORS WIN INTERCLASS N. P. H. S. TENNIS TROPHIES

The North Plainfield High School Junior Tennis team cinched the inter-class championship title yesterday by defeating the Seniors in the semi-finals and the Sophomores in the finals of the tournament. The winning team consists of Augustus Van-Deventer and Frank Dunning.

In the morning they handed defeat to the Seniors by 6-0, 5-7 and 6-1. Richard Underhill and Roy Herrmann played for the Seniors, but were unsteady in tight places. A large crowd of rooters witnessed this match. Professor Mertz acted as referee.

In the afternoon the Juniors met the Sophomores on the Park Club courts in the final round, the former winning three straight sets, 6-1, 6-4, 6-3. The Juniors used the same team that won from the Seniors and were opposed by Duclos Van Mater and Elmer French. The match was exciting throughout and at times the spectators were thrilled by the difficult shots made by the players. The champion team will receive a pair of twin tennis cups suitably engraved.

The school championship will be decided in a match between the Faculty and the Juniors.

FOOTBALL SATURDAY.

The Holy Cross Football team will play the St. Alphonsus Catholic Club of Brooklyn, on Cricket Field next Saturday afternoon. The boys regard this as one of the hardest games of the season and realize that they will have to keep on their toes all the time in order to finish winners. This is the team that played here two years ago under the name of the Emeralds and neither side succeeded in crossing the goal line.

HOLY CROSS PRACTICE.

Coach Hamilton has called for football practice on Cricket Field for this evening and all candidates are requested to be on hand as early as possible. After the signal drill a meeting will be held and a permanent captain elected.

TEMPLE A. A. MEETING

The Temple Athletic Association will meet tomorrow evening in the church to elect a new president for the association and a captain and a manager for the football team.

HELD STATE CONFERENCE OF ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

Trenton, Oct. 1.—George A. Mirick, assistant State Commissioner of Education in charge of elementary schools, yesterday conducted a conference with principals of elementary schools, getting at their ideas and imparting his own regarding the conduct of such schools, course of study, text books and kindred matters. The results of the conference will be issued by the State in a monograph for the guidance of all elementary school principals in New Jersey.

Besides Mr. Mirick the conferees were: Misses Margaret McCloskey, of Newark; Arrietta Sayler and Kate D. Stout, of Trenton; Emma Campbell, of Jersey City; Edith M. Tufts, of Metuchen, and Mary L. Neer, of Camden.

ABSINTHE UNDER BAN.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 1 (Special).—The United States today joined the list of nations that have placed a ban on absinthe on the ground that it is injurious to health. In conformity with an order issued last July by the Board of Food and Drug Inspection the beverage is barred from the country from this date. The order prohibits its importation, interstate shipment or sale.

BOOM FOR GLYNN MAKING HEADWAY

Said Murphy Is Prepared to Drop Dix.

TREMAN TALK IS HEARD.

Ithaca Man's Name Frequently Mentioned—Support of Governor Wilson Proving a Handicap to Dowling. O'Gorman Heads Committee Drafting Platform.

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 1.—When the Democratic state convention met today it was the general impression that Charles F. Murphy, the state leader, had decided to let down gracefully the plan to renominate Governor John A. Dix. Murphy, with other leaders of the party, quartered in a spacious apartment in the Onondaga hotel, had listened for hours to the statement of delegates that Governor Dix could not be elected. Friends of the governor were just as insistent that he could easily defeat his two Republican opponents.

It was just one Niagara torrent that the Democrats of the state believe Governor Dix to be weak personally and politically, and in the event of his renomination the Democratic ticket in all the counties would be swamped on election day.

In another spacious headquarters not far from these leading Democrats sat in the same hotel Democrats like Senator O'Gorman, State Senator Robert F. Wagner and others framing a platform on which to go before the voters of the state in the approaching campaign, and the keystone and arch and foundation of this platform were the performances of the Democratic party in the state under the Dix administration. This curious anomaly was remarked by those who do not care a button whether Governor Dix is renominated or not.

Dix's Secretary Confident.

John A. Mason, Governor Dix's secretary, said: "Governor Dix expects a renomination. He stands on his record. It is an honorable record that the Democratic party can look upon with satisfaction."

With every Democrat save the little band of Governor Dix's office holders believing that Governor Dix has been eliminated from the situation by testimony of delegates and county leaders, there is a complication over the situation concerning Supreme Court Justice Victor J. Dowling. Democrats here have interpreted Governor Wilson's statement to be an attack on the Democratic state organization as represented by Charles F. Murphy, and they resent it as contrary to the spirit of home rule. The rumor that Governor Wilson, while not expressing a preference in the matter of gubernatorial candidates, rather favors Justice Dowling has rather militated against the success of Justice Dowling on the ground that Governor Wilson has attempted to dictate to the Democratic state organization.

State delegates and county leaders and a majority of those who sat in the conference declared that with Governor Dix eliminated from the situation an up state Democrat must be selected, and Charles E. Treman of Ithaca was urged as the type of a Democrat those in the conference desired.

The result of conferences of leaders is that both Governor Dix and Justice Dowling have been eliminated as candidates for governor. There is more talk of Martin H. Glynn than at any time before. Tremain and Glynn are far in the forefront of possibilities for the gubernatorial nomination.

WILSON-DIX LETTERS.

Presidential Candidate Doesn't Recall Praising New York Governor.

Sea Girt, N. J., Oct. 1.—Governor Wilson returned to Sea Girt from Atlantic City by automobile, and, having had more luck on the journey than did the reporters who followed him, he was in excellent humor.

When some one read to him the statement of Chairman Barnes of the New York state Republican committee characterizing him as a boss of the same stripe as Roosevelt and Murphy he laughed heartily and dismissed the subject without further comment.

But when there was shown to him the statement of Governor Dix in which the impression was set forth that the presidential candidate's personal letters to the New York executive express a different attitude toward the candidacy of Mr. Dix than has been indicated in the press the governor was not so jovial. He intimated that the statement of Governor Dix surprised him and told the reporters he had no recollection of having written any letters to Mr. Dix in which he had expressed any opinion as to what he thought of the administration of the New York governor.

MARTIN H. GLYNN.

HARRIMAN LETTERS SHOW T. R. FRIENDLY

Financier Was Consulted Regarding Appointments.

Washington, Oct. 1.—A complete record of the correspondence between the late E. H. Harriman and Mr. Roosevelt was laid before the senate investigating committee from the letter file of the late railroad man. These letters not only strengthened the impression of the general close relations existing at one time between Mr. Harriman and Mr. Roosevelt in regard to "government matters," but showed that the financier was consulted by Mr. Roosevelt on several occasions in regard to appointments. One of these appointments seems to have been a cabinet officer. Another involved the governorship of Arizona and the chief justiceship of the supreme court in that state.

Mr. Harriman was opposed to the appointment of B. A. Fowler as governor of Arizona. He objected because he contended Mr. Fowler was a strong partisan of the Santa Fe railroad. Mr. Roosevelt did not see how he could avoid appointing him because he was committed to his candidacy and because Paul Morton, a Santa Fe man, was a member of his cabinet. Mr. Roosevelt assured Mr. Harriman, however, that he would "twist Fowler's neck as if he was a chicken the moment he found he was showing a particle of favor to the Santa Fe." Mr. Harriman persisted in his opposition to Fowler and he was not appointed.

The record of correspondence between Mr. Harriman and Mr. Roosevelt, beginning as far back as 1901, shows that Mr. Roosevelt himself was frequently urging the railroad man to come to the White House to dinners and lunches. There was nothing to indicate in the correspondence, as Colonel Roosevelt's recent statements have intimated, that Mr. Harriman himself was solicitous about interviews with him. The correspondence introduced in evidence throws no new light upon the controversy over the $250,000 Harriman contribution.

ADMITS HE SLEW HIS GRANDMOTHER

Paterson Youth Gets Twenty-one Year Sentence.

FIRED SHOT AT MOTHER.

Lester Snyder Attacked Grandmother and Mother While They Slept—Believed Assault Was Committed That He Might Come Into Inheritance.

Paterson, N. J., Oct. 1.—Called to trial upon indictments charging him with homicide in that he killed his grandmother and with assault for an attack on his mother, Lester E. Snyder, twenty-one years old, of this city recalled his pleas of not guilty and entered pleas of non vult to murder in the second degree and to the assault charge. Judge William Hughes passed sentence in such form that the youth will have to spend twenty-one years behind prison bars, and it may be that he will be there forty-two years.

On May 7 last Snyder shot his grandmother and mother. They were asleep when he fired on them. No motive for the attack was ever established. It was advanced as a possibility that he tried to kill the two so as to inherit their money, but as it was he had a liberal allowance.

Previous to the shooting Snyder's reputation was good. He had not quarreled with his relatives and was seemingly perfectly normal. He appeared to be moved by some unaccountable impulse on the night of the shooting. He was expected to advance insanity at the trial, which was to have begun, but he did not.

Justice Hughes then sentenced Snyder to not less than fifteen nor more than thirty years for causing the death of his grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Devoe. The assault case was then called, and again a plea of non vult was entered and accepted. On this charge the court sentenced Snyder to not less than six nor more than twelve years for the attack upon his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Snyder. The terms may not run concurrently.

POLICE AUTO HURTS THREE.

Machine Hits Pole, and Occupants Are Hurled Out and Injured.

Jersey City, N. J., Oct. 1.—Three persons were injured when an automobile police patrol attached to the city hall station skidded into an electric light pole at Henderson street near Newark avenue.

The automobile had started from the city hall, two blocks away, to take Annie Rose, who had been picked up in York street as intoxicated, to the women's prison at Oakland avenue. William Weil was driving, and with him sat Patrolman George Rissett, while in the body of the machine with the prisoner were Patrolmen John Rodgers and James Houseman.

The skidding was due to a wheel catching in the car tracks. When the machine hit the pole the three inside the car were hurled down and injured. Rodgers had his right arm broken. Weil's side was bruised, and the woman was cut on the head. They were taken to the City hospital in a patrol wagon.

Almost all of this money was spent by Senator Smith in advertising. Other statements filed were:

Sea Girt, N. J., Oct. 1.—The final day in Sea Girt for the members of Governor Wilson's family was enlivened by the marriage of Anna Collins, the faithful cook who has prepared the governor's meals throughout the summer, to Albert Weirman, a farmer living in the nearby village of Manasquan. Mr. Weirman brought vegetables to the Little White House throughout the summer.

Governor and Mrs. Wilson furnished the bride and bridegroom the governor's automobile, for their trip from the church to the railroad station in order to help their escape from rice throwing friends.

Camden Man Drowned in Creek.

Camden, N. J., Oct. 1.—William Knehr, forty-four years old, a barber, of this city, was drowned in Cooper creek, near State street bridge, in Philadelphia, by the capsizing of a bateau in which he was being rowed from a motorboat anchored in the stream. His body was recovered.

—"Here's where I feel I am going to be curtailed," remarked the tin can as a small boy approached with a dog.

SIR JOHN FRENCH.

WILSON INSINCERE IS CHARGED BY T. R.

Absurd to Denounce Tammany and Favor McTaggart.

Knoxville, Tenn., Oct. 1.—Western Tennessee gave Colonel Roosevelt a welcome comparable to that which he received in many of the western states. An immense crowd heard him in Chattanooga and heard him say it was absurd for Governor Wilson to denounce Tammany in the New York gubernatorial contest and have as his running mate Governor Marshall, a representative of the Taggart machine of Indiana. Of President Taft he said: "Mr. Taft says the Progressive platform is a crazy quilt. My answer is that the faults of our present industrial system are a real crazy quilt. And our intention is to rip them out piece by piece. So much for Mr. Taft."

Both in Chattanooga and Knoxville there are thousands of factory employees and it was their betterment in the way of legislation proposed in the Progressive platform that the colonel particularly discussed in his speeches.

One of the incidents of the day occurred at Chattanooga when the colonel, on his way to the train, stopped to address an overflow meeting. A winsome young girl, Miss Margaret Sauls, from the central high school, approached the colonel and presented him a rosette and ribbons of the high school colors.

"May I offer you," she said in her soft southern voice," the purple and gold colors of our school, which always win, and may they be your mascot this year."

GUARDS EJECT SUFFRAGETTES

Militant Ones Had Planned Demonstration Against Earl of Aberdeen.

Dublin, Oct. 1.—The militant suffragettes who have threatened to pester the Earl of Aberdeen, the viceroy of Ireland, on every possible occasion until Gladys Evans is released from prison made good their announced determination when the earl lectured at the Theatre Royal. However, they had not achieved more than a temporary interruption of his speech when they were seized by guards and forcibly ejected.

Gladys Evans, whose release her co-suffragettes are demanding, is under a sentence of five years for disturbances created in Dublin during the visit of Premier Asquith some months ago. Recently she has refused to eat—the customary remonstrance of the women—and consequently has been fed with a pump.

La Promenade des Toilettes

Decreed By the Famous Artist-Dressmakers of Paris Will Be Formally Presented

Tomorrow, October Second, by Gimbel Brothers

Fashion has turned to the Athens of centuries ago for inspiration.

This means a change from frivolous paniers to classic draperies—to the beautiful. Or, it might be said, to the perfection of draped modes.

This establishes the silhouette for the season 1912-13. How has Fashion interpreted it?

All the famous creators of modes have had a different vision—Paquin has modernized the Grecian idea in an exquisitely picturesque way, while the Callot Soeurs have again startled Paris with eccentric creations that show the mastery of their genius, and Paul Poiret has so closely adapted the draperies of the ancient Greeks that some of his gowns look quite like the raiment of the Goddesses.

Premet, the new sartorial star, has created such marvelous harmonies of color in her gowns that she is now one of the sensations of Paris.

But there is another artistic phase of the new modes that explains why each model is so truly beautiful—the glorious brocades inspired by those of the Period of Louis XIII. to Louis XVI., the soft shimmering satins, exquisite gold and silver embroideries, and rare laces.

As this is the Fashion Exhibition de Luxe of America—indeed, of the world, for not even in Paris is such a display possible—we shall present the notable models in

Costumes, Wraps and Furs

By

Paquin Worth Beer Drecoll Callot Poiret
Premet Bulloz Goupy Robert Bernard Agnes and the other Artist-Dressmakers of Paris

Every effort has been exercised to make this exhibition unrivaled—even by our previous displays. Our only instrutions to our Fashion Ambassadors were to bring us all the new modes—no matter how many—for this is the House of Fashions wherein each season Paris is virtually introduced to America.

But back of these endeavors stands an organization that is a power even in the French Capital—our Paris Bureau—which keeps us in intimate touch with Fashion throughout the year.

So that this Exhibition will be helpful, as well as interesting, we shall also present the new Accessories of Dress, and the Latest Paris Millinery

By Georgette, Lewis, Reboux, Louison and Other Modistes

The Promenade of the thirty beautiful women who will wear these new modes will be in a veritable Autumn garden—between 10 A. M. and 12 noon; and 2 and 4 P. M.—on the Eighth Floor.

We hope that we shall have the pleasure of your visit.

GIMBEL BROTHERS

TRIAL OF ALLEGED DYNAMITE PLOTTERS

Fifty-one Present — Former Labor Union Officials Are Involved.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 1 (Special).—The opening today of the trial against the fifty-one present or former officials of labor unions, on the charge of complicity in the so-called "dynamiting conspiracy," attracted a large crowd of spectators to the courtroom of Judge Albert B. Anderson, of the United States District Court. Long before the opening of the court every available seat in the court room was occupied and the corridor of the Federal building was filled with people who could not find space in the court room.

During the preliminaries to the opening of the session general interest centred in United States Senator John W. Kern, chief counsel for the defendants and District Attorney Charles W. Miller and his assistant, Clarence Nichols, who represent the Government in this trial. They were on hand promptly, apparently prepared for the fray. The fifty-one men facing trial occupied the places assigned to them. They did not seem to be worried and, before the court was formally opened, carried on an animated chat among themselves.

The defendents are indicted under a Federal statute forbidding the transportation of explosives on passenger trains and are charged with having been concerned in a nation-wide plot to destroy the property of contractors employing non-union ironworkers, culminating in the explosion in the Los Angeles Times building, which cost twenty-one lives. In its report of February 6 last the grand jury indicted fifty-four men, but of this number John J. and James B. McNamara are in San Quentin prison, California, and J. J. McCray, a former member of the executive board of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Ironworkers, has not been found by the Federal authorities. Most of the defendants are or have been connected with the ironworkers' association, which, since 1905, has been engaged in a struggle with the National Erectors' Association, an organization of structural steel and iron contractors employing non-union workmen. Members of this employers' association suffered loss from more than one hundred explosions from 1905 to 1911.

Following the arrest of John J. McNamara, secretary-treasurer of the Ironworkers' Association, at its headquarters in this city, and the arrest of James B. McNamara and Ortie M. McManigal in Detroit, in connection with the Los Angeles Times explosion, presentments were made to the Federal grand jury of this district that officials of the Ironworkers' Association and other labor unions had been concerned in a conspiracy to intimidate employers of unorganized labor by a systematic destruction of their property.

Ortie McManigal's confession, in which he related that he had been employed by the McNamara brothers and Herbert S. Hookin, acting secretary-treasurer of the Ironworkers' Association, to dynamite bridges and buildings in course of construction by non-union contractors, was the basis of the Governments' inquiry. McManigal has been brought here and is to be the principal witness for the Government in this trial. A mass of letters and other records, seized in a raid on the offices of the Ironworkers' Association, also will be offered as evidence of a general conspiracy secretly to convey dynamite and nitroglycerine from coast to coast in a campaign against employers of unorganized ironworkers.

Most prominent among the defendants are Frank M. Ryan, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Ironworkers; Herbert S. Hockin, acting secretary-treasurer and the alleged head of the "dynamiting crew;" John T. Buller, of Buffalo, first vice vice president; Michael J. Young, of Boston, and Philip A. Cooley, of New Orleans, members of the executive board; Olaf A. Tveitmoe, secretary of the Building Trades Council of California; William R. Benson, former president of the Detroit Federation of Labor; Clarence E. Dowd, organizer for the International Association of Machinists, and a number of minor officials of various other unions.

YOUNG FRIENDS' MEETING.

The first gathering of the Young Friends' Association of the season will be held at the home of Richard D. Williams, on Darrow avenue, tonight. Those who attended the recent Those who attended the recent Friends' General Conference at Chautauqua, N. Y., will give an account of the meetings.

CHRISTIANITY APPEALS TO ALL RACES OF WORLD

It was indeed a red-letter day at the First Baptist church Sunday. In the morning Dr. Strong preached one of his most powerful and stirring sermons since coming to Plainfield. His theme was taken from a verse pertaining to the inscription over the head of Christ (on the cross), John 19:20, "And it was written in Hebrew, in Latin and in Greek."

"The side lights in Scripture," Dr. Strong said, "are not only very interesting to the student, but have peculiar and vital significance in many instances. The Redeemer of the world came at just the psychological time to perform His mission—in the fullness of time, when the Roman roads, built by the Latin speaking people, made travel comparatively easy; the universal Greek language was a medium of communication between all the civilized races; and the everywhere-present Hebrew synagogue had disseminated a spirtual atmosphere among all men and paved the way for the coming of Him whom Heaven and earth unite to do homage. While these languages are in a sense termed 'dead languages,' they are still in another sense vastly more living than dead. Nothing that came into contact with the Christ can be dead. In three deathless languages were the words 'Jesus, King of the Jews,' inscribed over that peerless head. 'Where is he?' said Pilate. A man, a Hebrew of the Hebrews, descended from David on both sides, yet not half so much a Jew as a man. It is an interesting fact that in all the portrayals of the face of the Christ on the canvas by artists of whatever nationality, the same essential lineaments and general expression prevails, for is He not the Christ of the Englishman, the German, the Russian, the Chinese, the Indian—the Christ of the whole world? How fitting the inscription in Hebrew, in Latin and in Greek. The Greek race stands for culture, and culture must pay tribute to the Christ, or it is not culture. If all the culture in the world, made possible because of Him were consecrated to Him, what could not the church of God accomplish? Latin, the language of a nation, whose key-word was 'conquest.' Of all conquerors, the prince is He who is conquering the hearts of men, and before whom one day every knee shall bow. Hebrew, the language of worship, in which the words 'The Lord is my shepherd,' were written, and in which the devotions of a deathless race had for centuries gone up to God.

"Christ is the central figure of all education. Education without religion is not education. God is in all knowledge, and His providence reveals it all to mankind. If there is anything in the providence of certain inventions coming just at the time they did, there is providence in all the achievements of men. Every subject of human thought centers around the cross, and can only be rightly interpreted and applied insofar as its relation to the cross is borne in mind.

"In the cross of Christ I glory,
Towering o'er the wrecks of time;
All the light of sacred story,
Gathers round its head sublime."

START TRIAL OF I. W. W. LEADERS

Two Jurors Obtained After All Day Hearing.

CROWDS OUTSIDE COURT.

Rioting Renewed In Lawrence—Police Use Clubs on Agitators, Who Attack Mill Hands on Way to and From Work.

Salem, Mass., Oct. 1.—Two jurors were in their seats when the Essex county superior criminal court convened today to hear the evidence in the cases of Joseph Caruso as principal and Joseph Ettor and Arturo Giovannitti as accessories before the fact to the murder of Anna Lopezzi at Lawrence during a strike riot on Jan. 29 last.

The scenes in this city incident to the opening of the trial have never been equaled in this section before. Ettor and Giovannitti are leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World, and Caruso was a mill worker at Lawrence, and the excitement over the trial was felt all over the city. Crowds began early to move toward the court house on Federal street.

Around the courthouse was a large force of police. In the court premises were seventeen deputy sheriffs and seventeen constables.

No visitors were admitted into the courthouse. All the seats for lawyers and newspaper men were by assignment, and only those who held cards signed by Sheriff Johnson could get by the guards at the entrances.

Inside the counsel rail were Fred H. Moore of Los Angeles, Cal.; W. Scott Peters of Haverhill, Mass.; John P. S. Mahoney of Lawrence and George E. Roewer, Jr., of Boston, representing Ettor and Giovannitti; James H. Sisk of Lynn, attorney for Caruso, and District Attorney Harry C. Attwill, who is conducting the government's case. No witnesses had been summoned, as it was expected that the empaneling of the jury would not be completed for three or four days.

Rioting In Lawrence.

Lawrence, Mass., Oct. 1.—There was wild rioting in the streets of Lawrence when some 2,500 textile operatives, most of them Italians, attempted to prevent thousands of other workers from entering or leaving the mill gates. The twenty-four hour "demonstration" strike was a failure in that not more than 8,000 of the 28,000 people who earn their living in the great woolen and cotton establishments here responded to the call of the leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World to remain away from their places as a protest against the trial of Ettor, Giovannitti and Caruso, which began at Salem.

The attacks upon those who wanted to work, had worked during the forenoon or put in a full day were on each occasion on full progress for at least ten minutes before the police put in an appearance. The strikers assailed the noustrikers with every epithet, assaulted them viciously and appeared to devote their attention chiefly to knocking down the old men, the women and boys and girls. Then when the local police, assisted by twenty-four members of the state police force, appeared on the scene clubs were used with great vigor, revolvers were drawn in some instances by the officers, and the rioters dispersed. About thirty arrests were made for rioting.

FEW SPANISH TRAINS RUN.

Strike Outlook Serious, but People Favor Strikers.

Madrid, Oct. 1.—The strike outlook is serious. There is the greatest difficulty in dispatching the mails, and very few ordinary trains are running. Troops still hold the lines to the north. Public opinion is largely in favor of the strikers notwithstanding the dislocation of trade. The peace has not been broken seriously at any place.

A cloudburst near Premia washed away 1,500 yards of tracks, and this has complicated the trouble.

With the operation of the parcels post system, which is to be inaugurated Jan. 1, the 30,000 men are expecting a large volume of extra work.

ARMIES MOBILIZED AS WAR THREATENS

Greece, Bulgaria, Servia and Turkey Preparing.

Athens, Oct. 1.—The Greek government in agreement with other Balkan states ordered the mobilization of its forces by sea and land.

The reason given for this step is apprehension on the part of the Balkan states over the mobilization of the Turkish army and the fact that the disquieting internal condition of Turkey may induce the porte to seek a way out of its difficulties in war.

Turkey is making elaborate military preparations, according to a semi-official statement published here. The Ottoman government has called out 100,000 men, forming eleven divisions, of the redifs, or Second reserves, for six weeks' training in field maneuvers.

Belgrade, Oct. 1.—War preparations are being carried on with feverish haste.

A general mobilization of the Servian army has been ordered, and it is expected will be well under way within twenty-four hours. The publication of news of military movements is forbidden.

According to newspaper reports, the Servian minister to Turkey, Dr. Nenadovitch, has left Constantinople for grade.

Belgrade is seething with excitement. The streets are full of uniformed reservists, and the railway stations are crowded with men on their way to join the colors.

The mobilization of the Bulgarian army simultaneously with that of Servia has added enthusiasm to the occasion.

SENATOR MARTINE PRODUCES A LETTER—READ IT!

Three Bridges, Hunterdon County, N. J.
September 29, 1912.

Hon. James E. Martine,
United States Senator:

Dear Senator—Your letter received and in reply to your request concerning the ability and fitness of J. V. F. Dilts to fill the office of Tax Collector I can say from my own knowledge that he is fully competent. I have always known him. He was born in Readington Township, Hunterdon county, and always resided here until he removed to your city. During his life here he was an honored and respected citizen. He held the office of Justice of the Peace for fifteen years; also was a member of the Board of Education; he filled both of these official positions with credit and honor to himself and to the people. Beside his holding public office he was employed by Mr. A. S. Case, of this place, as his bookkeeper for a long time. He was also employed by the late Oliver Kugler as an expert accountant in a partnership matter that was involved in a long litigation before the courts of our county and his work as accountant stood the test.

During my two terms of six years as the Assessor of Taxes of Readington Township (I having lost my right hand in a threshing machine) I employed Mr. Dilts to do my clerical work, which he did for me to my entire satisfaction. I make no hesitancy in recommending Mr. Dilt's as an honest capable man and if elected to office to which you say he now aspires he will make your city an honest, capable and efficient official.

Yours truly,
DAVID SCHOMP.

PIERCE WANTS CASE REOPENED

Senator Will Ask for Reargument of Grade Crossing Bill Litigation.

DECISION OPPRESSIVE

Author of Measure Declared Dead by Supreme Court Says Judiciary Should Have Followed Precedents Set in Other States.

Cranford, Oct. 2.—Senator Carlton R. Pierce, the originator of the grade crossing bill just declared by the Supreme Court to be null and void, announces that an effort will be made to secure a reargument of the case before the court. He declares his belief that a mistake had been made by the tribunal in reaching its conclusions, and he proposes, if possible, to present his views to the Supreme Court for further consideration.

"It may seem presumptuous to criticize the conclusion reached," said the Senator, in a prepared interview, "but the fact remains that the decision is so at variance with the decision of the same question in other States, and, more important, is so oppressive in its operation upon future legislatures, that a statement may be of interest.

"The Constitution provides, 'If any bill shall not be returned by the Governor within five days (Sunday excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the Legislature by their adjournment prevent its return, in which case it shall not be a law.'

"The grade crossing bill was presented to the Governor March 29, the Legislature then taking a recess until April 10, the veto being delivered to the Assembly, April 11.

"The attorney general advised that the five days meant legislative days, the period of recess not counting, and that the veto was in time.

"The court discards this theory, holding that the Governor must return a veto within five calendar days; that the return must be to the house of origin while in actual session, and that a temporary recess is an adjournment preventing a return, within the meaning of the constitution, just as must as a sine die adjournment.

"And it follows that the temporary recess taken March 29, extending beyond the five days, the Legislature thereby 'prevented a return,' and the bill died automatically at the end of the five days.

"Under the decision the thirty-odd vetoes delivered by the Governor to the Legislature April 10 were so much waste paper, the bills having died April 4, beyond the power to veto or revive.

"Further, the effect of the decision is not only to kill the grade crossing bill, but some twenty other bills similarly situated, many of them important, passed over the Governor's veto after April 10, assuming action is taken to have them declared void.

"The decision is remarkable in two aspects—its departure from the decisions of other States and its oppressive character in its operation upon future legislatures.

"The precise question at issue in New Jersey has been passed upon in six other States—New Hampshire, California, New York, South Carolina, Nebraska and Connecticut (which inclines to the legislative day theory) agree with New Jersey that the Governor must act within five calendar days, the agreement stops there. All the other States, resting upon the reason and purpose of the statute, hold that the adjournment referred to in the Constitution as preventing a return is final adjournment, and that a temporary recess is not intended. The opinions in the California and New Hampshire cases are models of forensic reasoning, compelling to the conclusion reached.

"The construction given as to a temporary recess in these States is that while the Governor must act within five days—if the Legislature is then in recess—the Governor completes his duty by delivering the veto to an officer or member of the Legislature, or other responsible official as the secretary of State, to be delivered to the Legislature on its reconvening, the veto then to be acted on in regular course. It is to be noted this construction preserves to the Legislature the right to control at pleasure its days and hours of session, and both the Governor and Legislature to perform their respective functions in a sane and orderly way.

"The New Jersey decision denies this right, and is oppressive in this way. It is plain the Governor has five full days in which to act, and that this period cannot be curtailed a day, an hour or a minute. It follows, under the ruling that a return can be made only in actual session and that a temporary recess prevents a return—that the house of origin must be in session each fifth day from the presentation of a bill, and must remain

DEMOCRATS RE-ELECT TUTTLE AS CHAIRMAN

County Committee Takes Unexpected Action at Organization Meeting.

Elizabeth, Oct. 2.—Congressman William E. Tuttle, Jr., was elected chairman of the Democratic County Committee at the meeting of reorganization in headquarters, in Broad street, last night. This was unexpected, as Mr. Tuttle had declared that he had withdrawn from the race and did not want the office. Other officers were elected as follows: Vice chairman, Robert H. McAdams, of this city; secretary, Fred Zior, of this city; treasurer, Judge J. William Crane, of Union, and sergeant-at-arms, John H. R. Corbett, of Elizabeth.

The meeting was one of the most enthusiastic held in some time. Every district in the county was represented for the first time in many years.

General Dennis F. Collins addressed the members and remarks were made by candidates and members of the committee.

PLUNDER OF LUMBER THIEF FOUND BY A POLICEMAN

Lewis Beck, a carpenter who is building a house at 87 Everett place, reported to the police yesterday that someone had stolen a lot of lumber during the previous night.

Patrolman McDonald was sent to look into the matter, and he found the lumber secreted in a clump of bushes near the building, where it had evidently been placed with the intention of removing it elsewhere last night.

GRENFELL MEETING.

At the Congregational church this evening there will be a special meeting at which the program will consist of readings from the stories of the Labrador by Dr. Grenfell. Dr. Grenfell's unique work amid the picturesque surroundings of the north furnish material for stories of unusual interest, and he has a way of telling them so as to thrill the hearts of all. These stories together with music will make a good hour.

SAUNDERS TALKS ON FACTORY COST

Tells Democrats That Cheap Foreign Labor Doesn't Handicap Americans.

HE REFUTES ACKERMAN

Says He Knows of No British Firm Building Near Our Borders in Order to Take Advantage of Tariff Reform.

The Wilson and Marshall Club held a rousing meeting in Sebring's Auditorium last night, and ratified the entire Democratic ticket, as nominated at the primaries, and passed a unanimous resolution to co-operate with the Democratic Club, in the activities of the campaign which will be waged hereabout. A big mass meeting is being planned for the Plainfield theatre, the date for which has not been definitely decided upon. At next Tuesday's meeting all committees will report, and the general schedule of the campaign will be announced.

William L. Saunders, a member of the club, gave an interesting address on the tariff question. Mr. Saunders is president of the Ingersoll-Rand Company, a manufacturing concern with shops and offices in various parts of the country, and has an unlimited knowledge of the existing conditions in the manufacturing market. His talk last night was particularly interesting to those present, because it was straight to the point, and lacked all of the flowery oratory and the parroted, confusing statistics of the professional spellbinder.

He refuted a statement made recently by former State Senator Ackerman, who said British enterprises were building factories near our boundary lines, to take possession of our markets in the event of the tariff bars being taken down. Mr. Saunders said Ackerman was undoubtedly referring to Canada, and continuing said he knew of no British firm building factories near the American line, although he had traveled extensively in that territory.

"And I can prove," he said, "that it is costing manufacturers more to produce their goods in Canada, with the lower standard of wages paid there, than in this country, than it is costing similar concerns to produce the same product in the United States."

Mr. Saunders said he had also investigated the conditions to be found at the Imperial Steel Company, of Japan. He said it was costing that firm more to produce steel rails with all their natural resources for carrying on this business, than it did steel companies in Pittsburg, although the Japanese laborers are paid only from 30 to 60 cents a day, and American mechanics receive four to six dollars per day. He accounted for this because of the superiority of home mechanics over foreign workmen.

The club will send notices of the remaining registration day, (October 22), to all local voters, accompanied by literature on various national issues. L. J. Ellis and W. H. Harding were appointed to take charge of this work. It is the idea of the club to secure several good speakers to address the Tuesday night meetings and R. A. Claybrook and J. F. Corey, form a committee to look after this feature.

The entire ticket as indorsed last night, is as follows:

Wilson and Marshall for president and vice president; William H. Hughes, for U. S. Senator; Member of House of Representatives, William E. Tuttle, Jr.; for assemblymen, John J. Griffin, William A. Leonard and Hugh J. McLaughlin; for surrogate, James P. Kelly; for freeholder, three-year term, John L. Fay, Dennis F. Hennessy and Thomas J. Pierson; two-year term, Joseph F. Greer and Thomas J. Hughes; for one-year term, James H. McCann and John B. McNamara; for corner, Thomas F. Higgins; for mayor, Percy H. Stewart; for city treasurer, John C. Schinkel; for city collector, Jeremiah V. F. Dilts; for member of the Common Council, W. R. Way, from the First ward; George Tyler Smith, from the Second; D. J. Couraine, from the Third, and Frank Cullen, from the Fourth.

TEMPERATURE REPORT.

The temperature report for today from the State Trust Company is as follows: 9 a. m., 50 degrees; 11 a. m., 58 degrees; 1 p. m., 62 degrees.

BALKANS ARE ABLAZE; STAGE SET FOR WAR

Shots Fired in Two Places—Turkey Commandeers Greek Ships.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Constantinople, Oct. 2.—After an all night session the Turkish cabinet today issued a curt refusal to surrender the shipment of Servian war munitions seized by the authorities on its way through Turkey. The cabinet also appointed Abdullah Pasha, an able and efficient soldier, commander in chief of the Turkish forces in the Balkans. The Dardanelles were closed against Greek shipping and 52 Greek vessels at Constantinople and in the Black Sea were commandered by the Turkish navy on the ground that they may be needed as transports.

London, Oct. 2.—That fighting has begun along the Turco Bulgarian and Turco Montenegran frontiers was rumored here and at continental capitals today. Diplomats did not take the reports seriously. They said that they thought it likely that skirmishing had occurred but doubted if hostilities would start on a large scale without a formal declaration of war. Reports from Constantinople say that a general mobilization of the Turkish army was progressing.

Belgrade, Servia, Oct. 2.—A Turkish patrol of 50 soldiers fired into the Servian frontier town of Rushka today, raking it with repeated volleys. The inhabitants fled.

London, Oct. 2.—The entire Balkan Peninsula is being transformed into an armed camp, according to despatches from the capitals of the various States. Upwards of a million men have been ordered to assemble.

COMEDY DRAMA THAT IS TRUE TO LIFE AND NATURE

"The World and a Woman," a comedy drama in four acts, will play the Plainfield theatre next Saturday. There is a touch of nature throughout the four acts of the play that is wonderfully realistic in every detail. It is a lesson, it is a sermon, it is a teaching. Every man, woman, girl and boy should see and hear it. It is not a religious sermon, but a wrong deed that works itself out to goodness. Dixen Greeley Smith, one of the greatest writers of the present age, says this topic should be floated from house to house and that is what "The World and a Woman" confesses in an entertaining way. You will laugh, then wonder at your surprises. "The World and a Woman" is as true to life as nature. If you have seen "The Old Homestead" and liked it, then you will doubly like this beautifully artistic play, "The World and a Woman."

There are no constitutional questions to be submitted to the convention, and it is certain that Frank K. Muta, of Bridegton, will succeed William J. Wakefield, of Newark, as State councilor.

The Plainfield delegates who will attend the convention are Joel Pennington, of Plainfield Council; Roy DeCamp and Thomas E. Currin, of Franklin Council; Fred Welsh and George Wilson, of Somerset Council, and William Cubberley, of Benevolent Council.

EASY FOR LOCAL STORES TO MEET TEN-HOUR LAW

A law passed by the Legislature last winter prohibiting the employment of women for more than a period of ten hours in a day went into effect yesterday, but it little affects Plainfield. As he stores here are closed evenings except Saturday, the latter is the only day when special arrangements have to be made not to have the girl clerks on duty for a longer period than a total of ten hours.

At the Woodhull-Martin, the White Store, Tepper Brothers, Rosenbaum's, Jacob Fass', Varley's and a few other stores affected, it is planned in some instances to have the girls begin work late and to give them long recesses, while in others it is arranged to have some go on duty early and quit early, with others coming on late and working late.

MISS ALICE L. BROWN IS NOW MRS. DOANE

Home Wedding Largely Attended—Miss Arline Brown Maid of Honor.

Miss Alice Lillian Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Warren Brown, of East Sixth street, and William F. Doane, of East Seventh street, were married last evening at 5 o'clock at the home of the bride, 402 East Sixth street, by the Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire, of the Park Avenue Baptist church.

The ceremony took place in the library, under a bower of palms and roses. The maid of honor was Miss Arline M. Brown, sister of the bride. The best man was Harry Thompson. The bride's dress was of pink and white crepe de meteor and was trimmed with pearls. She carried a large bouquet of bridal roses.

The ceremony was largely attended and many handsome presents of cut-glass, silver, china and furniture were received.

The wedding march from "Lohengrin" was played as the bridal party entered the library door, by Miss Marion Welch on the piano and Harold Welch on the violin, and the "Mendelssohn" march was played as they were leaving the room. After the wedding supper the newly wedded couple left on a honeymoon tour. They kept their destination secret. Upon their return they will take up housekeeping in their home on East Seventh street.

BUY OLD TELEPHONE EXCHANGE BUILDING

Motor Car Company Will Remodel Store into Artistic Showroom.

The old telephone building on Park avenue, which was built many years ago by Frank L. C. Martin and used by him as a bicycle dealer, has been sold by the telephone company to the Service Motor Car Company, who will remodel the structure into an up-to-date automobile show room. The deal was consummated through the office of Armstrong Mulford, real estate agent.

The renovation of the building, when completed, will lack none of the features that embody the elaborate New York auto showrooms. A partition will separate the work-shop in the rear of the building from the front office and the stippled sidewalls laid out in Old English panel effect, will add to the general treatment.

In order to meet the demand of electric vehicles in this section of the State, the new owners, who are agents for the Abbott-Detroit and Henderson cars, will add to their list the Raugh-Lang model machine. An electric charging apparatus will be installed to replenish the batteries of these cars. The alterations will be completed in about two weeks.

TALK OF FORMING COMPANY TO CARRY ON G. A. R. CUSTOMS

One of the G. A. R. members in talking to several young men this week asked why an organization to be known as the G. A. R. Escorts could not be formed to take care of the decorating of the graves of the old soldiers on Memorial Day. He said the idea was that the veterans will pass away before long and they would like to know that some one would remember them and observe Memorial Day as it has been in past years.

Co. K usually participates in the Decoration Day exercises, but it belongs to a State organization and cannot turn out unless ordered by their commander. "What we want," said the veteran, "is an organization that can turn out any time to escort us, and one that will bear the name of the G. A. R." The old soldier said that he knows of about twenty young men who are ready to join such an organization. Steps are being taken to bring them and those of like mind together. If you are interested tell any member of Winfield Scott Post, G. A. R.

PLAINFIELD COPS TO PARADE IN NEWARK

Big Assemblage of Men From All Over New Jersey Tomorrow.

Today Newark is in the hands of the police. The key to the city will be turned over to the delegates of the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, representing thirty-five cities and towns in this State, when they assembled at the Colosseum to transact the business of the year and elect officers for the coming term. The gala day, however, will be tomorrow, when 2,500 patrolmen from all over the State will add their number to the delegates for the street parade and social session to follow.

Headed by T. A. B. Drum Corps, Delegates A. L. Saffron, of this city; Michael O'Brien, of Somerville, and Marshal Herrman, of North Plainfield, will fare forth tomorrow with dignity and some pomp to attend the convention and join in the parade. The delegates will wear white hats and blue ribbons and as many other articles of apparel as good taste and the weather dictate.

All the glory reflected by a regular drum corps under full headway will not shine for the delegates alone. They will have to share the commotion with Plainfield, North Plainfield and Somerville cops who have arranged to accompany them on the trip to Newark. Cops and supercops will travel in a special car leaving the trolley station on Watchung avenue at 10:45 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Patrolman Henry Weller, of the First Precinct, Newark, will be nominated today for the position of State president and, barring the uncertainties of elections, will be chosen for that office.

President James F. O'Brien, of Elizabeth, called the meeting to order at 2 o'clock this afternoon and the year's business was taken up by the 105 representatives, three from each city. Following this will be the election. At the close of the business session a banquet will be served.

Acceptance of the invitation sent to the other cities to participate in the parade and concert tomorrow have all been received by the secretary of the arrangements committee, and fully 3,000 men are expected to be in line. Of this number 700 will represent the local branch of the organization, 500 are expected from Jersey City, 300 from Elizabe[illegible] a proportionate number fro[illegible] other municipalities.

The Newark Police Band [illegible]ch consists of sixty-five pieces, [illegible] head the line of march, and wi[illegible] followed by the Elizabeth [illegible]ation. The parade will form at Lincoln Park, and will march up Washington street to William, to Broad street, to Court street, countermarching to Market street, to Springfield avenue, to the Colosseum.

Business houses and residents along the line of march have been requested to decorate, and streamers of flags and bunting will greet the marchers. Each delegation will carry pennants containing the emblem of the P. B. A. and the name of the municipality they represent. Mounted Patrolman Thomas Mc Entyre, of Newark, has been selected as grand marshal.

SAY WILSON GOT BIG CONTRIBUTION

Stated That C. R. Crane Gave Him $70,000.

LA FOLLETTE LIKE AMOUNT

Wilson "Doesn't Recall It;" La Follette Says He'll "Make Statement Later." Flinn Spent $144,308 in Politics Last Year.

Washington, Oct. 2.—Charles R. Crane, the Chicago millionaire who was appointed minister to China by President Taft and recalled when he was in San Francisco en route to his post, divided $140,000 between the La Follette and Wilson presidential booms in equal amounts. This was the choice bit of new political gossip given the senate committee investigating the campaign funds. It was volunteered by Elon Huntington Hooker, treasurer of the bull moose party. He was anxious to furnish the information and finally induced a member of the committee to ask the necessary question to bring forward the figures.

The national Roosevelt organization, according to the official statement filed, expended all told in the preconvention campaign only $143,900. As contrasted with this amount William Flinn, the Roosevelt leader in Pennsylvania, alone spent more than $130,000 of his own money in the Roosevelt fight in that state. All told politics in the last year has cost Mr. Flinn the modest sum of $144,308, it is declared.

The official statement made by E. H. Hooker of the Roosevelt fund shows that George W. Perkins contributed $37,500 to the preconvention campaign, $15,000 of which went to the Roosevelt war chest in New York county. Frank A. Munsey contributed $33,000, and Dan Hanna of Cleveland $25,000.

Mr. Flinn, the Pennsylvania leader, appeared before the committee and proved to be one of the most entertaining witnesses that the investigators have heard. He acknowledged frankly that he was the man with the money behind the Roosevelt movement in the Keystone State; that he had, in fact, contributed about 90 per cent of all the money that was spent there in Colonel Roosevelt's interests. He was only too glad to foot the bills and never even thought of asking anybody to help out. He considered the victory cheap.

Wilson Doesn't Recall $70,000.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 2.—Governor Wilson arrived here from Trenton, where he spent the greater part of yesterday presiding over the meeting of the resolutions committee of the state Democratic committees. Mrs Wilson and the Misses Wilson motored from Sea Girt.

When the attention of the governor was called to the testimony of E. H Hooker before the senate committee that is investigating campaign contributions he said it was news to him that Charles R. Crane had contributed $70,000 to his preconvention campaign fund. He said he wouldn't have objected to having received such an amount, but he couldn't recollect having got it.

The governor expects to board his special car for his next western trip at Princeton Junction or Trenton tonight He will be gone till Oct. 12.

La Follette to Reply Later.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 2.—Senator La Follette refused to make any statement regarding the testimony of E. H. Hooker that Charles R. Crane contributed $70,000 to the campaign of Senator La Follette while the latter was quoted as saying that it was only $20,000. La Follette said that Crane would doubtless be called as a witness, and it would be improper for him to make any comment on Hooker's testimony at this time.

La Follette, however, told a friend that Hooker must be mistaken, as the total contributions of Crane to the La Follette campaign fund, which started at $5,000 a month and later was cut to $2,500, did not total over $20,000. It is understood that $70,000 represented the total amount contributed to the La Follette fund by all contributors. La Follette said that any comment that he might make on the subject would be made in his magazine or in some other formal manner.

FOUR KILLED BY CAVE-IN.

Laborers Crushed by Tons of Earth at Richmond, Va.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 2.—Four men were instantly killed by a cave-in at an excavation being made at Grace and Eighth streets.

They were at work ten feet below the street level when the Eighth street wall and sidewalk for a distance of seventy-five feet broke loose, casting tons of dirt and concrete upon the victims.

Ten children playing close to the sidewalk when the cave-in occurred narrowly escaped death.

The Opportunity Is Here, Backed By Plainfield Testimony.

Don't take our word for it.

And decide for yourself.

Here is one case of it:

C. L. Treat, painter and paperhanger, 411 East Third street, Plainfield, N. J., says: "I suffered for a long time from kidney trouble and for years could not find anything that would give me relief. My back ached constantly and there was pain across my kidneys. My kidneys were in bad shape and I became all run down, in fact, was almost a physical wreck. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a supply and they made a different man out of me. I got this remedy at Randolph's Drug Store and my experience was so satisfactory that I cannot make my endorsement of it too strong. I simply would not be without a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills on hand."

NEW PARCELS POSTS STAMPS ARE DESIGNED

Washington, Oct. 2.—When the new parcels post system becomes operative on January 1, twelve new stamps will be placed on sale in postoffices for affixing to packages. These stamps will be larger than the ordinary postage stamps. Arrangements already made by Postmaster General Hitchcock for their engraving and manufacture provide for a series of an even dozen so distinctive as to color and size as to prevent possible confusion with other stamps.

The twelve stamps will be issued in three series of designs. In the first series modern methods of transporting mail will be illustrated. The mail car of a railway train will be shown on one stamp; an ocean liner on another; the third will have a motor wagon of the type used in the postal service, and the fourth will show a mail carrying aeroplane. Postal employes will be shown at work in the second series. The figures will be those of railway mail clerks, postoffice clerks, city letter carriers, and rural free delivery carriers. The third series will represent four industrial zones, showing the principal sources of products that will be transported most extensively by parcels post.

By December 1 the stamps will probably be ready for distribution to the 60,000 postoffices in the country.

HOW GRUB WORMS KILL OFF THE CHESTNUT TREE

It is known now, writes A. G. Thorn, of East Front street, the chestnut trees are ruined by grub worms at the base of the tree some two inches under the surface of the ground. Beetles start the colony and if not disturbed the grubs destroy the bark entirely around the base of the trees. The trees will exist for years and not show much decay until the last three years of existence. Then the branches die rapidly.

These grubs can be cut out and a trench six inches deep made around the base of tree; then fill up with coal ashes, and above the ground two or three inches against the tree. Also air-slacked lime, part soil mixed, if spread on the ground close to the trees will secure the trees from their presence. The same protection is effective for the peach trees.

ELECTORS NAMED BY BOTH PARTIES

Platforms Adopted by Republicans and Democrats.

WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE PLANKS

Republicans Declare For It, While Democrats Leave Question to Constitutional Convention — Governor Wilson Makes Short Speech to Democrats.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 2.—Republican and Democratic state conventions, at which presidential electors were nominated and state platforms adopted, were held in Trenton without creating even a ripple of excitement in the political atmosphere.

Even the presence of Governor Wilson, who made a short speech, failed to attract more than a mere handful of spectators to the Democratic assemblage, and the formal ratification of a prepared platform and of electors, already chosen in most of the districts, elicited no greater interest on the Republican side. The Democrats' platform has been molded into shape by Governor Wilson, who was chairman of the convention's committee on resolutions, and the same task had been performed by a committee for the Republicans.

Representatives of the women suffrage movement appeared at both conventions and asked for recognition. The Republicans inserted a plank in their platform declaring for woman suffrage. The Democrats omitted such a plank upon the ground that the calling of a constitutional convention, which their platform advocated, would sufficiently cover the situation. Each party sought to take credit for initiating much of the legislation of recent years and attacked the opposition and pledged itself to continued efforts in behalf of the people.

TO FILL HUGHES' SEAT.

Governor Wilson Issues Proclamation Authorizing Selection For Congress.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 2.—Governor Wilson issued a proclamation authorizing the election of a successor to former Representative William F. Hughes of Paterson for the unexpired term to March 4 next. Mr. Hughes, who is judge of the Passaic county court and the Democratic candidate for United States senator, recently resigned his seat in congress.

Some complications are likely to follow as a result of a change in the congressional districts. The candidate for the unexpired term will be elected from the old Sixth district, composed of Passaic, Bergen and Sussex counties. Under the reapportionment a part of Passaic county constitutes an entire district, while Sussex, Bergen, Warren and a part of Passaic form the present district.

COLLISION NEAR HAINESBURG.

Passenger Crashes Into Freight Train, Injuring Two—Passengers Shaken.

Blairstown, N. J., Oct. 2.—A passenger train eastbound on the New York, Susquehanna and Western railroad collided with a freight train near Hainesburg, wrecking a number of freight cars and damaging both engines. The passengers were shaken up considerably, but none was seriously injured.

Michael Carroll, the engineer, of Blairstown, had his left leg crushed so that amputation was necessary. Fireman William Henry, also of this place, was badly crushed and may die. The physicians are unable to determine the extent of his injuries. The railroad officials have not been able to determine the cause or the responsibility for the collision.

OPEN GLOUCESTER CAMPAIGN

Three Parties Complete Their Organizations For Fall Election.

Gloucester, N. J., Oct. 2.—The political campaign in this city opened when the Republican executive committee met in Woodbury for organization. Frank B. Davis was elected chairman and William H. Albright secretary.

The Democratic committee organized. James D. Carpenter was made chairman and Thomas Dilks secretary. The Progressive party of Gloucester city nominated the following ticket: For mayor, Edward H. McLennan; councils, Elmer Knoedler, Harry Cook and E. G. Wortman; board of education, Charles Hope and J. G. Wornick.

LEAVES HOME FOR BASEBALL.

Lad With 60 Cents Goes to New York to See Big Games.

Milburn, N. J., Oct. 2.—Joe Ryan, twelve years old, traveled from this city to New York with only 60 cents to see "some big ball games" and the "Great White Way." But the cold and hunger got the best of the lad and he sought refuge in a police station.

The youngster was fed in the station house and then was sent to the Gerry society rooms. The police of this city were notified.

in session until midnight awaiting a possible veto, the penalty for not so doing, in the case of inaction by the Governor, being that the bill dies at midnight.

"This is a strange and unnatural result, but I am unable, after reflection and study of the opinion, either to escape it or believe the court foresaw or intended it. If any unbiassed attorney, after study of the opinion, can reach a different conclusion, I would be glad to know it.

"The effect is not only oppressive, but would add a feature in the passage of bills not heretofore dreamed of. Under such a ruling, not only must the Legislature pass a bill, but the affirmative remains to sit up with it the fifth night to keep it alive, lest it die through Executive inaction.

"The truth is New Jersey should adopt the construction in force in other States, not because they have adopted it, but because it is sane. Had the court done so, the grade crossing bill would be declared a law."

WHITEHOUSE STATION HAS NIGHT OF TERROR

Whitehouse, Oct. 2.—Whitehouse Station was visited by two destructive fires yesterday, in which a business block was destroyed and several barns and outbuildings were razed. The fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin. The total loss is estimated at close to $25,000.

Several hours elapsed between the two fires, and it was the second blaze that is believed to have been started by a firebug's torch. Barns were burned in this fire and two strange men were seen to leave the vicinity shortly before the flames were discovered. It is believed their motive was to distract attenton, so as to afford an opportunity for robbery. No trace of the men could be found today.

Many stores and dwellings were threatened by the first blaze, and the residents of the place experienced a sleepless night of terror and fire fighting. The first blaze started in the general merchandise store of George W. Tine and was first seen when flames appeared through the roof of the building.

The volunteer fire department soon had a stream of water playing on the burning building. Plenty of water was obtained from the tanks of the Central Railroad. Engineers on the trains passing through sounded their whistles and soon the whole countryside was aroused.

The blaze spread to the drug store of Isiah Voorhees adjoining the headquarters of Whitehouse Lodge in Voorhees Hall, above and to the residence of Samuel D. Skillman on the other side of the Tines store. The flames were checked and finally extinguished.

Loss was heavy as both Mr. Tine and Mr. Voorhees carried a large stock of goods which were practically ruined by the fire and water. Much of the furniture in the Skillman house was also damaged. An estimate places the loss from this fire at about $20,000, which is covered by insurance. During this fire the Cook building, the Central Hotel and the Weekly Review office just across the street were threatened by the sparks.

The second fire started about 3:30 o'clock in the morning in another part of the town in the barn on the property of Mrs. H. Eugene Park. The weary firemen again responded, but did not have very good water pressure at this fire. The barn and icehouse adjoining were destroyed.

Flames spread to the barns on the properties occupied by Thomas Durling and Mrs. Jacob A. Suydam and both of these, too, were consumed. The entire contents of the three barns were also destroyed, as it was impossible to rescue anything. Trouble was experienced in keeping the sparks from the burning buildings from setting the dwelling houses in that neighborhood afire. The loss on these buildings is said to be about $3,000 and is only partly covered by insurance.

PUBLIC EYESORES.

Many who recall him as a speaker at a Chamber of Commerce banquet here but a few years ago will be interested in a ruling Calvin Tompkins has made as New York's Dock Commissioner. He is strongly opposed to the uncalled practise of disfiguring the landscape with ugly advertisement boards and he has declined to give permission for the erection of advertising clock dials at the Manhattan and Staten Island ferry terminals. His argument is that the placard kind of advertising means "selling the eyes of the public," a kind of advertising which is "nothing less than a nuisance."

"Private exploitation and defacement of this character," says Mr. Tompkins, "I know is tolerated, although the railroad terminals of the country afford an honorable exception. Excepting a few kinds of public notices and the advertising of real estate on the site, it has always seemed to me that billboard display advertising is a nuisance, which public opinion will eventually eliminate."

It is unfortunate, indeed, that the most offensive of all of these signs, the huge and ugly bill boards along the railroad tracks throughout the country can not be forbidden by any constitutional method. It seems a shame and a disgrace that the owner of land should allow his property to be used for such a purpose, but then, how is it going to be stopped?

WELFARE CONFABS.

In the editorial column of the New Brunswick Home News runs this brief note: "First of the Board of Trdae 'Noon-day luncheons' at the Mansion House, Wednesday, 12:15. Have you reserved your plate yet?"

Isn't that a good plan? During the busy hours of the morning and afternoon, the average man's thoughts cannot be detracted from his own work and when night comes he is generally too tired out to be in a mood to attend meetings particularly when he is indentified with many organizations. What better opportunity is presented than at the noo nhour when the business man is taking a brief rest and is enjoying his mid-day meal? Wouldn't it be a good scheme for them to get together then, alternating between the local hotels to join in informal discussions of problems of the Chamber of Commerce?

The New York Hotel Men's Association has taken bread and butter off the free list. By this little economy the dining room and restaurant proprietors expect to save $30,000,000 a year. The estimate is made by them that the 250,000 habitudes of the leading places consume 750,000 orders of bread and butter a day, and by making a charge of ten cents per order the "velvet" will amount to $75,000. In all of these places, the patron is expected to pay for the "privilege" of having his hat placed on a hook while he eats and he is likewise expected to pay the wages of the hotel employe who brings on the dishes he orders, the polite term of this charge being called a "tip." The next step will be to charge admittance to the dining room.

It was a bold, courageous, a master stroke when Governor Wilson in the State Democratic convention yesterday read and had passed a resolution pledging the Democratic members of the next Legislature to vote solidly for William Hughes, the party's primary choice for United States Senator. It was the act of an adroit and practical political leader. Isn't it about time that some cease to scoff at him as "The Schoolmaster?"

Rather clever of the National Democratic National Committee to keep William Jennings Bryan out West. His appearance on the stump in the Eastern States would lose thousands of votes for Woodrow Wilson.

Former Mayor Charles J. Fisk advocates a business instead of a political government for municipalities. Wonder who he was hitting at?

Thirty-three days more and the battle of the battles will be waged. Thirty-four days more and then "I told you so."

War in the Balkans has been declared. Now get down your maps and pleasantly absorb a little geography.

DEMOCRATIC MASS MEETING IN THE BORO NEXT MONDAY

Activities are commencing at the headquarters of the Wilson and Marshall Club in North Plainfield. A special mass meeting has been planned for Monday night, when the work of the campaign will be mapped out. Among the speakers secured are Congressional Candidate Allen Walsh, of Trenton, and Calvin McMurtrie, who is running for surrogate of Somerset county.

The club will engage every means at its command to secure a victory for M. E. Perkins and John Lewin, the Democratic nominees for the Council.

GRACE EPWORTH LEAGUERS GUESTS AT A MELON PARTY

Eighteen members of the Epworth League, of Grace M. E. church, attended a melon party given by Mr. and Mrs. George Bohlen, at their farm home near Somerville, last night. The evening was spent in playing games and in a social way generally. Bountiful refreshments were served.

Those present were: Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Cain, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. J. Russell Harden, Mr. and Mrs. Terry, Mrs. Carrie Quick, Mrs Thorne, the Misses Mary Steinef, Stella Vermeule, Mary and Anna Hoagland, Grace Clark and Nettie Bauersachs; Benjamin Schuck and Stryker Hoagland.

MOOSE WANT SCULLY TO TESTIFY ON ELECTION FUND

Newark, Oct. 2.—At the instance of the New Jersey Progressive State Committee, Senator Dixon, chairman of the Progressive National Committee, has asked Senator Moses Clapp to call Thomas J. Scully, Democratic Congressman from the Third District of New Jersey, to testify before the Senate Investigating Committee in support of his charges that the special interests are contributing to the Bull Moose campaign.

In a recent appeal for contributions to the Wilson campaign fund, Mr. Scully, who is chairman of the finance committee for New Jersey of the Democratic National Committee, made this statement:

"The great interests of the country are divided between President Taft and Colonel Roosevelt, and the organization of each is receiving contributions from that source. Of the three candidates, Governor Wilson alone refused to place himself under obligations to any interests."

Concerning the action of the State Committee, in asking to have Mr. Scully called to testify, former Governor John Franklin Fort, chairman of the New Jersey Progressive State Committee, made this statement:

"From the beginning of the campaign, the Progressive National Committee has taken the lead in publishing weekly statements, not only of all contributions from all sources, but of all disbursements for every purpose. These published lists do not show contributions from any large corporate interest, and show very few large contributions from any source. We know there is absolutely no basis in truth for Mr. Scully's charge, and the purpose of inviting him to appear before the Senate Committee is to force him to admit, as these leaders believe he will do, that he actually has no proof or information as to the trust contributions he asserts have been made. The Progressive party has no secrets from the public. It is up to Mr. Scully to make good his insinuations or retract them."

De Palma was followed in 30 seconds by Hughes, Mercer Special. The other entrants started in the following order 30 seconds between each: Mulford in a Knox special, elson in a Lozier, Wishart in a Mercedes, Anderson in a Stutz, Clark in a Mercedes and Tetzlaff in a Fiat.

The best time on the first lap was made by Tetzlaff in his Fiat car 6 minutes and 21 seconds. Mulford was second with 6.31 and De Palma third in 6.57. Mulford was put four laps behind the leader when his magneto failed to work. Tetzlaff retained the lead at the end of the fifth lap having made 39 miles 2,170 feet in 31 minutes and 34 seconds, an average speed of 75 miles an hour. DePalma was second in 32 minutes and 51 seconds, and Wishart third in 34 minutes and 28 seconds.

During the fifteenth round Mulford was officially announced out of the race on account of magneto trouble. At the end of this lap Tetzlaff was more than a lap ahead of his nearest competitor. He had made the 118 miles in 90 min. and 18 secs., an average of 74.4 miles an hour. Wishardt, DePalma and Hughes were running in the order named less than a minute apart.

THREE AMERICANS ARE MURDERED BY MEXICANS

Mexico City, Oct. 2.—Three Americans, among them an officer of the United States Government, have been murdered by Mexican Insurrectors at Durango, Mexico, according to an official report which Henry L. Wilson, the United States ambassador, received here today. The victims were Allen Maccachan, United States vice consul at Durango; A. C. Cliff, owner of the Jan Juan Ranch, and H. L. Russell, manager.

The killing, according to ex-United States Consul Hann, who is now living in Durango, occurred Sunday. The ranch was attacked by rebels, under Louis Caro, one of the Revolutionary leaders, and Mr. Hann said that the killing was unprovoked. Forty Federal soldiers started in pursuit of the Rebels.

DIXON SAYS ROOSEVELT IS BEING MADE THE GOAT

Washington, Oct. 2.—James G. Cannon, president of the Fourth National Bank, New York city, was the first witness before the Clapp committee, investigating campaign contributions, when it reconvened today. Mr. Cannon told the committee that he audited the campaign accounts of the late C. N. Bliss, treasurer of the Republican National Committee in 1904, but he said he knew nothing of the Archbold or other contributions.

Senator Dixon followed Mr. Cannon on the stand. He was asked whether he had solicited any funds for Reesevelt campaign and replied that h ehad, and that some of the money had not been turnec over to the treasurer, Mr. Hooker. At this point Senator Dixon accused the committee of investigating only the Roosevelt campaign funds. In answer to a question the witness said that Munsey, Perkins and Dan Hann agave him various sums before the convention. He stated that he received approximately $96,000.

REPUBLICAN CLUBS IN COUNTY LEAGUE

Campaign Managers Attempt to Renew Interest in Old Organization.

Elizabeth, Oct. 2.—Representatives from the various Republican clubs in this city, Plainfield, Westfield and Rahway met at Republican headquarters here for the purpose of furthering plans to secure the co-operation of different Republican clubs throughout the county in the coming campaign. To this end an organization was effected to be known as the Union County League of Republican Clubs, and the support of every club in the county will be sought.

At the meeting it was said that there were many people who were criticizing the old organization on account of the apparent lack of activity on the part of those connected with the party; and it was said that something must be done to renew interest. To attempt to bring a little flame to the dying embers, the league was formed.

At the different Republican clubs in the county meetings will be held at which speakers and entertainers will be furnished by the newly organized league, and the plan of having joint meetings was discussed by those present. By these means it is hoped that the necessary co-operation can be secured.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

PUTTING UP QUINCES.

In preserving quinces to look white allow to every pound and a half of fruit one pound of the best lump sugar. Make a sirup of the sugar and boil it well. Pare and slice the fruit and boil it in the sirup quickly. When it begins to look clear, pour in a half pint of quince juice and boil until thick. Take off the scum with a silver spoon.

To make the juice pare the quinces and cut the core from the fruit and wash it. Strain the juice through a muslin bag. To every half pint allow one pound of sugar. Let it stand four hours before using.

An Old Recipe.

Preserved Quinces.—Pare, quarter and core the fruit, saving the skins. Put the quinces over the fire with water enough to cover and simmer till soft. Do not let them cook till they break. Take out the fruit and spread on dishes to cool; add the parings and cores to the water in which the quinces were boiled and stew it an hour; then strain through a jelly bag and to each pint of this liquor allow a pound of sugar. Boil and skim this, then put in the fruit and boil fifteen minutes. Take all off the fire and let it stand in a deep dish twenty-four hours. Then drain off the sirup and let it boil, put in the quinces and boil fifteen minutes. Take out the fruit again and spread on dishes; boil the sirup down to nearly a jelly. Put the fruit into jars two-thirds full and cover with the sirup. The quinces will be a fine deep red color.

A Winter Dainty.

Quince Marmalade.—Pare and quarter the quinces and add to them their weight in sugar. To four pounds of the sugar allow a quart of water. Boil and skim. Have ready four pounds of quinces, made tender in the following manner: Lay the fruit in a stone jar, with a teacupful of water at the bottom, and pack them with sugar between each layer. Cover the jar, set it in a slow oven and let cook until the fruit is a reddish color. Then pour the fruit sirup and a quart of quince juice into a preserving pan and boil all together, breaking the lumps of fruit with a spoon until the whole is a complete marmalade. Pour when cool into glass jars, cover closely and store in a dry place.

A Delicious Jelly.

Quince Jelly.—Take four quarts of quinces, wash and cut in quarters and add enough water to cover, boil till soft, then put in a bag and let drain all night. Add a cupful of sugar to every cupful of juice. Boil until a little on saucer thickens.

Woman's World

Miss Alcott's "Little Women" Dramatized by Miss De Forest.

MISS MARIAN DE FOREST.

Miss Marian De Forest, who dramatized "Little Women," is the dramatic critic for the Buffalo Express. She has a considerable reputation as a dramatic critic, but never before tried her hand at playwriting. She is an enthusiastic lover of Miss Alcott's works, and her dramatization was made without rereading the book. Miss De Forest explains that she did not want to be tied down by incidents, as is often the case when the dramatist consults the book in conjunction with the work at hand.

As a play "Little Women" has been well received, and the famous story is splendidly and accurately portrayed. The role of Meg is taken by Miss Alice Brady, the daughter of William A. Brady, who produced the play.

IN THE OLDEN DAYS.

Equal Suffrage Obtained Among the Norsemen in the Viking Age.

Many of the women of today who pride themselves upon being "modern" and "advanced" and who are making such a brave struggle to obtain rights and privileges which certainly should be theirs without any contention would be surprised to know how far equal suffrage obtained among the old Norsemen in the age of the vikings. Rough and violent as they were in those days, they had a respect for woman, and their laws were made to protect her and to give her an independence she had not possessed through the succeeding centuries. At fifteen the woman of the viking period became of legal age and was allowed to transact her own affairs of business. She owned property in her own right, which, after her marriage, still remained her own. After one year of marriage a man and his wife became partners, and whatever was acquired in the way of lands, stock and other property was owned jointly, and the husband could not sell nor move it to another town or country without the wife's consent. This would seem a beatific state to those women of England whose husbands, legally entitled to do so, take from their scanty earnings and dispose of them without a "by your leave" or "thank you."

In marriage the viking maid could not be coerced. Although the men of her family could offer their advice, she was not bound to take it. Marriage was a civil compact only, and, while even in those faroff times the bride had a dowry, the groom had to set against this a countergift. After the wedding the wife became her husband's companion, and both at home and in the community her counsels were of great weight.

Altogether the position of women in the days of the sagas was decidedly superior.

What a Wife Needs.

She needs a good temper, a cheerful disposition and a knowledge of how her husband should be treated.

She needs a capability of looking on the bright side of life and refusing to be worried by small things.

She needs a secure grasp of such subjects as are of interest to men and should not be above studying even politics in order to understand should her husband speak of it.

She needs a sympathetic nature in order that should sorrow fall upon them she may be able to give comfort to her husband.

She needs to understand something of sick nursing. A wife with no notion of what to do in cases of illness is but a useless thing.

She needs considerable tact and patience—the one to enable her to know when to remain silent, and vice versa, and the other to put up with him when his temper is ruffled.

NO ANALOGY BETWEEN MOY AND DOANE BOLTS

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

Quoting from an editorial in your paper this evening, "Now that Mayor Moy has consented to become the candidate of the Progressives for a re-election, we may expect a lively campaign, etc. His is the strongest possible sort of a nomination for the mayoralty and we misjudge the calibre of the voting population should he fail of election." Continuing to quote from item directly below the above, "J. Hervey Doane went into the Republican party primaries as a candidate for a Freeholder nomination. That he was fairly and honestly beaten is unquestionable. Therefore how can he consistently run for election as an independent candidate. There is such a thing as true American sportsmanship in politics and Mr. Doane would have won more friends by accepting his defeat gracefully."

Is my memory at fault or did the much touted (in your paper) present Mayor suffer defeat at a Republican party primary and still run and if so where was his true American sportsmanship and did he accept defeat gracefully?

If J. Hervey Doane should run as an independent candidate and be elected, I for one, judging from his past record, think he would make a much better freeholder than Mr. Moy has as mayor.

ROYLE T. PHILLIPS.

754 West Front street,

Plainfield, N. J., Oct. 1, 1912.

(These two cases are not analagous. Mr. Doane has not made any public claim that there was fraud at the primaries nor has he alleged that he was defeated through unfair methods of the Republican party bosses. He went into the primaries of his party and was fairly defeated. In Mr. Moy's caes the facts are different. Not only did Mr. Moy claim that there had been fraud at the Republican primaries in which he was a candidate, but he proved it he sets himself up as an independ- Mayor C. J. Fisk, sitting as a magistrate, holding for the action of the grand jury several shown to have attempted to bribe voters to cast ballots against Mr. Moy. On this ground, Moy resigned from the Republican City Committee, quit the party and therefore accepted a nomination from the Democrats and was elected. Doane remains in his party and refusing to abide by the decision at the primaries, the law of the State sufficiently to warrant the then ent candidate and has been offered a nomination by no party.—Editor.)

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT FOR WILLIAM H. CORBIN

Elizabeth, Oct. 2.—Judge Atwater, Frank Bergen and Surrogate Parrot were appointed a committee to draft resolutions of respect to be presented to the family of the late William H. Corbin, at a meeting of the Union County Bar Association in the law library in the Court House yesterday.

The meeting was called to order by James C. Connolly, president of the association, immediately after the swearing in of the grand jury and called of the Supreme and Circuit Court calendars.

NO MONROE DELEGATES AT FLEMINGTON MEETING

The Epworth League of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church held its first fall business meeting in the Epworth House, last night. It was decided not to send delegates to the twenty-second annual convention of the Elizabeth District Epworth League to be held at Flemington Friday, October 25.

After business, the meeting was turned over to the good and welfare committee, who served refreshments.

The flower committee of the C. E. Society had charge of the decorations for the Warren chapel rally day exercises and received much praise for the ornate arrangement of flags and flowers. The committee consisted of Miss Ida Wheeler and A. J. Everett.

Mrs. M. F. Gano, of Grove street left today for Chicago, where she will spend some time visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. B. Caleen.

DAVID BRUCE BROWN.

DAVID BRUCE BROWN, AUTO RACER, KILLED

Burning Up Track When Machine Loses Tire.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 2.—David Bruce Brown, New York automobile racer, a millionaire who raced automobiles because he liked the life, while breaking all records for road driving was hurled to death and his mechanician, Anthony S. Scudara, was probably fatally injured when the loss of a tire threw Bruce Brown's huge Fiat machine through the fence surrounding the track upon which the race for the Vanderbilt cup will be decided.

Brown in the circuit of the track which immediately preceded his fatal accident had done the 7.88 miles in 5 minutes 53 seconds, a rate of speed averaging 80.4 miles, the fastest at which a machine has ever been driven on a road course, the official record being seventy-eight and one-half miles.

Brown was unconscious when picked up by Ralph De Palma and murmured, "Mother," and then relapsed into unconsciousness. He was hurried to Trinity hospital, where the best surgeons of Milwaukee operated upon his twice fractured skull, but it was of no avail. He died a little more than three hours after the accident.

It seemed that Brown was traveling nearly a hundred miles an hour when his machine threw its tire. Both men were thrown off the machine, the injuries being due to the force with which their heads were hurled to earth.

Flier Battles Gale.

Mourmelon, France, Oct. 2.—"Stalled" by a head wind, Aviator Brodin hung in the same position 1,500 feet in the air for thirteen minutes here. He descended safely.

JUST TAPS BY "BUNTS"

Br-r-r, who said baseball this kind of weather. The cold snap may be all right to keep down the friction when the Sunday-school leaguers get together in the final scrap for the cup, but the Manufacturers' are of a meeker disposition and they will have to go some to keep from freezing to death in their playoff next Saturday afternoon.

Now someone announces the opening of the Holy Cross Club. Keep it going, it was a good thing before the crash came, so revive it.

Have you noticed the Hesper Club members with their heads together lately. Keep your eyes peeled, they are due to spring a big one.

It is high time we were hearing from some of those banquet committees in the two amateur leagues. We haven't heard of any big boom in the grocery business.

Happened to run across a N. P. H. S. representative this morning. He says it is colder than—well than it is here, over in Canada.

P. H. S. issues a call for hockey. Sounds cold, doesn't it? Well it was only the girls trying to boom field hockey.

The score keeper from this paper who sat in the press box at the oval Saturday has been the subject of inquiries regarding his idea of Harter's playing, etc. We have just been able to determine the cause of this excitement and the poor man is just overcoming his surprise. The fans took him for the previously announced big league scout and they thought he had his eyes on Joe Harter.

Fuller is the fellow who jotted down the hits and runs and he is seriously considering the advisability of applying to Johnny McGraw for a job. As long as he looks like a scout, that's all that is necessary.

No wonder the fans thought there was something unusual being pulled off by the scorers. The Press box was "Fuller" than usual.

Basketball has started for the winter and the Y. M. C. A. Ajax held their first practice yesterday afternoon.

Have you seen "Cutey" Glover around town Well if you haven't you certainly have not been on Front street for he is several inches wider than last year, and then some.

The veteran Ajax guard says he feels fine, however, and will be back in the game this season.

We are patiently waiting for the first report from those solicitors who are collecting the contributions to purchase the Monroe Avenue team a baseball trophy.

One of the interscholastic racquet wielders from North Plainfield, by the way, who lost out in the tennis championships, says it was so windy at the Plainfield Country Club that the ball never crossed the net so that he could get a square crack at it.

That's only an excuse, however.

GRIDIRON PUNTS

Football weather is here at last but whether or not this weather will last until Saturday remains to be seen.

Coach Hamilton had his Holy Cross warriors out for a stiff practice last evening in preparation for the stiff game Saturday with the St. Alphonsus eleven.

This team played the local warriors to a scoreless tie here last year under the name of the Emerald A. C.

A number of shifts are due to be brought about before the next game and it is rumored that most of the line will be shattered.

"Shake" Clarke, the High School football coach, is due to play one end. "Nuf sed."

One of the prettiest plays in the Rosewood A. C. game was one which was perhaps not visible to the crowd and it took one inside the ropes to see the beauty of it. It came when the Rosewood centre passed the oval clean over the heads of his backs and although the opposing fullback made a spurt to recover it, Coyle was there like a flash and after a long dive directly in front of the Rosewood man he came up with the ball safely in his grasp.

This illustrates the necessity of drumming the art of falling on the ball into prospective football players There is always a large amount of grumbling on the part of candidates when they are made to fall on the ball repeatedly in practice but this phase of the game has proved itself indispensable in practice.

Arrangements are being made to bring the Holy Cross and P. H. S elevens together for a local championship. It sounds good; why not make it a real thing?

BUNTS AND PUNTS

Baseball promoters of Hunchinson, Kas., are trying to purchase a Western League franchise to give Hutchinson Class A baseball.

Hal Chase, the Yankee star first baseman, says he doesn't see where the Giants have a chance to take four games from the Red Sox.

It is said that Hugh Duffy will be the successor of Mike Kelly as manager of the St. Paul team. Kelly goes to Indianapolis next season.

During the past two seasons Pitcher Lew Richie, of the Cubs, has won twelve of the fourteen games he has pitched against the Giants.

Bobby Veach has been hitting for .375 since he joined the Detroit team, and looks good enough to hold down a regular job with the Tigers.

From all reports the Boston Braves have copped two great players in "Hap" Myers, the Spokane first baseman, and Pitcher Bill James, of the Seattle team.

Claude Derrick, formerly of the Athletics, who has been playing with the Baltimore team, is to get another trial in the big show, this time with the New York Highlanders.

In some quarters they declare that Marty O'Toole, Pittsburg's $22,500 pitcher, is a failure. Maybe he is. But he has taken part in more than thirty games, winning half of them, which is not a bad record for his first season in fast company.

Wisconsin will close the season with a game with Iowa instead of Chicago, as has been the custom for some years.

Sam White, the former Princeton star, who beat Harvard and Yale last year, is coaching the Tigers in picking up a loose ball.

The hoodoo of probation that has been hanging over Sam Felton's head since College opened has vanished, and Sam has joined the Harvard squad.

It costs $15 a week to feed each man at the training table in the big colleges. The same player will pay about $4 per when he has to settle his own board bill.

TEMPLE BAPTIST ATHLETES PREPARING FOR FOOTBALL

Those elected were: William H. Conger, president; Walter Cubberley, vice president; P. H. Moore, recording secretary; Clarence La Rue, assistant recording secretary; George Huff, financial secretary, and George Howell, treasurer. William H. Conger was elected manager, while James A. Thompson was elected captain of the football team.

The first practice of the football squad will be held tomorrow evening on the Center street field. All those that wish to try for the team are urged to be there at 5:30 o'clock.

ELKS MAKE BURTON CAPTAIN.

At a meeting of the New Brunswick Elks' bowling team, Walter Burton, the anchor of the team for many seasons, was elected captain, succeeding James V. Harkins, who piloted the team last season. Burton is considered one of the best bowlers in the city. The team will be made up of Charles Greenewald, James Harkins, Walter Burton, Thomas Coyne, John Bastedo, George Taylor, Arthur Harding and Leon Hirsh.

JIM CORBETT DYING AFTER AN OPERATION

Blood Poisoning Follows Attack of Acute Appendicitis.

Philadelphia, Oct. 2.—James J. Corbett, former champion pugilist of the world, is dying here at the Jefferson hospital following an operation performed as a last resort to save him from peritonitis. There is absolutely no hope, the surgeons say, and his death is only a question of hours.

Corbett was billed here this week to appear at the People's theater, and his company came with him on Sunday. Monday night he was not feeling well, and after the performance he complained of severe pains in the right side. Toward morning his condition grew worse, and when the famous actor pugilist consented to have a physician it was found that he had been suffering from acute appendicitis, and from his condition it was seen that his case was critical. Blood poisoning had set in, as the appendix had ruptured, and it was feared that he would die before he could be hurried to the operating table and placed under the anaesthetic.

News of his condition was withheld in the hope that the diagnosis might be wrong and that after he had been operated on it would be found that he still had a fighting chance. The old hero of many ring battles stood the ether well, but the rupture had done its work.

When the surgeons made the incision it was found that not only had the appendix been ruptured, but that part of the wall of the intestine had been torn so severely that there was no chance for the surgeons to repair the lacerated peritoneum. They have sewed the organ as best they can in the hope that the dying hours of the ring gladiator will be as comfortable as possible.

WITH THE BOXERS.

Eddie Santry, the former featherweight, who was a star in his day, is stricken with paralysis at his home in Chicago.

Mike Gibbons has passed up a match with Jack (Twin) Sullivan. He will box Mike Glover in Providence on October 15.

Another English middleweight, Dia Thomas, has arrived in New York, and is anxious to show Gotham fans what he can do.

WANTS F-B. MATERIAL.

William H. Conger, manager of the Temple Athletic Association football team, would like to arrange games with teams that have an average weight of not over 150 pounds.

Homes Under the Ground.

In the salt district in Cheshire, England, the brine has been pumped so continuously out of the earth that the land has settled very considerably. The houses naturally sink with the earth, and in some of the streets in Northwich only the roofs are visible. The houses are inhabited, although the rooms are underground. In a great many cases additional stories have been added, so that by living in the upper rooms the residents may have some light and air. The roadways sink, too, but are kept up to the proper level by the government.

MEMORIAL TO GENERAL BOOTH

Salvation Army Will Build Training College In New York.

STRUCTURE TO COST $250,000

Trained Nurses to Be Turned Out to Work In the Slums—Eva Booth Outlines the Project, Saying $22,000 Has Already Been Received.

As a memorial to General William Booth the Salvation Army in New York purposes to erect a building costing a quarter of a million dollars to be used as a training college for its officers and for the instruction of a corps of nurses to work among the poor. The project was outlined in a statement given out by Miss Eva Booth, in which she said:

It was among the strongest and greatest ambitions of the latter years of my father's life that a more complete training college should be established in New York where men and women desiring to devote their lives to the interests of suffering humanity can be more efficiently educated to fill the different positions of our field.

The students for this institution would come from all classes of society and would be instructed, as well as by lecture and class, by the world's best teacher, practical experience, through coming in daily contact with the sorrows and sins of the unfortunate and by daily practice of the army's successful methods and teaching in relieving them.

I cannot help but feel from the messages of appreciation of my father and his life's work that have poured in from every part of this great nation that America, equal with any country, has loved and valued him and will quickly and generously support a memorial to his name that will help to make the work he established still more effectual in its manifold activities among the most needy cases.

A Plain College.

Miss Booth said that as customary with Salvation Army properties the proposed college would be of a plain military order, avoiding unnecessary expense in ornamentation, but would be up to date in all the latest conveniences.

"It is at this juncture too early to issue a formal statement regarding the project," said Miss Booth. "The details have yet to be worked out, but it is estimated that the sum of $250,000 at least will be required, and I am happy to say that already we have in hand subscriptions to the amount of $22,000 toward the project."

I am importuned everywhere to suggest a scheme for expressing the almost universal admiration felt for the generals work. In connection with this I agree to your proposal for the United States a memorial training college and central headquarters, with a spacious hall, and an industrial institution for the purpose of training officers for every branch of army service. This would accomplish one of the greatest of my father's ambitions for America.

Nurses' School a Feature.

The training school for nurses, it was explained, would be one of the principal features of the proposed building. The army has a nursing force at present, but the nurses are without medical training for the most part. The plan is to turn out regularly trained nurses to work in the slums as an important feature of Salvation Army work hereafter.

A similar movement has been started in England as a memorial to the army's founder, the plans there calling for the erection of a training school to cost $750,000.

Original "Tom Brown" Dead.

London, Oct. 2.—The Rev. Augustus Orlebar, who was the original for Hughes' "Tom Brown at Rugby" in a fight with the Slugger Williams, is dead at the age of eighty-eight. However, he was not the model for Tom Brown in other respects.

Square Pot Boiler

I installed one last fall and there hasn't been a minute since when we haven't been perfectly comfortable. I slip down in the morning, turn the grate, take out the little ash that's accumulated, put on some fresh coal and before Emma gets the breakfast on everything's as warm as a tin oven. Then at night I do the same thing again and that's all the care it takes. Actually, that Square Pot is the best investment I ever made—it's great."

Square Pot Boilers give results that you're after—i. e., abundant and healthful heat—at moderate upkeep cost—and with trifling daily tax on time. Don't stick to the old style—install a BOYNTON "square pot" boiler and live in comfort.

BOYNTON Boilers have a square firepot which never clogs and keeps a free fire. It gives all the heat in the coal.

FOOTBALL, FOOTBALL, THAT'S THE GAME FOR ME, SLAP 'EM ON THE ANKLE----KICK 'EM IN THE KNEE

WHO WILL BE THE NEW FIRST LADY OF THE LAND?

From This Group Will Come the Social Leaders of the Feminine World.

WHO will be the new first lady of the land? Likewise the new second lady? Both of these places of high social distinction are involved in the presidential election. For not only do we elect the president and vice president, but also their wives. The mistress of the White House does not occupy an official station, yet her place is none the less powerful or desirable because of that. In society she is at the very apex, an uncrowned queen.

As for the wife of the vice president, she ranks socially next to the president's wife. The vice presidency itself may not amount to much, but this does not apply to the V. P's. better half. She is the leader of social Washington outside of the White House. To measure her standing one has but to remember Mrs. Fairbanks and Mrs. Sherman, to go no further back.

There are five candidates for president and, by the same token, five candidates for vice president. Still by the same token, and then some, there are five wives of presidential candidates and five wives of vice presidential candidates. This numerical reckoning shows that there are just ten ladies in this distinguished company—ten, count 'em! They are Mrs. William Howard Taft, Mrs. James Schoolcraft Sherman, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. Thomas Riley Marshall, Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Mrs. Hiram W. Johnson, Mrs. Eugene Victor Debs, Mrs. Emil Seidel, Mrs. Eugene Wilder Chafin and Mrs. Aaron Sherman Watkins.

All Happily Married.

One of the chief glories of American public life is that, almost without an exception, our presidents and other officials all down the line have been men with spotless private lives and happy homes. The air of scandal found about so many European courts is well nigh unbeat here. Whatever may be said about the divorce evil as it affects Americans generally, it never touches the White House and is scarcely to be found in the official circle at Washington.

Mrs. Taft has now been mistress of the White House about three years and a half. Unfortunately her health has not always been the best, and this has hampered her in exercising the onerous duties of her station. She went to the White House exceptionally well equipped for her new sphere. As Miss Helen Herron of Cincinnati she had been entertained at Washington by Mrs. Rutherford B. Hayes, who was related to Judge Herron, Mrs. Taft's father. She saw much of official society when her husband was solicitor general, secretary of war and governor general of the Philippines.

"Mrs. Taft has always kept my feet on the ground," Mr. Taft once said. The Tafts were married in 1886, and when their means were small Mrs. Taft guarded the income and outgo. During the last campaign Mr. Taft was being heckled by an inquisitive caller, to whom he finally said: "You know you ought not to ask me these things. Go talk politics with my wife. She is the campaign manager."

Mrs. Taft is not overtall and has soft brown hair and brown eyes. She dresses with quiet elegance and is a better politician than the president.

Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt.

Colonel Roosevelt has been married twice, the first Mrs. Roosevelt having died three years after her marriage. Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, the Alice Roosevelt of White House days, is the daughter of this union.

The present Mrs. Roosevelt was Miss Edith Kermit Carow. Rather above medium height, she has a graceful carriage and intelligent features.

Her marriage was the crowning of a childhood romance. Born in New York city, Edith Carow's home was not far from the Roosevelts. Her father was Charles Carow, son of Isaac Carow of the bygone generation of wealthy shipowners and merchants, and her mother's maiden name was Gertrude Tyler. One of Mr. Roosevelt's sisters was devotedly fond of Edith Carow.

On Dec. 2, 1886, after a romantic courtship, Theodore Roosevelt and his boyhood friend were married in historic St. George's church, London. After several months' travel on the continent they returned to America, going to live at Oyster Bay, N. Y., their present home.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson is a daughter of the south and has all the charm of the womanhood of Dixie. She is thus described:

Mrs. Wilson is a brown haired woman. Her eyes are brown and very sweet and large. They are saved from too much sweetness by highly arched and witty eyebrows. You never saw a stupid woman with an arched eyebrow. Her features are small and regular—they suggest, in fact, a Victorian miniature. Her figure is matronly in the sense that statues of Livia and Agrippina are matronly, but not as the word is usually employed to convey the idea of fatness as palatably as possible.

Mrs. Wilson, who was Miss Helen Louise Axson, was born in Georgia and spent the early part of her life there. She showed a talent for painting, and critics have said she probably would have had a future as an artist had she not given up most of her work in this line upon her marriage in 1885 to Professor Wilson.

Mrs. Wilson is her husband's companion and her children's chum. She is a home woman through and through, yet believes in woman's duty to the community. "There are certain things in connection with charity and the like which I think women can do better than men," she explained. "They are a part of her natural 'sphere.'"

She is a charming hostess, and since her husband's nomination to the presidency has won golden opinions from all who have visited Sea Girt.

Getting Used to It.

Mrs. Eugene V. Debs has been the wife of a presidential candidate so long that it is no longer a new sensation. Debs now has the long distance record in the White House race, having made the run in 1900, 1904, 1908 and now again in 1912. Mrs. Debs, who was Miss Katherine Metzel, has been lending him able assistance at her home at Terre Haute, Ind. She has handled great masses of campaign literature and personally answered a vast quantity of correspondence. Mrs. Debs is a pleasant faced woman of delightful personality and absorbed in the fight of her husband's party.

Mrs. Chafin, the wife of the Prohibition nominee, was Miss Carrie A. Hunker of Wisconsin and was active for years in the Prohibition cause, presiding at meetings and making public speeches until her health no longer permitted. She is at the Chafin home in Tucson, Ariz. The Chafins were married in 1881.

The Vice Presidential Group.

Mrs. Sherman, wife of the renominated candidate for the vice presidency, is popular in Washington. She is a delightful hostess and well versed in politics, but prefers a home life to society. The Shermans were married in 1881 and have been ideally happy. Mrs. Sherman was Miss Carrie Babcock. When Mr. Sherman was in congress his wife organized the Congressional club, composed of senators' and representatives' wives.

Mrs. Thomas R. Marshall, wife of Mr. Wilson's running mate, is her husband's inseparable companion. Mr Marshall says his married life, beginning in 1895, has been one long honeymoon. Mrs. Marshall was Lois I. Kimsey when Mr. Marshall met and won her. She immediately started to shape her husband's career, and he began to get ahead and then to prosper.

Mrs. Johnson, wife of Hiram W. Johnson, Roosevelt's running mate, was Miss Minnie McNeil. While wrapped up in her husband's political success, she has not taken as active a part in public affairs as some of the other candidates' wives, preferring home life.

Mrs. Emil Seidel, wife of the Socialist vice presidential nominee, has raised much money for the Socialist cause by means of festivals given in Milwaukee. She is a sweet faced, slender person, taller than her husband, and presides over a modest household, which is her joy and pride.

Mrs. Aaron Sherman Watkins, wife of the Prohibition vice presidential nominee, was Miss Emma L. Davis of Ohio and married Mr. Watkins in 1890. She has been a speaker and organizer for the party for many years. It was said at the beginning of this campaign that she expected to make 400 speeches before election day.

JOE HEDGES SLID DOWN BONNELL'S CELLAR DOOR

Jonathan Bonnell, eighty-two years old, one of the most active aged men in Summit, has telegraphed his congratulations to Job E. Hedges, Republican candidate for Governor of New York. Mr. Bonnell and Mr. Hedges are warm friends.

"Well do I remember the times when Job used to slide down the cellar door of our home," said Mr. Bonnell today. "He was a fine boy, and he is just as fine a man. His grandfather used to be pastor of a church in New Providence, although Job himself was born in Elizabeth. The Bonnells and Hedges were close friends, and when I heard that Job had been nominated I telegraphed my congratulations."

Another Summit resident who telegraphed his congratulations to Mr. Hedges was Rev. Minot C. Morgan, pastor of Central Presbyterian church, whose wife is a relative of the Empire State candidate.

A GLIMPSE OF PARIS FASHIONS.

To say "Wanamaker" is to speak a name that stands for the best in everything — and particularly the best in fashion. The present Paris Conference on view on the second floor of John Wanamaker's old building serves to emphasize this quality which has made this house the goal of the fashionable woman's shopping trip. This assembly of the newest aristocratic fashions from abroad will not be shown after Thursday. The hours of reception are from nine o'clock in the morning to three o'clock in the afternoon.

There is a charming sense of intimacy and privacy conveyed in the arrangement of the rooms devoted to this conference. The entrance room is given over to opera gowns and cloaks. This room is flanked by smaller rooms which display millinery, house gowns, needlework, children's and infants' wear, corsets and negligee, favors and bon-bons, etc. Here are seen women's garments at their best as one dreams of them—laces of fairy gossamer—embroideries of perfect workmanship and lovely design.

It is not difficult to follow the trend of fashion as illustrated in this exquisite display. Both in the gowns and cloaks fur trimming is seen, and draperies are used everywhere. Brocades are used both in evening wraps and in gowns. Much lace is in evidence and also pearl and bead trimming. The narrow skirt is shown, but in the evening gown it is used with a short train. A contrast of color is displayed in all of the gowns, a pure white one being relieved by a dull gold rose in a bunch of black tulle at the side of the skirt. The hats are conspicuous for little trimming, the dressiest having either a single flower close to the edge of the brim, or a bird of paradise on the under side.

THE DEMAND FOR
PLAIN COLOR CARPETS

The present vogue of subdued decorative effects has created an unusual demand for Plain Color Carpets.

Our displays of Plain Color Carpets are unequaled in America for size and variety. Many of the weaves are controlled by us, and are not obtainable elsewhere.

They embody English Barodas, Saxines, Angoras, Saxonias and Velvets; French and Domestic Wiltons, Domestic Axminsters, Velvets and Ingrains. Widths range from 27 inches to 15 feet, depending upon the weave.

Correct measuring, making up and laying of this type of floor covering are assured because of our long experience in this class of work.

NO SETTLED PLAN YET AT SYRACUSE

Sulzer and Glynn Appear to Be In Lead.

JUSTICE DOWLING STRONG

Sentiment That Nomination Should Go to New York City Man—Keynote Speech of Temporary Chairman Glynn Helps Boom.

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 2.—Reciting that Oscar S. Straus, the candidate of the Progressives; Job E. Hedges, the candidate of the Republicans, and Charles E. Russell, the candidate of the Socialists, are all New York city men, the delegates to the Democratic state convention are decrying the movement to give the nomination to an up state man.

Friends of Supreme Court Justice Victor J. Dowling have not wholly given up the fight for him. Senator O'Gorman spoke very highly of Justice Dowling today, and it would appear that Mr. Dowling is his first choice. To all intents and purposes Congressman Sulzer is Senator O'Gorman's second choice. The up state Democrats are very strong in their demand that Martin H. Glynn of Albany shall be the candidate. Charles E. Treman of Ithaca also has his friends. And there is a good deal of sentiment with up state and down state for Supreme Court Justice James W. Gerard. It is a remarkable fact that no one but Governor Dix's officeholders even now breathe the name of the governor as having the slightest chance for a renomination.

Glynn Gets a Boost.

The speech of Temporary Chairman Glynn in the convention has made him many new friends in the Democratic party. These delegates and leaders believe that Glynn, after his effective speech in the convention, could race through this state and make things lively for Straus and Hedges. His record as congressman at Washington and as comptroller of the state has been recalled and have been assets for Glynn.

Therefore it is apparent that the situation concerning a candidate for governor is slowly but surely narrowing down to Glynn, Sulzer, Gerard and Treman, with still an occasional mention of Dowling. But it will take another day in which to crystallize the sentiment in favor of either one of these five candidates. Perhaps it will take until Thursday morning for the delegates and their leaders to concentrate on a candidate.

HOLD GIBSON FOR MURDER.

Lawyer Goes to Jail to Await Action of Grand Jury.

Goshen, N. Y., Oct. 2.—Burton W. Gibson was held for the grand jury on a charge of murdering Mrs. Rosa Menschik Szabo, his client, who perished in Greenwood lake. The grand jury will meet next Monday.

Gibson, his wife, Mr. Elder and the expert, Mr. O'Reilly, conferred together for several minutes after the decision had been read. Gibson did not show any great disappointment. Once he turned to one of the reporters and said, "I am not surprised." Court was adjourned and Mrs. Gibson got up. She patted her husband's shoulder and smiled. She then came over to the press table and in answer to the question whether the examination had shaken her faith in her husband, her lip faltered just a little as she replied:

"Has anything happened here that should shake my faith in my husband? I do not think so. No, boys, my faith is as strong as ever. All I want is that the papers shall give us a square deal."

AUTO KILLS MAYOR'S WIDOW.

Mrs. Lydia A. Willey, Sister of New York Banker, Dies In Wilmington.

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 2.—Mrs. Lydia A. Willey, aged seventy-five, widow of Mayor Stansbury J. Willey, died at the Homeopathic hospital from being run down by an automobile belonging to R. R. M. Carpenter, a brother-in-law of Pierre S. Du Pont, acting president of the Du Pont Powder company. Mrs. Willey was a sister of the late John Norris Robinson, member of the banking firm of Drexel, Morgan & Co. of New York.

The car was driven by Walter H. Carpenter of Wilkesbarre, father of the owner. He surrendered to the police after the death of the victim, but was released on $1,000 bail provided by Mr. Du Pont.

STORK FOR ENGLAND?

Reported Hovering Over Home of Royal Family.

London, Oct. 2.—Rumors that the stork is hovering over the English royal household were published in the London Mail's weekly society supplement, which specializes in court gossip. The interesting news was the subject of much comment in the fashionable drawing rooms of the west end.

King George and Queen Mary, whose marriage took place on July 6, 1893, have six children, of whom all but Princess Victoria Alexandra are boys. The Prince of Wales was born in 1894, and his youngest brother, Prince John, in 1905.

ALTON B. PARKER.

Said to Be Slated For Permanent Chairmanship at Syracuse.

© 1912, by American Press Association.

It is declared that the insurgent forces have joined hands and decided to make the real fight of the convention against the selection of Alton B. Parker as permanent chairman. The self constituted progressive wing of the party takes the position that the selection of Parker will be a slap at Wilson and Bryan.

T. R. WANTS RECEIVER FOR TOBACCO TRUST

So He Tells His North Carolina Audience.

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 2.—North Carolina furnished a climax to the "swing around the circle" which Colonel Roosevelt finished here. Both in the character of his reception and in his proposal for a receiver for the tobacco trust made before 7,000 men and women in the Raleigh auditorium the colonel's visit to this state has greatly pleased his supporters. This is what the colonel said:

"Our opponents have nothing to offer about the trusts except what has been done, with some slight modification of details. No modification of detail would make the decree against the tobacco trust amount to anything. My proposal is not to do damage to business, but to stop and punish the crookedly managed business. Such a showing as set out by the supreme court decree in the tobacco case would warrant the appointment of a receiver by the government for that trust, just as would be done in the case of national banks which went crooked.

"The government should at once put the trust into the hands of a receiver, who would run the organization until everything decided to be wrong had been set right and the receiver reported to the corporation commission that every objection had been remedied. Then, and not until then, should the owners come back, and if they repeated the wrong they should suffer the same thing over again."

The idea of a receiver for the tobacco trust came with novel force to the people here, and they manifested their approval of it by emphatic applause.

HARD TO GET JURORS.

But Two Obtained to Hear Evidence Against I. W. W. Leaders.

Salem, Mass., Oct. 2.—When the Essex county superior criminal court was adjourned late yesterday the jury box still had ten vacant seats, and Ettor, Giovannitti and Caruso were not any nearer an opportunity of hearing the evidence against them in connection with the killing of Anna Lopezzi at Lawrence than they were the night before. Fear of revenge at the hands of friends of the accused men unquestionably had much to do with the discovery by talesmen that they were either biased or opposed to the death penalty, and the examination of 120 citizens of the county during the proceedings did not result in any additions to the two men selected for the jury the day before. So far 235 of the 350 talesmen summoned have been examined, and all of them except Christian W. Larsen and Robert P. Stillman have escaped service, either because of reasons they themselves expressed or because of peremptory challenges by either the prosecution or defense. It is considered more than likely that District Attorney Atwill will be obliged to call a new venire before the jury is completed.

Advertising Pulls—It Doesn't Jerk

That is if it is put together rightly and placed in the right mediums. Under such conditions it is certain to influence your business to the betterment of it if you will only have the courage to "keep at it."

How did John Wanamaker and our other commercial kings build up their vast enterprises? Simply by good business ability and—Advertising constantly—keeping at it. You woudn't apply a liniment with a feather would you, you rub it in—just the same with advertising, except that you keep on rubbing it in and the harder and longer you do the rubbing the greater the returns.

We once read in a country paper the following: "If you have a prosperous business, advertise and keep it—if not advertise and get it. If you can't find the necessary time to devote to advertising your business properly phone us. We have an expert who will put up your "Copy" that will bring sure results.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

BIG MELODRAMA.

New York, which boasts of the biggest buildings, banks, ships and official scandals, is to have one more feature calculated to exhaust superlatives and adjectives—the biggest melodrama! It is an imported article, from Drury Lane, London, where melodrama is a hallowed institution and the stage is torn out, leaving only the bare walls each time a new production is installed. The biggest melodrama is Arthur Collins' most spectacular effort, "The Whip." After thrilling the sensation lovers of the British Metropolis for two years it has been transplated bodily in New York to establish new records in problems for managers to overcome. The complete original Drury Lane company will soon arrive, but it is proportion rather than actors and acting that is under discussion here. The entire freight capacity of two ocean liners was necessary to transport the equipment of the thirteen big scenes of "The Whip" and the mechanical effects through which they are made possible; devices weighing fourteen tons and which will be hidden far from the eyes of the audience were included for one scene alone, the railroad collision. approximately $10,000 was paid in over sea freight charge to bring the production from London; five customs examiners worked overtime to "clear" it under the $100,000 bond that permitted it to be brought into the country; three store houses were necessary to shelter it until wanted; hundreds of trips were made by the largest forty-foot scene trucks to hawl it thither, and an army of stage hands and mechanics were required to handle it. In addition, tons and tons of machinery and mechanical devices, doomed to isolated concealment in the dark vault below the stage, yet the governing factor in what progresses above, are piled up in Thirty-fifth street behind the Manhattan Opera House, where the melodramatic giant will leap into life in November. Before that time the stage Oscar Hammerstein designed to accommodate the heaviest of grand operas will be entirely reconstructed to meet the requirements of this colossus of sensational drama. No attempt will be made to present "The Whip" elsewhere in this country because its very magnitude eliminates the possibility of travel. It will be presented some time in November.

Agincourt was refought on the stage of Daly's theatre Monday night, and, as in the original encounter, the English had all the better of the argument. Which might have been expected, as Lewis Waller, the English actor-manager, was appearing here for the first time as wholesome King Henry V., in Shakespeare's martial drama. Mr. Waller's admirers said before he came to this country a year ago that this was his best role. New York playgoers have seen him in four or five parts, but as Briton's King he appears to better advantage than in any other role he has acted here. In days when Maxim silencers, aeroplanes and other devices of modern warfare that have been employed on the stage, it was like turning back to the first chapter and beginning all over again to see the long pike and the broadsword wielded with satisfying reults. Herbert Jarman assisted Mr. Waller in making the production, the climax of which is reached in a realistic battle between the English and French forces. On the eve of the battle, after the lighter scenes in which he appeared as the king, disguised, Mr. Waller struck the truest note of his interpretation. The soliloquy was read capitally. Playgoers fond of Shakespeare will revel in Mr. Waller's "Henry V."

TO STUDY COMMISSIONS.

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 2 (Special).—The advantages that the commission plan of government offers to the smaller cities formed the principal subject of discussion at a conference here today of representatives of third-class cities and boroughs of Pennsylvania. A. M. Fuller, president of the Allied Civic Bodies, presided and delivered an address on the subject of "Efficiency in City Government." Speakers from other States explained the workings of the commission plan of government and a committee was named to draft a bill to provide for the adoption of the commission plan by Pennsylvania cities.

N. P. H. S. NOTES.

The Sigma Gamma Kappa held an election of officers Monday. The following were elected: President, Ann Hull; vice president, Edith Dalley; secretary and treasurer, Edna Green. The entertainment committee, consisting of Edith Dalley, chairman; Margaret Ewart, Lucy Douglas and Helen Woodruff, is busy preparing for the freshmen reception to be held on Friday evening at the Y. W. C. A. All the freshmen girls are invited to this entertainment. The club is under the absolute direction of Miss Terry.

On account of the weaher conditions, the entire school was closed all day today. Work will be resumed tomorrow, weather permitting.

Professor Webster, who has charge of the special work in High School, has arranged a new schedule for his subjects. The mechanical drawing class is so large that it has been divided into two divisions. One meets on Monday and the other on Tuesday afternoons. The manual training and turning classes have been shifted to Wednesday afternoon instead of meeting from 2 to 5 p. m., all classes meet at 1:30 and stop work at 4:30 p. m. More interest is shown in those branches of work this year than ever before.

On days when the regular school session is held in the afternoon there will be no special subjects.

The Board of Education met Monday night and discussed the matter of punishment for the juniors of last year who painted the letters "13" on the side of the school building. They decided to bar those pupils from all school athletics for the next three months. This rule will keep them from the basketball teams this year.

LITERARY.

FATTENING THE CHICKENS.

Chickens having the run of the farm seldom put on sufficient flesh for the most exacting trade, says Farm and Home. By penning them for 10 days or two weeks and feeding a fattening ration, a gain of one to two pounds per fowl can be made says a writer in Farm and Home. An extra fat chicken will usually bring 2 or 3 cents more per pound than one only in fair order. Not over a dozen chickens should be put together in very limited quarters. The room should be kept fairly dark, sufficient light being admitted at feeding time to enable the fowls to see to eat. The reason for crowding and darkening the room is to prevent unnecessary movements, for to fatten readily, a chicken should get very little exercise. A ration recommended for the fattening pen is composed of equal parts of corn meal, middlings and ground oats, to which is added 15% by weight of beef scraps. This mixture is wet up with sour skim milk and fed from V-shaped troughs. The chickens should be fed all they will eat in 10 minutes, after which the feed troughs should be removed and the pen darkened until time to feed again. Feed three times a day.

The first fall meeting of the Men's Association of Warren chapel will be held in the church parlors Friday night at 8 o'clock. All are invited to attend.

THREE RESCUED IN HOTEL FIRE

Bartender Jumps from Second Story and Brings Aid to Entrapped Family.

FALLING CHIEF CAUGHT

Thrills Aplenty At Early Morning Blaze in New Providence Hostelry —Flame-seared Structure Is an Interesting Landmark.

New Providence, Oct. 3.—Rescue of three persons from the Union Hotel, here, while it was in flames early yesterday morning, was effected through the action of Benjamin Griffin, bartender, who jumped from a second-story window, and brought firemen to the scene.

The trio, John Maher, proprietor; his wife and young son LeRoy, were taken down ladders from the second floor, where they had been entrapped. The husband and wife are suffering from burns about the hands and face, but the son is without injury.

The bartender's feet are badly cut, the result of landing on a heap of broken stones when he jumped. He was without shoes and clad in night clothes at the time.

The building, a three-story structure, and one of the oldest hostelries in the State, was damaged to the extent of about $5,000. It was partly insured. It is believed that the fire started in the kitchen.

There were only four in the place when the fire was discovered.

While the fire was at its height Fire Chief William Clark fell when a stairway leading from the first to the second story gave away. He was saved from serious injury by Fireman Otto F. Adams, who caught his superior as the latter reached the first floor, which was then also in flames.

The hotel was built before the Revolution and is a landmark of this section of the country. Mr. Maher purchased it about twelve years ago and since that time the building has been altered much.

ALMOND SCHMEYER WEDS RAHWAY GIRL

Former Plainfielder Will Continue to Live Where He Won Bride.

Rahway, Oct. 3.—Beneath an artistic arch of autumn leaves and flowers, an exceptionally attractive wedding ceremony took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thomas, of 237 Maple avenue, when their daughter, Miss Elsie Thomas, and Almond Schmeyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Schmeyer, of Plainfield, were united in marriage by the Rev. L. Y. Graham, Jr., pastor of the First Presbyterian church. The ceremony was performed in the presence of about thirty of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. The bidemaid was Miss Jennie Worth, of this city, and the best man was Morris Schmeyer, of Plainfield, a brother of the groom.

The bride was becomingly gowned in white silk mull, lace trimmed, and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Miss Worth was attractively attired in green silk mull and carried white roses.

Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served and a pleasant reception held, after which Mr. and Mrs. Schmeyer left for their wedding trip to Atlantic City. Upon their return they will reside at the corner of Harrison and Church streets. They were the recipients of many valuable gifts. The bride's gift to the bridemaid was a handsome brooch, while the groom's gift to the best man was a pair of gold cuff buttons.

CAN'T RE-OPEN OLD SCHOOLHOUSE

Assistant Commissioner Betts Rules Diamond Hill Building is Not Acceptable.

VOTERS WOULDN'T SELL

Proposition to Dispose of Structure Aroused Sentimental Opposition—Board's Ruling Means New Building if School is Re-established.

If the voters of New Providence Township who refused to authorize the sale of the old Diamond Hill schoolhouse at a recent special election expected by their action to bring about the reopening of the historic little structure, they had their voting for their pains. The State Board of Education, through J. Brognard Betts, assistant commissioner, has formally notified President William Jeffery, of the New Providence Board, that the present building cannot be reopened. He says it will be necessary to erect a new building if the school at Diamond Hill is re-established.

Mr. Betts' letter follows:

"Department of Public Instruction,
"Trenton, N. J.,
"October 2, 1912.

"Mr. William Jeffery,
"Plainfield, N. J.

"Dear Sir;

"Your favor of September 30 is received.

"From my knowledge of the conditions in your district I am clearly of the opinion that the best interests of the children demand that a one room school in the Diamond Hill section of the Township should not be re-established. I appreciate and sympathize with the sentiment which clusters around a school building which has been in existence for many years, but we should not permit our sympathy to lead us to do something which will be a detriment to the children. The advantages of a graded school are so obvious that no argument is necessary. Even if the school were re-established at Diamond Hill it would be necessary to erect a new building. The present building cannot be re-opened.

"Very truly yours,
"J. BROGNARD BETTS,
"Assist. Comm. of Ed."

The New Providence Board of Education met last night in special session to authorize the building committee to get an architect's sketches for a new building, and at a meeting to be held next Monday night a call will be prepared for a special election at which the proposition for a new building will be submitted to the voters. It is proposed, if the new structure is authorized, to use the present building as part of it.

President Jeffery, who was supposed by most of the voters to be in favor of the sale of the old schoolhouse, which is cherished by the Diamond Hill residents for its sentimental associations, said today that the present situation is quite satisfactory to him.

"I have wanted a new building there all along," he said. "It is what I have been trying to bring about."

PLAINFIELDER OFFERED $4,000 FOR INVENTION

Jules Parent, a machinist living on Manson place, has received an offer of $4,000 for a window sash fastener which he recently patented.

Parent has arranged a meeting with the Denver man. He has not decided to accept the flat offer of $4,000, and hopes to get better terms.

PULPIT ATTACK ON QUACK CURES

How Anti-Tuberculosis Day is to Be Observed This Year.

MANY FAKE REMEDIES

Immense Volume of Business Done by Frauds Who Trade on the Tears of the White Plague Victims and Their Relatives.

From Plainfield pulpits and thousands of other pulpits in all parts of the United States fake cures for consumption will be exposed and denounced on Tuberculosis Day, October 27. This is part of the program for the movement announced today by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

Literature giving information on fradulent and alleged "cures" for consumption will be sent to clergymen all over the United States and an organized crusade against the traffic in these drugs and devices will be instituted. The literature will be sent to the ministers either directly from the National Association office in New York or through the many State and local anti-tuberculosis associations scattered throughout the country. It is estimated that over 100,000 clergymen will be reached in this way.

From actual records on file in the office of the National Association, it is estimated that the volume of business done annually by the various concerns who sell fake remedies for tuberculosis amounts to well over $15,000,000. The number of these remedies now being used as so-called "cures" is over 500.

Three classes of cures are distinguished by the association. In the first class are included hundreds of devices and drugs which can be bought for any sum ranging from ten cents to five dollars at a drug store. The second class of cures includes the "institutes," "progessors" or companies of "doctors" who for a consideration guarantee to cure consumption by some secret method of which they are the sole proprietors. There are nearly one hundred and fifty of these institutes frauds in the United States, cheating the people out of millions of dollars annually.

In the third class of "cures" are placed a number of home made remedies, which either through ignorance or superstition have been advanced as treatments for tuberculosis. Some of these are onions, lemons, rattlesnake poison, coal dust, lime dust, pigs' blood, dog oil, silk strippings and even alcohol.

None of these remedies will cure consumption declares the National association. No drug, gas or other material has yet been discovered, which when eaten, inhaled, or injected into the system, will kill the germs of tuberculosis without doing serious injury to the body. The only real cure for tuberculosis recognized by the National association consists of the combination of fresh air, good food and rest taken under the direction of a competent physician.

No effort will be made to apprehend Clark, the forfeited bond being regarded as a fine. Kennard was released.

FAMOUS ARTISTS WILL BE HEARD

FIRST ONE OCTOBER 24

Zimbullist Will Give Violin Recital at High School Auditorium on That Date—To Be Followed By Flonzally Quartet.

Music lovers of Plainfield who attend the recitals given by Joseph McIntyre this year will be given a decided treat. Mr. McIntyre has secured for his concert series such famous artists as Efrain Zimbullist, the great violin virtouso; the Flonzalley Quartette and Tina Lerner, the Russian pianiste.

The first appearance of this array of excellent talent will be Thursday evening, October 24, in the High School Auditorium, when Zimbullist, probably the most famous young violinist of today, will give a recital. He is one of the younger generation of artists who have set the world afire, and has the acknowledged distinction of being among the truly great interpretation artists. He has a marvelous tone and astounding technique. H. E. Krehbiel, the noted critics of the New York Tribune, recently had this to say of him:

"Mr. Zimbullist is a fine acquisition from every point of view—a violinist with a peculiarly pure, and golden quality of tone; an artist every inch of him; a musician in all his instincts, in intelligence, in feeling, in his strong, easy, graceful, reposeful, self-reliant bearing; master of an irreproachable technique and impeachable taste, of most ingratiating purity of intonation. His presence will greatly increase the loftiest enjoyment of the season."

The second concert, November 14, will be given by the Flonzalley Quartette. This organization has become world known and is considered to be one of the finest quartettes in existence today. They are at present in Switzerland and will return to the United States early in November.

The December concert will be given by Mr. McIntyre's own Trio and will have the assistance of one of New York's foremost vocal artists, who will be announced later.

To complete the unprecedented array of attractions, the last concert in January will be a piano recital by the beautiful Russian pianiste, Tina Lerner.

Commenting on her initial appearance with the Boston Symphony Orchestra, Philip Hale wrote in the Boston Herald, "Her touch is singularly beautiful, and she has at command as a colorist, a great variety of nuances. Her art is indisputable."

Miss Lerner's American tour this season is trans-continental, including appearances with the most important orchestras in addition to nuermous recitals.

These four concerts should be a welcome announcement to the lovers of music in Plainfield and will undoubtedly attract a large subscription.

MRS. MARY FIRSTBROOK BADLY HURT BY A FALL

Mrs. Mary C. Firstbrook is confined to her home on East Second street with serious injuries received in an accident at the house yesterday afternoon, which will confine her to her bed for many weeks and perhaps result in permanent disability. She was in the act of coming from the upper to the lower floor and made a misstep, falling the entire distance down a long pair of stairs. She was picked up by her daughter, Mrs. Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., and son, Fred H. Firstbrook, and Doctors Lufburrow and Pittis, who were summoned, found that she had sustained a compound fracture of the right leg and dislocation of the right hip. She underwent an operation for the reduction of the fractures and today was resting comfortably.

Mrs. Firstbrook has been somewhat disabled for the past ten years because of an accident somewhat similar in nature and it is believed it will be many weeks before she will be able to get about if at all.

ENTERTAINED VISITORS.

Members of White Heather Lodge, of Elizabeth, and Bonnie Doon Lodge, of Newark, were the guests of Craigielea Lodge, No. 43, Daughters of Scotia, last evening, at its regular monthly meeting. The visitors gave a report of the annual convention of the order held at Bridgeport, Conn., and conveyed to the minds of the local members some idea of the good work done in this country by the Daughters of Scotia organizations.

BRYANT-LINCOLN ASSN. RESUMES MEETINGS

Mrs. Lawson Resigns Presidency and Mrs. Smith Succeeds Her in Office.

The Parent-Teachers' Association, of the Bryant-Lincoln Schools, held the first meeting of the year yesterday in the chapel of Bryant School. There was an encouraging attendance of members and ten new names were added to the list.

The president, Mrs. C. J. Lawson, resigned by letter on account of her removal from the city. Mrs. Harry Smith was unanimously elected to fill the vacancy. Mrs. J. Hervey Doane acting as temporary chairman.

Tea was served by the refreshment committee and the social hour was much enjoyed. Miss Jackson, physical director of the Plainfield schools, gave an opportune talk on "Physical Welfare of the Child."

She emphasized the need for mothers to teach good judgment in dress at this time of year and pointed out that something was wrong when a boy wearing a coat and sweater sat in the same school room with his sister who wore a thin, low-necked waist. She compared a child to an automobile and told of the care the owner gave the latter before starting on a journey in order to avoid, if possible, an accident by the way. Unless he looked well to everything he would become a wreck by the roadside and have to be taken in tow by another car. The body of a child is the most intricate machine known and unless it receives much care it becomes a wreck and will have to be towed to the end of life's journey.

OCTOBER BRINGS A DOZEN NEW STUDENTS TO THE P. B.C.

There were twelve new students to begin their work at the Plainfield Business College and School of English on October 1. The total enrollment this year is the largest, thus far, in the history of the school. It is an interesting fact to note, also, that Prof. Herr's school is larger than the two Elizabeth schools combined.

During November and December the attendance will be augmented by young men from the country, who come down to spend the winter months.

DOANE ACCEPTS PARTY MANDATE

STATEMENT TO VOTERS

To Run Now, He Says, Would Be Contrary to Spirit of Primary Law and Disloyal to Other Candidates Fairly Nominated.

Freeholder J. Hervey Doane, who was urged by friends in all three of the leading parties to become an independent candidate for re-election after it became known that he failed of renomination in the primary, has decided to accept the mandate of the voters as final so far as it applies to this year's campaign. To run as an independent, Mr. Doane says, would be opposed to the intent and spirit of the primary law, and would manifest disloyalty to the men fairly nominated by the Repuublicans of the county.

Mr. Doane has prepared the following statement:

To the Citizens of Union County:

I desire to announce that I shall not be a candidate for the position of Freeholder at the coming election. This decision on my part comes after mature reflection and consideration and is final.

After the official returns made certain that I had been defeated for nomination, I was importuned by many citizens in various parts of the county who believed that I had done creditable work in the past, and who felt that Plainfield should have representation in the Board of Freeholders, urging me to go before the voters as an Independent Republican, and for a time I was disposed to give heed to their counsels.

It is my sincere belief however, that such action on my part would not only be opposed to the intent and spirit of our present primary law, but would also be very disloyal to the gentlemen who were fairly nominated by the Republicans of Union county; hence my decision.

To the many friends and well wishers who worked in my behalf for the primary nomination, I return my hearty thanks, and for the present Republican candidates for the Board of Freeholders, every one of whom I know will serve the entire county faithfully and well, I bespeak your earnest support.

Yours truly,
J. HERVEY DOANE.

N. P. H. S. FACULTY WON TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP

Brilliant Contest Decides Title on Watchung Club Courts —Game Details.

One of the best tennis matches ever witnessed on the courts of the Watchung Tennis Club was played yesterday before a large crowd. The North Plainfield High School faculty defeated the inter-class champion junior team, which makes them tennis champions of the school. The winning team consisted of Professor Phelps and Webster, while the juniors used their regular team, Augustus VanDeventer and Frank Dunning.

It was necessary to play five sets before the title was decided. The juniors got a running start, which was overcome by the winners by a 9-7 score. The second set was easy for the faculty, who took six games straight. The third classmen then pulled themselves together and took a 7-5 fall out of their opponents.

The fourth set was the most exciting of all. It was nip and tuck throughout, the juniors finally landing on top of a 10-8 score. This made the sets even and a fifth set was necessary for a decision. The juniors seemed to go to pieces in the last set and after taking the first game let the faculty have things their own way and take six games straight. Although the winners were unsteady they were always there at the right time, especially Mr. Webster. Whenever a point was needed for his side he made it without fail. The faculty will receive some sort of prize for their work. This match ends the High School doubles tournament, but probably a singles tournament will be started soon. Messrs. Mertz and C. Taylor refereed the final match.

WHITEHOUSE AROUSED ABOUT ITS MANY FIRES

Whitehouse, Oct. 3.—So many fires have terrorized the residents of Whitehouse Station during the past few months the citizens of the town are thoroughly aroused. It is the general belief that several of the more recent fires were of incendiary origin.

A meeting of citizens was held last night and $500 was subscribed for the purpose of offering a reward for the arrest and conviction of the persons who set fire to the barn on the property of Mrs. H. Eugene Park Tuesday morning, which resulted in the destruction of three other buildings.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS.

PLENTY OF COAL; BAER SAYS SO.

The antracite barons ought to get together and discipline their veteran colleague, President George F. Baer, of the Reading companies. Just as they are spreading reports of short supply and preparing to raise the price another notch accordingly along comes this nestor of the trade and declares that there is more coal being mined than the public has present use for, and that shipments are averaging 24,000 tons a day more than last year. How are the anthracite operators going to make the public believe there is a famine when the man regarded for years as their chief spokesman says there isn't? It is a cruel blow to the barons, but the public feels much obliged to Mr. Baer for telling the truth and shaming the coal combine devil, and is also glad to hear his incidental denial that he ever made that remark about "divine right" attributed to him during the big strike ten years ago.—Newark Morning Star.

NAME IS WANTED FOR WASHINGTON, N J. BUGS

Washington, N. J., Oct. 3.—Local scientists are unable to define properly the strange insects that have bored a maple tree in front of the Hotel Windsor full of holes. The tree was partially decayed, and the trunk, fifteen feet from the ground to the roots, looks as if it had withstood the fire of a regiment of soldiers. It is literally filled with holes about a quarter of an inch in diameter.

Some are from four to six inches deep, although most of the holes are only about three inches deep. The insects resemble wasps. They have needle-like tails, about two inches long. No one has seen the insects at work, although at times the tree trunk is covered. It is not known whether the boring is done with the heads or needle-like tails.

N. P. H. S. NOTES.

If the cool weather keeps up the High School will have to stay in session next year until at least July 4.

Now that the interclass tennis tournament is over basketball is the sole thought. A very interesting league schedule will be run off this year.

The Girls' Athletic Association held a meeting this morning to take the names of the freshmen members. Clara Smith, last year's basketball manager, resigned her position, which was filled by Elsie Debele. All the girls in High School are urged to tryout for basketball teams.

On account of the cold weather and lack of heat the school sessions have been adjourned for the rest of the week. Sessions will begin regularly next Monday morning.

Manager Carroll Taylor, of the basketball team, announces that his schedule is nearing completion. His team will meet some of the strongest teams in the State and the outlook for the city and county championship is good.

There will be another chance given to the members of the Literary Society to make good. It has been divided into two parts and inter-society debates will be held.

SPIRITUALISTS GATHER.

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 3.—It is doubtful if any city of the United States or of any other country has ever been the meeting-place of such a large and representative gathering of spiritualists as will be entertained in Dallas during the next ten days. The occasion of the gathering is the annual convention of the National Association of Spiritualists, an organization formed in 1893 and now embracing in its membership 22 State associations and upwards of 1,000 local societies. The president of the association is Dr. George B. Warne, of Chicago, who will preside at the convention. Among the speakers will be some of the foremost lecturers and mediums of America and Europe.

A Scene From George M. Cohan's Music Play, "The Little Millionaire," at Plainfield Theatre, Wednesday Night

TO BOOST SOMERVILLE BY VISITING NEIGHBORS

Merchants' Association Will go out in Automobile Train to Other Places.

While New Brunswick, Plainfield and other nearby cities have had their "boost weeks," conservative Somerville with its superior advantages as a commercial and industrial centre and desirable place of residence, has with pardonable modesty refrained in the past from heralding its glories to the outer world. But there has recently been awakening among the business men and others interested in the welfare of the borough to the effect that the big booms and little boomlets of other places is having a tendency to divert the tide of trade, immigration and prosperity from its natural source, which is Somerville, the county seat, for be it known that no other place in Central New Jersey has greater advantages to offer as a place of residence, or as a shopping and industrial centre. In order to convince the people of the outlying towns that Somerville is still on the map and a very desirable place to visit, the business men of the borough, headed by Mayor Steele, will make a social visit to a number of towns on Wednesday, October 16, with an imposing train of twenty-five decorated automobiles and a brass band. The caravan will consist of the representative business and professional men of the borough and there will be a stop of ten or fifteen minutes at each place to exchange greetings with the people, and the band will play. Starting from Somerville at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday morning the party will maintain the following schedule, leaving the places at the time indicated:

North Branch	9.25
Mechanicsville	9.45
Lebanon	10.15
Annandale	10.50
Clinton	11.30
Whitehouse Station	12.30
Flemington	1.30
Larison Corner	2.45
Reaville	3.00
Three Bridges	3.15
Woodfern	4.00

PETTY'S TRIAL AGAIN IS PUT OFF FOR TERM

Trenton, Oct. 3.—Upon application of counsel for Robert M. Petty, former president of the Washington National Bank, Petty's trial in the United States Court for embezzlement was put off yesterday for the term. This means that the trial will not take place before January. Similar action was taken at the last term of court.

United States District Attorney Vreeland was not aware that the motion for postponement had been made until after it had been granted. He had informed Petty's counsel that he would not consent to the postponement.

This fact was not known by Assistant District Attorney Lindaberry, who was in court when the motion was made. Mr. Vreeland had expected to bring the case to trial this term.

CASE HINGES ON QUESTION WAS HE AN ADOPTED SON

Elizabeth, Oct. 3.—At a hearing on October 11 Judge Edward S. Atwater will be called upon to decide whether the late William Keefe, of Rahway, was the son of the late Mrs. Julia Keefe, also of that city. The problem resulted from the answer of Mrs. Margaret O'Brien, of Rahway, to a rule to show cause why she, as administratrix of the estate of Mrs. Keefe, should not file an accounting.

Mrs. O'Brien is a daughter of Mrs. Keefe. She alleges that William Keefe was taken in by her mother when a boy, but that he never was formally adopted. His widow and four children are petitioning for an apportionment of Mrs. Keefe's estate, which is valued at $1,200.

WAR SCENES IN BALKANS.

Million Men Under Arms as Outbreak Appears Certain.

TURKS OPEN FIRE AS TROOPS ASSEMBLE

Soldiers Devastate Rushka, Servian Border Town.

London, Oct. 3.—Actual violence in the Balkan imbroglio has begun, according to word received here from Belgrade. A Turkish patrol of fifty soldiers devastated the Servian frontier town of Rushka, after firing volley after volley into the town. The inhabitants fled. The dispatch does not state whether any one was killed or not.

With the curt refusal by the Turkish cabinet, after an all night session, to surrender the shipment of Servian war ammunition which was seized by Turkey while passing through, the impression here that it will take the united efforts of the powers to prevent war is growing in strength. Turkey added to the list of injuries which Greece, Montenegro, Bulgaria and Servia have sustained by detaining fifty-two Greek ships which were in her ports. These vessels are being held so that in case war is declared the Turkish government can use them as Turkish transports.

M. Gryparis, the Greek minister to Turkey, handed to the Turkish minister of foreign affairs an urgent formal protest against the detention of these vessels. He characterized the act as "illegal, arbitrary and unfriendly," as the relations between his country and Turkey are supposed to be friendly, although the unofficial feeling is abnormal. The foreign minister promised a speedy investigation of the matter.

Meantime fifty more Greek vessels are bottled up in the Black sea and about 100 more in the Sea of Marmora. Turkey has also detained the steamer Manoussis, which left Constantinople for Piraus.

The entire Balkan peninsula is being turned into a war camp and a million or more troops are rapidly assembling there.

STANDARD OIL GAVE $100,000

SEN. DIXON BELLIGERENT.

Charges That Clapp Investigating Committee Is Being Manipulated So as to Investigate Colonel Roosevelt's Campaign and No Other.

Washington, Oct. 3.—George R. Sheldon, treasurer of the Republican national committee, told the senate committee investigating campaign contributions that $100,000 of Standard Oil money went to the Roosevelt 1904 campaign fund. His testimony was corroborative of the charge made by Senator Penrose and the subsequent statement of John D. Archbold of the Standard Oil company.

Mr. Sheldon testified that the late Cornelius N. Bliss when he retired as treasurer of the national committee in 1908 turned over to him a list of men and corporation officers who had contributed to the Roosevelt 1904 fund.

"Was there any contribution by the Standard Oil company on that list?" asked Senator Clapp.

"Yes, sir," was Mr. Sheldon's reply.

"How much was it?" asked the chairman again.

Supports Penrose Charges.

This is the first corroborative evidence that has been obtained by the senate committee in support of the Penrose charges since John D. Archbold testified. Colonel Roosevelt has never denied flatly that the contribution was received, but has maintained that he knew nothing of it and that he issued the strictest instructions to George B. Cortelyou, his national chairman, that no Standard Oil money was to be accepted. Mr. Cortelyou has testified under oath that he knew of no Standard Oil contribution.

Mr. Sheldon testified that there were three contributions of $100,000 each by powerful financial interests to the Roosevelt 1904 fund. These are the gifts which Mr. Sheldon recalled from the list submitted by Mr. Bliss: The Standard Oil company, $100,000; J. P. Morgan & Co, $100,000; H. C. Frick, $100,000; George J. Gould, $100,000. Mr. Sheldon was able to recall these contributions because of their size. The witness made the statement that of the $1,900,000 raised by Mr. Bliss in that Roosevelt campaign 73⅓ per cent was contributed by corporations.

Senator Dixon Combative.

Joseph M. Dixon, Mr. Roosevelt's campaign manager, was another witness examined by the committee. He proved to be the most obstreperous, and the committee spent several hours wrangling with him in a most undignified manner. The committee was highly incensed by the charges made by Dixon that the committee is being manipulated so as to investigate Colonel Roosevelt's campaign and no other. It seemed at times as if Senator Dixon and Senator Pomerene would come to blows. Senator Pomerene at one time suggested that the committee ought to send Dixon to jail for contempt, and Pomerene publicly insisted that the Roosevelt manager's conduct was unbecoming either as a senator or a gentleman.

The Roosevelt chairman after making wholesale charges against the Taft and Wilson campaign managers and others declined to disclose sources of his information. He refused to answer questions, and the unseemly wrangle was terminated abruptly by Chairman Clapp dismissing the witness from the stand.

BURNS VICTIM, KILLS SELF.

Investigation of Suicide Reveals Murder of Fellow Workman.

Washington, Oct. 3.—A close investigation into the suicide of Lenette L. Jett by the Washington police revealed the fact that he had murdered a fellow worker, A. A. Webster, and burned his body in a furnace of the National Capital Brewing company, where he was employed as fireman.

Webster was last seen when in the company of Jett behind one of the huge boilers of the brewery, according to the story of another fireman.

Jett was found dead Monday with a bullet in his head. It was at first thought that he had been killed by Webster, who was missing.

A search of the ash heap revealed many broken and burned bones, all of which were parts of a human skeleton, supposed to be Webster's. The fire in Jett's boiler was allowed to go out and several teeth, steel buttons and parts of a gold watch were found in the furnace.

CALL AGAIN, BROTHER!

"J. Hervey Doane went into the Republican party primaries as a candidate for a Freeholder nomination. That he was fairly and honestly beaten is unquestionable. Therefore, how can he consistently run for election as an independent candidate? There is such a thing as true American sportsmanship in politics and Mr. Doane would have won more friends by accepting his defeat gracefully."—Daily Press.

Why is not the same criticism made about T. R. and about Mayor Moy?—Courier News.

Simply because there is no parallel. Fraud was perpetrated at the Republican National convention by throwing out delegates favorable to Roosevelt legally elected and entitled to be seated. Roosevelt told all delegates favorable to his candidacy, as a result, that they should not participate in what he termed a "fraud convention" and most of his loyal followers withdrew. As for Mr. Moy, he also contended that the Republican primaries here two years ago were tained by fraud as reported in your own paper, and that therefore the verdict was not binding on him. Fraud vitiates all contracts; Roosevelt and Moy were victims of fraud—Doane was not. As we replied yesterday to a communication from a young man who asked practically the same question, citing our criticism of J. Hervey Doane, because he refused to abide by the honest primaries of September 24:

These two cases are not analagous. Mr. Doane has not made any public claim that there was fraud at the primaries nor has he alleged that he was defeated through unfair methods of the Republican party bosses. He went into the primaries of his party and was fairly defeated. In Mr. Moy's case the facts are different. Not only did Mr. Moy claim that there had been fraud at the Republican primaries in which he was a candidate, but he proved it sufficiently to warrant the then Mayor C. J. Fisk, sitting as a magistrate, holding for the action of the grand jury several shown to have attempted to bribe voters to cast ballots against Mr. Moy. On this ground, Moy resigned from the Republican City Committee, quit the party and thereafter accepted a nomination from the Democrats and was elected. Doane remains in his party and refusing to abide by the decision at the primaries, the law of the State, sets himself up as an independent candidate and has been offered a nomination by no party.—Editor.

It is refreshing, however, to see our esteemed contemporary for once actually commenting on a local matter. We thank you!

Complaints have been received by Commissioner Lippincott, of the State Mortocycle Department, of objectionable advertising signs along the public highways which are misleading and therefore annoying. These signs purport to be a warning at a corner or curve but they are simply a pure advertisement of a garage or hotel. Just around the corner or curve is another sign on which the attention of the automobilist is called to the first sign and on it is also an advertisement. The seriousness of these fake warnings is that the annoyed automobilist is very apt to disregard a real warning sign when he passes one. While it is impossible to prevent advertising signs on private lands abutting on public roads, Col. Stevens, the State Highway Commissioner, has been requested by Mr. Lippincott to order and investigation and see what can be done to abate the nuisance. Certainly the grievance of the autoists is a real and a substantial one.

Seventeen new statutes were added to New Jersey's game laws by the Legislature last winter, the purpose of these being to make gunning and trapping more difficult with the object of preventing the slaughter as far as possible. Hunters should carefully read these new acts before they go shooting.

The Union County Republican organization is lucky to be able to command the services of Frank H. Smith as commander of the County Committee for another term. As a former Governor said of him, Smith is an ideal county chairman.

Our neighbor, Elizabeth, should feel highly honored. Both the Republican and the Democratic gubernatorial nominees in the Empire State, Job Hedges and "Billy" Sulzer, respectively, are natives of that city.

United States Senator Martine is posing as a political oracle, but with all our faith in the "farmer-orator" we discount his wisdom as a prophet.

MORGAN'S DOUGH BAG IN CAMPAIGN OF 1904

Capitalist Tells Senate Investigators He Gave $150,000 to Presidential Fund.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Washington, Oct. 3.—J. P. Morgan took the witness stand this morning before the Clapp committee that is investigating campaign contributions. Mr. Morgan was sworn by Senator Clapp. Senator Clapp read Charles Edward Russell's statement which appeared in the New York Times on September 20, that Mr. Morgan talked over the telephone to Washington. "Did you ever talk to President Roosevelt over the 'phone?" The witness replied: "I never talked with President Roosevelt so far as I can remember," said Mr. Morgan. "That circumstance of the telephone conversation is absolutely made out of whole cloth." "Did you contribute to the Republican campaign in 1904?" was asked. Mr. Morgan replied, "in Oct. 1 contributed $100,000 and on Nov. 1 $50,000 additional."

Mr. Morgan was asked "were you much interested in the result of the campaign?" "In a business way I was of course," said Mr. Morgan. "Was Mr. Harriman much interested, too?" "Very likely." "Was Mr. Mellen?" "Undoubtedly," answered Mr. Morgan. "Were the insurance companies particularly interested?" Mr. Morgan said that he had never heard except that Mr. Perkins was directly interested. "Did you understand that their views were the same as yours?" "I never heard their views," said Mr. Morgan.

Mr. Morgan testified that the payments in 1904 were made in money. In answer to a question he said he did not think that Mr. Harriman ever made any solicitation to him. Mr. Morgan stated that the first solicitation was made by Mr. Bliss and another was made by Mr. Odell. "Did you contribute to the 1912 pre-convention campaign of any candidate," asked Senator Clapp. Mr. Morgan replied, "no, sir." Mr. Morgan stated that neither his associates nor any one in his behalf contributed to the 1912 campaign. The witness was then turned over to Senator Paynter.

C. H. Duell, of New York, followed Mr. Morgan on the stand. He was called upon to tell what he knew of the contributions in 1904. He told how he kept the books of Mr. Bliss. The witness said he remembered there were three of four contributions of $50,000 each. He said he heard of the Harriman contribution and of a contribution by H. H. Rogers, but he did not know of a Standard Oil contribution.

MILADY'S FALL MUFF AND BOA OF SILK BRAID AND SHEER STUFFS

FALL MUFF AND NECKPIECE.

FANCY muffs and neckpieces are to be worn even before cold weather requires the use of furs. The illustration shows a very charming muff designed by One and cleverly combining the new fancy braid and silk. The braid is raveled to provide a fringe at the end and a deeper one below as well as the pretty tassels tied with ribbon bows. Accordion plaited ruffles of silk and a big bow of ribbon adorn the muff. The neck ruche is also of accordion plaited silk. The hat belongs to the set and is also trimmed with the accordion plaiting and the fancy braid.

DRY CLEANING.

An Easy Way of Renovating Garments That May Not Be Washed.

An excellent preparation for dry cleaning is equal parts of salt, borax and white flour. Shake this preparation on the article to be cleaned and rub well in; then put the cleaned article in a box and leave for two or three days; then take out and shake well and, if necessary, brush with a soft brush.

This preparation will clean lace waists or gowns, yokes, collars, cuffs, marquisettes, nets, veils, lingerie waists or dresses, white broadcloth or white serge, voiles and similar materials.

White linen suits not soiled sufficiently to launder may be successfully cleaned this way; also white silk waists and little evening dresses.

To clean any kind of white cloth make a paste of cornstarch. Plaster a generous amount on the cloth, allow to remain on several hours, then beat thoroughly with a stick. Do not put on enough to penetrate, but only well through the cloth and as a result it will look like new.

If you wash poupee in water be sure that you dry quickly and thoroughly before ironing, and do not dampen again, as any drop of water will spot it. If one follows this method it will be soft and like new, whereas by ironing when wet it will be stiff and not as nice.

Handy Jars.

Pretty glass jars with the name of spices, sugar, etc., painted on the front are attractive and very useful for the kitchen shelf.

For storing rice, oatmeal, tapioca, raisins and such things the glass jar is a most satisfactory receptacle. It is clean in appearance, it can be kept tightly covered, and one can see when the supply is getting low.

The jars are not expensive, and the majority of housekeepers have old ones on hand. Paper bags and packages soon look torn and disorderly on the closet shelves, and, besides, they do not preserve the flavor or strength of the article contained.

THIN CURTAINS.

Some Hints In Regard to Handling Them.

In washing fine muslin curtains they should be soaked in tepid water in which borax has been dissolved, one tablespoonful of borax to gallon of water being sufficient.

After half an hour they can be rubbed gently in soapsuds made with fine white soap. Boiling water is then poured over them and they are left to cool. They should be well rinsed and squeezed rather than wrung out.

Nothing is more suitable for the warm weather curtains than scrim or even linen in a coarse weave, and if this is bought in a plain color lovely sets for doors and windows can be made with the addition of a little stenciling.

Before washing homemade net curtains having a straight hemmed edge run a string of common white grocery twine along the hem, measuring the exact length of the outer edge of the curtains. Whether you iron or stretch them, they will always be as even as before laundering.

A Broom Case.

If your pantry is not large enough to hold such unsightly articles as brooms, oil cans, dust cloths, etc., make a long wooden box for the purpose. Get oilcloth the color of the kitchen wall paper and cover the sides and top as well as the bottom of the box. If the bottom is covered the box will slide easily over the floor. A valance or cupboard oilcloth may be tacked around the top, but it should be plain. Cover strips of leather with oilcloth and nail them to each end of the box for short handles.

Economizing Space.

If you are cramped for space in which to store your kitchen utensils have some shelves put up along the side of your cellarway and a lot of hooks screwed into the wall. On these shelves you may keep a good many things that could not be kept in the kitchen cupboard, and on the hooks you may hang kettles with handles.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

VEGETABLE OMELETS.

VEGETABLE, meat and fruit omelets are frequently made by placing the fruit inside a plain omelet and then folding it over.

Few Can Resist These.

Mushroom Omelets.—Take about a dozen good sized fresh mushrooms. Wash, peel and trim so that they are in a single flat piece. Mince the stems and stir them into three well beaten eggs. Add a seasoning of salt and pepper and pour this over the pieces of mushroom, then put these into the frying pan, in which a tablespoonful of butter has been stirred until melted. Each round of mushrooms should be entirely covered and encircled with the beaten egg and minced stem. Cover pan while cooking and fry until golden brown. The omelets should not be turned, and they should not be more than two inches in diameter. Cut the pieces of mushroom to make them smaller, if they are larger than that, and use the scraps to mince into the beaten egg.

Herbs and Eggs.

Herb Omelet.—Take six eggs, a cupful of boiling milk, a teaspoonful cornstarch which has been wet with cold milk, a tablespoonful chopped parsley, thyme and sweet marjoram, pepper and salt. Beat the yolks light and pour on them the hot milk. Stir in the cornstarch, season, whip in the whites, lastly the herbs. Have ready a pudding dish, well buttered. Set in the oven until hot; butter again and pour in the omelet. Bake until "set" in the middle, but not longer, or it will be leathery.

Novel Omelets.

Eggplant Omelet.—Take a small eggplant and reduce it to a pulp, then add to it one medium sized onion, chopped fine and browned in butter, and one cupful of stewed or canned tomatoes. Season highly with pepper (red) and salt. Spread on the plain omelet and serve.

Cabbage Omelet.—Select a small fresh cabbage, boil until tender and then drain. Let it stand several hours, then chop finely. Season with pepper and salt, add one tablespoonful of melted butter, three well beaten eggs and one-half cupful of thin cream. Melt one large tablespoonful of butter in an omelet pan, turn in the mixture, stir until brown, turn out in a hot dish and garnish with parsley.

most popular low cut is about one inch below the collar line. For yokes with high collars brussels net is in high favor.

The side frill is no longer fashionable. The double frills for coats and for waists are seen everywhere.

Long sleeves and high or directoire collars are seen on many of the fall blouses. The sleeves are finished with turned over cuffs and with the modish collar is a charming model.

MOTHERS' WORK

Conducted by the Plainfield Mothers' Association.
Every Thursday

Contributing Staff.
Mrs. G. Stuart Simons, Mrs. Jos. Smith, Mrs. Wm. M. Sandford, Jr.

The Daily Press for Thursdays containing the column on Mother's Work will be sent by mail for one dollar a year, in advance.

It seems from inquiries made by the Bureau of Municipal Research that public schools all over this country could be benefited by private philanthropy. In other words, the public funds are not sufficient to accomplish all that is expected of modern schools. The bureau, thinking that there must be "new services which the children of this country sadly needed," sent a circular letter to Public School Superintendents everywhere, asking whether private subscriptions from philanthropic citizens—either in lump sums or in annual installments—would help their schools in caring for the children according to the latest modern standards.

The bureau has received replies from 142 Superintendents so far. Contributions of private citizens could be spent in improving the conditon of the country's 20,000,000 dition of the country's 20,000,000 they say.

Here is a list of public school needs which private philanthropy might supply, compiled from the Superintendents' letter:

Athletic fields and playgrounds.
School buildings.
Athletic and playground equipment.
Vocational schools.
Dental inspection and treatment.
Medical inspection and treatment.
School decorations.
School equipment.
Scholarships for poor children.
Special classes for defectives.
Gymnasiums.
Libraries and equipment.
Manual training and domestic science.
School nurses.
Material aid for poor children.
Teachers' pensions.
Social centres.
Vocational guidance.
School lunches.
Prizes.
Open-air schools.
Lectures for children.
Kindergartens.
Sick fund for teachers.
Concerts.
Local school inquiries.
Parental home for boys.
Psychological examinations.
Vacation schools.
Continuation schools.

Most of these services, the bureau remarks in making the list public, already have been introduced in public schools out of public funds. But the bureau points out that this is all the more reason why these services should be started, by private contributions at first if necessary, in all public schools, since the education and health requirements of the public school pupils are largely the same everywhere.

The letters of the 142 public school Superintendents tell stories of all sorts of needs which the taxpayers of the locality have not yet been educated up to furnishing for the children. Funds, the Superintendents say, are wanted for art works, musical records, lantern slides, athletic field equipment and director, and commercial training.

Here are extracts from the letters reflecting the variety of local public school needs:

"We need farm buildings and equipment for children who are misfits in the regular school, and for outside environment, to lead them or turn them away from crime. This school is not to be for the convicted criminals, but as a preventive for those who are in danger of going wrong," one Superintendent explains.

"One thousand dollars a year for special school for sub-normals would enable us to hold many who are now driven out of school because the regular work is distasteful, and who drift into crime," pleads another.

Some of the Superintendents advocate the establishment of "public school scholarships" to keep the children from being taken prematurely out of school and sent to work in the factories. These scholarships, the Superintendents say, might range between $300 and $500.

"We have enough college scholarships," one writes, "but we need High School scholarships, especially in mill cities."

"I see boys and girls of promise snatched out of the Grammar course," one writes. "A number of elementary and High School scholarships would do for these what colleges are doing for more advanced children. This would save these children from the factories and prepare them for greater efficiency," observes another.

To show, on the other hand, the danger of well-meaning private meddling with public activities, the Bureau admits having received a letter from one Superintendent stating that "so much has been done for schools by rich people in this section that the townspeople are now unwilling to vote everyday necessities." The Bureau admits that "it is better to tax property than to give alms," but nevertheless advocates "enlightened co-operation with the public schools by private philanthropists."

$250 would furnish a good and sufficient playground apparatus for one ward school.

$4,500 for vacant lots east of the High School; $5,000 for endowment or for annual oratorical prizes; $100,000 as a permanent fund, the interest to support a laboratory and manual training.

We need a building costing $200,000 to house our High School of 480, rapidly growing. We have just bought a site for $200,000. We are within $100,000 of the limit of our bonded indebtedness. How shall we build with only half the necessary money? These are some of our problems.

Money for land to install an outdoor assembly place and athletic field.

$500 to $700 a year to maintain a public school free lecture and entertainment course.

The Superintendents believe a great work could be done in many American cities by private contributions in developing local public school facilities for sub-normal children.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Colesworthy, of East Front street, are the parents of a son born a few days ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McIntyre have moved from the Brennan apartments on Grant avenue to the Lincoln building on West Fourth street.

CONGREGATIONALISTS SPEND AN EVENING WITH GRENFELL

A "Grenfell Evening" was held at the Congregational church last night. The program included the reading of several of Dr. Grenfell's stories of Labrador.

Miss Alice Barlow read "A Remedy for Worry," from "Down North to Labrador." It recounted a day or two's work among the sick and wounded, of the long trips and great hardships. Miss Frances Newell read "His Servant Shall Serve Him," taken from Dr. Grenfell's "Down to Sea." Mrs. D. F. Updyke read "What Life Means to Me."

The musical features were a solo by James McClymont and a piano solo by Miss Nellie Winkler.

—"Don't you want to hire a feller to keep the tramps away, Missus?" asked the boy. "How can a little fellow like you keep the tramps away" demanded the Missus. "Easy enough," replied the boy. "I kin eat up all the pie an' things wot's left over."

Alfred B. Beers, New Head Of the G. A. R.

JUDGE ALFRED BISHOP BEERS, the new commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, is a resident of Bridgeport, Conn., where he is a leading lawyer. His election to the highest office in the organization of veterans was unanimous. The national encampment was held in Los Angeles recently.

It is the custom in the G. A. R. to select the commander in chief from the east and the west alternately. At the national encampment in 1911, which was held in Rochester, N. Y., Judge Harvey M. Trimble of Illinois was chosen, so this year it was the east's turn. Judge Beers and General Daniel E. Sickles of New York were candidates, but Mr. Sickles withdrew before the election. Judge Beers doubtless would have been elected in any event, as he went to the encampment with the backing of all the New England states and with pledges of support from other quarters in the event of a contest.

Alfred B. Beers was born in New Rochelle, N. Y., on April 23, 1845. His ancestors on his father's side were English and on his mother's side Scotch. His paternal great-great-grandfather, Daniel Beers, served in the Continental army and participated in the attack on Danbury, Conn., and the engagement at Ridgefield, Conn., in 1777. His maternal great-great-grandfather was Dr. Charles McDonald of Rye, N. Y., who came to this country shortly before the Revolutionary war and upon the breaking out of hostilities enlisted in the Continental army and served throughout the war, participating in the capture of Fort Ticonderoga and also in the battle of White Plains, N. Y., in 1776, where he distinguished himself by his bravery.

Judge Beers removed to Bridgeport, Conn., in 1851, and attended the public schools of that city. He entered the volunteer army on Sept. 5, 1861, as private in Company I, Sixth Connecticut volunteers. This regiment was attached to the Tenth army corps and participated in the bombardment of Hilton Head, S. C., Battle of Pocatalligo, S. C., in the siege of Fort Pulaski, Ga.; actions at James island, S. C., Morris island, Fort Wagner and siege of Charleston, S. C. He reenlisted as a veteran volunteer in the same regiment in 1864 and was [illegible] in the Bermuda Hundred (Va.) campaign against Richmond; siege of Petersburg, Va.; engagements at Deep Bottom, Deep Run, Chapins Farm and Laurel Hill, on the north side of the James river, in 1864; was promoted from first sergeant of Company I to captain of Company B in the same regiment and was engaged in the bombardment, charge and capture of Fort Fisher, N. C., January, 1865; capture of Wilmington February, 1865, and advance upon Goldsboro, N. C., April, 1865.

For bravery and meritorious conduct in the battle of Pocatalligo, S. C., Judge Beers was honorably mentioned in regimental orders.

He was discharged from the service in New Haven, Conn., Aug. 21, 1865, being then about twenty years of age. He then engaged in general business until 1868, when he commenced the study of law. He was admitted to the Fairfield county (Conn.) bar in 1871. In 1872 he was clerk of the Bridgeport city court and in 1875 city attorney. In 1877 he was elected by the state legislature judge of the city court of the city of Bridgeport, which office he held for seventeen years.

He has been honored by Elias Howe post No. 3, G. A. R., as follows: Assistant inspector department of Connecticut 1869-72; C. of A. department of Connecticut, 1873; J. V. commander department of Connecticut, 1878-9; S. V. commander department of Connecticut, 1880; commander department of Connecticut, 1881; Commander Fitch's home, Noroton, Conn., 1882, which position he now holds. In 1908 he was made judge advocate general of G. A. R. and resigned in 1910.

In politics Judge Beers is a Republican, and he is recognized as one of the party leaders in the Nutmeg State.

Judge Beers' father was Alfred Beers, who was identified with the Naugatuck Railroad company, now the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company, from 1851 to 1881. His great-uncle, Alfred Bishop, was the builder of that road.

VANDERBILT CUP IS WON BY DE PALMA

Negotiates Course at Average of Sixty-nine Miles.

Race Course, Wauwatosa, Wis., Oct. 3.—Ralph de Palma, driving a Mercedes car, won the eighth Vanderbilt cup automobile race in 4 hours, 20 minutes and 31.54 seconds for a distance of about 299 miles. This was an average speed of sixty-nine miles per hour, or five miles per hour slower than Ralph Mulford's time last year at Savannah. Hughie Hughes, Mercer, was second, 42 4-5 seconds behind De Palma, and Spencer Wishart, Mercedes, third. Hughes averaged 68 4-5 miles per hour.

His victory, cheered by thousands of enthusiasts crowded in the stands and along the route, was the most popular ever received since the game has been in vogue. De Palma, who is noted for his nerve, kept the machine surging along the road at the high speed almost from the very start. He never cared to lag behind. The faster the going the better he liked it.

Only after the complete outlay had traversed seventy miles did De Palma slow up and that was for forty-five seconds in order to change tires. Teddy Tetzlaff, who, with De Palma, ruled favorite before the race, led at the end of 100 miles. He was 5 minutes and 11 seconds ahead of the ultimate winner.

At 230 miles De Palma led Hughie Hughes, in a Mercer Special, by 1 minute and 30 seconds. Wishart, in another Mercedes, was third, two minutes back of Hughes. De Palma's average speed for that distance was sixty-nine miles an hour. Twenty miles further on De Palma still led Hughes by forty-eight seconds, with only forty-nine miles yet to go before the finish.

WORLD'S SERIES RUNAWAYS.

Police Watch For Youngsters Who Have Set Out For New York City.

New York, Oct. 3.—When the crowds begin to gather for the first game of the world's series next Tuesday afternoon there will be a special squad of policemen patrolling the neighborhood with their eyes open for small eager eyed youngsters who look as though they might have run away from home.

Commissioner Waldo has received numerous letters during the past few days from parents in nearby towns saying that their small boys have mysteriously disappeared, lured to New York, they believe, by the attractions of the world's series. Peter Devereaux of 1617 Ridge avenue, Philadelphia, says that Peter junior, age fifteen years, left home last Sunday with $150. From small boy friends of Peter himself was the information gleaned that he intended going to see the world's series.

BASKETBALL ENTHUSIASTS PLAN FOR A BUSY SEASON

A meeting was held by the basketball enthusiasts in the Y. M. C. A. parlors Tuesday. A committee was appointed to get together as many teams as possible and to arrange a schedule of games between them. It was thought advisable to pick a team to represent the Y. M. C. A. against outside fives. The committee appointed was given full charge of the representative quintet and the league teams in general.

The committee is as follows: Paul Collier, Albert Newmiller, E. C. Ostlin, physical director of the Y. M. C. A., Walter Sampson, Albert Trotter and Russell Carson.

The committee will meet Thursday evening to formulate some plan for organizing the teams and will draw up a schedule for the coming season.

EXPECT MATTY TO PITCH FIRST GAME FOR GIANTS

New York, Oct. 3.—Until a few minutes before the opening of the world's series here, nobody will know Manager McGraw's choice for pitcher in the first game. McGraw's present plan is to delay his selection until almost the last moment, picking his man according to conditions. Most of the New York players believe that the final choice will be Christy Mathewson, who is in great condition, and is conceded to be the steadiest pitcher on the team.

Tesreau is likely to be held in reserve, because of his lack of experience. In spite of Marquard's bad showing Tuesday, the big left-hander is said to be rounding into his best form, but McGraw has nothing to say on this point.

TINKER MAY LEAD CUBS.

Chicago, Oct. 3.—It is known on good authority that if Frank Chance does not come to terms with President Murphy, of the Cubs, in the next few weeks, Joe Tinker will be appointed manager of the team before 1913 rolls around. The breach between Chance and Murphy is wider than most persons imagine, and Chance is as bitter against Murphy as Murphy is against Chance.

PLAINFIELD BOY WRITES OF PENN STATE "SCRAP"

The annual pushball scrap was won on old Beaver field yesterday afternoon by the clas of 1915, writes Alfred Manley, of this city, from Penn State College, under date of September 29. Score 12-1. The sophomore class containing a little over four hundred men had practically an easy time in defeating the freshmen who were indeed very green but outnumbered them by fully two hundred. This was for the most part due to the soph's superior knowledge of the scrap and the fresh's complete confusion. Soon after the gun was fired the soph's had the ball travelling down the field for a goal and soon afterwards for another. The score at the end of the first period being 5-0. In the following periods the soph's made three more goals and as the ball was in the sophomore's territory at the end of the last period, the freshmen received their only point.

The football prospects are very bright for Penn State this year. Nine of last year's championship team which tied the Navy and defeated all other opponents, among whom were Cornell and Pennsylvania, have returned to college. A very large squad has been out daily, for the past two weeks, and the team is about in condition for its first game with Carnegie Tech at State College next Saturday.

R. G. E. AND COMMERCIALS WILL PLAY OFF THEIR TIE

The R. G. E. and the Commercials, the two leading teams that are tied in the Manufacturers' League for the cup, will play the tie off Saturday afternoon at Parker Field. The game will be called at 3 o'clock so it can be finished before dark. Van Zant and Banks will be the battery for the Commercials and Montross and Compton for the R. G. E.

PROHIBITIONIST CANDIDATES TO SPEAK HERE SATURDAY

Aaron S. Watkins, the Prohibition nominee for vice president, will visit Plainfield and North Plainfield on Saturday. Committeeman William Lunger has arranged for the candidate to speak at or near the corner of Park avenue and Second street at 11:30 o'clock. The topic will be "The One Vital Issue of the Present Campaign, the Solution of the Drink Traffic."

After the address an opportunity will be given the voters to meet the candidate.

BIRDSEYE VIEW OF A BORO COP ON A LITTLE JOURNEY

When unoccupied by the duties of a delegate, Marshal Herrman, of North Plainfield, who is attending the annual convention of the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, in Newark, is taking in the sights of the city. Seen last night by a reporter from the Daily Press, Herrman was loud in his praises of the hospitality of the Newark cops. The borough policeman, accompanied by several associates, is having the time of his life. Public buildings were visited yesterday and in the evening a show was enjoyed at one of the Newark theatres, the evening ending with a midnight supper.

Herrman will be joined today by Marshal Keller, of the Borough, and both will take part in the parade to be held this afternoon.

NEW COURT DATE.

Elizabeth, Oct. 3.—The holding of the Orphans' Court on Wednesdays has interfered with jury trials during the term. Judge Atwater has therefore decided that it is best that he sit in the Orphans' Court on Fridays instead of Wednesdays, and on and after October 11, the regular weekly session of the Orphans' Court will be held on Fridays at 10 a. m. Judge Atwater has announced that he will upon the same days, after the dispatch of Orphans' Court business, hear such other matters and applications as may come before him without a jury.

ROTH PROPERTY SOLD.

Elizabeth, Oct. 3 (Special).—At a Master's sale in the Sheriff's office yesterday, the property of Anna Roth, at East Sixth street and Franklin place, Plainfield, was disposed of to Marcus Silbert, the price being $2,925. The complainants were the trustees of the Seventh Day Baptist church, of Plainfield.

PASTOR IS REINSTATED.

Cranford, Oct. 3.—The proceedings of the Presbytery of Elizabeth yesterday was marked by several important matters. One of these was the reinstatement of the Rev. Dr. Henry Elliot Mott, formerly pastor of Westminster church, Elizabeth, who was suspended four years ago.

TURNED THE TABLES.

An Amusing Incident of Old Time Political Campaigning.

An illustration of early campaigning in Illinois shows the good feeling and the disposition to let the best man win that often prevailed.

James G. Robinson and Richard Oglesby, afterward governor, were opponents for the office of state senator. The settlements in those days were scattering, and as the rivals were good friends they agreed to go together and hold joint discussions. The understanding was that if either desired to talk anywhere else apart from the joint debates he had a perfect right to do so.

At one place Robinson announced that he would make a speech in the courthouse. A large crowd greeted him. Oglesby was sitting in front of the hotel across the way and became uneasy lest Robinson should get some votes away from him.

It happened that Oglesby could play the violin well. A man came along with one under his arm, and Oglesby asked if he might borrow it for the evening. The man consented, and Oglesby commenced playing in order to draw the crowd away from Robinson's meeting. He succeeded. One by one the men came out of the courthouse, and when Oglesby swung into a lively dance measure the crowd responded with an impromptu "hoe down."

Robinson, seeing his audience dwindling, stopped speaking and came out himself. Taking in the situation at a glance, he pulled off his shoes and became the most enthusiastic participant, dancing first with one and then with another of his late hearers. The crowd was delighted, and Robinson had the satisfaction of completely turning the tables on his adroit opponent.—Shelby M. Cullom in "Fifty Years of Public Service."

PIE IS GOOD FOOD.

Even if the Paste Is Soggy, Chewing Will Kill Its Terrors.

"In its proper place," says the New York Medical Journal, "pie is not only a palatable but a nutritious staple, an excellent vehicle of carbohydrates and fruit. It is not essentially indigestible and demands only proper mastication and insalivation to insure lack of discomfort."

In other words, if we chew pie as persistently as we chew the rag about the indigestibility of pie we shall find it as sweetly digestible as it is blandly delectable.

"Pie crust," this authority goes on to say, "is only flour and lard, the latter being replaced usually by chicken fat by those who object to any form of pork. Delicacy of manipulation is required in the making of the crust, and such delicacy depends paradoxically upon great digital strength, for only the strong have a genuine lightness of touch."

Thus is explained the armor plate crust so often the product of the deft but weak "manipulation" of slender, pretty and youthful brides as compared with the flaky, sea foamy kind turned loose by older and stiffer fingered mothers. But wait a moment. We can eat and even live in comfort upon our sweet girl graduates' pies after all, for the paper continues. "A soggy paste, however, made by frail fingers, is only aesthetically objectionable, for resolute chewing will deprive it of its terrors."

Now, however, comes the crux of the pie matter. We customarily "top off" with pie and cheese after we've had a hearty dinner and enough, but if we eat lightly and then have pie or make pie and cheese answer for a whole meal there is not the slightest ill effect from it.

The Tutor Of Young China

CHINA is at once the oldest and youngest of nations—the oldest in years, the youngest in her awakening to free government and modern civilization.

One of the men who have aided in that awakening is Dr. George Ernest Morrison, recently appointed to the important post of political counselor to President Yuan Shih Kai. Recently he was married to Miss Jeanne Robin, a native of New Zealand.

In many respects Dr. Morrison's career is that of a free lance of fortune. His life has been full of adventure. He was born in February, 1862, at the Scotch College of Geelong, Australia, of which his father was the principal. He sprang from a noted family of athletes, and early showed his bent toward exploration.

The desire of his parents was that he should become a pedagogue, but the love of adventure was too strong in his veins for any occupation of that nature, and he left the Melbourne university in his eighteenth year.

From that time on he has been an intrepid traveler. After a trip to New Guinea and back, partly in a Chinese junk, he walked alone, from Normington to Geelong, across the whole width of Australia, at a time when such a journey presented almost impossible barriers.

In this trip across Australia he carried his "swag" and his "billy" and covered 2,043 miles in 123 days. He met with many adventures, some of them of the most exciting nature. His life has many times been endangered.

Then his love of adventure again asserted itself, and he decided to emigrate to America, shipping as an assistant purser on a fruit steamer.

Another undertaking of his was a journey of 3,000 miles from Shanghai to the Burmese frontier across China, which resulted in an exceedingly interesting book describing his adventures in a country but imperfectly known at that time. This book, which was accepted as authoritative, had a totally unexpected outcome. Morrison, while on a visit to London, was asked to call at the office of the Times and without further ado was offered the important post of traveling correspondent, with orders to proceed immediately to Siam.

This was his beginning in an active journalistic career. He settled down in Peking in 1897, almost unknown.

Dr. Morrison's influence is, as he has expressed it, for keeping China intact. That is the biggest part of the problem—of bringing order out of the present disorder. He is known to have taken the same view as the late John Hay on the subject of autonomy, and our secretary of state was the best friend China had among foreign statesmen.

Here is a unique man in a unique job, and his success or failure may affect the whole future of the far east and incidentally of the other nations of the world.

It can be said of Dr. Morrison that no man has had greater opportunities of learning the truth about the new movement in China which has brought about the revolution, the downfall of the youthful emperor and the establishment of the republic. For thirteen years past he has had his home in the Chinese capital, traveling largely from province to province. He has helped to make, as well as record, history.

Nominally he has been the Peking correspondent of the London Times, but really the unofficial representative of the British government in China, with more influence and more power than the accredited minister of Great Britain to the Chinese court.

Dr. Morrison's position in this respect is almost unparalleled in the political history of the far east. He has shown an amazing command of information regarding the inner workings of an almost inaccessible diplomacy. He has been a power at Peking and has been consulted in every crisis by the leaders of various parties.

WILL WAGE WINTER WAR ON MOSQUITO

Union County Commission Decides to Continue its Successful Campaign.

Elizabeth, Oct. 3.—Detailed reports of the work done in each section of the county were made at the meeting of the Union County Mosquito Commission. The reports showed that most of the work has been completed and is most satisfactory to the members of the commission.

During the winter, the inspectors of the districts, who have been left, will be split up in the different sections of the county and the field work will be continued as far as possible. In the winter months much work can be done in the matter of cutting brush and clearing spaces preparatory to the work in the spring. This will be done by the district inspectors.

All the oiling of water surfaces which has been carried on during the summer was stopped about ten days ago and will not be taken up again until next spring. It was reported that the work on the big salt marsh in Linden had been almost completed and would be completed in a short time. This has been one of the main points of attack for the commission and the members are very well pleased with what has been accomplished.

Much gratification was expressed by the members at the meeting yesterday with the large amount of good work which has been accomplished during the past season, and the prospects for a decided improvement in conditions next season are very bright.

The matter of having a joint meeting of all the county commissions some time during the winter was discussed and it is probable that such a meeting will be called and a State association formed. Nothing definite was decided at the meeting yesterday. Much routine business was transacted.

Prior to the meeting Health Officer Louis J. Richards with Dr. Hunt, of the Essex County Commission, and Chief Inspector John W. Dobbins and his assistant, made a trip to Waverly to inspect the ditch which runs along Newark avenue, in the locality of the old Gipsy camp. Much of the work of cleaning up this ditch, which has been a large breeding place for mosquitoes, has been completed this side of the Pennsylvania tracks and the rest of the work will be rushed to completion as soon as possible.

Dr. Hunt and Inspector Dobbins attended the meeting of the county commission after the tour of inspection.

ACCEPTANCES FILED BY MANY CANDIDATES

Under the provision of Chapter 437 of the election law, where a man has been nominated in the primaries without having previously filed a petition, it is necessary for him to accept the nomination by filing a certificate to that effect in the office of the county clerk within ten days after the primaries.

Many of these acceptances have been filed in the office of County Clerk Calvert at Elizabeth since primary day. Those who have not yet filed their acceptances are notified by the county clerk that they must do so to be within the election law.

'Why didn't you stay there, Pat.' 'Because Oi cudn't get the six pence!'"

CITY TO PUBLISH PAPER.

THE BIG FIGHT WAS CALLED OFF IN THE SECOND ROUND

SPENT 18 MONTHS IN AMAZON WILDS

Leo Miller's Explorations For Natural History Museum.

HE GOT 2,300 SPECIMENS.

Among Them Are Nests and Eggs of the Cock of the Rock, a Rare Bird. Hunt Took Him Into Unexplored 4,000 Mile Jungle at Amazon Source.

After eighteen months spent in the jungles of Colombia, during which he made explorations in the country surrounding the headwaters of the Amazon, where no white men had ever been before, Leo E. Miller has brought his specimens to the American Museum of Natural History, which was responsible for the expedition. Its principal object was to obtain specimens of the nests and eggs of the cock of the rock, a rare bird, of which a few stuffed specimens exist in the museum.

No nests or eggs of this bird, however, had ever been seen, and the nesting and feeding habits were unknown in spite of the fact that many expeditions have attempted to get specimens. Mr. Miller brought back six nests, several old birds, several young birds and a number of eggs. He discovered that the nests are made of mud and roots and attached to cliffs, that the parents feed on berries and that the cream colored eggs, mottled with brown spots, are about half the size of a hen's egg.

He worked, however, from February, 1911, to June, 1912, before he discovered any of these things. Then one day in the midst of a rapidly flowing stream, attached to the side of a bowlder, he spied a nest over which hovered one of the birds in question, with reddish orange plumage. In the nest was a young bird. On either side of the bowlder was a waterfall, and below the bowlder was a whirlpool. Yet the nest had to be obtained.

With the aid of the Indians who were with him Miller managed to make a raft. On this they ventured into the stream. Fortunately they had taken the precaution to attach the raft to a strand of grapevine, because they were no sooner in the whirlpool than they capsized. They managed to reach land again by means of the grapevine.

Attempts to Get Nest.

In a second attempt to get the nest a tree was cut down. It was hoped by Mr. Miller that the tree would fall across the bowlder and so make a natural bridge by which one of the Indians could cross and get the nest. This, however, it failed to do.

The third attempt succeeded. Mr. Miller and two of his Indians waded into the stream up to their necks and waited with outstretched hands while the third Indian from the shore poked the nest off the bowlder with a long stick. The nest fell into the river, and as it fell one of the Indians dived into the whirlpool after it and caught it in his teeth, as he was forced to use his hands and arms to swim with.

These adventures and further ones in which this bird participated took place along the Rio Naranjos. The other nests were found plastered on cliffs, and entailed some dangerous climbing. Miller says that he might have foregone the first nest if he had known that he would discover others. As a matter of fact, however, he brought back as many nests as he could, as absolutely none had been discovered before.

In his search for these nests he went to the headwaters of the Amazon in the Caquata district. This is one of the least known parts of the world, absolutely unexplored. It is a thick jungle 4,000 miles from the coast and 6,000 feet above the sea level. From the tops of the trees there is one level of dense green as far as the eye can reach. It extends, in fact, a large part of the 4,000 miles.

Other Specimens.

These nests and birds are not the only part of the collection which Mr. Miller has obtained. He has brought back 2,300 specimens of birds and animals, including ant eaters, deer, agouti and eight kinds of monkeys. The agouti is a spotted rodent which often weighs as much as fifty pounds. Previous explorers have brought to the museum 5,000 specimens from Colombia, but Mr. Miller thinks many of his specimens are entirely new varieties.

"The country is very rough, and a jungle is always difficult to explore," said Mr. Miller. "Then there were jaguars and poisonous reptiles to fear. In one part of the country boa constrictors abound. But they are not dangerous. They will harm no one unless molested. They feed on the water rodents, some of which weigh as much as ninety pounds. I saw boa constrictors which were at least twenty feet in length.

"The people of the country are mostly half breeds, with negro, Indian and Spanish blood. There are very few pure Spaniards, and, in fact, very few of the inhabitants have any Spanish blood.

"The people are all kindly and courteous, however, and what is theirs is yours. One can find food in any house. There were times in the jungle when we were hard put to it for food. We often took a sheep along to kill for meat. And we carried other provisions, such as corn."

ADDRESSES BULL MOOSERS.

Mayor Moy addressed a Progressive mass meeting at Rahway last night. His topic was "The Bosses versus the People."

CIVIL WAR VETERANS HOLD REUNION HERE

Veterans of the Civil War, from all over New Jersey and many cities of the East, came to Plainfield today to attend the twenty-first annual reunion of the Second New Jersey Cavalry, held in the rooms of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., in Reform Hall. General business occupied the morning session and the election of officers for the ensuing year took place. They are:

Michael Gaffney, of Rankin Post, No. 10, King's county, N. Y., president; J. S. Applegate, of Wilkes Post, No. 23, of Trenton, secretary; Michael Hennessy, of Cushion Command, No. 1, of Jersey City, first vice president; P. V. Z. Striker, of Somerville, and member of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, of this city, second vice president; Henry Stain, of Rankin Post, No. 10, of King's county, N. Y., third vice president, and Elias Clayton, of Shackleton Post, No. 83, of Keyport, N. J., fourth vice president.

The Second New Jersey Cavalry was known throughout the southwest during the war as the "Fighting Second." The regiment was organized in Trenton. When General Sherman started his famous march to Atlanta, the "Fighting Second" formed part of the right wing and also served under Farragut at the capture of Mobile City. The Second Cavalry is the only regiment having had two State department commanders of the G. A. R. They are William C. Smith, of this city, and A. S. Appleget, of Trenton.

Members of the G. A. R. of this city and the Women5s Relief Corps helped to entertain the veterans. A banquet was served in Neighbour's dining parlors, after which the afternoon session was begun. The chairman of the arrangement committee was H. C. Smith.

MISS GEORGENA GALLOWAY BRIDE OF WM. H. DEMARIS

William H. Demaris and Miss Georgena Galloway were married at the parsonage of the Temple Baptist church last evening at 5 o'clock, by Rev. E. C. Conover, the pastor. Miss Galloway is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Galloway, of Netherwood. They were attended by John Lematty, with whom Mr. Demaris is associated in the Rescue Mission work. After a short trip, Mr. and Mrs. Demaris will reside at 148 East Fifth street.

Giving Impressively.

There are diversities of giving as well as of gifts. To give a little with a grand air sometimes seems to make more of an impression than to give much modestly. The world has not changed in this respect. Samuel Pepys wrote in his "Diary" in 1660: "There was a great number of merchants and others of good quality (at a dinner) on purpose to make an offering (to two newly married servants), which when dinner was done we did, and I did give 10 shillings and no more, though I believe most of the rest did give more and did believe that I did so too."

Advice to Boys.

A successful after dinner speaker said:

"I owe my success to the fact that I'm always brief and to the point. I once asked Senator Depew how long an after dinner speaker ought to speak.

"'About two minutes—unless by that time he has struck rich ore,' the senator replied. 'And if he hasn't struck it he should at once stop boring.'"—Los Angeles Times.

Labor Wasted.

"You went to a lot of trouble to train your dog."

"Yes," replied Mr. Growcher. "And it was a mistake. The only thing a man who teaches a dog tricks gets for his pains is to have a lot of people say the dog is smarter than he is."—Washington Star.

The ceremony took place under a bower of autumn leaves, entwined with fall flowers and was attended by the immediate members and relatives of the family. The bride entered upon the arm of her father, who gave her away, to the strains of Mendolssohn's wedding march. The maid of honor was Miss Madeline Irene Mundy, sister of the bride, the best man was William Wendell. The usher was Frank Wendell.

Many valuable presents, consisting of cut glass, silver, china and furniture, were received from their friends and relatives.

After the wedding supper the bride and bridegroom left on a two weeks' honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls. The bride's traveling gown was of pearl gray material with hat and cloak to match. Upon their return they will immediately take up housekeeping on North avenue.

CHRISTIAN WORK SOCIETY OF S. D. B. CHURCH ELECTS

The Women's Society for Christian Work of the Seventh Day Baptist church held their annual election of officers yesterday afternoon in the church parlors. The only change in officers was that of Mrs. O. B. Whitford being elected as recording secretary instead of Mrs. Frank J. Hubbard.

The officers for the society are: Mrs. William C. Hubbard, president; Mrs. Sarah L. Wardner, vice president; Mrs. O. B. Whitford, recording secretary; Mrs. Asa F. Randolph, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. F. Adelbert Dunham, treasurer.

STATE ENDEAVORERS ARE IN SESSION TODAY

Delegates to the twenty-sixth annual convention of the Christian Endeavor Societies of New Jersey, which opened three-day sessions in the First Reformed church at New Brunswick, last night, included some from Plainfield.

When the first session began last night the church was thronged. The opening was in the nature of a "popular" meeting, with A. Harry Moore, of Jersey City, State vice president, presiding. An address was given by Rev. Dr. James T. Kittell, of Albany.

A session preliminary to the regular convention was held yesterday afternoon, with Miss Nellie K. Foote of Elizabeth, the State secretary, presiding. Kard Lehmann, field secretary for the United Endeavor Society, is scheduled to conduct a conference on the work of the district secretaries, county and local union officers and society officers.

At 6:30 o'clock last night, the State executive board held its last session and completed plans for the convention.

An early morning prayer service, conducted by President John T. Sproull, of Arlington, began today's program.

The speakers today were Rev. John J. Adams, of Red Bank; Mr. Lehmann, Rev. George D. Jones, State vice president; Rev. Dr. Edgar Whitaker Work, of New York, and the ten superintendents of State work, who presented reports of the year's work.

Mayor Morrison welcomed the delegates this morning in the name of the city. Rev. Jasper Hogan, pastor of the First Reformed church and chairman of the Arrangements Committee, also extended a formal welcome. John W. Sproull, the State president, replied to the welcome speeches.

Committees were appointed and they will report tomorrow night when it is expected that Mr. Sproull, who has been State president for nine years, will be asked to accept another term.

Mr. Sproull urged that "Los Angeles Clubs" be formed in all parts of the State to interest members to attend the National convention in the California city next year. A message was sent to the New York State convention, which is now in session.

F. C. Lounsbury, of this city, made an address before the convention this morning on "The Duty of the Society to the Boy." He urged as a means to get them to attend Sunday-school, baseball and other athletics and referred favorably to the Plainfield Sunday-school Baseball League, and how it had increased Sunday-school attendance.

BOILING GEYSERS.

What Causes the Spouting of These Natural Steam Engines.

Geysers are found in only three places in the world, according to a publication entitled "Geysers" issued by the department of the interior. These three regions are Iceland, where geysers were first discovered; New Zealand and the Yellowstone National park, in which these natural steam engines are more numerous and of greater beauty than in the two other areas mentioned. In the Yellowstone the geysers are found in detached geyser basins, or fire holes, as they were called by the first explorers, and the groups possess individual peculiarities which give character and interest to each locality. The most noted of these basins is, however, that known as the Upper Geyser basin of the Firehole river, one of the headwaters of the great Missouri. The whole floor of the valley is fairly riddled with springs of boiling water, whose exquisite beauty is indescribable. Light clouds of fleecy vapor curl upward from waters of the purest azure or the clearest emerald and, encircling rims of white marblelike silica, form fit setting for such great gems. A large part of the valley floor is covered with the white deposit of silica known as siliceous sinter, deposited by the overflowing hot waters. The weird whiteness of these areas, the gaunt white trunks of pine trees filled by the hot waters, the myriad pools of steaming crystal and the white clouds floating off from the chimneylike geyser cones form a scene never to be forgotten by those fortunate enough to behold it.

The intermittent spouting of geysers was long a riddle to scientific men. The theory, which bears the name of the illustrious chemist Bunsen, is now generally accepted. This theory is based on the well known fact that the boiling point of water rises with the pressure and is therefore higher at the bottom of a tube of water than at the surface. In a long and narrow or an irregular tube ebullition in the lower part is only possible at a much higher temperature than at the top owing to the weight of water column above it. If by the continued heating the lower layer of water attains the temperature at which it can boil steam is formed, whose expansive force lifts the superincumbent column of water, causing a slight overflow at the top, which shortens the column, so that steam is formed at a higher point and a further lifting and relief of pressure ensues, followed by an eruption.

DEMOCRATS NAME SULZER GOVERNOR

Glynn Gets Second Place on New York Ticket.

GOV. DIX HAD EARLY LEAD

Merely Complimentary Vote, However. On Fourth Ballot Glynn's Forces Swing to Congressman, and Dix's Name Is Withdrawn.

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 3.—In a midnight session which looked as if it might be prolonged all night the Democratic state convention nominated Congressman William Sulzer for governor and Martin H. Glynn for lieutenant governor. The convention adjourned at 1:30 o'clock this morning to meet again later in the day and complete the remainder of the ticket.

A brilliant audience, filling the convention hall to its fullest capacity, greeted the Democratic delegates at the evening session. Timed for 9 o'clock, it was an hour later ere Permanent Chairman Parker started the proceedings which were to nominate a candidate for governor. After a few preliminaries he recognized James K. McGuire of New York, who introduced a resolution to the effect that the convention proceed to nominate candidates.

In the roll call Robert E. Whelan of Albany, in a short address, presented for governor Martin H. Glynn of Albany. Mr. Glynn's name was heartily greeted and a banner was flaunted reading, "Glynn can win."

Augustus Thomas of New York spoke as a member of the Allegheny delegation, presenting the name of Congressman Sulzer for governor. There was another great outburst of enthusiasm.

George H. Kennedy of Erie placed in nomination Senator George B. Burd of Buffalo. The first ballot resulted as follows: Dix, 147; Sulzer, 126; Glynn, 46; Burd, 28; Metz, 70; Francis Burton Harrison, 21; William Sohmer, 1. Delegates in convention, 450; absent and not voting, 11.

Charles F. Murphy asked to be excused from voting. Necessary to choice, 226. There being no choice a second ballot was ordered.

Sulzer Is Nominated.

The result of the second ballot was: Dix, 124; Sulzer, 141; Glynn, 43; Burd, 28; Metz, 68; Harrison, 27; O'Gorman, 1; Dowling, 2; Wagner, 2; Sohmer, 2; absent and not voting, 12.

Charles Murphy was again excused from voting.

The third ballot resulted as follows: Dix, 87; Sulzer, 195; Glynn, 41; Burd, 2; Metz, 76; James W. Gerard, 1; Harrison, 2; Dowling, 4; Allison, 1; O'Gorman, 1; Wagner, 3; Shomer, 1; Patton, 1; absent and not voting, 9.

On the fourth ballot Albany dropped Glynn and went to Sulzer. Judge Kellogg withdrew Governor Dix's name and moved Sulzer's unanimous nomination. Metz withdrew, and Sulzer's nomination was made unanimous.

At 1:06 o'clock this morning Chairman Parker announced the result of the fourth ballot, saying Sulzer received all the votes but the three from Cayuga which were cast for Martin H. Glynn. Chairman Parker then announced that Mr. Sulzer was the nominee of the convention for governor. A number of delegates moved that the convention adjourn until 10 a. m. tomorrow, but Chanrman Parker paid no attention to the motions to adjourn and announced that nominations for lieutenant governor were in order.

William V. Cooke of Albany at once placed the name of Martin H. Glynn before the convention for the nomination of lieutenant governor.

Glynn For Second Place.

"While Albany county has suffered a disappointment," said Mr. Cooke, "she acknowledges the progressiveness of your candidate for governor and desires to aid him in his canvass by furnishing the best of her fighters for the second place on the ticket."

Walter C. Burton for Kings seconded the nomination.

As there were no other nominations for this office, Mr. Glynn was declared the unanimous choice of the convention for lieutenant governor after John K. Sague also seconded the nomination and declared this was the best Democratic convention ever held in the state of New York.

Osborn Attacks Murphy.

The convention, at its afternoon session, was enlivened by a personal assault on Charles F. Murphy from the lips of Thomas Mott Osborne and a sharp rebuke by State Senator Wagner. It was demonstrated at this session of the convention that the strength of the regular Democrats was 412 votes and the strength of the anti-Murphy men 35 votes, three delegates absent or not voting. The minority, however, made a gallant but ineffectual fight, headed by Mr. Osborne and F. H. Mott of Jamestown. During the attack of Mr. Osborne on Murphy there were unpleasant scenes on the part of delegates, some of whom demanded Mr. Osborne's expulsion on the ground that he was not a Democrat, while others constantly interrupted him by hisses and cries of "Put him out."

Permanent Chairman Parker demanded silence and admonished the boisterous ones to conduct themselves.

When Charles F. Murphy, accompanied by Alton B. Parker, entered the convention and were applauded.

Temporary Chairman Glynn started the proceedings promptly. Chairman John D. McMahon of the committee on permanent organization reported that the committee had selected ex-Judge Parker as permanent chairman. This was the signal for the first demonstration of opposition to Judge Parker's selection.

It was led by Mr. Mott who, as a member of the committee on permanent organization, submitted a minority report and urged the selection of a progressive instead of Parker. He declared that Mr. Parker is most conspicuously identified with reactionary policies. He presented the name of John K. Sague, mayor of Poughkeepsie, for permanent chairman.

John D. McMahon eulogized Mr. Parker as a Democrat and a jurist and declared that Mr. Parker and all Democrats are progressives and Judge Parker one of the most progressive.

It was on this vote for permanent chairman that the real strength of the majority and the minority in this convention was made plain. Judge Parker was elected by a vote of 412 to 35 for Mayor Sague. Judge Parker was then escorted to the platform.

CONGRESSMAN KILLED.

Carl C. Anderson of Ohio Dies When Auto Overturns.

Fostoria, O., Oct. 3.—Congressman Carl C. Anderson of this city was instantly killed when an automobile in which he was riding overturned.

Carl Corey Anderson was born in Bluffton, O., Dec. 2, 1877. He began life as a newsboy and bootblack in Fostoria. After gaining through privations a public school education he quickly began to make his influence felt here and in surrounding towns.

Mr. Anderson was a Democrat and a power in Ohio labor circles. He held a working card in local union No. 121 Musicians of Fostoria. He was elected to the Sixty-first and re-elected to the Sixty-second congress.

In 1904 Mr. Anderson married Nellie Ford of Fremont, by whom he had two sons.

SHOTS IN CROWDED CHURCH.

Bandits Make Bold Attempt to Kidnap Wealthy Spaniard.

Madrid, Oct. 3.—While the population of Castilsabor were attending mass four bandits armed with blunderbusses entered and threatened to shoot any one who moved.

They then went to the choir gallery with the intention of kidnaping Manuel Valles, a wealthy Spaniard, when a civil guard captain of the name of Garcia, who was in the church, fired his revolver.

The bandits fled and made their escape. The civil guards are pursuing them.

Weather Forecast.

They Shoot, but Never Steal.

Montenegrins pride themselves on the possession of two great virtues—patriotism and honesty. Their love of country has been demonstrated in their history, and their honesty is witnessed to by their laws. One remarkable law of the Black Mountain Kingdom directs that any man finding a purse or jewelry upon the road shall place the same upon the nearest stone, so that the loser will have only to retrace his steps to recover his property. That law is never violated. A Montenegrin thinks nothing of shooting a man with whom he disagrees, but would shrink in horror from the idea of stealing the veriest trifle. Montenegrin law is more severe upon the thief than the homicide.

Ancient and Modern Bathing.

Soap is really quite a new factor in the world's life. Most of our ancestors were filthy and dissembled the fact by the use of stifling perfumes. Washing one's hands, which was only done by the very best people, meant dipping the fingers in rosewater and drying them on a napkin. Even the Romans of the decadence, who were probably cleaner as a community than any before or since, bathed in water and rubbed themselves with oil. It sounds nasty to us, but then so does, for example, Chinese music, which millions of human beings think delightful.

GIRL ACCUSED OF SMUGGLING GOODS

Rich Man's Daughter Leaves Garments Undeclared.

MATERIAL IS WORTH $370.

Miss Elizabeth Muller Says She Bought Garments In This Country—Will Be Arrested if She Doesn't Declare Baggage, Which Is Being Held.

Englewood, N. J., Oct. 3.—Miss Elizabeth Muller, the daughter of a wealthy resident of Palisade Park, was summoned before Deputy Surveyor Smythe to explain why she had left undeclared $370 worth of dutiable material when she came into this port on the George Washington a few days ago.

One of the garments she failed to declare was a Persian lamb coat, which she said she had bought in this country before going abroad. There were other articles of clothing carefully concealed in Miss Muller's trunks which she had failed to declare and which the customs men said were bought abroad.

The young woman refused to admit before the deputy surveyor that either the coat or the other garments were bought abroad. She will be given another opportunity to declare her baggage, which is being held, and if she does not do so she will be arrested, Mr. Smythe said, and held for the grand jury.

Herman Sagman, a diamond buyer for the firm of Friedlander & Bartmonsky, at 6 Maiden lane, New York, who was arrested at the Canadian border while trying to bring in $2,650 worth of diamonds, was another person who interviewed the deputy surveyor. The jewels were seized.

FRANK HENNESY MARRIES.

Announces Wedding to Family and Friends and All Are Surprised.

Hackensack, N. J., Oct. 3.—Frank Hancock Hennesy of Haworth, son of Assemblyman Charles O'Connor Hennesy, has surprised his family and friends by announcing his marriage to Miss Florence Browne of New York. The ceremony took place at New Rochelle last Thursday. The situation has been accepted philosophically by everybody concerned, and the voyage over matrimonial sea is auspiciously begun.

Mr. Hennesy met his bride, who is the daughter of John S. Browne, librarian at the University of New York, some time ago, and, as frequently happens, the young couple soon fell in love. Finally a wedding trip to New Rochelle, where lives Rev. A. H. Wilson, regent of the college fraternity to which young Mr. Hennesy belongs, was proposed, and he it was who performed the ceremony. Then came the task of notifying parents on both sides, which was followed by formal announcement of their daughter's marriage by Mr. and Mrs. Browne. Mr. and Mrs. Hennesy will reside in the city this winter. Mr. Hennesy is well known among the younger lawyers of this county.

COAST COMMUTERS WIN.

Quickly Gain Their Plea as Night Train Is Reinstated.

Long Branch, N. J., Oct. 3.—Residents along the Jersey coast, particularly those of Long Branch and Asbury Park, are rejoicing over not having been cut off from the world so completely as was threatened. For the last three years the Central Railroad of New Jersey has run a night train from New York, leaving Communipaw at 9 o'clock. When the winter time tables were issued recently the train was omitted.

Petitions were circulated and presented to the railroad, and bulletins were posted along the road announcing that the train would be reinstated.

SCAFFOLD COLLAPSES; 2 DEAD

Fatal Accident In Camden Shipbuilding Yards.

Camden, N. J., Oct. 3.—Harry Sharpley, twenty-three years old, of this city, and Joseph Hutchinson, the same age, of Oaklyn, were killed at the New York Shipbuilding company's plant here.

They were working together on a high scaffold on the outside of a ship under construction. From some unknown cause the scaffold collapsed and both men fell with it to the ground. Each sustained a fractured skull. Both legs of each were broken. The men were picked up unconscious and taken to the Cooper hospital, where they died a few minutes afterward.

BANNERS ON JERSEY SHORE.

Democratic Emblems Fly at Long Branch and Asbury Park.

Asbury Park, N. J., Oct. 3.—The Democrats of this city unfurled a Wilson and Marshall banner here which received a great ovation. One was unfurled at Long Branch a month ago.

These are the only two political banners along this section of the coast. Neither the Republicans nor the Progressives have flung one out in any town or city. In other presidential elections every little village had a banner all its own.

That is if it is put together rightly and placed in the right mediums. Under such conditions it is certain to influence your business to the betterment of it if you will only have the courage to "keep at it."

How did John Wanamaker and our other commercial kings build up their vast enterprises? Simply by good business ability and—Advertising constantly—keeping at it. You woudn't apply a liniment with a feather would you, you rub it in—just the same with advertising, except that you keep on rubbing it in and the harder and longer you do the rubbing the greater the returns.

We once read in a country paper the following: "If you have a prosperous business, advertise and keep it—if not advertise and get it.

WOMAN BEGS DEATH BY LAW

Pleads For an Act of Legislature to Permit Euthanasia.

SHE IS A HOPELESS INVALID.

In Constant Pain and Unable to Move Hand or Foot—Injured Animals Mercifully Killed, She Says, While She May Live For Twenty Years.

Mrs. Sarah Harris, thirty-three years old, a sufferer from paralysis for three years, has dictated from her bed in a New York sanitarium an appeal for an act of the legislature which would make it possible for physicians to end her sufferings by a merciful death.

For three years Mrs. Harris has not been able to move hand or foot. She has control only over the muscles of her head. There is no hope that she will ever improve. Her condition is caused by a spinal malady which keeps her constantly in intense pain. The disease has spared her reason, but this only makes life harder for her by adding mental suffering to physical.

Her husband is Louis Harris, a clothing salesman. They have two children, a boy and a girl.

The invalid's parents removed to New York several years ago from Charleston, S. C., where Mrs. Harris was born. She was educated in Charleston, and after graduating from a normal school began to teach school there. At her wish her parents removed to New York, where eight years ago she married Louis Harris.

Was Healthy and Active.

During the first five years of their married life Mrs. Harris was an active, healthy young woman, devoting all her time to her household and to the rearing of her three children. The affliction which deprived her of the use of her limbs came without warning. Apparently in good health, she was out walking with her children in October, 1909, when she suffered the first attack. In a few days she had become a helpless invalid. The exact nature of her disease has not been discovered, though it is known to be a spinal trouble which cannot be cured.

Mrs. Harris spent two years in the Neurological Institute under the care of specialists who could do nothing for her and finally admitted that there was no improvement. The last year Mrs. Harris has spent in the sanitarium.

Since she first learned that her case was hopeless Mrs. Harris has prayed for death. She has sought to enlist her husband's relatives in an effort to have a law passd allowing a painless death to be administered in the case of hopeless invalids who requested such a release from pain. The answer has always been an attempt to cheer her up and to hold out hope.

Mrs. Harris' Plea.

Mrs. Harris has now taken the first step in a movement for the passage of an act by the legislature which will make it lawful to terminate her life. She dictated the following statement:

Can the busy throng stop long enough from their various avocations in life to consider a most vital question from one of the greatest sufferers who inhabits this beautiful world?

Various mechanical inventions are being pushed in which many shining lights lose their lives, and yet one question, the greatest of all, how to end the suffering of hopeless, helpless sufferers, has never been delved into.

Here, in her early thirties, a young woman stretched on a bed, immobile, bereft of the great motor engine of her constitution for the past three years, which places her in an absolutely paralyzed condition, in which she is unable to exert a single muscle of her body, besides suffering much pain, yet in full possession of the strength of her mentality, craves and yearns for that which would end her misery, which tongue cannot relate nor pen describe. Master minds of medical science, skilled diagnosticians, and human skill have exhausted their efforts in bringing about some relief or cure.

Now, why should not the state take the matter in its hands and end the wretchedness of such poor sufferers? Let us just stop long enough to think that when a brute, the lowliest of the animal kingdom, becomes inactive and doomed to suffer; its suffering is put to an end, and here a human being, the highest and noblest of created beings, must linger and suffer on until the vital organs give way, which may be an indefinite number of years. What a cruel order of the universe!

Naturally one's own loved ones cannot bring this about. Your physician cannot do it, for he would be condemned, so the only means is the state.

Any one who shall take up my case, as it requires a pioneer, as in everything, would win an everlasting debt of gratitude from one of the greatest sufferers on earth.

Like a Tortured Captive.

To a reporter Mrs. Harris compared her case to that of a tortured captive who was revived as often as he became insensible from pain in order that he would be in a condition to suffer keenly when more agonies were inflicted.

"If an animal is mortally wounded or helpless from disease," she said, "nature provides against long, drawn out suffering. The animal dies quickly, and its pain is over. That is the most merciful way, and men recognize that, for when a horse or a dog is hurt or sick and there is no further hope for it it is put out of its misery.

"But when the same is true of a human being he is artificially kept alive to suffer. If I were neglected for a day or two death would come. You cannot imagine how I would welcome it."

The superintendent of the sanitarium said that Mrs. Harris might live for ten or twenty years.

SAYS SPIRIT OF 1776 HAS BEEN RE-BORN

Former Governor Fort Gives Interview on New Political Era.

Former Governor J. Franklin Fort has given out an interview for publication in the State newspapers, in which he tells why he thinks the Progressives will win, and why the old style politicians cannot understand the present campaign. He says:

The Progressive movement is a people's movement, and for this reason the old politicians are unable to gauge it. Their methods of judgment are not applicable. They cannot understand it. This accounts for their inability to accurately forecast its strength. That it is growing every day is undoubted, and yet they stand off and pretend it is not gaining. Take New Jersey. I am in touch with conditions throughout the state, and the increase of the Roosevelt sentiment over what it was in the primaries last May is everywhere evident. Men are writing me daily saying they were not with us in the primary fight, but are now. The spirit is intense. The zeal of the Progressives seems to have no bounds. It is a crusade. The spirit of 1776 is here again. Men and women make it a personal matter. Everybody wants something to do. You can start a club in any town in the state in an hour. The strength of the movement is not in organization and it is of little concern whether there be any organization in a locality or not. The people feel that Roosevelt and Johnson stand for them and their well being, and they are for them, and no amount of talk can strengthen their faith or quench their zeal. The political conditions existing today have no counterpart in the history of political parties in this country. The people are fired with a patriotic purpose to win. They believe they see a chance to gain better political conditions and to improve their own condition by securing equal opportunity for all. No one can tell what the vote will be. It cannot be bought; it cannot be controlled. Thousands believe in the Progressive party who are saying nothing. They see in it a chance to rid the state and nation of machine politics and boss rule. They mean to do it if they can. It looks as if the election would be a landslide.

New Jersey will surprise the leaders of both of the old parties. A new and better era is about to be ushered in. All hail its coming!

BOTTLER'S LICENSE REFUSED BY COUNTY JUDGE ATWATER

Elizabeth, Oct. 3.—Judge Edward S. Atwater in the Court of Common Pleas, refused to grant a bottlers' license to Hyman Socofsky, of Kenilworth. Judge Atwater did not give his reasons.

When the application was made a week ago, several objections were filed, among them protests from officials of the Upsala Lutheran College in Kenilworth. Yesterday was the third time the matter came up.

After refusing the Socofsky application the court granted a new wholesale license to Isaac Apgar, owner of the Kenilworth Inn, and also renewed Apgar's retail license.

Because of the law which forbids bottlers in one municipality to distribute bottled beer in another municipality where they have no licenses the court has expressed opposition to the granting of these licenses.

As a result of the indiscriminate sale of bottled beer by foreign companies in the suburban districts of Union County there were numerous prosecutions.

REBURYING GRANT.

According to the treasury department's new scheme of paper money, our national heroes will stack up as follows: George Washington will appear on the $1 bills, Thomas Jefferson on the $2 bills, Abraham Lincoln on the $5 bills, Grover Cleveland on the $10, Alexander Hamilton on the $20, Andrew Jackson $50, Benjamin Franklin, $100, John Marshall $500, Henry Clay $1,000, and U. S. Grant $10,000. But what grudge have the officials against Grant that they should retire him to the deep oblivion of a $10,000 bill? asks the Boston Post.

TAFT TO TAKE PART.

The memorial tablet is of bronze and was designed by Bela Pratt, the Boston sculptor.

"T. R." TELLS OF CAMPAIGN FUND

HIS STATEMENTS FRANK

Despite Morgan's Testimony That He Did Not See Roosevelt, Former President Declares It's Not Unlikely He Saw Banker.

Washington, Oct. 4.—When Theodore Roosevelt took the witness stand before the Clapp committee that is investigating campaign contributions shortly after ten o'clock this morning, there was an enormous crowd present and when he took his place in the witness chair a cheer went up. Senator Clapp gave the oath. Roosevelt stated in answer to a question that he was a candidate in 1904.

Senator Clapp called his attention to John D. Archbold's testimony regarding the $100,000 Standard Oil donation and in giving his answer Mr. Roosevelt asked Senator Clapp, as chairman, "May I treat the letter I sent you as part of my answer?" "Certainly," said Mr. Clapp. Colonel Roosevelt then said:

"In regard to that letter, I was informed that Mr. Cortelyou returned money received from those who were being prosecuted. I told him to return any such money. I hold that the reasons that then obtained are now stronger. I said to Mr. Cortelyou, 'I would rather see us defeated than to win that money. The acceptance of a dollar would hurt Mr. Taft more than it would possibly help him.'"

Mr. Roosevelt then read his letter to Cortelyou in 1904, directing the return of Standard Oil money. "I also find," continued the Colonel, "that in 1904 I sent an extra telegram on October 27, to Mr. Cortelyou as follows: 'I greatly desire that the request contained in my letter of yesterday be complied with.'"

Senator Clapp then asked the Colonel about the Harriman fund. "I would like to take up the charges as they were made in succession," said Mr. Roosevelt. "In the first place there is no testimony against me except in the form of hearsay evidence, the quoted words of men who are dead. In regard to a letter published in Heart's Magazine, the one written by Mr. Sibley, in which it was stated that Mr. Sibley came to see me and spoke about seeing Mr. Archbold and that he wrote Mr. Archbold that I would be delighted," continued Mr. Roosevelt, "I don't remember any talk with Mr. Sibley in which Mr. Archbold's name was mentioned. I certainly did did not ask him to bring Mr. Archbold down to see me."

Mr. Roosevelt denied ever sending for any Standard Oil representative, however, he said there were plenty of trust magnates and railroad kings for whom he did send, mentioning Marvin Hughitt and J. J Hill. He also thought he sent for J. P. Morgan and that he certainly saw Mr. Morgan with reference to currency legislation. Mr. Roosevelt then demanded that the Senate eject Senator Penrose for misstatements regarding him before the Clapp committee.

Senator Paynter cross-examined Colonel Roosevelt after the noon adjournment. "Did you have any information regarding contributions by H. C. Frick or George Jay Gould?" he asked, and the Colonel replied: "I knew nothing whatever about that by Mr. Gould until the other day, but I knew Mr. Frick had given heavily and he offered to contribute more heavily still. Mr. Knox told me that Mr. Frick was one of my strongest backers."

Colonel Roosevelt was asked: "You heard of Archbold's contribution?" "I doubt if I heard it was from Archbold,' said Roosevelt; "I heard there was such a Standard Oil contribution. Mr. Parker had made the charge I believe. That was before I wrote the letter of October 24.

Senator Paynter pressed Roosevelt closely regarding knowledge of Standard Oil donations before he wrote the letters ordering the return of any such money. The ex-President further said he had learned about the 1904 campaign that Mr. Bliss said he received no money from the Standard Oil company but that he had accepted money from one man who had Standard Oil and other interests and that he did not regard that as Standard Oil money. Senator Paynter went back to the Harriman fund and Roosevelt's statement that he asked Harriman for no gifts. Senator Paynter then read several of the Harriman-Roosevelt letters and the Colonel acknowledged the correspondence to be correct. He said he had invited Harriman to come and discuss the New York campaign as there was trouble over the State ticket.

POLICE KEEPING TABS ON POSSIBLE PREDATORY ASHMEN

Complaints of householders that ashmen steal furnace tools, hose and rakes from their cellars prompted Police Chief Kiely today to instruct all junkmen to report to him promptly when these things are offered for sale. He has also requested Chief Marshal Weiss, of North Plainfield, to co-operate with him in suppressing the practise.

These thefts have been going on for some time and they are confined to no particular section of the city. Not only will a severe sentence be meted out to any of this class of offenders when caught but it is understood that the Chief will notify the Mayor of the facts and that the latter will promptly revoke the license of the guilty ashman.

Announcement of the engagement of the pair was made by Mr. and Mrs. Sullivant last spring. Doctor Ashton is 54 years old and his bride-to-be 22. Friends of the pair said when the engagement was announced that the match was a case of love at first sight, as they had known each other only about six weeks before the engagement was made public.

The ceremony is to take place at the winter home of Mr. and Mrs. Sullivant, in Spruce street, Philadelphia. The bride-to-be has been a popular member of the Germantown set since her debut several years ago. She will be Doctor Ashton's second wife, his first wife having died several years ago.

WHY GEVARO KICKED CARMELLO OUTDOORS

When James Gevaro, of 357 Cottage place, was arranged before Judge DeMeza in the City Court this morning on the complaint of Cellio Carmello, it was learned that Gevaro had good cause for the alleged assault for which he was arrested. Carmello boarded at Gevaro's but when the latter noticed that the complainant was forcing his attentions on his fifteen year old daughter, Carmello was literally kicked out of the house. The irate father, as a parting shot, threw a brick at the fleeing Carmello and a bruise on the latter's head showed that Gevaro was a good marksman.

The court suspended sentence, at the same time giving Carmello a scathing talk and ordering him to keep away from Gevaro's daughter.

REVILLE BRISTLES AT CLUB SESSION

Caustically Reminds Candidates that City Committee Exists.

OPPOSES USURPATION

Councilman Adds, However, That Committee Will Welcome Assistance of Club Members as Individuals—Address by Percy H. Stewart

When the Plainfield Democratic Club met last night to listen to the views of the local candidates and to plan for the campaign, Chairman P. J. Reville, of the Democratic City Committee, let the club workers know in his usual forceful style that they were usurping the prerogatives of the City Committee. President J. O. Stevens was in the chair and after several of the candidates had spoken Councilman Reville said that while the City Committee welcomed the assistance of the club members individually it should be borne in mind that by law the committee was placed in full charge of such matters. He added, however, that any particular candidate was priviliged to work on his "own hook" if he saw fit.

Percy H. Stewart, the party's nominee for mayor, spoke at length on the necessity of getting out the full vote and for every earnest Democrat to lend all his efforts in behalf of the whole ticket. Mr. Stewart's remarks were well received and he made a marked favorable impression particularly on those who had not heard him speak before.

Among others who had something to say were R. B. Corey, W. L. Hetfield, W. H. Harding, Edward Lynch and W. R. Way.

The Democratic City Committee is planning to make a complete canvass of the city as only forty-eight per cent. of the full vote is now registered and there is but one day left for that purpose, October 22.

At the conclusion of the dances announcement of the various classes were made and registration took place, after which the "gym" songs were sung, and the yells of different bodies of the organization were given. Cocoa and cookies were served.

FIEDLER'S MILLINERY OPENING TOMORROW

Fiedler's, having eight big stores in Manhattan, Brooklyn and the Bronx, have come to Plainfield to permit the discerning women to take advantage of their superb stock and low prices, thus saving carfare and inconvenience of a trip to New York. Fiedler's reputation for fair dealing and the very latest thing in Millinery years ago established a big business on a sound and prosperous footing and one after another stores were conveniently located as the demand grew until a chain of stores testified to the success of the enterprise and to the confidence reposed in the very name Fiedler.

The new store at 133 East Front street will be formally thrown open to the public tomorrow, and only the latest creations of the season will be displayed, the same as are shown in Fiedler's New York stores and in as great a selection and at the same moderate prices. Even if you don't want to make a purchase it will repay you to visit Fiedler's tomorrow.

BRICK BROKE UP FIGHT AND A WHISKEY FLASK

Evidently hunting for trouble, this morning, Everett Powers, a colored laborer, claiming Scotch Plains as his home, found all he wanted when he went after John Cuniff, a contracting mason, from whose employ he was discharged on Tuesday. Powers located Cuniff at the lower end of Arlington avenue, where the contractor was superintending some work. The colored man had with him a dog and this he paid a boy five cents to take care of while he "mixed things up." No blood was spilled for there was no real fight. Only one blow was struck and it was that of a brick "fired" by one of Cuniff's men and the missile hit the target—a flask of whiskey in Powers' hip pocket. Just about at the same time, the colored man's faithful dog decided to get into the rumpus and he made an attack on the youth. The little fellow was last seen "beating it" down the road.

In the meantime Cuniff notified the police and Patrolman McIntyre brought Powers to the city court, where Jurge DeMeza suspended sentence on condition that he would leave town.

CONVENTION CHOIR WILL SING AT Y. M. C. A. MEETING

The Plainfield convention choir, under the direction of David E. Titsworth, held a well attended rehearsal at Y. M. C. A. Hall, last evening. Another rehearsal is called for Thursday evening, October 10, at the Seventh-Day Baptist church. It is hoped that every member of the choir may be present.

The singing of the choir will be one of the attractive features of the great men's meeting of October 13. Preceding Mr. Drum's address, for half an hour, it will render some of the selections which were so well received at the Sunday-school convention a year ago.

TWO MEN BURNED IN FIRE AT BOUND BROOK

A frame building, formerly owned by the Franklin Paint Company at Lincoln, was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. For the last few years it has been used by the Lincoln Waterproof Cloth Company, which has a large factory on the opposite side of the railroad. Two Italians who were working in the building were badly burned. They were attended by Drs. Kaucher and Robinson, of Bound Brook.

The alarm was sounded about 3:05. In a very few minutes Lincoln Hose Company No. 1, had two streams of water on the burning building from the hydrant corner of Lincoln Boulevard and Goble avenue, which saved much valuable and explosive products nearby.

SOOT ORDINANCE SHOT TO PIECES

Pond Works Expert Says It is Based on Lack of Knowledge.

COMMENT BY BESLER

Railroad Anxious to Do Away With Sooty Clouds—New Ordinance Based on Existing Laws to Be Drawn.

The ordinance aimed at the soft coal smoke nuisance drafted by Corporation Counsel W. M. Stillman at the suggestion of a committee of the Common Council was raked by a fire of sharp criticism from representatives of the Central Railroad of New Jersey and local factories at a hearing in the Common Council chamber last night. The ordinance was declared to be faulty and based on a lack of knowledge of the subject in hand.

As a result of suggestions by representatives of the Pond Machine Tool Company, Central Railroad and the Potter Press Works, the Council will obtain copies of the anti-smoke ordinances enacted by the cities of Newark and Chicago, which are founded on the Ringlemann chart, from which a workable and fair ordinance will be written covering every phase of the situation. The whistle nuisance also came up for discussion.

Councilman Holt was the first to speak at the hearing, citing in brief recent protests of citizens and reading the ordinance. William G. Besler, vice president and general manager of the Central Railroad, who had received a special invitation to be present, followed Mr. Holt. He said he had come to the hearing as a citizen of Plainfield, and not in an official capacity. He began his protest of the anti-smoke agitation, with a suggestion that the burning of leaves in the streets, practised extensively at this time of the year also come under the provisions of the ordinance.

Commenting on smake issuing from factory chimneys and screeching whistles to be heard daily, he said there are plenty of towns that would be glad to have a little smoke and to hear whistles and other signs of life that denote prosperity. He said he did not believe merchants and business people, with interests centered here, were the ones protesting against the so-called nuisances.

"What we want," he continued, "is ordinances passed in the cause of enterprise and prosperity, not highbinding and foolish ones."

Mr. Besler added that the Central Railroad Company would gladly consider any suggestion from the people that would lessen the amount of smoke coming forth from the engine smoke stacks.

"Every time clouds of black smoke belch forth from our funnels," he said, "it indicates that more coal is being wasted than used in generating steam. Lessening the smoke would mean the saving of thousands of dollars. This is a problem railroads have been trying to solve for years."

Appearing in the interest of those strongly opposed to the smoke nuisance, John J. Varley, a storekeeper at 921 West Front street, suggested the use of anthracite coal instead of the soft bitumious product to lessen the smoke evil. His suggestion was counteracted by William A. Pinto, a New York coal dealer, living at 73 West Eighth street, this city, who said good results could not be obtained by the burning of hard coal. He said Bloomfield had lost three factories, because a law was passed prohibiting the use of the soft fuel, and that the ordinance was about to be withdrawn.

Accompanying Mr. Besler was E. E. Kerwin, superintendent of the New Jersey Division of the Central Railroad. He told of the systematic work being carried on by the railroad to reduce the amount of smoke from their engines. He said five inspectors were employed who instruct firemen in the correct performance of their duties.

Asking for co-operation among the manufacturers and the citizens of Plainfield with the railroads, C. H. Chambers said the only thing the company could do to eliminate the smoke evil was the increase of the instruction force. He asked that citizens call attention to the numbers of any engine poring forth large amounts of smoke, and the fireman would be warned, and discharged if the offense was repeated, because, he said, if an engine is properly stoked, it should smoke not longer than one minute after the operation.

George H. Batchelor, engineer of the Pond Machine Tool Company, pointed out the faults of the ordinance. He said it did not determine what degree of smoke was objectionable or who was to be the judge or body of men to enforce the provisions of the ordinance. He produced the Ringlemann chart as a sugges-

REMINISCENCES AT REUNION'S WIND-UP

One of the most successful reunions in the interesting history of the Second New Jersey Cavalry, ended yesterday with reminiscence of their most thrilling experience during the Civil War, related by the veterans for the benefit of the younger generation of friends who attended the event. Business followed by a banquet in Neighbor's restaurant occupied the morning session. Much credit for the success of the event is due Captain W. C. Smith, who acted as host. In the closing address of the reunion he told the veterans the day had been one of highest pleasure to him.

The reunion was held in Reform Hall, and was attended by many G. A. R. members, as well as the Women's Relief Corps. Among those who addressed the gathering was Captain William Hand, of this city, and Colonel L. R. Bernard, of Newark.

The officers elected at the morning session are: Michael Gaffney, of Rankin Post, No. 10, King's county, N. Y., president; J. S. Applegate, of Wilkes Post, No. 23, of Trenton, secretary; Michael Hennessy, of Cushing Command, No. 1, of Jersey City, first vice president; P. V. Z. Striker, of Somerville, and member of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, of this city, second vice president; Henry Stain, of Rankin Post, No. 10, of King's county, N. Y., third vice president, and Elias Clayton, of Shackleton Post, No. 83, of Keyport, N. J., fourth vice president.

Among the visitors was Gen. J. Madison Drake, of Elizabeth, a writer on Civil War history, who addressed the veterans as follows:

"Comrades of the Long Ago—I have the pleasure in attending your reunion today. It is the first time I ever met the survivors of the Second New Jersey Cavalry. Although I served four years, the regiment to which I belonged—the Ninth—being isolated from all New Jersey commands, I was never able to meet my comrades from this State. One of your number, however, Lieutenant Adrian Appleget, I met under distressing circumstances in the fetid prison-pen at Macon, and subsequently in other prisons to which we were both committed in 1864. To the honor of your regiment, as well as to his own satisfaction, Lieutenant Appleget effected his escape from thraldom at Camp Sorghum, Columbia, S. C., and after a long, fatiguing and perilous tramp, succeeded in reaching the Union lines. Happily he is with us today, with no shadow of the old peril on his face.

"Forty-nine years ago next Saturday, as members of the Second Cavalry, in the efflorescent period of life, you marched away from Trenton to the inspiring blasts of merry-sounding bugles, and went into camp near Alexandria, where you remained one month. Transferred to the army of the southwest, you found plenty to do along the Father of Waters for the next two years.

"The Second Cavalry was noted for its efficiency and discipline, and ranked high among the best cavalry commands in the service. Wherever it marched or fought, it showed the characteristics of the 'Jersey Blues,' and its actions will shine with brilliant lustre in the annals of our State and nation long after its members have crossed the Great Divide.

"More than half a century has passed since the shot at our starry emblem on Sumter, heard round the world, summoned the patriot youth of the North to the defence of the national capital. More than a lifetime ago the yeomanry of Union country, with others from the free States, who loved the American Union, left home and comfort to aid in preserving the best form of government ever vouchsafed to man. For four long and bitter years our volunteers breasted the iron storm of battle, and endured privation that the nation might live.

"The Civil War of 1861-1865 passed in magnitude all that had gone before. Previous conflicts were pigmy raids in comparison. Britain had civil wars that lasted for centuries, while we have had but one, and yet England, with its thousand years of history, has not expended as much treasure, nor lost as many lives, as it cost the people of this country to save the Union.

"As the war dragged on, year after year, the faint-hearted feared it would be interminable. They forgot that the events of a single day often decide the fate of nations, as well as the destiny of individuals. History abounds in examples. Pompey, the master of half the known world, one pleasant morning, was a panting fugitive ere twilight's hues faded in the glowing west. Belshazzar, the mightiest of oriental potentates, spent the early hours of a memorable night in revelry, from which he was aroused by terrific warnings, to find the scepter snatched from his grasp. Napoleon's dream of a great western empire faded as speedily as morning shadows, because his ambitious admiral fought the battle of the Nile contrary to his orders. After succeeding in a hundred desperate encounters, the mightiest ever fought until the Civil War burst forth in our favored land, the French god-of-war staked and lost his throne at Waterloo, perishing miserably seven years later on a lonely and inhospitable isle, to which he was treacherously assigned after his voluntary surrender to the British nation. As a gorgeous scene is often quickly succeeded by sombrous shadows, so fall mightiest monarchies.

"And so with the Titanic rebellion, punctured by Grant, Sherman, Sheridan and Thomas all through 1864, and suddenly ended by the fall of Richmond that beautiful morning in April, 1865. As winter's floods, temporarily held in icy chains, only roar more tumultuously when the breath of spring dissolves their fetters, and invade cultivated fields and even the habitations of men, as was recently the case along the Mississippi, bearing oceanward the wrecks that the hungry waters had made, so did our serried lines at last overwhelm in dire confusion a bold and confident enemy, and restore peace and prosperity to a distracted people.

"Those of us who participated actively in that great struggle too well remember its dark hours. How awful was the anxiety and anguish of that trying period! The seasons rolled on, year after year, in their varying and beauteous course. But the beauty of the spring-time was lost in the reflection that many of our best and bravest comrades were melting away even as the snow of winter. The charm of summer faded with the thought that loved ones were dropping under the heat of battle. The loneliness of autumn cheered our weary hearts only for a moment, while winter came to disturb blissful sleep, bringing hunger, cold, wounds, prison and death.

"In the great contest in which we took part, two million, two hundred and twenty-five thousand men marched from their homes in the north to meet the men from the south, who sought to overthrow our institutions; the heavy tramp of armed men was heard in every State from the great lakes in the north to the gulf, and from the Atlantic to the Pacific. On a thousand successive days the cannon lifted its terrible voice; three thousand three hundred and sixty-one battles and skirmishes were fought to the bitter end; one hundred and ten thousand men belonging to the Union army were instantly killed in battle, and more than three hundred thousand died from wounds and disease, or in Confederate prison-pens. That war, my comrades, cost more lives, occasioned more suffering in the fields and at the firesides, added more to the record of human heroism, and was more momentous in its consequences than any that had preceded it.

"Today the few remaining survivors of the war surrounded by none of the pomp and circumstances of former days. No shattered cannon disputes the supremacy of the flag under which we marched. No rattle of musketry or clang of sabre speaks of deadly fields. No blast of bugle or throb of drum summons you to ensanguined fields. There is no rumble of artillery hurrying to defend an endangered line—no shell screaming in the air; no ghastly faces turned rearward on stretcher or litter; no gleaming surgeon's knife, no hospital floating its peculiar and sacred flag, and beckoning wounded and dying to its friendly shelter."

TO TALK TO TEACHERS.

Dr. A. F. VanHorn, who spent several weeks at the Vineland Institute for the Feeble Minded, will speak at the teachers' meeting Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, in the Somerset street school. Dr. Van Horn, while at the Vineland Institute, took a course specially organized for medical examiners, studying methods, etc., and his talk should be very interesting.

The Loyal Order of Moose will hold its regular business meeting Monday evening. Some important matters concerning the lodge rooms will be brought up. All members are urged to be present, as it is necessary that these matters are presented to a full attendance.

THE FAKE CURE PERIL.

As generally throughout the land, from Plainfield pulpits will resound warnings against fake cures for consumption, the day designated for that service to mankind being Sunday, Oct. 27. It is the scheme of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis and the Plainfield Anti-Tuberculosis League has used its good offices to interest all the local pastors in the one-day campaign. Needless to say, the suggestion will be complied with and on "Tuberculosis Sunday" the fraudulent and dastardly methods of the wretches who carry on this diabolical business will be exposed. In more than one hundred thousand churches, the nefarious traffic will be the subject of stirring sermons and it is calculated that an immeasurable amount of good will be accomplished in this way.

The National Association has compiled a list of more than 500 of these so-called cures for consumption, from which an annual harvest of more than fifteen millions of dollars is reaped from misguided victims of the Great White Plague. The chief ingredient of many of these "remedies" is alcohol, but it has been found that use is even made of rattle-snake poison ,coal dust, dog oil, pig's blood and milk strippings. As was said by a lecturer at the fourth National Conservation Congress, being held at Indianapolis, under the auspices of the American Health association, "Patent medicines are more dangerous than dynamite. They are composed chiefly of alcohol, and if alcohol could cure, this earth would have been rid of the disease ages ago."

Prevention is better than cure, but if the patient's condition is not too advanced, pure air, the right dieting and proper care of oneself will restore the victim to health. Any qualified physician can prescribe the proper treatment for an ultimate recovery; the advice of dispensor of the so-called "sure cures" when taken only leads to an early grave.

OVERHEAD WIRES.

Agitation for the removal of overhead wires is bearing fruit in Elizabeth, where an agreement has practically been reached between the municipality's governing body and the P. S. C. The city has only to ratify the contract and the utilities' corporation will then begin work on the improvement which will cost $250,000. Both the P. S. C. and the State Public Utilities' Commission made surveys and the proposition submitted by the P. S. C. was favorably received.

The corporation promises to expend $60,000 during the first year for the construction of conduits and the work will be confined to the business section. Thereafter, the contract calls for the expenditure of not less than $25,000 a year until the work is completed. The expenditure of one-half of the annual amount during the last five years will be under the control of the city and it will say in what section the improvement shall be extended.

As a result within a very few years, that city will be practically free of all over-head wires except those necessary for the trolley service. It is expected that the Elizabeth aldermen will ratify the agreement at a meeting to be held on October 15 and that the work will be begun immediately.

The alert city fathers are to be congratulated on their signal success and the P. S. C. is to be commended for its magnamimous action.

The contributing editor for tomorrow's issue will be Rev. John Y. Broek, pastor of Trinity Reformed church. The clergyman's subject and his treatment of it, we feel sure, will interest all our readers.

Are you watching how the Daily Press is growing? Look over this issue for instance and compare it with what the paper was before January 1, 1912.

HORSE DISEASE PROVES NOT TO BE CONTAGIOUS

Trenton, Oct. 4.—The State Board of Health has received a report from Dr. T. B. Rogers, of Woodbury, who has been investigating the epidemic of spinal meningitis which has killed many horses in the lowlands of Cape May the Cumberland counties.

From the investigations the Board has concluded that the disease is not contagious and would therefore be excluded from the list coming under the care and supervision of the Board.

By instructing farmers as to the causes and treatment of the malady it is believed that the number of cases will be materially lessened and the epidemic controllled.

The report of Dr. Rogers indicates that several hundred deaths of horses have resulted from the disease.

The disease has received the attention of scientific investigators for several years without any definite results being obtained as to its cause, method of communication or treatment. The horses affected show at the beginning a slight staggering in the hind legs which rapidly grows worse until the animal leans against the stall for support. The temperature of the animal rapidly rises to about 106 degrees and when the animal is compelled to walk the body is twisted to one side.

Later in the disease there is a constant motion of legs and heads. Horses affected continue to eat and drink until within a few hours of death. The disease is neither infectious nor contagious, except in the narrow modern definition of that term, which, however, still includes such diseases as malaria, yellow fever or Texas fever of cattle in that class.

A time limit governs the course of the disease, as it is unusual for it to appear before July 15 or after November 7.

For a long period of years it was considered to be due to forage poisoning. It is now definitely settled that this is not the case and also that the disease has no relation to human cerebro-spinal meningitis. No evidence has been produced to show that it affects other animals than the horse.

Every effort of the bacteriologist to find the bacteria that is the cause of the disease has met with failure. In the Western outbreak certain Kansas veterinarians claim to have found protozoa in the red cells and further claim to have cured cases with quinia.

REWARDS AS STIMULUS TO POSTAL EMPLOYES

Washington, Oct. 4.—Postmaster-General Hitchcock has created a commission to consider the merits of mechanical and labor-saving devices invented by postal employes and submitted by them for use in the postal service. On the recommendation of Mr. Hitchcock, Congress recently appropriated $10,000, to be paid, in his discretion, as rewards to postal employes whose inventions may be adopted.

The members of the commission are Robert S. Sharp, chief inspector, chairman; C. F. Trotter, assistant superintendent of salaries and allowances; B. L. Andrus, superintendent of the mail lock repair shop; C. H. Buckler, superintendent of registered mails; W. J. Satterfield, chief clerk to Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, and A. L. Davis, assistant director postal savings system.

Mr. Hitchcock is of opinion that the offerings of rewards will estimate the inventive genius of postal employes, and encourage them to submit devices that will improve the equipmen and expedite the handling of the mail.

Miss Gertrude King, of Craig place, is reported to be gradually improving from her serious illness.

Ralph O. Bowman, of Ehprata, Pa., an employe of the Standard Auto and Tire Co., of Somerset street, who was ordered to the hospital, has been discharged from the Lancaster, Pa., hospital and is reported as improving very rapidly.

RUSSELL IDENTITY CASE IS STILL ON

Boston, Mass., Oct. 4 (Special).—The trial of the Daniel Blake Russell identity case in East Cambridge has now passed its 50th day of actual proceedings, and the end is not yet in sight. This is the second trial of the famous case and is being conducted before a master appointed by the East Cambridge Superior Court. The first trial took place last winter in the Middlesex Probate Court and was one of the longest and most sensational of the kind in the history of American legal jurisprudence. Like the first trial, the present proceedings have been up to date enlivened with romantic features, surprises and sensations which would find difficulty of belief if appearing in a work of fiction.

The Russell case is probably the most notable identity case ever tried in an American court. It rivals in interest and resembles in many respects the famous Tichborne case, which ran for 170 days before Lord Chief Justice Cockburn in England some 30 years ago.

In the first trial Judge Lawton decided against "Dakota Dan," who claims to be Daniel Blake Russell, son of the late Daniel Russell of Melrose, and who also claims his share of the $500,000 estate now held by William C. Russell, another son of Daniel Russell. Apparently not in the least discouraged over this decision, the Dakota claimant went to work to have the case reopened and, though without funds or the help of counsel, he succeeded in secuuring another trial of his case.

Persons in daily attendance at the present hearing in the East Cambridge court have been much impressed by the story told by "Dakota Dan" and the evidence of the witnesses who have testified in his behalf. In his fight for recognition the claimant has told on the stand, in a simple way and with remarkable memory, of the events which took place in the home which he says he left in Melrose a quarter of a century ago. For a time he lived the life of a tramp, getting from one part of the country to another as best he might. He has worked with circuses and as a deck hand, shod horses in blacksmith shops, and spent winters as a hand in lumber camps and mills, according to his story. The tale of his wanderings and the vicissitudes of his life since 1885 has taken him in retrospect from the docks of Liverpool, where he paid his passage in the steerage, to the woods of northern Michigan, and finally to the Bad Lands of Northern Dakota. There he settled down to some extent and for some time had been employed as a ranch manager. Finally a desire to return to his old home seized him and he arrived in Melrose something more than a year agó to find that the man whom he claims as his father had died and left an estate of $500,000 and a will in which was the provision that the long-missing son should share half the fortune in the event of his return. But the elder son, William C. Russell, in whose possession the estate was held, not only refused to surrender any portion of it but positively denied the claim of relationship set up by the man from Dakota.

To support his claim as Daniel Blake Russell a large number of witnesses have appeared at the present hearing to identify the claimant as the son of Daniel B. Russell. Of these, some have known him for 40 and others for 25 years. They knew him intimately in many cases, and were acquainted with the peculiarities and characteristics of his youth. One of the most important of the recent witnesses has been the former sweetheart of Daniel Blake Russell. Miss Hattie M. Keith, who told on the stand of her friendship with the long missing son of the late Daniel Russell. With great positiveness Miss Keith declared that Daniel Blake Russell and "Dakota Dan," the claimant, are the same person.

To oppose the claim of "Dakota Dan" and the testimony of his witnesses, the respondents, William C. Russell and Ferdinand B. Almy, the latter of whom is said to have had the entire administration of the estate since the death of Daniel Russell, have declared that the claimant is an imposter and have undertaken to prove that he is not Daniel Blake Russell, but James Delbert Ruseau, who was born of poor parents in Bombay, N. Y., in 1865.

Not the least remarkable feature of the contest has been the part played by the man called "Fresno Dan," who mysteriously appeared on the scene when the first trial of the case was near an end. "Fresno Dan" was taken into the home of William C. Russell and was publicly accepted as the long missing heir, though so far as is known none of the older residents of Melrose was able to detect any resemblance between "Fresno Dan" and the missing Daniel Blake Russell.

ARIZONA TRIES FIRST RECALL ON GOVERNOR

Phenix, Ariz., Oct. 4.—Dissatisfaction with the prison reform policies of Governor George W. P. Hunt, on the part of those opposed to the "honor system," and the liberal use of the Executive's parole powers, has crystalized in an attempt to invoke the recall against the Governor. Petitions for the recall are being circulated in the Governor's home county.

This is the first effort to apply in Arizona the provision for recall of public officials, of which the Governor has been an ardent champion.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Beidelman and daughter, Marjory, of Hillside avenue, have returned after spending a three weeks' vacation at Easton, Pa.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS.

LICENSE REGULATING.

Plainfield is contemplating another increase of its license fees. The present rate is $1,000 a year, and the high license advocates want this shoved up to $1,500. The object, of course, is to keep the business on the highest possible plane, and the number of places as few as possible. High license has certainly worked admirably in Plainfield, but that may be because of the character of the town's population. In New Brunswick, with moderately high license, we are just beginning the experiment of restricting the number of saloons by ordinance, and it will be interesting to observe how the plan works out.—New Brunswick Home News.

BIG COUNTY BOND ISSUE GOES TO R. M. GRANT & CO.

Elizabeth, Oct. 4.—R. M. Grant & Company, of New York, was the successful bidder for the $175,000 bonds of Union county, issued yesterday at the office of County Collector Nathan R. Leavitt at a cost of $1,026.05 for every $1,000 worth of bonds, including the $85,000 county hospital bonds, $60,000 road improvement bonds and $30,000 bridge bonds. A check for 2 per cent. of the par value of the bonds was deposited with the bid. The other bidders were Harris Forber & Company, of New York, who bid $1,011.92 per $1,000; J. D. Everett, $1,011.428, and J. S. Rippel, of New York, $1,009.91.

The bonds are coupon bonds of the denomination of $1,000 each, date September 1, 1912, payable September 1, 1942, bearing interest at the rate of 4½ per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually on the first days of March and September of each year. All bids provided for the payment of accrued interest from the date of said bonds to the date of delivery. The successful bid will be awarded at a meeting of the board of chosen freeholders to be held this afternoon.

N. P. H. S. NOTES.

The Athletic Association at a meeting yesterday decided to levy an initiation fee of fifty cents on all members hereafter. The fee will give a member the privilege of voting in meetings and representing the school in athletics. Any person not in the association will not be allowed to play on school teams. The payments must be made each year before January 1 by the three-upper classmen and by the Freshmen on entering. It was then decided to put tennis on the High School athletics list and have it governed by the association. The financial committee then voted a small sum of money for this year's tennis trophies.

After a long talk by Principal Phelps and Mr. Webster it was decided to give the basketball team sweaters this year. Mr. Phelps said that by the showing the team made last year by winning two championships the players ought to be rewarded. A committee of four consisting of William Taylor, Carroll Taylor, Frank Dunning and George Townley were chosen to look after this matter.

Mr. Phelps, Superintendent Vosseler, Carroll Taylor and the president were appointed to try to get a hall for basketball. They will probably decide on Sangerbund Hall for this year.

The Athletic Association has decided to make a new constitution and a committee was chosen to submit one to the association. They are Mr. Phelps, Mr. Mertz, Mr. Webster, Augustus Van Deventer, Raymond Kline and George Townley.

The Sigma Gamma Kappa will give a hearty reception to the new freshmen girls this evening at the Y. W. C. A.

The boys' basketball team will be the same this year with the exception of one substitute, Allen Diman. The regular team will consist of William and Carroll Taylor, forwards; Frank Dunning, centre; Ashley Burner and George Townley, guards. The two substitutes will be Duclos Van Mater and Roy Love.

The city championship will be three-cornered this year and North Plainfield will have to do some hard work to win. Leal's used to be good and maybe they're coming back.

It was decided yesterday that no first team men or subs could play on the class basketball team. This will make the league more exciting because theree first team men are Seniors and two are Juniors.

The Junior team, last year's interclass champions, do not look so good this year and the Sophomores look better. Then comes that new Freshman team. They don't talk much but they may do wonders.

CAR HITS CART.

An ashcart got in the way of a Main Line trolley car at Berckman and East Second streets early last night, and went to smash in the mix-up that followed. The horse attached to the wagon escaped injury. The car bringing home the delegation that took part in the policemen's parade in Newark followed the Main Line and the actual policemen in the delegation hopped out and put on professional airs. Their investigation disclosed the fact that the cart was driverless when the collision occurred, and that the driver had apparently disappeared. The name Carter was on the wagon's side.

FIREMEN WANT RAISE.

It is reported that a petition for an increase in pay is being circulated among the fire-fighters for signatures and will be placed before the Common Council at the meeting to be held Monday. An ordinance granting policemen an increase has been prepared. A number of firemen, it is said, are in favor of holding up the request for a larger pay envelope until a later date, as a refusal at this time would mean an interval of a year before another petition could be submitted.

TO MARK ANNIVERSARY OF "FORTIETH SCHOOL"

Charter Members Will Give Reminiscent Talk at Meeting House Sunday.

The Firstday School of the Religious Society of Friends will commemorate its fortieth anniversary as a Firstday School next Sunday. When this Firstday School was established forty years ago it filled a long felt need, for at that time there were no mission Sunday-schools. Pupils from all religious denominations were enrolled as members.

Through the untiring efforts of Nathan M. Harper, the founder, Mary Jane Field, Rachel Bogart, Margaret Dietrich and others, a flourishing Firstday School was maintained. Nathan Harper, often called "The Father of the Firstday School," was its superintendent for a number of years until a short time before his death. He was much respected and loved by all who came in contact with him.

The Firstday School will reopen after the summer vacation on Firstday (Sunday) morning at 10 o'clock, with a special anniversary program. Several charter members of the Firstday School will give personal reminiscences of both the school and its first superintendent. All persons who were ever connected with the Firstday School in any way are requested to be present. The public in general is cordially invited.

The following are the officers and teachers for the coming year: Superintendent, Mabel H. Vail; assistant superintendent, Clarence B. Vail; secretary and librarian, Harvey A. Vail; teachers, Margaret F. Vail, Amy E. Lorton, Elizabeth Ogden, W. Palmer Davis and S. Frances Stryker.

COUNTY ASKS CITY TO LOOK AFTER ROADWAYS

Has No Facilities for Keeping Streets in Municipality Clean.

Elizabeth, Oct. 4 (Special).—That the street departments of Elizabeth and Plainfield look after the new county roads within their respective limits was the suggestion embodied in a resolution presented by the county road committee of the Board of Freeholders yesterday afternoon and unanimously adopted by the Board. The committee stated that numerous county roads were in process of construction and that the county had no adequate facilities to keep these streets clean within the boundaries of the two cities.

The Deep Waterways Committee, which was in attendance at the conference held with the Federal engineers in New York city recently, reported that the deepening of Staten Island Sound would be a good thing for the whole county and that the subsequent increase in manufacturies would mean a lessening of the tax burden. A resolution commending the project was unanimously adopted.

The Board adopted a formal resolution endorsing the sale of $175,000 bonds.

SOMERSET FREEHOLDERS TO PLAN FOR SANITORIUM

The Somerset County Board of Freeholders has requested an extension of time from the State Board of Health for complying with the statute providing for the erection of a sanatorium to care for residents afflicted with tuberculosis.

The attention of the freeholders was called to the law in a communication from the State body, but as there are no funds available at present for such an undertaking, it was decided to request the extension. This will probably delay the matter until after the first of the year, when the appropriation can be included in the 1913 budget and the new board takes action on the securing of a suitable site.

Worth Anywhere from $5 to $10.75

We took the jabot from one costly imported model, the clever little turnover-collar stock from another, and many of the other new ideas that Paris has just sent, and used them in these Blouses, so that they would be distinctive and also the reflections of the very expensive styles.

Four Styles Are Illustrated, But the Other Eight Are Just as Charming

The foundations of some are of the lacy nets that are delightful when veiled with the chiffon. Some have rich-hued silks inset to give the effect of a waistcoat—and whether the Blouse is $3.95, $5, $6.95 or $8.95, it possesses all the earmarks of daintiness and good style. Gimbel Apparel and the careful attention we give to the young girls, when they come here, has made this Salon for the Younger Generation a well-known institution—one that the girls consider their very own. And we want them to feel just that way, because it is for them that we have now assembled more than 500 styles, so that they will be sure to get the very Dresses, Coats and Suits that they desire.

Gimbel prices, we are sure, are unmatched, but we want you to convince yourself of this fact.

We should like to illustrate many of our models—so that you will know just exactly what to expect, but that is quite impossible. However, we have had these few sketched to give an idea—

CHURCH TO CELEBRATE 175TH ANNIVERSARY

New Providence Presbyterians Start a Week of Rejoicing Sunday Night.

New Providence, Oct. 4.—The New Providence Presbyterian church will celebrate its 175th anniversary during the week commencing next Sunday.

The entire week will be given over to the celebration of the establishment of the church in early October of 1737. Prominent clergymen from this and other States will take part. A service will be held every evening of next week, with special music and other attractions.

In honor of this event the church has been repainted and decorated. New sheds have been erected and the general appearance of the grounds around the church has been improved.

The service for next Sunday includes a special musical program, a sermon on "The Story of a Century and Three-quarters," an observance of the anniversary of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor and a young people's rally, at which Rev. R. Brewster Beattie, pastor of Muan Avenue Presbyterian church, East Orange, will make the address.

Monday's observance will be begun at 8 p. m. Then there will be fraternal greetings from Presbyteries as follows: New York, Rev. Dr. Edgar W. Work; Elizabeth, Rev. Dr. William F. Whittaker; Morris and Orange, Rev. Dr. John F. Patterson.

Rev. Carl P. Metzler, pastor of the church from 1905 to 1909, will preside at the Tuesday night services, when greetings from friends and churches will be received. Addresses will be made by Rev. James F. Riggs, East Orange; Rev. Dr. Elijah S. Fairchild, of Chicago, and Rev. Minot C. Morgan, of Summit.

From 6 to 7::30 p. m. Wednesday the Ladies' Aid Society will give a reception to the congregation and former members of the church in the chapel. At 8 o'clock the same night there will be a concert by the church choir, assisted by Miss Hattie Saul, soprano, and the Apollo Male Quartette, with Miss Florence Schwarzwaelder as organist.

"Community Night" will be the feature of Thursday's program, beginning at 8 o'clock. On that occasion there will be greetings of churches and the community. Fraternal greetings will be accorded by Rev. Jesse L. Peck, of New Providence, and Rev. W. A. L. Jett, of Murray Hill. The pastor will make the responnse and Willis Fletcher Johnson will make an address on "The Laymen's Conception of the Church's Place in the Community."

At the Friday night service preparatory to the communion, Rev. Dr. John F. Carson, of Brooklyn, will preach the sermon.

The first public worship set for Sunday, October 13, will begin at 11 a. m. Another service will begin at 8 o'clock that night.

The New Providence Presbyterian church is one of the oldest established Presbyterian churches in this country. Its influence at one time, when New Providence was the main town for miles in this section, and in fact the largest town out of Elizabethport, was very great. In those days Summit was a part of New Providence, and the people of Summit drove or walked three or four miles to the New Providence church.

New Providence was then called "Turkey," and the name still clings to the town.

Turkey took in the entire northwest section of Essex county, this being before the establishment of Union county. It covered an area of about twenty-five square miles.

The town's name was changed to New Providence in commemoration of the saving of dozens of persons from being injured or killed when the gallery of the old Turkey church fell just after the congregatiion had left it. It was considered that some outward appreciation should be shown for the seemingly miraculous escape of the congregation.

It was not long after this that the township of Springfield withdrew from New Providence and was later ollowed by the city of Summit. And followed by the city of Summit. And New Providence, with whose destinies the New Providence church has always been linked, has been divided into the borough and township of New Providence. The old church is situated in the heart of the borough, and its graveyard contains stones marked since the early part of the eighteenth century.

The present pastor is Rev. Reed S. Dickson, of Orange, a graduate of Princeton Theological Seminary. He succeeded Rev. Carl P. Metzlef, who served from 1905 to 1909.

tion, upon which the new ordinance could be based.

All present agreed with J. A. Case, of the Potter Press Works, who said the decrease in smoke meant the saving of expenses, and promised the hearty aid of his company to bring about a better condition of affairs.

DENTISTS TO DINE.

The Plainfield Dental Association will hold its first quarterly meeting and banquet at the Park Club on Wednesday evening.

PROBASCO BIBLE CLASS ENDS ITS BUSIEST YEAR

Last evening marked the close of the busiest year in the history of the Probasco Bible class of the First Baptist church.

The following officers were elected at the class meeting: Randolph Chandler, president; Carlton F. Smith, vice president; Arthur W. Dunning, secretary; George Church, assistant secretary, and Harold F. Robbins, treasurer.

Several new members were received into the class. The membership of the class is 125. The meeting was followed by refreshments, prepared and served by the social committee.

PLAINFIELD SOCCER CRACKS MEET NAIRNS TOMORROW

The Plainfield soccer team will plaly their third game of the season with the Nairn F. C., of Newark, in an Inter-city Amateur League contest. The local kickers have two successive victories to their credit, and as they are looked upon as likely contenders for the championship, will try not to disappoint their large following. The struggle will start at 3 o'clock on the Clinton avenue grounds.

The lineup of our boys will be: Goal, McNiece; backs, Craig and Buckland; halfbacks, Morrison, Kenny and Thomas; forwards, Spalding, Johnson, Heaume, Braidwood and Gardner.

DR. SAVITZ RECOVERING.

Westfield, Oct. 4.—Dr. Savitz, Union county superintendent of schools, who is ill at his home with appendicitis, is better today. His physician stated that it was a light case and that he did not think an operation would be necessary.

NEWARKER WAS DRUNK.

James Sullivan, who hails from Newark, was arrested last night by Chief Weiss, of North Plainfield, charged with being intoxicated and raising a disturbance. When arraigned this morning Recorder Gano suspended sentence.

BIBLE SCHOOL MUSIC.

At the bible services of the First Baptist church next Sunday Miss Edna Kimball, a well known soloist from New York, will sing several selections.

PLAIN COLOR CARPETS

Our displays of Plain Color Carpets are unequaled in America for size and variety. Many of the weaves are controlled by us, and are not obtainable elsewhere.

They embody English Barodas, Saxines, Angoras, Saxonias and Velvets; French and Domestic Wiltons, Domestic Axminsters, Velvets and Ingrains. Widths range from 27 inches to 15 feet, depending upon the weave.

IN THE FOOTBALL WORLD.

New York, Oct. 4 (Special).—By far the most pretentious schedule thus far in the football season is due to be carried out tomorrow. Virtually all of the teams representing the prominent Eastern colleges have trying tests in prospect. Yale will take on Syracuse at New Haven and Harvard will play the formidable Holy Cross eleven at Cambridge. Princeton and Lehigh will meet at Princeton, Pennsylvania and Dickinson at Franklin Field and Carlisle Indians and Washington and Jefferson at Washington, Pa. Cornell and Oberlin will meet at Ithaca in the first intersectional contest of the season. West Point will meet Stevens Institue and Annapolis will have Johns Hopkins for an opponent.

LOCAL TEAMS TO CLASH ON OVAL

City Diamond Supremacy Title at Stake Tomorrow at Crescent Oval.

ROYAL GIANTS LOOM UP

Manager Simmons Will Present a Padded Lineup—Same That Held the Pets at New Brunswick Tuesday—Good Game Expected.

Pete Simmons and his aggregation of Royal Colored Giants will be the attraction on Crescent Oval tomorrow afternoon and as this is the first time these two nines have been brought together this season a red hot game is expected. With the outcome goes the baseball championship of the city and Simmons says that his aggregation is hot on the trail of this coveted title. The colored manager will have the same lineup on the field which held the pets well in check at New Brunswick last Tuesday afternoon and the Royals are confident of getting away with the larger half of the score this time.

Manager Dorflinger will have his regular lineup on the field and as these nine players have been enough to overwhelm most of the teams that have appeared on the Oval this year, Plainfield fans are satisfied that the Giants will not have a walk-away. Several stars from the New York and Philadelphia Colored Giants are in the Royals' lineup and each of these new acquisitions is noted for his heavy stickwork and speedy baserunning. Simmons will have a man on the mound who he thinks can stand the bombardment of the Plainfield hitsmiths and with a good catcher signed up at the receiving end a battle royal is looked for.

The game tomorrow afternoon will probably be the final one of the season for both contestants and both are desirous of winding up the season with a victory. The Giants have played close games with the Dunellen and Westfield baseball teams and as the Pets have defeated both of these rivals in close battles, some idea of the respective strength of the two combinations can be determined.

Earlier in the week there was some talk of having the Royal Giants appear in a preliminary game with the Dunellen team at the Oval tomorrow afternoon and then to have the Plainfield team play the winners, but those plans have fallen through and the Dunellen team will cross bats for the fifth time this season with the Bound Brook club in the rubber game of their series.

RUBBER GAME ON AT BOUND BROOK

Dunellen Will Stack up Against Newhouse's Bunch for the Title.

Dunellen plays Bound Brook at Dunellen tomorrow afternoon. This is the rubber game, both teams having won two each.

The scores: Dunellen, 6; Bound Brook, 1; Bound Brook, 4; Dunellen, 3; Dunellen, 4; Bound Brook, 1; Bound Brook, 4; Dunellen, 2.

The closeless of all the games played by these two teams thus far plus the intense feeling of rivalry existing between the two towns would seem to indicate a hotly contested game at Dunellen tomorrow afternoon. Edward Bowlby, the find of the season, who held Dunellen hitless for six innings last Saturday, will again do the twirling for Bound Brook. Jack Martin thinks that this youngster is a comer.

Jack Martin, the ex-Yankee, will again play at short for Dunellen. A good many of the local fans will probably journey to Dunellen tomorrow afternoon not only to look Jack over but also to witness this very promising affair.

The lineups will be as follows:

Dunellen—Giddes, rf; Craig, 3b; Martin, ss; McLaughlin, p; B. Martin 2b; Barnes, 1b; Dixon, c; Dodge, cf; Schott, lf.

WORLD SERIES SITTING MATERIAL

Speaker is Hailed as the Phenom of the Coming Series.

TWO PLAYERS GET CARS

Doyle and Speaker Awarded Chalmers' Automobiles for Greatest Efficiency During Past Season—Stahlwarts Have Shade on Giants.

If Tris Speaker does as well with the stick in the series with the New York Giants this month as he did three years ago, many Boston fans are sure to go insane from pure delight. The Red Sox outfielder was selected as the winner of the Chalmers car to be presented to the American League player most valuable to his team during the world's series, ran up a batting average of .571 against Mathewson, Marquard and company in the five game series staged between the Speed Boys and the Giants in 1909—a series, by the way, that took $1,001.38 out of the National Commission treasury, the receipts not equalling the expenses.

Speaker made 12 hits in 21 times at bat in the last Boston-New York series, three of his drives being for extra bases. He touched Mathewson and Ames for home runs and jarred Crandall for a triple, his total base average being .952.

He was not the only player to hit .500 in that series, for Harry Hooper had the half century mark. Manager, then Captain Jake Stahl, batted .300, Charley Hall turned in an average of .200, and Bill Carrigan's figures were .083. Pape, Wood and Collins, all of whom will play for Boston in the coming series, failed to get a hit three years back.

Twelve of the New York players who were in the 1909 series still remain with the team, these being (with the averages they then made) Meyers and Merkle, .375; McCormick and Mathewson, .333; Crandall, .250; Murray, .190; Doyle, .182, and Snodgass, Herzog, Marquard, Ames and Wiltse, .000.

The Giants have this year, unless the figures lie, benefited more by errors of their opponents than have the Red Sox. At least, one would deduce that from the number of runs each team has scored and the number of runs each team has batted in. McGraw's men, up to last Friday, had crossed the plate 773 times, 457 of these tallies being batted home on safe hits, 58 on sacrifice flies and 38 on infield outs. That leaves a balance of 220 markers obtained either through errors, battery and fielding, through wild pitching and through steals.

The Stahlwarts, up to the same time, had reached the registering bureau 714 times, batting in 595 runs—504 on safeties, 45 on aerial sacrifice and 46 on infield outs.

Duffy Lewis has been Boston's most dependable man in the pinches this season, he having been responsible for 94 runs, of which 12 were recorded through the medium of sacrifice flies. Tris Speaker has batted in 90 tallies, 82 of them coming over on safeties. Larry Gardner has pounded home 85 runs and Jake Stahl and Charley Wagner with 56 and 55 tallies batted home to their credit, also are above the half century notch.

The Giants have the same number of men as the Red Sox with records of having batted in 50 or more runs. Larry Doyle, who gets the other Chalmers car, excels with 96 and Jack Murray comes next, with 83. Chief Meyers, Fred Snodgrass and Beals Becker are the other half century plants, their respective records being 56, 56 and 51.

Below will be found tables showing what the two contenders in the world's series of 1912 have accomplished in the timely hitting line this season:

ELKS' BOWLING TEAM HEADED BY F. J. BLATZ

Resignation of Stout Makes It Necessary to Scout Around Some.

A meeting of the Elks' bowling team was held at the clubhouse on Watchung avenue last night and plans made for the coming season which is expected to be a banner one on the alleys. The local Elks expect to enter a formidable quintet in the Elks' League this fall and winter, and make an even better showing than they did last year in the same organization. Francis J. Blatz was elected to lead the team with the title of captain and with a man of his ability at the helm they ought to go along swimmingly.

Tuesday night was decided on as the regular night for practice and the Olympic Alleys on East Second street have been engaged for that time. Four of last year's team are still obtainable and they held a practice last evening with Frank Evans as the extra man, and although this was their initial tryout of the season the five men rolled a score of 937 which is considered remarkable for so early in the season. Blatz has a number of promising recruits to take the place of Chauncey Stout, who has resigned because of business pressure and there is so little difference between the men trying for the vacant position that it now looks as though the captain will have the time of his life picking the best man to fill in. He hopes to have the quintet completed by the time for the first game which is carded to be run off on the 17th of this month and a flying start in the league is looked for. Those remaining from last year's star aggregation are Nash, Blatz, Kiely and Campbell. At the first meeting about thirty members were in attendance and much enthusiasm was expressed over the chances of their representatives in the coming league.

DAILY PRESS TROPHY AT STAKE TOMORROW

Commercials and R. G. E. Will Clash for the Manufacturers' League Title.

One of the local amateur leagues will wind up its season tomorrow in the play off for the Daily Press baseball trophy offered as the title award in the much talked of and heralded Manufacturers' Baseball League. The league season ended up in a tie between the Commercials and R. G. E. and although it has stood for nearly a month undecided the rivalry is just as keen as ever and a red hot diamond battle is looked for. Both nines have their respective band of followers and both are hot on the trail of the handsome trophy.

In order to finish the game before dark, should a tie result at the end of the ninth, the game has been scheduled for three o'clock and Parker Field has been chartered for the battle ground of the factory leaguers. The contesting aggregations will have their regular lineups on the field and Conover will oppose either Montross or Fleming on the mound. The Commercials will take the field as follows:

HOLY CROSS READY FOR A HARD BATTLE

Stiff Fight Expected When St. Alphonsus Eleven is Encountered Tomorrow.

"Doc" Hamilton has done his last hard work of the week with his Holy Cross charges in anticipation of the stiff game expected with the St. Alphonsus eleven tomorrow afternoon One of the propositions that has been greatly troubling Hamilton for the past week is the condition of the two ends which were woefully weak in the defensive and offensive work against the Rosewoods, but he has at last found a solution to this problem with the appearance of "Shake" Clarke, the High School coach, on the field, and he will work in at left end tomorrow afternoon. A number of new men have been out to the two practices held this week and they will all get a tryout tomorrow afternoon.

The St. Alphonsus warriors held the local pigskin chasers to a scoreless tie last season under the name of the Emeralds, but since the code of rules has been so revised as to make big scores available it is practically certain that some kind of a decision will be arrived at this time. All of the men that made such a fine showing last Saturday afternoon will be back in the fray and a fine corp of substitutes have been tried out in anticipation of a hard fight.

Ricketts, whose line plunging and defensive work was a feature of the initial game, will be back at right halfback and should make an even better showing than he did against the Rosewoods, who were just to his liking. Ricketts is a demon in a broken field and if he gets going his first station is generally the goal post. Wilson has been handicapped somewhat by an injury to his knee received last week but has recovered sufficiently to warrant his playing tomorrow and Coyle will be able to call on him more than he did last week. Nash seems to have a worthy opponent for the left halfback position, in Webster, the former N. P. H. S. star and it is probable that both of these players will get into the fray tomorrow. With this backfield the eleven has a nucleus that would be hard to beat on the defensive and all of the quartet are sure tackles and can get any kind of a "pull down" at a critical moment.

The lineup:

AIRMAN KILLED IN 2,000 FEET FALL

Thousands See Fatal Plunge at State Fair.

LOWER PLANE GIVES WAY.

Charles F. Walsh of San Diego, Cal., Undertook to Take Flight With Strong Wind Blowing—Could Be Seen Through Glasses Struggling In Air.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 4.—Plunging from a height of nearly 2,000 feet in a Curtiss biplane, Charles F. Walsh of San Diego, Cal., was dashed to death in the sight of 5,000 people at the interstate fair. The breaking of the lower plane as Walsh was beginning a circular downward flight was the cause of the accident. Walsh was breathing faintly when the first aid reached him, but died almost immediately afterward.

The flight of Walsh was undertaken in the face of a fairly brisk breeze which swept over the big inclosure at the grounds. It was announced that the wind was strong for aerial work, but that Walsh would attempt a flight. His ascent was accomplished without incident, and after rising to a height of about 2,500 feet he made a long downward glide, which brought him directly over the field in front of the grand stand. Then he began the circular maneuvers, the strain from which is probably responsible for the collapse of the under plane.

Through glasses Walsh could be seen struggling to right the biplane, which dipped almost on its end and then partially righted itself and made a drop of perhaps a thousand feet before the final collapse of both planes started it hurdling toward the earth.

From that moment Walsh was practically obscured from view in the tangled folds of the biplane, which came down with terrific speed, landing in the middle of a large open field. Walsh's neck was dislocated, his chin forced completely out of place, and many bones were broken. His legs were pinned under the motor. Hardly had his body been extricated when hundreds of spectators pounced upon the biplane and literally tore it apart in their madness to obtain souvenirs. When the crowd had finished its work the machinery was all that was left.

Walsh was about twenty-four years old and is survived by a widow and two children. He was a pupil of Lincoln Beachey and had been an aviator for about three years.

During the first three days of the fair Walsh had thrilled the spectators by his daring and seemingly had perfect control of his biplane.

In the morning he was missing, as was a suit case and some of his clothing.

Stults was prominent in church work, and he was an officer of the state council of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics. For a number of years he has been a justice of the peace here.

NOTES FROM LABOR FIELD

Springfield, Mass., telephone girls have organized a union.

Members of the San Francisco fire department demand a twelve-hour work-day.

The salary of President G. W. Perkins, of the International Union of Cigarmakers, has been increased from $30 to $40 a week.

Forty-four new agreements have been made by locals affiliated with the International Association of Machinists during the last year.

It is said that Great Britain has more women workers in proportion to its population than any other country. There are 616,000 dressmakers.

In the year ending August 1, 1912, nearly sixty thousand persons sought and obtained employment through the medium of the three State employment bureaus in Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth.

Industrially, Belgium is the most highly developed country in Europe. It has at the present time a population of about eight million, of which 1,250,000 persons are engaged in industrial purusits, 300,000 of them are women.

Leeds (England) garment workers report that less than ten years ago they worked steadily from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m. for 80 cents a day, but since their organization they work from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. and earn a minimum wage of $1.50 a day.

For death, sick or disability insurance, national unions reported disbursements of $7,8129,121 in 1908, including $5,164,385 for death of members, $832,700 for temporary disability, $684,775 for permanent disability, $198,618 for superannuation, and $892,321 other miscellaneous benefits.

In every State in Australia as well as in the commonwealth, there are now two parties only, Liberal and Labor. In the commonwealth and in the States of New South Wales and West Australia the Laborites are in power, while in the other States the Liberals have at present a controlling majority.

Bricklayers and Masons Union No. 1, of Winnipeg, Manit., is now the largest local union in Canada. It has a membership of more than 1,200 and is also strong financially.

Thirty-seven States have employers' liability laws, in seventeen of which the old common law of "fellow servant" has been abrogated and in seven others modified, and several States have modified the common law defense of "assumed risk" and "contributory negligence."

There are six million girls working in the factories, shops and stores of the United States, according to Miss Alice Henry, of Chicago, editress of Life and Labor. The girls range in age from fourteen to twenty-four years and their average wage, according to Miss Henry's figures, is about $6 a week.

France, according to Consul General Alphonse Gaulin, stationed at Marseilles, has probably the most comprehensive co-operative societies of any country in the world. There are co-operative stores and organizations of every kind for the aid of the toilers, its members. The movement has grown immensely in recent years.

NOVELISTT 75 YEARS OLD.

London, Oct. 4 (Special).—Mrs. John Maxwell, so much better known to readers of fiction as Miss Braddon, quietly celebrated her seventy-fifth birthday anniversary today at her home in Richmond, one of the loveliest spots on the River Thames. The author of "Lady Audley's Secret" and more than half a hundred other popular novels was born in London, October 4, 1837. In early life she embarked upon a stage career. It was while performing in a theatre at Hull that she discovered that acting was not her forte, and wrote her first novel, "Three Times Dead." Before it was published the publisher, involved in difficulty, passed on the sheets to another man. This man considered the story "rubbish" and destroyed it, but lived long enough to regret his action, when Miss Braddon sprang into popularity and he found that he had foolishly destroyed her first effort, that might have been a gold mine to him.

McFARLAND TRIAL.

Newark, Oct. 4 (Special).—Prosecutor Mott announced today the practical completion of all arrangements for the second trial of Allison McFarland, the alleged wife poisoner. The case had been set for next Monday, but owing to a rearrangement of the docket the trial will not begin until a week later. The first trial resulted in McFarland's conviction and sentence to death. At the coming trial the most important witness for the defense will be Miss Florence Bromley, of Philadelphia, for love of whom McFarland is alleged to have brought about the death of his wife by placing a bottle of cyanide where she would mistake it for headache powder. Miss Bromley did not testify at the first trial of the case.

400 KILLED AS WAR BEGINS IN BALKANS

Reported Bulgarian Troops Are Crossing Turkish Frontier.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 4.—The Russian government has received information that Bulgarian troops are crossing the Turkish frontier.

London, Oct. 4.—Hostilities between the Balkan states and Turkey have already commenced, according to reports from many quarters.

An engagement has occurred south of Harmanli, a Bulgarian town thirty-seven miles north of Adrianople, according to a Constantinople dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company. The casualty list is placed at 400 killed.

One dispatch says that severe fighting between Turkish and Servian troops has occurred on the southeastern frontier of Servia. The Turks are said to have lost eighty killed and many wounded, while the Servian casualties are given as two killed and eighteen wounded.

A detachment of 300 Turkish soldiers, according to the dispatch, crossed into Servian territory and in the neighborhood of the town of Vranya encountered a body of Servian infantry. An engagement ensued which lasted an hour.

Skirmishes are also reported to have occurred in the neighborhood of Djumbala, called also Jamboli, Bulgaria; in the Albanian vilayet of Skutari, along the Montenegrin frontier, and near Baschkvranya, on the Servian border.

MARSHALL HIT BY A STONE.

New London, Conn., Oct. 4.—Governor Thomas R. Marshall, Democratic candidate for vice president, spoke to a large audience in Lawrence Opera House, coming by auto from Norwich, where he addressed a meeting earlier in the evening.

On the way to this city Governor Marshall stopped a few minutes at Montville, where he gave a short talk. As the governor's auto was descending the hill, approaching the village, a boy threw a stone, striking Mr. Marshall on the nose and causing a slight abrasion.

"I shed the first blood of the campaign," remarked the governor, jokingly relating the incident.

SCORES CHILDLESS WIVES.

Say Rich Women Refuse to Accept Responsibility of Motherhood.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 4.—Condemnation and defense of America's rich women occupied the American Association For Study and Prevention of Infant Mortality, in session here.

Dr. William H. Davis of Boston declared that "the objection of rich women to assume the responsibility of motherhood is a disgrace."

Miss A. L. Mariott of Madison, Wis., replied that all the blame cannot be placed on the wives of the rich. Dr. Helen C. Putnam of Providence, R. I., said that "investigation has shown that large families are not the best families."

THEFT OF $100,000 CHARGED.

Broker Who Recently Failed Accused of Stealing From Mining Company.

Boston, Oct. 4.—Stephen R. Dow, head of Stephen R. Dow & Co., brokers, was arrested on a warrant charging him with the larceny of $100,000 from the Franklin Mining company.

Stephen R. Dow & Co. made an assignment on Sept. 24 to Fred H. Williams, owing, according to the estimates of creditors, upward of $500,000. Dow, who was the only member of the firm, was expelled from membership in the stock exchange.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

DAINTY DISHES WITH APPLES.

LIGHT and luscious desserts may be made of apples combined with other foods.

Tart fruit is best for this purpose, as it cooks quickly to the necessary smoothness. Powdered sugar instead of granulated is a good thing for sweetening.

Flavor the desserts to taste and decorate them with whipped cream or nut meats.

Dainty Fare.

Apple Froth.—Peel and slice some apples and boil them in a little water until they are cooked to a froth. Whisk them when cold with powdered sugar to sweeten and add a cupful of cream. Drop a spoonful of jelly at the bottom of some custard glasses, fill up with apple froth and serve.

Apple Cutlets.—Boil some apples until they make a stiff sauce. Sweeten to taste and stir in a little softened gelatin. Set aside to cool. Cut and trim some slices of sponge cake and lay them on a dish. Moisten each with a little fruit juice and when the apple sauce is partly cool cover each sponge slice with a layer of sauce. When cold arrange on lace paper doilies or a fancy dish. Ornament with whipped cream.

Light and Wholesome.

Apple Custard.—Pare and quarter several apples and steam until soft, then put in deep dish. Put three cupfuls of milk in a double boiler. Mix together one egg yolk, a large tablespoonful of cornstarch, three tablespoonfuls of sugar, a tiny bit of salt and stir into the hot milk until it thickens. It should be quite thick. Flavor with lemon. Beat the whites of the egg to a stiff froth and sugar to sweeten, spread over the top and set in the hot oven to brown. Serve cold.

Apple Float.—Pare and core about a dozen apples. Put the apples on with enough water to cover and let them stew until they look as if they would break, then take out and put a pound and a half of sugar into the same water. Let the sirup come to a boil, put in the apples and let them stew until done through and clear. Then take them out and add an ounce of gelatin dissolved in a pint of cold water. Let the whole mix well and come to a boil, then pour upon the apples. To be eaten with cream.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

"Fanny's First Play," the new Bernard Shaw comedy which is being presented by Granville Barker's London Company at Wm. Collier's Comedy theatre, last week actually broke the record established a year ago at that same theatre for the second week of the run of "Bunty Pulls the Strings." This shows that the New York public is just as keenly alive to the Shavian kind of humor as to the Scottish variety.

Florence Reed, who is playing the main feminine role in "The Master of the House," at the 39th Street theatre, has agreed to continue in her present character all this season and next season. After that, however, she insists that the Messrs. Shubert must give her an opportunity to appear in a comedy character or, at least, to assume some role other than that of a villainess.

Miss Mabel Burnege, who is singing the role of "Minna" in "The Merry Countess" at the Casino theatre, is an English actress now appearing in America for the first time. Miss Burnege made her debut about four years ago under the management of Mrs. D'Oyly Carte, widow of the late famous manager, in a repertoire of eight of the Gilbert & Sullivan operas, all of which had their first presentations under the direction of her husband. She is a graduate of the Royal College of Music in London.

Competing with the giant counter-attractions of championship baseball games and the review of the fleet, Proctor's 5th Avenue theatre has raked the amusement world fore and aft for a bill of standard merit, and the array of talent garnered for next week will be the strongest yet seen outside of the recent "Command Performance" in London. Foremost among the stars will be the sympathetic comedian, George Beban in tender little story of Italian life, "The Story of the Rose." New on this side of the water will be Billie Reeves' new pantomime, "A Lesson in Temperance," in which the bibulous comedian will be seen at his very best. Also new to lower Broadway will be Max Hart's Six Steppers, described as a "terpsichorean twirl of twinkling toes." Others on the gala bill will be Fery Twins, in classic poses of gladiatorial glories; Gladys Vance, the girl with a thousand mirrors; Blake and Amber, drawing room entertainers in refined repartee, and McDevitt, Kelly and Luce in "The Piano Movers and the Lady."

BIG GAMES IN THE WEST.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 4 (Special).—Tomorrow will mark the real opening of the intercollegiate football season in the West. During the past two weeks some of the elevens have engaged in minor contests, but the most of the big teams will have their first real tests of the season tomorrow. Much interest centers in the game between the University of Chicago and Indiana University here tomorrow. Chicago is expected to be a strong contender this season for the championship honors of the "Big Nine." Michigan will take on the Case school at Ann Arbor tomorrow and Minnesota will lineup against Iowa State College at Minneapolis. Also of interest to followers of the game will be the contests between Wisconsin and Lawrence at Madison, Illylinois and Illinois Wesleyan at Urbana and Purdue and DePauw at Lafayette. Wabash College and State universities of Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska and Ohio have minor contests scheduled.

9 DIE IN WRECK OF BOSTON EXPRESS

Forty Are Injured as Flier Is Derailed.

ENGINEER IGNORES SIGNAL

Wreck Catches Fire, Adding to Terror of Scene—Train Late and Engine Driver, Trying to Make Time, Hits Crossover.

Westport, Conn., Oct. 4.—Thousands of persons today visited the spot where nine persons were killed, most of them burned to death, and about forty injured, many of them seriously, when the second section of the Boston express jumped the tracks of the New Haven railroad a short distance west of the station here. Among the dead are the following:

George R. Clark, engineer.
Mrs. Palmer Gavitt of Albany.
Miss Mary Hamilton of Albany.
Motrach, first name unknown, of Springfield.
Molker, fireman.
Mrs. C. S. Ransom of Albany.
Mark A. Wheeler, mail clerk.
Unidentified man.

It will not be until those who know their friends and relatives were on the ill fated train have all come forward to speak perhaps that the full death list will be known. Between the number of charred bodies now in the undertaking shops of the town, the number of injured in the South Norwalk hospital and the number of survivors who have been sent to their homes along the New Haven line and to New York there is a great discrepancy.

The dead may equal twice nine; the missing may be many more, for the cars which were in the wreck are burned to ashes. They were wooden cars, albeit parlor cars of ancient heavy construction, and the hot coals of the engine over which they were jammed exploding the Pintsch gas, with which they were lighted, caused the fire to spread from one end of the affected train to the other almost in a twinkling. As it turned out only the parlor cars were destroyed, and only those riding in the parlor cars were burned or injured, with the exception of the engineer, fireman and other trainmen, one mail clerk and his assistant. The passengers of the still flimsier day coaches escaped with only superficial bruises and jars.

Engineer Making Up Time.

Behind the engine was a baggage car, the second a mail car. Following came a combination parlor car, smoker and buffet, then four Pullmans, while three day coaches and a smoker completed a train which consisted of eleven cars. The trainload was very heavy. Before Boston had been left the train had been divided into the two sections, and the second section was filled to overflowing long before it got to New Haven. There was not a seat left in the Pullmans, according to all the passengers, except two, which had been reserved by Bridgeport merchants. There were even extra chairs in the Pullman smoker and the car just behind it, and out of these two cars have come all the dead so far identified.

The train was just twelve minutes late when it reached Bridgeport, and George W. Clark, the engineer who has paid for any mistake he may have made with his life, left with the idea of making up the time by the time he should reach New York. He increased his speed at once, and by the time he was well clear of Bridgeport he was traveling very close to sixty miles an hour, while the cars behind were swaying and rolling like small boats at sea. The train whizzed by the stations in a cloud of dust.

Ignored Slow Down Signal.

For about 200 yards the old Boston post road passes under the tracks with other streets of the town, and that elevates the tracks about twenty-five feet above the street level, this height between streets being filled in with sand, gravel and stonework.

The ill fated train had shot past the station and had struck the bridge. Just ahead of it was the signal which warned the engineer to slow down from the speed he was going so that there might be no accident at the crossover. Apparently this was never heeded. There was no slowing down, and as the front wheels of the engine struck the first frog they were slipped to one side, the great drivers were wrenched off the rail, and the big engine went plowing over the roadbed with a roar and a jolt that was communicated throughout the train. It was all over in less than a half minute, but in that time the engine had plowed along the dirt for 150 yards, dug its nose into the side of the embankment, catapulted its tender clear over it, slicing off the top of the cab, which killed the engineer and fireman. Car No. 1, the baggage car, had been shunted to the left, while the engine went to the right, while car No. 2, the mail car, had been catapulted straight ahead of them and in between for a distance of 150 feet, where it stopped, its forward trucks, off its end, smashed, but still standing upright.

Weather Forecast.

Local rains today, except generally fair in extreme southern portion; tomorrow fair; moderate southwest winds.

T. R., PRIMED, LEAVES FOR SENATE HEARING

Armed With Letter Book Record of Correspondence.

New York, Oct. 4.—Armed with his letter book record of all the correspondence relating to the Harriman fund and the subject of Standard Oil contributions to the 1904 Republican campaign fund, Theodore Roosevelt left this morning at 12:30 to appear today before Senator Clapp's committee in Washington. To prime himself further for the severe questioning which he anticipates at the hands of the stand pat senators whom he denounced a month ago for refusing to receive his testimony at that time, the ex-president called a conference of his lieutenants at the Manhattan last night, and with three of them who have already appeared before the investigating committee, Senator Joseph M. Dixon, Elon Hooker and Judge William H. Duell, he went over the ground which the committee has covered.

Judge Duell was a late addition to the conference, coming on from Washington, where he testified in response to a hasty summons by telephone. As assistant to Treasurer Bliss of the Republican campaign fund in 1904 he was called upon to refresh the colonel's recollection of the events of that period. Others who dined with the colonel and helped in mapping out campaign plans afterward were William A. Prendergast, William H. Hotchkiss, Timothy L. Woodruff, Frank A. Munsey, George W. Perkins, O. K. Davis, Colonel Cecil L. Lyons and George Roosevelt.

The chief result of their deliberations which the conference consented to divulge was the schedule which has been adopted for the colonel's activities between now and election time. This calls for his departure on Monday next upon a seventeen day trip through a half dozen middle western states in which the Progressive candidate feels the need of a final appeal. On the return journey three days have been allowed Pennsylvania, more time than has been assigned to any other state.

BRINGS PAPERS TO GIBSON.

Lawyer Accused of Murder Is Visited by His Wife.

Goshen, N. Y., Oct. 4.—Mrs. Burton W. Gibson, wife of the lawyer accused of murder, visited her husband at the county jail here. Mrs. Gibson came up from New York, where she had a conference with her husband's lawyers, Robert H. Elder and Charles Goldzier. She carried a satchel containing papers for Gibson. Mrs. Gibson remained with her husband until a few minutes before the train left.

Asked if she had anything to say in regard to Gibson's case, she replied: "No. We had our say the other day."

BOWLING AND POOL LICENSES

Ordinance Regulating "Billiard" Rooms and Alleys Before Borough Council.

ITS FORM IS OPPOSED

Complaint From Property Owners Regarding Street Paving Assessment to Be Aired at Hearing On October 18.

Protests from owners of corner lots on the assessment for paving Park place were reported to the North Plainfield Council last night by Councilman Edmund Rushmore. He said the complainants found it impossible to appear and had asked him to speak for them.

The question at issue was, whether a property holder owning a corner lot, with the side facing Park place, should be charged the same amount per square foot for paving work as the person owning property, the front of which faces Park place.

John Emmons, chairman of the assessment commission, said he and his colleagues had used the same system as the city, and felt they were correct in levying all property as on Park place. Councilman Vanderhoef was of the opinion that the borough should stand one-half instead of one-third of the assessments for new road work. The subject will be brought before the Council for further discussion October 18.

Councilman Milne called the attention of the Council to the fact that the county tax office had not provided the borough with a record of taxable property, together with ratables, as he is required to do some time in August. A resolution was passed recommending action if this provision of the law is not fulfilled by October 18, the time of the next meeting.

An ordinance drafted by Councilman W. J. Buttfield, at the suggestion of Mayor Clark, regulating all pool, billiard and bowling alleys in the borough, with the exception of those under the management of clubs, and imposing a license fee on all who operate one of these resorts after January 1, 1913, met considerable opposition, and will come up for further discussion at the next meeting. Although the ordinance had its good feature, Mr. Stahl said, in his opinion the strict regulation of closing hours, would injure the business of the proprietors of such resorts. Mr. Milne also pointed out that the provision excepting the clubs and social societies from being included under the rules of the ordinance would form a "doge" for the resort owners, who would immediately form a "club" and carry on business in the usual manner.

Several citizens entered petitions for more light in their neighborhood. They are Patrick Egany, who wants a light near his residence, 67 Mountain avenue; G. H. Schwartz, desires illumination on Walnut avenue, between Harrison and William streets, and C. H. Rugg, applied for an electric bulb, placed in Manning avenue, near Westervelt avenue.

The Council will comply with the request of the Board of Education to place "Go Slow" signs in the vicinity of school buildings, as protection against automobile accidents.

The following permits were granted for alterations and erection of buildings: To A. B. Vossler, 86 Fairview avenue, two chicken houses; to F. B. Ball, 31 Myrtle avenue, one garage in rear of present lot; to Roger L. Cooley, addition to present garage; to W. B. Demons, of Watchung avenue, two and one-half story barn on rear of present lot, and to A. L. Kenworth, concrete garage in rear of lot.

SMOKE RESULTS FROM BAD FIRING

Soft Coal Can Be Used Without Black Soot Clouds, Says Expert.

BETTER COMBUSTION

If Furnaces Are Not Overworked and Plenty of Air In Correct Amounts If Furnished, Coal Will Not Smoke.

Soft coal can be burned without inflicting black, soot-laden clouds on the community, according to C. M. Hetfield, of Netherwood, an authority on bituminous coal and its consumption. Mr. Hetfield is a big New York dealer in bituminous steam coals, and has made a close study of the conditions giverning its use. The remedy for the smoke evil, he says, is in the hands of the men who use the coal. In a statement prepared for the Daily Press today, Mr. Hetfield says:

"Soft coal can be burned with very little if any smoke, if properly fired and given a good draft. The problem of smoke prevention is the problem of perfect combustion. There is no such thing as smoke consumption and this term should never be used. There is such a thing as perfect combusion and this means smokeless combustion.

"Any fuel may be burned economically and without smoke if it is mixed with the propert amount of air at a proper temperature.

"If you understand why a torch smokes, why a flat wick is used in a lamp, why a circular burner is provided for the Argand or student lamp, why a chimney is provided for oil lamps—if you understand these things, and most of us do, you will, it is believed, be able easily to see what conditions are necessary for perfect combustion in boiler furnaces.

"If we try to increase the oil consumption and turn up our lamps too high, they smoke, and because they are in the room with us we immediately turn them down. Furnaces burning coal sometimes smoke just because they are forced too hard, and because the top of the chimney is not in our room, but in the public's pure air we do not turn them down, but let them smoke.

"Air correct in amount is a necessity for complete combusion and the simple experiments which we have all been making with our oil and gas flames should be sufficient evidence to us that only when we are able to supply our furnaces with the correct amount of air shall we be able to control the smoke which it is so easy to make.

"If any fuel is to be burned without smoke it must be supplied with the correct amount of air. The torch smokes because the large round wick brings up oil, especially in the center, to which air cannot be supplied. If the air supply through the center tube of our student lamp is shut off a smoking flames results.

"Too little air is wrong. Too much air is wrong. Absolutely complete combustion can be obtained using soft coal burned on an automatic stoker with as low as 30 per cent. excess of air. The question is one of proper furnace construction to meet the requirements of the fuel coupled with a good fireman and an intelligent use of instruments which will tell him at all times the conditions of the combustion and draft.

"Statements are frequently seen in the daily papers to the effect that one-quarter or one-third of the fuel burned goes off in the black smoke issuing from the chimney. Such statements are very far from the truth. It is doubtful if the black carbon particles which issue from chimneys and which we call soot ever mount to one per cent. of the fuel burned in any furnace. It takes but a small amount of soot to give a dense black color to smoke.

"Chimneys will still be needed when the so-called smoke problem is solved. The popular solution consists in changing the color of the gases flowing from the chimneys from black to a light gray, this is all that the public and the smoke inspector will demand.

"A strong draft will make a large air supply possible, and allow thicker fires or finer coal to be used. The possibility of sufficient air makes a furnace smokeless when an insufficient supply caused by a weak draft might cause the production of smoke. There is an always increasing tendency to drive boilers and furnaces just a little harder.

"Careful firing is very necessary for satisfactory results. The twin brick arch furnace which keeps the gases away from the boiler plates altogether is an effective smoke preventive.

"When the coal fed into a furnace is fairly uniform in size it is much easier to burn it without smoke than when it is of different sizes.

"Another point in connection with the hand-fired furnace is that it is

They will be divided into two armies with headquarters respectively here and at Janina. The Minister served notice that unless Turkey complies within twenty-four hours diplomatic relations will be severed. Mobs smashed the windows of the Italian, Bulgarian and Greek Legations today.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Oct. 5.—Twenty-five hundred Bulgarians under the Brigand Sandansky have burned the Turkish barracks at Oschumaya and occupied the strategic Kresna passage above the River Struma, according to reports current here today. The cabinet today asked Parliament for $18,000,000 war funds.

Paris, Oct. 5.—A message was received by the Servian Legation here today to the effect that the Island of Samos off the west coast of Asia Minor had proclaimed its independence of Turkey and had established a republic.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Oct. 5.—King Ferdinand, of Bulgaria, in a speech delivered today at the opening of Parliament referred briefly to the military measures taken by the Government, and said that he and his ministers relied on the people's representatives doing their duty. The Chamber of Deputies approved the proclamation of martial law and proceeded with other legislation made necessary by the mobilization of the army. The powers have advised the Balkan States not to withdraw their representatives from Constantinople pending the result of the steps being taken by the ambassadors.

Athens, Oct. 5.—The four torpedo boat destroyers acquired by the Grek Givernment in Liverpool while under construction for Argentina were ordered after leaving that port to proceed to Philadelphia to take on ammunition from the Bethlehem Steel Corporation Works.

Paris, Oct. 5.—Pointing out that the powers are pulling at cross purposes in their efforts to keep peace in the Balkans Foreign Minister Sazanoff, of Russia, and Premier Poincaire, of France, today opened negotiations with the ambassadors at the various European capitals to secure concerted action.

STRAY CARTRIDGE SENT BOY TO THE HOSPITAL

He Hit It With a Rock and Received Bullet In Leg.

That 44-calibre cartridges are not things to play with was learned yesterday by Joseph Evers, Jr., of 248 Grove street, to his sorrow. He is in Muhlenberg Hospital with a severe bullet wound in his right leg above the knee.

According to boy companions of young Evers, he was playing with Arthur Brown in the vicinity of Somerset street and Fritts place, when they found a 44-calibre ball cartridge in the road. Evers placed the cartridge on a stoneand hit it with another stone in his hand. The cartridge exploded and the boy dropped.

The young son of Stonewall Jackson attracted by the report and Evers' scream of pain, ran to the scene. He found Evers on the ground with blood flowing from a hole in his leg. Hurrying to his father's barn nearby, Jackson hitched a horse to a buggy, picked the boy up and drove him to the office of Dr A. H. Dundon, on Somerset street. The physician dressed the wound and ordered Evers' immediate removal to the hospital, where the bullet was extracted.

Miss Asenath Coddington, of Somerset street, who has been ill for over a month, is reported to be improving.

NETHERWOOD CHURCH OYSTER SUPPER A GREAT SUCCESS

The oyster supper given by the Ladies' Aid Society, of the Netherwood Reformed church, last night, was a great success. Over one hundred persons were served during the evening by the waitresses. NARROW ESCAPES MARK RUNAWAY Frightened Horse Comes Close to Injuring People Five Times On Dash.

WAGON IS WRECKED

Sewing Machine Also Goes to Smash In the Course of Frightened Animal's Flight—Caught Near Mt. Bethel.

Narrow escapes marked the course yesterday afternoon of a runaway horse attached to a buggy belonging to the Singer Sewing Machine Company. The runaway started at 518 West Third street and came to an end near Mt. Bethel.

The horse broke loose from a hitching post in front of the West Third street address, where the driver, J. C. Van Mater, of 426 East Second street, had tied him while calling on a customer. The noose of the hitching strap slipped to the bottom of the pole, forcing the animal's head toward the ground. In its efforts to free itself from this position, the horse broke the harness, the bridle and bit falling to the ground. The animal started off at a fast clip, dumping a machine from the wagon, and narrowly missing several small boys playing marbles in the roadway near New street. The runaway turned the corner at Madison avenue, heading toward West Front street. It ran up on the sidewalk at the corner of Front street, crowding several people against the corner store, hitting a water hydrant, and knocking off a back wheel.

Pedestrians scattered in all directions as the runaway crossed Front street, and the horse barely missed a trolley car, the motorman avoiding the collision by quickly applying his brakes. Smith Wickoff, driving a wagon for J. W. Gavett, ran his vehicle up on the sidewalk, just in time to clear the runaway.

Van Mater, securing a bicycle, went in pursuit of his horse, which was caught by Henri Pedefious in front of his place near Mt. Bethel. The sewing machine, harness and wagon were totally destroyed, but the horse appeared none the worse.

ALL SOULS' SUNDAY SCHOOL CHILDREN HAVE RECEPTION

A reception was given to the Sunday-school of All Souls' church yesterday afternoon and evening by the Misses Inez Tolles and R. A. Lawrence. Games were played in the Sunday-school room. The prize winners were: First game, Ralph Slonim, Elizabeth Mumford and Stephen Haff, Jr.; second game, Compton Mulford, Dorothea Lawrence and Stephen Haff, Jr. The games were finished with a grand march around the Sunday-school rooms. The march music was played on the piano by Mrs. Ryder.

After the march the reception was put in the hands of the refreshment committee who served luncheon. Those on the refreshment committee were Miss Inez Tolles, Mrs. McConnell and Miss Clara Buckle.

The reception was somewhat in the nature of a rally. The Sunday-school will hold its first fall service tomorrow morning at 11:50 o'clock.

WOMAN HELD UP.

While returning home last night, after alighting from a trolley, Mrs. Mary Stangler was held up by two men near her residence, 622 East Seventh street. She told the police later that one man seized her by the right wrist but that she broke away and ran to her house. Her description of the men was meagre and although the police searched the neighborhood they could not be found.

MAY ENDORSE A CANDIDATE.

Efforts will be made at a meeting of the Netherwood Residents' Association on Monday night, according to report, to place the organization on record as favorable to one of the two nominees for Second ward councilman, Cornelius VanHerwerden, Republican, or Stanley E. Gunnison, Progressive. It is understood that the two candidates will be given a hearing.

HER HUSBAND MISSING.

The police were notified today that John Kitchen, aged fifty years, residing at 123 Lafayette place, has been missing for several days. His wife cannot account for his disappearance and is greatly worried for fear some harm has befallen him.

WOMAN IN FLAMES FROM RAYS OF SUN

Held Glass Lamp Reflector In Her Hand.

New York, Oct. 5.—Mrs. Minnie Bulwinkle, who is employed as janitress at the Alexander Presbyterian church on King street, was severely burned when her dress was set afire by the rays of the sun shining through a glass lamp reflector which she held in her hand.

Frank Menandez, who was sitting on the stoop of his home directly across the street, said that he noticed Mrs. Bulwinkle standing on the sidewalk in front of the church.

She had been there for at least five minutes, Menandez said, when he was attracted by her screams. Looking up, he says that her dress was in flames. Menandez ran across the street and began to tear her clothes from her. Patrolman Charles Hay ran to her and before the two men succeeded in putting out the flames Mrs. Bulwinkle was badly burned.

An ambulance was called from St. Vincent's hospital, where she was taken.

Weather Forecast.

Fair today and tomorrow; light to moderate winds, becoming southerly.

MAY TRY GIBSON IN NEW JERSEY

Witness Saw Pair Quarrelling on Roosevelt Island.

LAKE WILL BE DRAGGED

Declared That Mrs. Szabo Tore Gibson's Bathing Jersey From His Back. Prior to That She Had Pleaded With Him—Witness Saw Them Struggling.

Greenwood Lake, N. J., Oct. 5.—That Mrs. Szabo was in a helpless condition and seemed to have fainted when Burton W. Gibson, held for her murder, left Roosevelt island, in Greenwood lake, with her, was the testimony unearthed by Mr. Moore, a county detective, from a witness whose identity he will not reveal. This person asserts, Moore says, that Gibson had to support and partly carry Mrs. Szabo to the boat from the island. The woman seemed unable to help herself.

It may yet develop that the murder trial of Gibson must take place in New Jersey. Mrs. Nellie Mott, who lives opposite Roosevelt island—which is on the New Jersey side—is positive she saw the two quarreling on the island shortly before Mrs. Szabo died.

Mrs. Szabo seemed to be pleading with her companion. In an effort to verify the story that Mrs. Szabo tore Gibson's bathing jersey from his back, as told by the lawyer, the lake will be dragged. The process will consist of attaching hundreds of fishhooks to a long pole, but it is feared that this curious rake will tear the jersey in bringing it up, so that it would be impossible to distinguish the rents to which Gibson referred.

Mrs. Burton W. Gibson visited her husband again in the county jail in Goshen, N. Y., bringing a satchel containing papers for Gibson and later sending fruit in to him.

She said she had conferred with Robert H. Elder and Charles Goldzier, Gibson's attorneys, but would not comment further on the case, adding:

"We had our say the other day."

PINNED UNDER AUTOMOBILE

Brooklyn Pair Hurt In New Jersey Will Recover.

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 5.—Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Saxton of Brooklyn, who were hurt in an automobile accident on the Cranberry turnpike, seven miles from here and who were brought to St. Peter's hospital here, were said to be doing well. Mrs. Saxton's right thigh was broken, but she received no internal injuries, as was at first feared. Mr. Saxton, who is said to be the manager of a hotel in Brooklyn, is suffering from severe bruises.

He and his wife, to whom he had been married only a few weeks, were on their way from Brooklyn to Philadelphia in an automobile and were rounding a curve in the turnpike when the machine skidded. Before Saxton could regain control of it the car dashed into a telegraph pole and turned turtle.

Camden, N. J., Oct. 5.—Four of the six persons who were poisoned in this city by eating toadstools in mistake for mushrooms were discharged from the Cooper hospital. The two persons still confined at the hospital are out of danger.

Those who were poisoned were relatives. Mrs. Nicholas Tridaletti invited them to supper at which mushrooms were served. Half an hour after the meal all became violently ill. Those who are still in the hospital are Dominick Siedalte and Mrs. Minnie Peale.

Long Branch, N. J., Oct. 5.—Orders issued to the crossing flagmen of the Long Branch railroad, where only a day flagman is on duty, directed the employees to work only twelve hours a day, from 7 o'clock in the morning to 7 o'clock at night, instead of fourteen hours as heretofore.

These crossings affected will be without a flagman during the entire evening hours.

BROUGHT TO LIGHT.

Plainfield People Receiving the Full Benefit.

There have been many cases like the following in Plainfield. Everyone relates the experience of people we know. These plain, straightforward statements will do much toward relieving the suffering of thousands. Such testimony will be read with interest by many people.

Mrs. Anthony Wahl, R. F. D., No. 1, Plainfield, N. J., says: "I had such distressing pains in my back that I could hardly stand and it was out of the question for me to stoop. I was all crippled up and I knew perfectly well that my kidneys were the cause of my trouble. A neighbor recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to me and on her suggestion, I used them. They gave me almost immediate relief and three boxes changed me from a chronic sufferer to a healthy woman. I still take Doan's Kidney Pills occasionally when a cold settles on my kidneys and they act as a preventive of any serious recurrence of my former trouble. You may publish this account of my experience for the benefit of other kidney sufferers."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

THE SIGNS OF THE TIMES.

Each age of the world's history has a distinct contribution to the progress and civilization. We are placed in the present age, and we serve the past and future best, as we serve the present generation faithfully. The pessimist may find dark clouds along the horizon. The real patriot and optimist is one who can see the good in as great proportion as the evil. What are the signs that brighten the horizon?

Growing Idea of Brotherhood: As we scan the pages of history, we find there have been three great principles that have characterized man's relation to each other. These principles were paternalism, individualism and brotherhood. Paternalism had as its predominating characteristic, aristocratic power. It does not live today. It was crushed in England by Cromwell in the seventeenth century, and in Europe, by Napoleon in the nineteenth century. Individualism has also passed away. It believed that every one should seek his own good. Brotherhood is the growing idea of the age. It believes in organization for a common good of all concerned. In local as well as in national government, the principle of brotherhood is recognized. The age of asceticism is over. The pillar saints who lived in seclusion and abstraction were mistaken. The secret of success is to live for others, and when we desert that principle, we turn the victory of life into defeat. To help others, you must find yourself. You cannot impart to others what you do not possess.

Brotherhood is being experienced in religion. Churches are being federated. Efficiency is the practical word in religion as well as in business. All denominations will not yet be blended into one faith. But we are advancing in the sense that all denominations and faiths are respecting each other's opinions as never before. We are recognizing that we are all working for a common end or good, and we all have one common Heavenly Father.

The world too is growing smaller. The nations of the earth are being united. People are being evangelized. Instead of relying upon the winds as formerly, we are harnessing up steam. The speed of vessels has reduced the size of the world one-third. A complete network of railroads belt the globe. Communication is made easy. International organizations have spread over the world. Business has gone to the farthest parts. All this has had a great tendency to bring all people closer together.

Another sign of the times is social service. It has done much for the uplift in social conditions and for man's betterment. It has sought out the causes of vice, poverty and crime and has tried to alleviate them. Our government found it more practical to dig ditches in Cuba and thus destroy malaria, than to feed the soldiers quinine. Likewise it dawned upon us that it was cheaper to educate the American Indian than to shoot him down.

General William Booth was one of the first to emphasize the call to social service. It is true the spiritual message was always of prime importance with him. He also believed in the sustenance of life, so long as we are in the body. He saw that many people live in filthy slums, with poor and insufficient food, often with back breaking labor, with no one to comfort or help in sickness, fearing death less than sleep. Accordingly he organized social farms, food depots, lodging houses, eating places, to help back the unfortunates to womanhood and manhood. For this reason he occupies a unique position in the uplift of mankind.

There is also a growing tendency toward universal peace and the arbitration of disputes among the nations. The former method was war, appealing to the brute force of nations. The nation which exercised the largest physical prowess and endurance, possessed the best warships was declared the victor. War reminds me of a big giant man wrestling with a little man. The big man wins, but because the big man wins, is he necessarily right?

Arbitration is a far better method for it submits all disputes to an impartial tribunal to measure out justice and equity. It appeals to reason, instead of mere brute force. It saves a great expense. Some one has said, "In time of peace prepare for war." Is it not better in time of peace to prepare for peace? It is estimated that our nation recently spent one hundred and twenty-five million dollars for warships which in a few years will be old junk. Would it not be better to spend that money constructively than destructively?

Again, we notice the general prosperity of our nation. No nation will soon occupy the position which we occupy. We are growing wealth, in manufactures, in mineral products, in agriculture. We are not only able to feed, but also to enrichen one billion people.

America is the land of opportunity. People are coming to our shores in rapid rates. The Anglo-Saxon race is increasing rapidly. England is crowded. Australia is too small. North and Central Africa are too near the equator. America alone has room to spare and America will be the home of the ruling nation of the earth.

PUTS THREE PRESIDENTS IN PROHIBITION PILLORY

He said that there was no other party beside the Prohibitionist that made any claim to the recognition of the temperance question and that there had been at least three Presidents of the United States who were a disgrace to the nation in this respect— McKinley, Garfield and Lincoln. He said that these men were a trio of the best leaders the nation had ever had in regard to their party platform, but the parties they represented made absolutely no claim to prohibition of the liquor trade. Mr. Watkins said Roosevelt was a boss, had no original ideas, and constituted the whole Progressive party.

SIGMA GAMMA KAPPA GIVES COUNTRY PARTY

The Y. W. C. A. was a scene of gaiety and merriment last night when the Sigma Gamma Kappa club, of the North Plainfield High School, gave a "country party" in honor of the girls of the freshman class. The gymnasium was decorated with corn stalks and jack-o-lanterns and all the girls came bedecked in sun bonnets and aprons.

Games, intermingled with musical and vocal selections, occupied the first part of the evening. Later the club members and the "freshies" gathered around the open fireplace in the reception room, and listened to the wierd ceremonial meeting of the Camp Fire Girls. Mrs. Frederick Mead exhibited Indian baskets and rugs and told how they were woven. Festivities ended with refreshments and the presentation of souvenirs.

The committee of arrangement consisted of the Misses Lucy Douglas, Margaret Ewart and Helen Woodruff, assisted by the officers of the club, who are Miss Anna Hull, president; Miss Edith Dalley, vice president, and Miss Edna Green, secretary and treasurer.

The next meeting of the Young Friends' Association will be held at the Meeting House on Saturday, November 2. It will be in connection with the half-yearly meeting which is to be held Saturday and Sunday, November 9 and 10. Miss Mabel Vail will deliver a lecture to the Young Friends on her recent trip to Europe.

The Equitable Trust Co. of New York, Trustee.

We summarize the important features from a letter of Mr. Knox Taylor, President of the Company, copies of which may be obtained from the undersigned.

The Taylor-Wharton Company is a combination of the Taylor Iron & Steel Co. and Wm. Wharton, Jr., & Co., Inc., which have had a successful history for more than fifty years, and which are engaged in the manufacture of manganese steel and its products.

These bonds are secured by an absolute First Mortgage on the entire property of the Company.

The net assets of the Company, according to a recent appraisal, are more than $4,800,000, of which about $1,500,000 are net quick assets. The quick assets alone are more than 20% in excess of the entire outstanding issue.

The combined net earnings of the plants for the past ten years have averaged nearly five times the interest charges on this issue of bonds. These earnings should be materially increased by economies incident to combination and improvements.

A cumulative sinking fund will retire the entire issue before maturity.

Wm. Wharton, Jr., & Co., Inc., have paid dividends on their capital stock almost continuously and for the past ten years have earned an average of 19% on their average outstanding capital stock of $958,000. The Taylor Iron & Steel Company has paid 7% on its preferred stock since its incorporation, and varying dividends as high as 10% on its common.

The use of manganese steel in steam and steel railway construction is constantly increasing and the field for the product of the company is rapidly expanding.

The above information and statistics are not guaranteed, but have been obtained from sources we believe to be accurate, and are the data on which we purchase these securities.

Observations

In the New York Shops.

[A postal addressed to O'Flaherty's New York-Suburban Shopping Guide, 150 Nassau Street, New York City, will supply information as to where the articles mentioned in this column may be obtained.]

The hostess who enjoys entertaining will be delighted with the fine Sherbert glasses that one of the stores is selling for $1.80 a dozen.

Sweeping plumes and feathers are a feature of this season's millinery. A very excellent quality in French ostrich plumes can be had for $3.96, a reduction from the regular price of $6.00. The plumes offered at $2.97 are also very attractive, though not so full as those selling for $5.49, a reduction from the $8.00 price.

There has been no head-gear invented so comfortable and so serviceable as the so-called "Helmet" which can be had in woolen material or in the hairy Swiss wool at $2.00 and $2.50. These are made to go entirely over the head. There is a hole for the face, and a cape effect protects the neck very effectually. If the entire head-piece is not to be worn the helmet can be folded in such a way as to simply set upon the head like any other cap. It is indispensable to the autoist or out-door enthusiast.

Marabout is all the rage this season. A very handsome scarf in brown, shading into a white at the ends, is $8.50 at one of the stores. A large muff to match is $7.75. These are very dressy.

Very smart Charmeuse gowns showing all the new features of draperies, accordian pleatings, Tapestry trimmings, etc., are offered at $29.75 at one of the specialty houses.

A Juliet Cap is always attractive and becoming with the evening coiffure. One of these in silver thread and pearls can be bought for $1.00.

27-inch Velvet Corduroy is selling for 79 cents a yard. It comes in a wide variety of colors.

Attractive and serviceable Serge dresses for girls in the newest styles are $9.50.

Kid gloves with fur backs for children are $2.00. These come in the smaller sizes for very little children.

Accordian pleated silk 42 inches wide is 99 cents a yard. This comes in solid colors and also shaded.

SEEK TO PREVENT WAR.

France Makes Definite Move to Preserve Peace in Balkans.

London, Oct. 5.—France has made a definite move toward preventing a general outbreak of hostilities in the Balkans, where French financial interests are estimated to be $800,000,000. Her action has taken the form of a strong appeal to the powers to hold back the Balkan states by force if necessary and to compel Turkey to grant substantial reforms in her European provinces.

M. Poincare, the French premier, and M. Sazonoff, the Russian minister of foreign affairs, have fully agreed on the plan, and the Quai d'Orsay was in active communication with French diplomatic representatives in the great capitals, emphasizing the need of swift collective action.

The French proposal admits of two methods, collective action by all the great powers or action by Austria and Russia together on behalf of the powers.

JOHN D. DODGES THIRD RAIL.

Arrives at Pocantico Hills—To Remain There Until After Christmas.

Tarrytown, N. Y., Oct. 5.—Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller arrived from Cleveland. Their train was an hour late, and it was held at Tarrytown for five minutes while the forty trunks were unloaded.

Mr. Rockefeller began to walk south to the Dock street crossing, as has been his custom, but two days ago the New York Central closed it, and he was accordingly compelled to retrace his steps. Turning around he walked up the platform to the Main street crossing, as he refused to climb over the station bridge.

At the north end of the platform Mr. Rockefeller found himself obliged to walk along the tracks, which are lined by the third rail. He was very careful, however, and when he reached the street crossing his carriage was waiting for him.

CANDIDATE DROPS DEAD.

Addressing Political Gathering Dr. Knight Succumbs to Heart Failure.

Lakeville, Conn., Oct. 5.—While about to address a political gathering from the stage of Robert's hall, in Lakeville, Dr. George H. Knight of Salisbury, Conn., Republican candidate for representative from the Fifth congressional district, dropped dead. There were several hundred persons in the hall at the time.

Dr. Knight had been campaigning through the state for several days. He apparently was in good health when he entered the hall. He arose from his seat on the platform amid enthusiastic applause and, going forward to the footlights, suddenly staggered and dropped to the stage. He died as several men sprang to his aid. Heart disease is believed to have been the cause of death.

TAFTS ON LONG AUTO TRIP

Will Be Gone Six Days Through the New England States.

Beverly, Mass., Oct. 5.—President and Mrs. Taft left Parramatta today for a six day motor trip through Massachusetts, Vermont and New Hampshire, traveling about 700 miles. The president's decision to take the motor trip will prevent him from seeing any of the world's series baseball games as he had originally intended. James Bryce, British ambassador to the United States, was a caller at Parramatta.

The president went to Salem yesterday to dedicate a tablet to the memory of the soldiers of the First Massachusetts heavy artillery who lost their lives in the civil war.

MUST PROVIDE DRINKING CUPS

Court Upholds Utility Board Order to Railroads of the State.

THEORY BRUSHED ASIDE

Railroad Contention That Cigars Might Be Required In Smokers Has No Weight—Carriers Must Keep Up With Science.

Trenton, Oct. 5.—Finding nothing illegal or unreasonable in requiring that railroads shall supply sanitary drinking glasses or individual drinking cups, the Supreme Court has sustained the order of the Board of Public Utility Commissioners, compelling all railroads, furnishing drinking water to their patrons, to provide such utensils.

The court held that the order did not result in depriving the railroad companies of the equal protection of the law, and that it is not in conflict with the constitution inhibition in that respect. The court also dismissed as without weight the argument of the railroads that if they could be compelled to furnish drinking cups they might also be forced to give their patrons cigars or candy. Candy and cigars, it was pointed out, are luxuries, while drinking water is a necessity.

From a legal viewpoint the decision seems to be of great importance from the rules it lays down that common carriers may be forced to recognize the progress of sanitary science, and that the character of service afforded may be mandatorily changed to meet such progress. The order was the outcome of the passage of the act of 1911, prohibiting the use of common drinking cups in public places.

"Anterior to the passage of the act, which presents the basis for this order of the commissioners," said Justice Minturn, in his opinion for the court, "the common carriers of the State were not regulated by statutory law from a sanitary point of view, in the quality or character of the service they rendered to the public; and hence the furnishing of water for drinking purposes to the traveling public was like furnishing of a smoking car or a dining car, a matter left to the individual judgment of the road, as their self interest from a business and competitive point of view would seem to warrant.

"In such a situation it was deemed advisable for many years to furnish to the traveling public not only drinking water, but a common drinking glass from which the public were impliedly invited to drink the water thus supplied.

"The progress of sanitary science, notably within the last decade, which we are judicialy bound to notice, as an essential factor in the question at issue, demonstrated that the indiscriminate use of a common drinking cup might be instrumental in spreading contagious diseases or foul bodily ailments.

"Scientific and sanitary preventative methods were quite generally instituted to eliminate this as a common source of contagion, the substitutionary remedy being a cup carried by the passenger or a cup of cheap material on sale in the stations and on the trains at a nominal cost.

"In this situation two facts stood out prominently: the one that the carrier itself had for years recognized that not only the carrying of the water, but also its necessary complement, the supplying of the utensil from which to drink it, were reasonable, adequate and proper service to furnish the traveling public as a part of the service of transportation; but also, that a new and correct method of ministering to this public want and necessity had become necessary, and this necessity was made manifest and a remedy made mandatory by legislation."

After reciting the provisions of the law and commenting upon the contents of the order made by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners Justice Minturn considered the grounds upon which the railroads contended that the order is illegal unconstitutional and unreasonable. In this connection he said:

"It is contended that the furnishing of adequate and proper service does not include the furnishing of drinking cups, and that the requirement of the board is equivalent to an order requiring the companies to supply candy and cigars to the passengers, and in effect that it deprives the company of their property without due process of law.

"It will be observed that the order of the board applies only to companies which furnish their passengers with drinking water, and does not extend to companies that fail to supply water to passengers. The question, therefore, is delimited to the inquiry, whether companies supplying drinking water without furnishing utensils to the public from which to drink it can be said to be supplying 'adequate and proper service,' as required by law; and whether the order of the board requiring the companies to furnish utensils is tantamount to a taking of property without due process.

"The simile suggested of an order requiring the presentation of cigars or candy to passengers loses its force when it is recalled that such articles are in the category of luxuries, and by no stretch of imagination can be brought within the terms or spirit of a legal mandate intended only to secure the supplying the necessities of travel under a reasonable demand for adequate and proper service to the traveling public.

"A more apt similitude would seem to be the supplying of a dining service upon trains, without the accompaniment of forks, knives or spoons. But in any event it cannot be overlooked in construing this phase that the companies themselves, as we have intimated, have put a practical and reasonable construction upon it, in every instance heretofore where drinking water was supplied upon their trains, by supplying its necessary and ordinary concomitant, the drinking glass or cup.

"The argument, therefore, must be that the requirement is not unreasonable if it be limited as heretofore practiced by the companies to one common cup or glass, but becomes unlawful when this requirement is exceeded, pro bono publico, or for any other adequate legislative reason.

"Legislation of this character in the interest of the public health is clearly within the police power of the State, and invariably has been supported by both federal and State adjudication upon the principle that where property and employment are affected with a public use the business in which it is used is subject to legislative control in all respects necessary to protect the public against danger, injustice and oppression."

The four railroads instituting the test cases to review the order of the board were the Lackawanna, Erie, Susquehanna and the New Jersey and New York Railroad. The cases were argued together at the February term, 1912, before Justices Trenchard, Parker and Minturn. M. M. Stallman, George S. Hobart and Collins & Corbin appeared for the railroads and Frank H. Sommer for the board.

F. J. BLATZ ISSUES A STATEMENT TO VOTERS

If Elected, He Says, He Will Be a Non-Partisan Councilman.

Non-partisan service is promised the voters of the Fourth ward by Francis J. Blatz in the event of his election to the Common Council on the Republican ticket. Public improvements as well as non-partisanship, are on Mr. Blatz's platform, as given out by him in the following statement:

"I am seeking election to the Common Council on the Republican ticket because I have all my life been a Republican. If I shall be elected I will represent the people of the Fourth ward irrespective of politics, and will endeavor to secure for this section of the city, many of the improvements that have been made in other sections, but which, for some reason, the Council has failed to provide for the Fourth ward.

"These improvements are in the form of better streets, light and more police protection.

"I am opposed to executive sessions of the Council because I believe that all public business should be transacted in the open, and I am frank to say that much of the dissatisfaction that is felt over our public officials can be traced directly to the fact that no question is ever discussed in the open until efforts have been made to learn the views of the different councilmen in secret session.

"Secret sessions accomplish nothing. The only way to legislate for the people is in the open, where every one can see and hear what is being done. I realize that the people voted authority to the Council to investigate the water question with a view to determining whether the city should own its water supply, but I believe sufficient has already been learned to determine what should be done without further expense to the people.

"As to sewers, any council would have to be guided by the advice of competent engineers, and it seems to me that some decision should be reached in this matter and the sewer pushed to completion without further delay. Irrespective of what the lay opinion may be, the word of the engineer whose life work has been devoted to a profession, will have more weight than anything else, when weighed in the balance of public opinion. I am in this fight to win and I shall carry the fight to the people, telling them where I stand and I shall be content with their decision on election day.

"I am no man's man, and don't propose to stand for any misrepresentation in this campaign."

—It is human nature to be dissatisfied; either with what we have or with what we haven't.

BAD FIRING MAKES SMOKE

usually forced to burn more volatile matter than it was built for. We have often found that coal burned slowly, say at the rate of 20 pounds per square foot of grate area per hour, made no smoke at all. However, when the rate of combustion was increased to 26 pounds or more, smoke was produced even though as great care was used in firing, and the firing was as frequent. This fact is in accordance with Mr. Bennet's paper, where he states that the combustion space of a furnace is of a certain capacity and that one should not try to burn more coal in it than the furnace was built for. The fact is that whenever a furnace is run above its capacity, it is bound to make smoke.

"If a boiler is properly equipped it will increase the draft; the ash will show less waste and clinker, also the tubes will show less soot and scale.

"Then again the volatile matter in soft coal is what causes smoke. Hence if the manufacturers would confine themselves to the use of a low volatile soft coal, used in the aforesaid manner, no doubt there would be less black smoke seen in our city."

IN WOMAN'S REALM

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM.

The "Boat" Hat a Distinctive Autumn Model—New Lace Veils.

One of the most distinctive of the autumn hats is the new "boat" hat, which is small with a rounded crown of medium height and a brim that turns up abruptly, the greatest height being at the back, where it is three or four inches deep, gradually lessening toward the front, where it makes a sharp angle like the prow of a boat. Velvet and moire are the materials most favored for this hat.

Fine lace veils are draped around small white plush or felt hats. The design of the lace motifs is quite wide apart, so that the wearer arranges the veil in a manner to display a butterfly or a leaf on one side of the face or at the round of the chin.

The present is a season of entire gowns, for, although we are wearing a number of coat suits and odd skirts for occasions, the vogue of the separate coat renders the entire gown very practical. The dress illustrated has all the new features of the season.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

This May Manton pattern is cut in sizes from 34 to 42 inches bust measure. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number, 7592, and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage. When ordering use coupon.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

GRAPE JUICE BEVERAGES.

THE use of unfermented grape juice is the basis of several cures. The juice is said to be excellent in some forms of stomach and intestinal troubles and for those who need a tonic or are suffering from anaemia.

A number of ways of preparing the grape juice are given here. It may be put up with or without sugar. Select sound, ripe Concord grapes. Remove the stems, rejecting all grapes that are soft. Wash a peck and put into a preserving kettle with three quarts of cold water. When soft enough strain the juice, but do not press the pulp through. Add two thirds of a cup of sugar for each quart and bring to a boil, skimming carefully. Sterilize the bottles, fill with juice and cork tightly. Keep in a cool, dark place.

Unsweetened Juice.

If you desire to make grape juice without sugar stem the fruit and lay it in cold water. Lift out with a skimmer and put into a kettle. Bring slowly to the boiling point and cook until the skins break. Pour into a bag made of coarse new cotton cloth and hang to drain overnight. Next morning bring to a boil again and have jars hot and sterilized. Fill to overflowing and seal immediately. This juice should have one-third cold water added for drinking.

Fancy Drinks.

Nectar of Grape Juice.—Take one pint of grape juice, two lemons, one orange, about one cupful of sugar and a pint of ice water. Serve cold. Garnish with slices of orange and lemon.

Grape Juice Punch.—Boil together one pound of sugar and half a pint of water until a thread may be drawn from it. Take from the fire and when cool add the juice of six lemons and a quart of grape juice. Stand it aside overnight. Serve with plain or soda water.

A Spiced Draught.

Grape Juice Mulled.—Grate the rind of an orange and soak it for a quarter of an hour in the juice of a lemon. Add a half pint of water and a teaspoonful of sugar. Put these in a saucepan, add a quart bottle of unfermented grape juice, four whole cloves and a pinch of powdered mace. Bring it slowly to the boiling point and simmer ten minutes.

Make a sirup by boiling together a cup of sugar and two tablespoonfuls of water. Do not stir, but let it cook till it will thread. Pour this gradually on the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs, add the grape juice at boiling point, dust lightly with grated nutmeg and serve at once.

THE GHOST HUNT.

Jolly Sport For the Halloween Party.

HALLOWEEN JACK HORNER PIE.

Have a ghost hunt if you are planning a Halloween party. It's really lots of fun, and your guests will all want to come again next year.

Have James Whitcomb Riley's famous words "F'r the gobble-uns 'll git you ef you don't watch out" in large letters over the door, which opens with a clank of chains when the guests enter.

Every one, of course, wears a false face and a domino or fancy dress. When they are all assembled the lights are turned low and a guide in Mephisto makeup or dressed as a witch takes the party on the ghost hunt. Not a word may be spoken, not a giggle heard, no matter what the provocation. Every one must look straight ahead. Something dreadful will happen to him if he so much as turns his head from side to side.

The guide leads on through doors that open and close with a bang. Goblins with hideously painted faces and holding stuffed clubs are stationed along the way to punish offenders. The party is led upstairs through dark rooms where open windows make the air cold; up into the attic, which is lighted only with burning alcohol and salt; then down and out into the yard and, if there is an outside cellar door, through this into the cold, damp cellar.

All along the route imitation "spooks" are met in the most unexpected places. Grinning jack o' lantern heads with ghostly bodies peer out from dark corners. False faces with lights behind them, black cats, bats and big toy spiders hang from webs made of string.

The guests are let to stumble over small objects left in their path, in pans and things that make as much noise as possible.

The chief ghost is seated behind a canvas screen in the cellar, and around him are groups of small goblins.

The ghost hunters sit on the floor in silence for a few minutes. Then the aid of the chief ghost names a guest and gives a list of his pet sins and weaknesses. When this is done the chief asks the sinner if he has any defense to make and if he can satisfactorily clear himself. He is made to solemnly promise to tell a ghost story when supper is being served.

If, however, he cannot offer any good excuse for his sins the chief names his punishment. This is made as ridiculous as possible. The trip back from the chief ghost's cave is made as funny as possible. You can plan all sorts of tricks to play on the "hunters."

The "hunt" ends with a daintily served supper, with appropriate table decorations, food and ices, not forgetting plenty of apples, nuts, candy and fruit. Favors and pretty souvenirs are given each guest before the evening's entertainment is brought to a close.

The ever popular Jack Horner pie is in evidence this year among Halloween novelties, and the one illustrated is the very latest and prettiest of its kind. As you see, the carrot has the place of honor as a decoration. The pie proper is covered with a frill of pumpkin colored crape paper.

In the shops these novelties are quite expensive, but any one at all skilled in making paper trifles can easily evolve one of these pies.

Fall Hat Predictions.

Fancy feathers in profusion.

Stiff wings on smart walking hats.

Plush is to have a decided vogue.

Contrary to custom, many early hats are large.

Oddities are less in favor than in the last few seasons.

Crowns are large and most of the fall hats will come well down on the head.

Pistache, capucine, tilleul and magenta are shades the Parisienne will adopt.

Horn buckles are a favorite kind of trimming.

Fuchsia will be used in combination with the more somber tones.

Genuine Loveliness.

Being pretty does not necessarily hinder a woman from being intellectual. If she is clever enough to be beautiful she should be smart enough to be intellectual.

The girl who is plain is plain because she does not know how to be otherwise. Beautifying of one kind brings along beauty of another kind. The girl who cultivates a sweet, smiling face finds it so attractive that she trains her heart to match it.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

The classic Astor theatre at Broadway and 45th street will reopen on Monday, October 7. Messrs. Cohan & Harris, who now control this playhouse, have expended a large amount of money for interior decorations, and have also made some radical architectural changes, which will further beautify this already nearly perfect playhouse. The first attraction of the season at the Astor will be A. H. Woods' production of "The Woman Hater's Club," a Viennese musical importation Americanized by George V. Hobart. Miss Sallie Fisher is the principal feminine member of "The Woman Hater's Club," others in the cast are Mrs. Stuart Robson, Dolly Castles, Joseph Santley, Snitz Edwards, Wauter Lawrence and Leslie Kenyon. Seats are now on sale

With a lot of new faces and a little new talk George Bernard Shaw's "Man and Superman" returned to the Hudson theatre this week after an absence of six years. Nearly everything was new except Robert Loraine and Alfred Hickman—even the automobile in the second act was new, and did not work nearly so well as the red one which Mr. Loraine featured when automobiles were more novel as accessories to stage business. Several new lines appear to have been written into the piece, but they did not change the general situations. In fact, about the only effect they had was to make the play better. Mr. Loraine's lines as John Tanner were well received and the audience thoroughly enjoyed bright passages with which Mr. Shaw loves to lampoon English society. A newcomer was Miss May Blayney, who is pleasantly remembered as the Hen Pheasant in "Chantecler." She appeared to have a keen understanding of the character Mr. Shaw tried to draw in Ann Whitfield. Miss Mabel Love played the part taken in 1906 by the lamented Clara Bloodgood.

The chief fact connected with the opening of New York's newest theatre, the Eltinge, in Forty-second street, is the success of Miss Jane Cowl. The honors are unquestionably hers. The piece in which she appeared was described as "a play of today." But it will also be well described as a play of tomorrow, and a play of yesterday, and a play of our fathers' and mothers' times, for it is melodrama with at least two thrills in every line, and it is about "crooks," and persecuted virtue; is well put together, and is much more worth seeing than any recent drama of its class. There can be no doubt that riches will swim to his venture. A. H. Woods is known as an analyst of the human spine. Bayard Veiller is the author of this melodrama, "Within the Law," and Mr. Veiller's wholly altruistic purpose is to show that by the application of expert legal advice any honest citizen may caper in a criminal career and yet keep within the law. The thought has its fascinations.

CORBETT'S RECOVERY SURE.

Former Champion Rallies From Recent Operation.

Philadelphia, Oct. 5.—James J. Corbett, former champion pugilist, has rallied from the operation he underwent recently for appendicitis, and his physicians announced that his recovery is practically certain.

Corbett's wonderful constitution, it was explained, has helped him through the ordeal. Physicians say the operation would have proved fatal to many men of frailer build. The former champion's strength is returning gradually, and he was resting easy.

CIRCUIT CLOUTS MADE BY GIANTS

Their Ability to Pull Off Long Hits May Win World Series.

46 FOUR BAGGERS

Present Series Will Have to Unearth New Hero to Take Baker's Place—Doyle and Merkle Lead in Extra Base Wallops.

When the Giants and the White Elephants battled last fall for the championship of the world, J. Franklin Baker, with his home run wallops, decided which team should draw down the big end of the prize money. The best known citizen of Trappe, Md., will not have a chance to participate in the contests for the world's title that start next Tuesday and it is possible that the coming series may develop a home run hero on the other side of the major league horizon. McGraw certainly has on his team several persons who have made it a habit to insert four-baggers just at the psychological moment. "Chief" Meyers' first assistant in the backstopping department—Arthur Wilson—has hit for the grand tour thrice this season and every time he has done so his clout has meant a New York victory. On April 20 Wilson made a four bagger off Nap Rucker in the ninth inning and changed the aspect of the contest. July 1 he came to the bat against Tyler, of Boston, with the bases filled and cleared them, driving the ball out of the lot. September 9 New York won over Brooklyn, 7 to 2, the Giants having tallied twice in the first inning and having two men on the hassocks when it was Wilson's turn to bat. He hit for the circuit and gave the McGrawites a margin that assured victory.

Pretty nearly every home run made by a Giant this season—they have made 46 homers—has been manufactured at the right moment. Larry Doyle, winner of the Chalmers' car, and Fred Merkle, have been particularly successful in making homers this year. The records show that each man has made ten and that they have made their circuit drives off top-notch twirlers, too—men like Grover Cleveland Alexander, Nap Rucker, Arthur Fromme, Jimmy Lavender and George Franklin Suggs. Beals, Becker and Chief Meyers each have made six homers this year and Johnny Murray, Fred Snodgrass and Arthur Wilson each three. Herzog and Devore, each with two and Fletcher, with one, complete the list of the Giants' manufacturers of four-baggers. Below will be found a list of the home runs made by McGraw's players this year and information showing as well that most of the hits have been made at the right moment:

Murray, 3—June 10, off Richie, Chicago; July 30, off Lavender, Chicago; Sept. 21, off Camnitz, Pittsburg. The Giants won this game, 2 to 1, Murray's homer giving them the decision.

Snodgrass, 3—June 4, off Willis, St. Louis; July 2, off Dickson, Boston; Sept. 5, off Alexander, Philadelphia. The Giants won this game, 4 to 2, but they had not crossed the plate until Snodgrass tore off his four bagger in the seventh inning.

Wilson, 3—April 20, off Rucker, Brooklyn. Hit made in ninth gave Giants a victory; July 1, off Tyler, Boston. Four bagger came with bases full; Sept. 9, off Ragon, Brooklyn. Hit was made with two men on bases and gave Giants one more run than Superbas obtained.

Herzog, 2—April 26, off Donnelly, Boston; July 9, off Brown, Chicago.

Devore, 2—June 1, off Harmon, St. Louis; Sept. 20, off Harter, Cincinnati. Josh's drive gave the Giants the decision over the Reds.

Fletcher, 1—June 5, off Fletcher, Cincinnati.

Merkle, 10—April 19, off Rucker, Brooklyn; May 3, off Alexander, Philadelphia; June 20, off Brown, Boston; July 1, off Tyler, Boston, ball being driven over left field wall at Polo Grounds—one of the longest hits on record at that field; August 3, off Fromme, Cincinnati (two) Giants won this game, 4 to 2, Becker also making a four bagger; August 24, off Adams, Pittsburg. Giants won this game, 3 to 2, Merkle driving in all the runs with his circuit clout; Sept. 5, off Alexander, Philadelphia; Sept. 6, off Finneran, Philadelphia; Sept. 13, off Lavender, Chicago.

Doyle, 10—May 1, off Seaton, Philadelphia; May 11, off Cole, Chicago; May 25, off Stack, Brooklyn. May 27, off Knetzer, Brooklyn; June 8, off Fromme, Cincinnati; June 14, off Camnitz, Pittsburg; June 20, off Donnelly, Boston; June 29, off Brown, Boston; August 1, off Suggs, Cincinnati; Sept. 2, off Perdue, Boston. This hit gave the Giants the decision over the Braves, 5 to 2, the game lasting twelve innings.

Meyers, 6—April 17, off Brown, Boston; May 15, off Camnitz, Pittsburg; May 31, off Willis, St. Louis; June 3, off Sallee, St. Louis. Three men were on the bases when the Chief made this homer and it broke up the battle; June 10, off Richie, Chicago; June 27, off Brennan, Philadelphia. The Giants won this game, 4 to 3, but they did not have a counter until the Chief struck this telling blow, two men being on the bases at the time and the inning being the eighth.

Becker, 6—July 5, off Barger, Brooklyn; July 24, off Fromme, Cincinnati; August 3, off Fromme, Cincinnati. This hit gave the Giants the game, 3-2; August 10, off Steele, St. Louis. This hit, made in the first inning, with a man on base, decided the game in the Giants' favor; Sept. 5, off Schultz, Philadelphia; Sept. 10, off Sallee, St. Louis.

SOX AND GIANTS EVENLY MATCHED

Little to Choose Between Two Teams In World's Series.

MANAGER MAY DECIDE RESULT

Unexpected Move by Either McGraw or Stahl at Crucial Moment Likely to Win Championship For the Team. Former Best Baseball General.

By TOMMY CLARK.

Red hot arguments are now in order over the outcome of the world's series. As usual in such cases, it is very difficult to find two men who agree on the result. Partisans of both teams cannot see how their favorites can lose.

It is interesting to follow the line of dope those not directly interested in either team hand out.

Of course there is always a likelihood of sentiment influencing judgment as much as ever, although straighter dope seems to be offered this year than ever before. According to the table of percentage the Bostons are a stronger team this year than the Athletics were last. That should give them the edge in the argument, but it is good betting that the dopesters with New York affiliations will be able to prove that the Giants are far stronger this year than they were last, and the chances are that outside of Mathewson they are, but Tesreau, who was the Giants' savior when Marquard broke down in midseason, may be able to take the place of "Big Six."

While discussing the strength of the Boston and New York club, a comparison of the individuals of the two teams is very interesting. Catchers Meyers and Wilson of the Giants have an edge on Carrigan, Cady and Nunamaker of the Red Sox. The former two are better peggers and batsmen than the Boston trio. Carrigan's arm is not as good as it used to be, but he has a great baseball head. Cady has not had much experience, while Nunamaker is slow. The Giants have the better infield. Merkle at first base is a better all around man than Stahl. Doyle at second base puts it all over Yerkes of the Sox. At short Wagner of Boston is steadier than Fletcher of the Giants. It's a tossup between Herzog of the Giants and Gardner of the Sox at third.

In the outfield Speaker, Lewis and Hooper of the Red Sox outclass Murray, Devore and Snodgrass of the Giants in every way. In the pitching department Boston has the edge. The Sox have five good ones in Wood, Bedient, Hall, O'Brien and Collins, while the Giants will have to depend on Mathewson, Tesreau, Wiltse, Marquard and Crandall. The writer wishes to go on record as saying that Matty and Tesreau will prove equal to the task of stopping the speed boys despite the fact that Manager Stahl intends to use Joe Wood in three of the games, if possible. Tesreau has been twirling great ball of late, and "Big Six" will be able to hold up his end as usual, even though he has been in harness many years. I believe that in Tesreau the Sox will run up against a big snag, one that will prove to be their undoing.

The Sox have the best bunch of hitters and have a much better fielding club than the Giants, but the latter has the best base runners and are more aggressive than the Sox.

Granting that the Red Sox have the better pitching staff, the classier outfield and the better batting and defensive aggregation, there is one big advantage that the Giants have, and that is the managerial side.

Many times during the series Johnny McGraw and Jake Stahl will match their wits and baseball knowledge. The winner of the world's title may depend upon which leader is the more clever baseball general. History tells us that the world's honors have been decided before by the sudden shifting of one player at a crucial moment in an important battle. Once a team is thrown off its balance when things are apparently going its way its steadiness can seldom be restored. Then the other team sweeps through the balance of the series.

There is no quicker thinker in baseball than Johnny McGraw. He is always there on the coaching line, ready to take advantage of an opportunity to win. He has shown this many times by clever jockeying of men when a situation looked hopeless and has pulled his team out a winner.

He is one of the greatest managers in the history of the game. He will force his players to overcome any natural handicap under which they may labor during the series.

With all due respect to Stahl and the manner in which he handled the Sox this season, it must be stated that he has yet to prove the equal of the Giants' leader.

JUST TAPS BY "BUNTS"

The Boston Red Sox have six batters and the Giants have five in the .300 class.

Manager Joe Birmingham, of the Cleveland team, is the youngest manager in the major leagues, being only 28 years of age.

The Chicago Cubs have signed Mike Heckinger, a Rachine, Wis., catcher. He hit for .312 in the Wisconsin-Illinois League the past season.

Now that it is time to can white shoes and because overcoats are ripe it is pretty nearly time the horsehide flingers gave way to the onrush of the pigskin. Today will probably wind up local baseball, however, and then we can turn our attention wholly to the gridiron game.

A number of the buggiest bugs are already talking of next year's league ball but if we ever happen to run across any of these fanniest the lid is liable to fall good and heavy. The subject of baseball is getting wearisome.

Local fans will probably not see the Yankees here this season as October 12 was set as the date for their appearance but as this falls on Columbus Day and a number of the Plainfield players intend to take in the world series game in New York on that date, the game at the oval will have to be called off.

What has become of that much talked of Marathon race carded to be pulled off here some time during the latter part of next month. We have not seen that promoter since he first proposed the affair. He must have been scared away by the enthusiasm awakened over the affair.

It now looks as though the question of the Sunday-school baseball championship was practically decided and Hope Chapels have nothing left to do but take the cup back to the club rooms.

"Have you an opinion on the world's series?" asked a guest at an uptown hotel yesterday. "I have," replied the clerk. "What is it?" "I never saw the Red Sox, but when they see McGraw on the coaching lines they'll quit!" "I'll pay my bill right now. I'm from Boston and I won't stay here another moment!" exclaimed the guest as he told the porter to get his luggage. And he went away too.

Pitcher Wood Uses Few Curves.

Pitcher Joe Wood has relied on speed, control and support for his recent victories. He doesn't use his curve unless he has to.

Lewis Always on the Job.

Outfielder Duffy Lewis of the Boston Red Sox has not missed a game or an inning in any game this season.

Catcher Wilson Great Thrower.

Arthur Wilson of the Giants is one of the greatest throwing catchers in the business.

CONNIE MACK IS AFTER NEW OUTFIELD

After winning two world's championships with an outfield which really never possessed major league class, Connie Mack has finally come to the conclusion that he will have to improve this department of his team if he expects to be a contender in future campaigns. So long as he had Danny Murphy in the game his hitting made up for the shortcomings of the other fielders on the team, but with the injury to Murphy Mack found himself with a great infield, some good pitchers, but a decidedly weak outfield.

HOPE CHAPEL WINS SUNDAY-SCHOOL CUP

Two Games Forfeited to This Team Last Night Win Championship.

At the regular weekly meeting of the Sunday-school Baseball League held last evening, the season was virtually brought to an end by a number of petty quarrels which were thrown up in a one sided and peevious manner. The main business coming before the board was to render a decision on the re-opening of the Temple Baptist-Hope Chapel protest. At a previous league meeting the protest was upheld and the game ordered to be replayed which to some extent seemed to favor the Chapel team. The Temple nine was advised to re-open the matter outlined in the protest and did so at last night's meeting, which was one of the hottest of the season, and some of the others have been slightly warm.

Representatives were present from every league team, except South Plainfield, and the only reason assigned for their delegate not being in attendance was the fact that transportation facilities are so inadequate between here and his home town. William H. Conger duly presented the Temple side of the argument and although he did his best to convince everyone present the advisability of reversing the previous decision the board could not see it that way and when a vote was taken the three men voting all favored the upholding of the former decision.

When the game was ordered replayed, William Conger sprang to his feet and told all present that his team would positively not replay the Hope game and said that he would formally award the game as an unplayed forfeit to Hope Chapel. This placed the Chapelites in a tie for first place with the Monroe Avenue team and as James Robert McCormick, the representative of the latter aggregation said that he would withdraw his team from the league rather than play another contest with Hope chapel, the league cup became the property of Hope Chapel for the present season. McCormick's rash act in taking the decision of the league so one sided was looked upon with disfavor by the other members of the board and some assigned his withdrawal to a little illness on the part of the Monroe players which was easily diagonozed as cold feet. Others said that McCormick was so completely overcome by the decision that it put him off his mettle for the time being and had he known what he was doing at the time he never would have withdrawn so hastily.

Last night's meeting will probably wind up the second season of Sunday-school baseball and although the league has been run fairly smoothly during the past year there has been a number of petty squabbles which seemed almost useless to present Hope Chapel is conceded the winner for the present season and the cup will be presented to them at a suitable gathering in the near future. A number of the Hope Chapel players expressed their true sportsmanship in regard to the very untimely ending by saying that they would rather not take the cup at all than to receive it in this manner. Some doubt has been expressed as to whether the Hope's will accept the handsome trophy, but it is thought that out of respect for the donor alone they will take it as the season's award which they have so well earned in an uphill fight against some seemingly unsurmountable difficulties.

J. Stanley Robins, president of the league, returned home last evening on purpose to be in attendance at this all important affair and his presence probably prevented a fistic encounter among the overheated talksters.

EBBETS NOW IN CONTROL OF NEWARK

McGinnity and Smith Dispose of Stock in Newark Baseball Club.

Complete control of the Newark Baseball Club was secured yesterday by George L. Solomon, vice president of the Indians, and Charles Ebbets and Edward J. McKeever, of the Brooklyn club, when ninety-five shares of stock held by Joe McGinnity and H. Clay Smith were secured.

McGinnity retired from the club as president and manager and was given his unconditional release. The release was signed by Mr. Solomon, who assumed the duties of president following McGinnity's retirement. The club will hold a meeting before the annual meeting of the International League in December, when officers will be elected. It is expected that Mr. Solomon will be made president of the club.

Harry Smith, who was captain of the Indians last season, will undoubtedly be named to manage the club. It was believed in some quarters that Larry Sutton, of Newark, who has been doing scouting for the Superbas for several years, would be the choice of Ebbets for the job. Sutton stated today that this was out of the question. He had not been offered the place and would refuse any managerial job, because he liked his present work of digging up ball players from the bushes too well.

HAMILTON PUSHING HIS MEN TO LIMIT

Holy Cross Coach Is Out to Make a Gridiron Record.

In anticipation of the hard contest with the St. Alphonsus eleven, of New York, on Cricket Field, this afternoon, Coach Hamilton, of the Holy Cross football team, had his men out for a stiff drill last evening, and everyone of the seventeen men who reported were found to be in the finest kind of physical condition. With such a team as the metropolitan warriors as adversaries, the church team will have to extend itself to the limit in order to bring home a victory and the outsome will be watched with a good deal of interest as these same two aggregations played a scoreless tie on the same field last year. A number of the High School players are expected out to witness the contest in order to get a line on the only other local team of any consequence in this city or borough with which they will have to contend for the local title this year.

The Holy Cross players are exceptionally well groomed and should make a fine showing on the gridiron this year although they are booked to play some of the fastest elevens which indulge in the popular fall game. Manager Doyle has a number of home games scheduled and he intends to keep the sport from lagging in this city until it gets too cold to handle the ball. All the encouragement which the borough players received in their win against the Rosewood A. C. will stand them in good stead against the foe this afternoon which is considered an aggregation of a different stamp.

A number of new players attended the practice for the first time last night and among them are some promising candidates who will get a tryout this afternoon. James Cullen, the old High School end, will not be available today as he has not as yet rounded into form but when this star gets going at his old time clip, Hamilton will have a man he can rely upon for the end position, which is at present tolerably weak.

Another promising candidate for an end is Lester Hamilton, a brother of the Holy Cross coach, and he will get into the fray for a time at least this afternoon. Hamilton has been out of the game for sometime and is somewhat unfamiliar with the present day code of rules but his greenness will wear off with play and he is expected to shine in future contests. The backfield is due to remain the same as last week but the line is scheduled for a number of changes which will result in a decided strengthening of the defense.

DYNAMITE NOT STRONG ENOUGH

Agitators Substituted Nitroglycerin, It Is Charged.

DETAILS OF ALLEGED PLOT

Prosecutor Recites Conversation Between Plotters In Which It Was Suggested That Explosive Stronger Than Dynamite Be Used.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 5.—According to the charge made at the trial of the alleged dynamite plotters, Herbert S. Hockin referred to nitroglycerin, when he bought it in pursuance of the conspiracy to destroy nonunion "jobs," as "the strongest stuff ever invented."

It was after dynamite was found not to be "strong" enough, according to District Attorney Charles W. Miller, that the defendants in December, 1909, decided to use nitroglycerin. The details, as charged by Mr. Miller, were:

Ortie McManigal had been blowing up nonunion places with dynamite and was in Chicago. In response to a telegram from Hockin he went to Indianapolis.

"Decided to Use Nitro."

"We have decided to use nitro," said Hockin, "and we're going down to Muncie to get a supply."

"That's pretty dangerous stuff," said McManigal.

"Yes, it's the strongest stuff ever invented."

They went to Muncie, where they met J. B. McNamara, said Mr. Miller. On a pretext that they wanted to experiment they bought from J. W. Kaiser 120 quarts of nitroglycerin. They then rented a vacant house in which to hide the explosive.

Neighbors who saw the "dynamiters" coming and going at night, an express driver who hauled the explosive and a grocer who sold boxes are to testify.

Activities of the "Crew."

While the "crew" was on duty, Mr. Miller asserted, Charles N. Heum, Minneapolis; Henry W. Legleitner, then in Pitsburgh; Eugene A. Clancy, San Francisco; Frank C. Webb, New York; John T. Butler, Buffalo, and Michael J. Young, Boston, were active in sending information about nonunion "jobs" that were to be blown up and where the "dynamiters" were to go.

Frank M. Ryan, president of the Iron Workers' union, who carried on the arrangements by mail, Mr. Miller said, wrote a letter saying:

"Hockin will take care of the jobs at Davenport, Ia., and Peoria, Ill. We'll have to send a man to Mount Vernon, Ill., because Paul J. Morrin, at St. Louis, can't get to Mount Vernon, for he has been there before."

BIG TIME IS PLANNED FOR ATLANTIC FLEET

Elaborate Program of Exercises Begins Tomorrow.

Washington, Oct. 5.—Events in connection with the mobilization of the Atlantic fleet in New York will begin on Sunday, Oct. 6, according to announcement of a program made at the navy department. On that date Rear Admiral Hugo Osterhaus, commander in chief of the fleet, will arrive in New York and will receive on board his flagship Mayor Gaynor and the New York city reception committee. The next day the admiral with his staff will return the call of the mayor and the committee. The admiral will be met at the landing by the reception committee.

From then until Sunday, Oct. 13, when Secretary of the Navy Meyer arrives, there will be an almost continuous program of events to be participated in by the men of the fleet. On Thursday there will be a baseball game, to which the naval officers and men will be invited. On the same day the number of ships in the North river will be swelled by the arrival of the reserve battleship fleet and the auxiliaries. The destroyers will drop anchor in the river on Friday, and there will be a second ball game.

On Saturday, at 1.30 o'clock, there will be a land parade of bluejackets through the streets of New York. Saturday night the officers will be the guests of the city at a smoker to be held at the Hotel Astor. On Monday morning the secretary of the navy on the Dolphin will review the fleet. Later in the day the Mayflower, with President Taft aboard, will arrive and the president will review the fleet in the afternoon. The Mayflower will be followed by the Dolphin and press boat Nashville during the review by the president.

In the evening an official dinner in honor of the president, cabinet and 600 navy officers will be given at the Hotel Astor.

On Tuesday morning the Mayflower, Dolphin and Nashville, with no flags flying, will move to the reviewing position, and at 11 o'clock the fleet will get under way to pass out in review.

Happenings Due Next Week

Washington, D. C., Oct. 5 (Special).—The middle West promises to be the storm centre of the national political campaign the coming week. Governor Wilson will be heard in Kansas, Missouri, Illinois and Ohio. Colonel Roosevelt will visit the same section and will be heard in several cities of Illinois a day or two before the appearance of the Democratic standard-bearer. Governor Marshall, Democratic candidate for Vice President, expects to devote the week to Illinois, Iowa and Wisconsin.

Republicans and Democrats of Rhode Island will hold their State convention to name candidates for governor and other State officers and representatives in Congress.

The trial of Police Lieutenant Becker for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, which is expected to be one of the most notable criminal trials that has taken place in this country in years, is scheduled to begin in New York City on Monday.

The by-election in the MacDonald constituency in Manitoba, which is fixed for Saturday, is attracting international attention from the fact that reciprocity with the United States is figuring as the most prominent issue in the contest.

Many educators of wide note will gather at South Hadley, Mass., on Tuesday for a two days' celebration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the mounding of Mount Holyoke College, which is the oldest institution in America for the higher education of women.

Another event of the week of interest in educational circles will be the formal inauguration and dedication of the Rice Institute at Houston, Texas. The institute is said to be one of the richest colleges in America and possesses an endowment of approximately $10,000,000, left by the late William Marsh Rice, for whose alleged murder in New York some years ago Albert T. Patrick is serving a life sentence in Sing Sing prison.

Monday is the day fixed for the reassembling of the British house of commons for the autumn session. The program for the session is a heavy one, especially when the importance of the legislation is considered. Foremost on the agenda are Home Rule, Welsh Disestablishment, the Franchise Bill and a measure to allow trades unions to contribute to funds for the support of Labor members of parliament.

During the week James Whitcomb Riley, the beloved Hossier poet, is to be the center of the greatest ovation ever tendered an American writer. Monday will be the poet's birthday anniversary and during the week special exercises in honor of the occasion will be held in the public schools and in literary and art societies throughout the country.

A total eclipse of the sun is to take place Thursday, but it will be invisible in the United States except as a very small partial eclipse in Florida and the southern portion of the Gulf States. The path of totality will cross South America from a point near Quito, Ecuador, to Rio Janeiro, Brazil, thence southeast across the Atlantic ocean.

Canadian historical and patriotic societies will join at the end of the week in a suitable celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the battle of Queenston Heights, in which the British were victorious over the American invaders, though they lost their valiant commander, General Sir Isaac Brock. On Saturday exercises in observance of the centenary will be held on the battlefield, which is marked by a magnificent monument of General Brock.

FATHER CLARK GOES ABROAD.

New York, Oct. 5 (Special).—Dr. Francis E. Clark, founder and president of the World's Christian Endeavor Union, accompanied by his wife and son, sailed today for Europe. The party will spend the winter touring the Holy Land and later will attend Christian Endeavor meetings to be held next spring in Norway, Sweden and Finland.

—Many a girl goes to Europe to complete an education that has never been begun.

HIGH MASONS TO MEET.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 5.—The most distinguished Masonic gathering of an international character that has ever met in the United States will assemble in this city next week for an international conference of supreme councils of the fraternity. The foreign delegates, a number of whom arrived in the city today, include Masons of the highest degree from France, Italy, Belgium, Greece, Egypt, Mexico, Switzerland and from several of the countries of South America and many of the larger cities of Canada.

WILSON THE GUEST OF BRYAN.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 5 (Special).—William J. Bryan welcomed Governor Woodrow Wilson upon the latter's arrival in Lincoln today to deliver an address. The Democratic presidential candidate will remain over tomorrow as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan at Fairview.

JUBILEE OF SUNDAY-SCHOOLS.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 5 (Special).—The Jubilee State Sabbath School convention, marking fifty years of Sabbath school work in Pennsylvania, was ushered in here this afternoon with a parade of 75,000 teachers and scholars. The convention will continue an entire week. On Monday there will be a testimonial to John Wanamaker, for many years chairman of the board of directors of the Pennsylvania Sabbath School Association.

1913 Abbott-Detroit 1913

BUILT FOR PERMANENCE. GUARANTEED FOR LIFE.

THE Abbott-Detroit for 1913 has arrived in Plainfield. Six models, covering the widest possible range in pleasure car construction. It is with pride, Mr. Buyer, that we present for your inspection the 1913 Abbott-Detroit cars—justifiable pride, indeed, for without doubt they represent the greatest automobile value, at the price, in the world—the utmost in refinement and design, and practically the zenith of automobile construction.

Mind you, the Abbott-Detroit for 1913 does not represent the abandonment of the features which made the 1912 Abbott-Detroit supreme in its class.

No other line of cars created the sensation in the automobile world as did the 1912 Abbott-Detroit. Right here in the Metropolitan District, against all the tremendous competition, the Abbott-Detroit for 1912 forged to the front and stayed there.

We predict an even greater success for the 1913 models, in which we have retained all the splendid features which made the 1912 Abbott-Detroit the wonder of wonders, and which distinguished it in gruelling speed contests and heart-breaking, grinding road tests. We have embodied in the 1913 models every known refinement and feature which make for a perfect car.

CHIEF among these is our Underslung Spring Suspension—one of the most radical, yet practical, pieces of automobile engineering, proven so by the hardest tests, resulting in the most comfortable riding car in the world.

The picture at the top of this advertisement shows its application. The centre of gravity is lowered, giving opportunity for the long, graceful lines and beauty of design which characterize the 1913 Abbott-Detroits. But remember the road clearance is not lessened one fraction of an inch.

Another and equally important feature is the Electric Self-Starter. We have applied a principle—simple, yet the result is a self-starter 100 per cent. dependable. A unit by itself, absolutely unfailing, and part of the regular equipment of every 1913 Abbott-Detroit.

These are only two of the most important features of the 1913 models. Space will not permit of an analysis and description of each of the many details which together make the 1913 Abbott-Detroits the marvels they are.

During the few days the cars have been in Plainfield they have been surrounded by admiring throngs as they stood in front of our show rooms. An indication—isn't it?—of the widespread interest in the cars themselves.

You owe it to yourself to come in and inspect these new models before you even consider another make of car.

We quote below a few specifications to give an idea, if possible, of their value. But you must see them to appreciate their splendid new features.

SPECIFICATIONS

44-50 Seven Passenger Touring 121-inch Wheel Base . . . . . $2,000 F. O. B. Factory

44-50 Battleship Roadster, 121-inch Wheel Base . . . . . $2,150 F. O. B. Factory

Motor.

We shall retain in the 1913 models the Continental type of motor which so distinguished itself in the 1912 models. Long stroke, valves enclosed, noiseless. The 34-40 motors are 4¼x5¼; the 44-50 motors are 4½x5½. Big, powerful motors, delivering power far in excess of all demands, with wonderful hill-climbing ability.

Electric Self-Starter.

All 1913 models are equipped with our own specially designed, self-contained electrical self-starter, absolutely independent of ignition and lighting systems. One hundred per cent. dependable—in fact, practically unfailing.

Underslung Spring Suspension.

By our new application of the underslung principle, we have produced the easiest riding car in the world, total elimination of side swaying, long, low, beautiful lines, yet with no decrease in road clearance. A reference to the picture above shows its construction.

Abbott-Detroit Over Size Tires.

Large tires mean comfort and economy. The Abbott-Detroit is supplied with tires over-sized. The famous Goodyear No-Rim-Cut, mounted on Booth Demountable Rims. The 34-40 models being equipped with 34x4 inch tires, while the 44-50 models have 36x4½ inches, with the exception of the Battleship Roadster, which is fitted with 35x4½ inches all around. Large artillery wheels, made of selected hickory.

The Famous Dry Disc Clutch

Is used in this year's cars. There is no radical change here. None is needed. This clutch is right in principle and in performance. Its use in all Abbott-Detroit "44" cars last year is conclusive proof that at last the clutch has been found leaving nothing to be desired.

Bearings.

Timken Roller and Imported Schaefer Annular Bearings used throughout. Nothing further need be said. Bearings can be no better.

Lighting System—

One hundred and eighty ampere-hour storage battery; Tungsten globes in all lamps; lamps black enameled body and nickel trimmings; electric generator.

Dual system—independent of lighting and starting.

Painting—

34-40 Five-Passenger, Fore-Door Touring Car, 116-inch Wheel Base, $1,700 F. O. B. Factory

Startling, isn't it? But it's so, and we will "show you" gladly, if you will call.

The 1913 Abbott-Detroit output is not to be materially increased over the number manufactured in 1912. Therefore we cannot hope to supply the great demand which will surely be made for the 1913 models. It is a case of "first come, first served." We urge immediate action, so that you may not be disappointed. All orders will be filled in the order of their receipt. Come in, or phone for a demonstration now.

LEADING CITIZENS NABBED IN A RAID

Somerset County Towns Are Stirred by Arrests for Sabbath Violation.

CHURCHGOERS SHOCKED

Prisoners and Confiscated Liquor Loaded Into Automobiles by County Detective Totten and Five Deputy Sheriffs.

Somerville, N. J., Oct. 7.—Twenty-four well known citizens of Somerset county had a free automobile ride on the Sabbath to the county jail as the result of raids made by County Detective Totten and five deputies on "speak easies" and gambling connected with a number of stores in Raritan, Somerville and Bound Brook. The arrests have caused a big sensation in three towns, as Somerset county was believed to be closed tighter on Sunday than any other county in the state.

The greatest sensation was in Raritan at noon, when hundreds of people coming out of the churches along Main street beheld a number of their fellow citizens carried out of town as prisoners in automobiles. The men had been caught in raids made just before the noon hour on the Riverview hotel and Solmini' French bakery. The men caught in the bakery had heretofore been considered as exemplary family men who were seen coming from the establishment Sunday carrying packages of cakes and ice cream for their families, but when the place was raided a crowd of "family men" were caught in a rear room drinking beer and whisky.

The men and the liquor were hastily loaded in automobiles and brought to the county jail at this place.

Antonio Solmini, the proprietor of the place, was held under $1,000 bonds on a charge of selling liquor without a license and the "family men" were released on bail to appear as witnesses against him.

George Huff, proprietor of the Riverview hotel, was also held in bail.

Later in the day the detectives entered the shoe store of A. Mondrone in Bound Brook and in a rear room found a number of men drinking and gambling. A short distance from Mondrone's the detectives raided the fruit store of T. Solmini and gathered in more violators of the law. Twelve prisoners were brought to the county jail as the result of the Bound Brook raid. Mondrone and Solmini were held in $1,000 bail.

Chief of Police Bellis and three policemen raided the rubber shop of Harry Pollock in this borough and arrested the proprietor and three men whom they found shooting craps in a rear room.

CROWDS SWARM TO SEE FIEDLER'S CHOICE MILLINERY

The very name "Fiedler," a synonym for honest dealing, low prices and the very latest and choicest in millinery creations, drew a big crowd to the new store at 133 East Front street on the occasion of the formal opening on Saturday. Many, indeed, had come merely to inspect, but they remained to buy, for as one fashionably gowned woman said, "I just can't help it." Never before has such a variety of attractive and charming stock of millinery been on display in this section of New Jersey and judging by the rush of customers on Saturday, Fiedler's has become permanently established as a leading institution in local retail trade. The fact that the prosperous concern has a chain of several stores in Greater New York, permits them to buy in great quantities and therefore at a considerable less figure. This is why they can afford to give the patron the benefit of much lower prices than can be obtained at other millinery shops. And here's a tip to the woman who would be in style and would buy where the cheapest and best is to be had; if you have not already visited Fiedler's don't make up your mind to purchase anything in the millinery line until you inspect the superb stock at 133 East Front street. ***

RED SOX VS. GIANTS GAMES PLAYED HERE

Every Play Will Be Described in Detail at Daily Press Office.

While baseball magnates, fans, players and scribes from all parts of the country are clamoring to get admission to the Polo Grounds tomorrow afternoon those in this vicinity can be resting with confidence on their chances of witnessing the big game without having to bother with the troublesome pasteboard or the twenty-six mile journey to the New York field. In front of the office of the Daily Press, on North avenue, the game will be described in detail to as many as wish to hear it. Every play, hit and run will come into the Daily Press office almost instantaneously and the score by innings and lineup of both contestants will be on exhibition from one of the front windows. Through a megaphone the name of the man at bat and the balls and strikes on him will be given out just as they come from the lips of the umpire.

Plainfield fans will be assured of knowing all about the world series contests, both in New York and Boston, by means of this method and a large crowd is expected to take advantage of the novel feature. All of this detail work has been made possible through the recent installation of a general news ticker at the Daily Press office and the service during the world series is assured to be instantaneous and accurate.

TRACY'S FIRM WINS A BIG COMMISSION

Selected as Architects of the $2,230,000 Capitol of Missouri.

Jefferson City, Mo., Oct. 7.—The Missouri State Capitol Commission has selected Evarts Tracy and Egerton Swartout, of New York, as the architects for the new Capitol. The design submitted by this firm won easily in the competition, which closed yesterday, except for the approval of the State officers, which will be given today.

The building is estimated to cost $2,230,127 without interior decorations. It will be 420 feet long, 220 feet wide, with a dome rising 232 feet above the level of the terrace. The exterior is Corinthian in design, while the interior is Ionic. The main entrance is marked by eight massive pillars 48 feet high, surmounted by Corinthian capitals.

Evarts Tracey, who is a member of the firm of Tracy, Swartout & Litchfield, 244 Fifth avenue, New York city, lives in this city. The firm designed the Yale Club, Home Club, Hotel Webster, New York; the National Metropolitan Bank, Washington, D. C.; the Connecticut Savings Bank Building, New Haven, Conn.; the Somerset County Court House at Somerville; the Minneapolis Club, Minneapolis, and the United States Postoffice, Denver.

ANTICS OF AN AUTO CAR ON THE BRICK PAVEMENT

An automobile owned and driven by Armstrong Mulford, of North avenue, met with a mishap this morning while going east on Front street. At a point about opposite the Hotel Waldorf, Mr. Armstrong, who had been riding along the trolley tracks, attempted to turn out to let a car go by. As he did so the machine shot toward the curb. The front of the car hit a wooden post, and at the same instant the auto turned completely about and headed in the opposite direction.

As the rear of the auto swung around it mounted the sidewalk and one of the rear wheels was completely wrecked. That was about the only damage. It was found necessary to tow the machine to a local garage, where it is being repaired. Mr. Armstrong was accompanied by his son, Jesse Mulford. Neither one was injured. Mr. Mulford, who says that he was going about twelve miles an hour, blames the brick pavement for the accident.

MISS KAISER RESIGNS.

Miss Hazel M. Kaiser, who has been the soprano soloists at the First Baptist church this year, has resigned, to take up concert work in the west. Miss Kimball, of New York, was the soloist at yesterday's services. A successor to Miss Kaiser will be secured within a short time.

"250 And" will be the topic of the mid-week prayer-meeting at the First Baptist church Wednesday night.

Y. M. C. A. STARTS FALL SCHEDULE

Present Term Promises to Be a Banner One for Association Work.

SCIENTIFIC CLASSING

Many New Classes Inaugurated—Special Attention Given to the Juvenile Members Classed According to Age and Physical Ability.

After the usual summer recess, during which a slight lull is prevalent in the gymnastic department of the local Young Men's Christian Association, the officers are ready once again to begin the association activities anew and are looking forward to the greatest season in the history of the well known local institution. During the last two weeks in September the building was closed for renovations and during that interval the tank was treated to a coat of paint, the building renovated from top to bottom and everything put in readiness for the busy fall and winter season.

The Plainfield Y. M. C. A. is the only organization of its nature within a fifteen-mile radius and its membership covers all of the surrounding suburbs. During the past four years the widespread influence of the Y. M. C. A. has been predominate in this and other cities and during this period of time the local association has had to add a number of modern improvements to cope with the present day requirements. Among the more prominent of these has been the motion picture machine which has enabled the association to present weekly film programs that have become a regular week-end diversion to many people.

In order to make the physical end of the work as popular and profitable the schedule this year has been drawn up on a scientific scale. The program of classes and restriction of ages were compiled by thoroughly competent men who might well be called experts on the boy problem, and they have added several new classes which will be of aid both to men and boys.

As has been his custom for the past four years, C. William Bingeman, will personally supervise all work done in the Boys' department and it is his intention to select a corps of leaders who will assist him in giving the individual youth the attention he requires to get the good that is in the association for him. Mr. Bingeman has been unusually successful during his connection with the Plainfield Y. M. C. A. and has become known to nearly every lad in the city.

The work in the physical department for both boys and men will be under the supervision of E. C. Ostlin and he will co-operate in the boys' work with Mr. Bingeman. The gymnasium classes for the junior boys were inaugurated last week, but under the new routine it will probably take a short time to get the regular gym work going along smoothly.

In accordance with the scientific scale upon which the arrangement of the classes has been based, a number of sub-divisions have been necessitated which will prove of mutual advantage to both instructor and member. The junior class has been split up into two divisions, one of which will be known as the Older Boys' class and will consist of lads from fourteen to sixteen years of age, or in accordance with their physical development. Mr. Bingeman will arrange the classes and if an applicant is under developed he will be placed with fellows of his own physical ability and those a little faster in their development than their age would warrant, will be treated likewise. As far as can be determined at the present time, this class is likely to consist of the smaller and younger High School boys and will probably be limited to the adolescent stage.

The younger boys that formerly made up the combined junior class will be drilled under the head of the younger Boys' class and this division will be made up approixmately of boys from twelve to fourteen years of age in the pre-adolescent stage. It will cater chiefly to the boy who is slow to mix and inclined to be backward.

Some difficulty was encountered in arranging a class for High School boys so that the hours would not conflict in any way with their regular schedule of scholastic work, but the problem has been solved by establishing a session for the lower class in the forenoon and one for the three upper classes in the afternoon. The morning class will be started tomorrow and it is expected to prove one of the most popular and largely attended divisions on the schedule. The freshmen have school work in the afternoon and as this gives them the whole morning to themselves which cannot be utilized to any great advantage because of the lack of companionship which every fellow re-

CRAB A POLITICAL ORACLE.

Included in six dozen fine fat crabs which George Zeisz, of West Third street, captured off the big dock Saturday as one which bore unusual markings. Instead of the usual crab colorings it was decorated on the underside with wavy blue lines encircling a small but distinct pink "W." Mr. Zeisz, whose knowledge of crabalogy has made him an authority for years, says the peculiar decoration fortells a Democratic landslide this fall, the "W" standing for Wilson. He made this announcement at a crab supper which he gave to a party of friends Saturday night.

THEIR PLEASURE DRIVE BEGAN WITH RUNAWAY

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Vail, of 927 West Fourth street; Barton Davis and his mother, Mrs. E. W. Davis, of 941 West Fourth street, received painful injuries yesterday afternoon when they were thrown from a carriage as they were about to start on a pleasure drive. A patent clip was not securely fastened and allowed the shafts to drop on the horse's heels. This frightened the animal and he bolted straight for a trolley pole close by.

The carriage was wrecked and the occupants were thrown out in the street. Mr. Vail received a cut over the eye and his shoulder was bruised. Mrs. Vail and Mrs. Davis both sustained sprained ankles and shock, while Mr. Davis received bruises and slight cuts about the legs and arms. Dr. Raphael Yood was summoned and gave "first aid" treatment. Later Dr. P. B. Cregar, the family physician, took charge of the injured people. In his opinion the injuries are not of a serious nature.

The party had just gotten into the carriage and Mr. Davis, who was driving, was turning the horse around to go in the opposite direction, when the accident occurred. The horse broke away from the carriage and was caught by Robert Cline after running a short distance. It was not injured.

END COMES AT EIGHTY TO MRS. VANDERBEEK

Widow of One of Plainfield's Old-Time Leading Merchants.

Mrs. Eliza A. Vanderbeek, aged about 80 years, widow of Andrew Vanderbeek, for a great many years one of the leading merchants of the city, who had been a resident of Plainfield for nearly sixty years, died yesterday at her home, 940 West Front street, from the infirmities of old age. She had been in failing health for some time, although her condition was considered serious only for a few days.

Mrs. Vanderbeek was born at Franklin, Delaware county, New York, being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Green. The family lived in Plainfield for several years prior to and after the marriage of Mrs. Vanderbeek. For a number of years Mrs. Vanderbeek, who possessed much musical talent, was a successful music teacher. Her husband was also noted as a singer and the couple were accustomed to singing at religious services. Mr. Vanderbeek was also widely-known as a chorister, serving in that capacity at the First Baptist church and Sunday-school. Mrs. Vanderbeek was also an active member of the First Baptist church, attending the services until ill health prevented.

Mr. Vanderbeek throughout his business career here had his store on Park avenue in what is known as the Vanderbeek building, which houses the Daily Press. It was one of the first of the modern brick buildings erected in the city.

Mrs. Vanderbeek is urvived by three neices, Mrs. Fleda Swift, of Sioux City, Iowa; Mrs. John Shotwell, of New York; Mrs. Jacob VanArsdale, of Neshanic; also five nephews, Creda White, of California; Andrew M. Vanderbeek, of this city; E. C. Vanderbeek and C. L. Vanderbeek, of North Branch, and C. C. Vanderbeek, of Whitehouse.

Private funeral services conducted by Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, of the First Baptist church, will be held at the late home, Wednesday morning, at 10 o'clock, and the burial will be at North Branch at 2 o'clock that afternoon. Those wishing to view the remains are invited to call tomorrow afternoon between the hours of 3 and 4 o'clock.

RETURNED FROM THE CORN ROAST TIRED BUT HAPPY

A corn roast was held by the Junior Christian Endeavor Society of the Congregational church at Washington Rack, Saturday. Eighteen of the members, accompanied by the pastor, Rev. C. L. Goodrich, left on the 9 o'clock trolley and arrived at the Rock in time to prepare a luncheon of roast corn, pea soup and bouillon.

After spending the afternoon in playing games the picnickers returned home tired but happy.

$25,000 FIRE AT STONE CRUSHER

ARSON IS SUSPECTED

Two Men Chased From Plant by Laborers Before the Fire is Discovered—No Insurance—Works to Be Rebuilt.

A fire thought to have been started by incendiaries, and causing $25,000 damages, was discovered by two Italian laborers early this morning in the plant of the Smalley Stone Company above the Notch. The workmen, who are employed at the crusher, and live on the property, were attracted late Sunday night by someone trying to force an entrance into the building, whom they scared away with revolvers. The vicinity was searched for several hours but no trace of anyone could be found. It is thought by the crusher owners that those persons started the fire. No insurance was carried, and the damage will be a complete loss.

When discovered the fire was burning in the second floor of the structure in the stone crushing department. Clarence I. Smalley, son of the head of the firm, was notified of the fire and telephoned to the North Plainfield Fire Department for aid. The department responded and succeeded in saving part of the plant, with the use of chemicals, no water being available. Laborers reporting for work at 6:30 o'clock assisted in extinguishing the flames.

The stone plant was of semi-fire proof concrete construction, all partitions and floors being of wood. According to the engineer, the fire in the engine rom on the first floor was allowed to go out Saturday because the supply of coal had run out. This eliminates the possibilities of the fire having its origin from this source.

The flames had gained considerable headway when discovered near the two Blake stone crushers on the second floor, which are valued at about $8,000. The machinery rested on wooden floor beams, which soon collapsed, the machines crashing in a mass of ruin to the ground.

When the borough fire apparatus arrived on the scene workmen were seen carrying oil and other combustible material from the building. The firemen succeeded in checking the blaze with the use of their axes and chemicals, but no attempt was made to extinguish the main body of fire, which is still smouldering. The west side of the engine room and bins where the broken stone is stored were saved. The centre of the building, with the exception of the concrete walls, however, was completely destroyed.

Asked if he suspected anyone of kindling the blaze, Clarence Smalley said he knew of no enemy of the firm or discharged employe, who harbored ill will.

Newton B. Smalley, ex-Mayor, of North Plainfield and principal loser by the fire, said the works would be rebuilt and operations continued as soon as possible.

MISS LILLIAN T. LYNCH BRIDE OF EDWARD GAUB

Miss Lillian T. Lynch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lynch, of Somerset street, and Edward Gaub, of Duer street, were married last evening at 7:30 o'clock at St. Joseph's church rectory by Rev. William H. Miller.

Mrs. Harry Dunham, of the borough, acted as bridemaid while her husband was best man. After a short honeymoon the young couple will reside in this city, where the bridegroom is in business.

CONGREGATIONAL MEN PLAN A FALL REUNION

The Men's Club of the Congregational church will hold its fall reunion tomorrow evening in the church parlors. The feature of the evening will be an entertainment entitled "An Athletic Meet" in which everyone can qualify and compete. Placed on Trial For Murder of Gambler Herman Rosenthal.

JAPANESE AVIATOR KILLED.

Craft Caught In Arms of Windmill He's Dashed to Death.

Corning, N. Y., Oct. 7.—Kondo, a young Japanese, was thrown to his death from a plunging aeroplane held fast by the arms of a windmill at Savona. The aviator had made a desperate effort to avoid a collision with the mill, but had been caught almost when his efforts seemed crowned with success, and he was thrown before he had time to stop his motor and prevent the plunging of the machine, which checked might have saved his life.

Kondo was making his first flight in the east, and his first flight in a machine of the Kirham type. He was keeping close to the ground in order to take no chance in raising himself. A large barn on the Charles Stamp farm cut off his view from the surrounding country. Unfamiliar with the nature of the territory in which he was flying, Kondo attempted to round the angle of a barn at close quarters, and as he did so he found himself upon the windmill.

TAFT CRANE'S GUEST.

President Started This Morning on Second Lap of Auto Trip.

Dalton, Mass., Oct. 7.—President Taft rested yesterday preparatory to resuming his motor trip this morning. The president and Mrs. Taft and Senator W. Murray Crane attended church and later took a short motor ride to the summit of Windsor mountain, where the senator has a summer residence. The president spent more than an hour sitting on the porch and enjoying the view from the top of the mountain. Mr. Taft returned to Senator Crane's residence here about 6 o'clock.

He started at 9 o'clock this morning on the second lap of his motor trip. He will visit Townsend, where his father was born, and will spend the night at the residence of Robert T. Lincoln.

He will arrive at Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh's home at Dublin, N. H., on Thursday evening and on the following day will return to Beverly.

ZELIG'S MURDER BOON TO BECKER

Death Silences Important Witness For Whitman.

BOWERY DERELICT AVENGER

Dougherty Admits "Remarkable Coincidence" of Slaying on Eve of Trial. Becker's Right Hand Men, White and Steinert, Also Beneficiaries.

New York, Oct. 7.—It is agreed that the murder of "Big Jack" Zelig, the gang leader, at Fourteenth street and Second avenue, Saturday night by Philip Davidson, a Bowery derelict, removes one of the most important witnesses against Lieutenant Charles Becker, whose trial for the killing of Herman Rosenthal began today.

Zelig had promised District Attorney Whitman that he would testify that Jack Rose told the truth when Rose said he went to Zelig, at Becker's request, to get the gunmen to kill Rosenthal. Zelig would not have admitted that he had rounded up the murderers, but his testimony in the opinion of the district attorney was essential corroboration of a part of Rose's story incriminating Becker, which was in great need of corroboration.

The death of Zelig means also that the case against Policemen James C. White and John C. Steinert, two of Becker's old strong arm squad, now under indictment for oppression and perjury in causing the arrest of Zelig for carrying concealed weapons and swearing to the falsehood that he had a pistol in his pocket, will have to be dismissed.

It was freely admitted at the district attorney's office and at police headquarters that no serious flaw had been found in Davidson's story that he had gone to a pawnshop in Jersey City on Saturday afternoon and bought a revolver that once had been the property of a policeman named Charles F. Maher, but had been lost by the policeman some months ago; that Davidson had then come back to Manhattan and had killed Zelig solely because of this private grudge.

Remarkable Coincidence.

"But," so ran the substance of remarks by Deputy Commissioner Dougherty and by Mr. Whitman, "if the shooting of an important witness in the Becker trial right on the eve of the trial is a coincidence it is a most remarkable coincidence. We are open to conviction, in view of many things, that the killing of Zelig just at this time is much more than a coincidence. And in the meantime everything will be done as quickly as possible to prove or disprove Davidson's contention that no one prompted him to get Zelig out of the way at a time so damaging to the prosecution in the trial of the Rosenthal murderers."

"Gyp the Blood," "Leftie Louie," "Whitey" Lewis and "Dago Frank" broke their rule of not seeing reporters and the four accused gunmen came together in the counsel room of the Tombs and talked with the newspaper men for almost half an hour. "Whitey" Lewis voiced the opinion of his three companions and of all the Zelig gangsters that Davidson had been prompted by "some one" to kill Zelig when he said with fine scorn: "It wasn't Davidson's head that thought out croaking Jack. We could tell you what's back of it, but we won't say anything about that now. Davidson has been a cadet all his life. He's a bum and never was in Zelig's class. Why, I'll bet that was the first shot he ever fired in his life."

Commissioner Dougherty was especially interested in an investigation as to how the murderer happened to do the shooting with a revolver that should have been in the possession at the time of Policeman Maher. Maher, according to the deputy commissioner, first said he had lost the revolver on July 12 last, but later told Dougherty that he had lost it a year and a half ago.

Cop Lost Three Revolvers.

Mr. Dougherty said he had heard stories that showed that Maher had lost three revolvers and a special investigation into these stories will be taken up at headquarters.

The examination of Davidson by District Attorney Whitman and Deputy Commissioner Dougherty lasted five hours. Davidson during this examination said that he had once been a song and dance performer and that a year ago he had been a waiter for Jack Sirocco, a rival gang leader of Zelig.

During the all night examination at headquarters Davidson stuck to his story of shooting Zelig because the gangster had robbed and beaten him, story which later he repeated to the reporters who saw him in the Tombs. But whereas on Saturday night he had said that Zelig had robbed him of about $400, today he said that at a ball on Friday night Zelig had taken $18 from him by force.

"Zelig never was shot because of an eighteen or fifteen dollar robbery," says Lawyer Charles Wahle, counsel for Zelig when the gangster was killed and now counsel for "Gyp," "Lefty," "Whitey" and "Dago Frank."

AN ELECTION FORECAST.

As a result of its second preliminary nation-wide forcesat of the Presidential election, the New York Herald, presenting the impartial facts and figures for which it has established a reputation, announced yesterday that Wilson appears to be leading his two rivals and the Democrats are holding their own as the campaign progresses. It finds the Roosevelt tide "receding slightly" and the Taft forces gaining in many places. "The Bull Moose," so the Herald says, "is running well in the middle and far western States. Illinois now seems to be strong for the Progressive ticket while the New York paper finds that Pennsylvania has swung from Roosevelt to Wilson.

The Herald straw vote statistics, as presented yesterday, were gathered in twenty-nine States. A grand total of the test ballots collected gives Wilson, 30,261; Roosevelt, 29,748; Taft, 13,055, and Debs, 4,98. If there be any "Doubting Thomases" as to the reliability of the Herald's figures, it should be borne in mind that that great newspaper utterly abhors Roosevelt and is about as strong a Taft medium as may be found in the entire country. But the Herald's reputation is at stake for as a political forecaster it is acknowledged throughout the land and by all parties as being the safest and best.

In summarizing its straw vote, the Herald says:

"In the Far West aslo there has been a swing toward the President. Latest reports give him Utah and Wyoming. The Mormon church has decided to support him. This is a big asset in several mountain States.

"But even with his apparently increased strength Mr. Taft still appears considerably behind. Governor Wilson friends say their candidate cannot be defeated. The Bull Moose managers, privately expressing no great hope of victory for their candidate, say they have already insured the defeat of the President. In many parts of the country the third termer has gained in following.

"Straw votes aggregating approximately 70,000, taken in twenty-nine States, put Governor Wilson in first place. They indicate that he is leading popular support in twenty-three States of the twenty-nine. The Bull Moose nominee leads in five and the President in one, Utah. The same votes put the Bull Moose in second place in eighteen States, Governor Wilson in six and the President in five. Special correspondents largely bear out these estimates.

In these twenty-nine States, the order of running, first and second place, the Herald reports as follows:

New York—Wilson-Roosevelt.
Pennsylvania—Wilson-Taft.
Illinois—Roosevelt-Wilson
Ohio—Wilson-Taft.
Indiana—Wilson-Roosevelt.
Missouri—Wilson-Roosevelt.
Michigan—Roosevelt-Wilson.
Iowa—Wilson-Roosevelt.
Wisconsin—Wilson-Roosevelt.
Minnesota—Wilson-Roosevelt.
New Jersey—Wilson-Roosevelt.
Connecticut—Roosevelt-Wilson.
Maryland—Wilson-Roosevelt.
Kansas—Wilson-Roosevelt.
Kentucky—Wilson-Roosevelt.
West Virginia—Wilson-Roosevelt.
Nebraska—Wilson-Roosevelt.
South Dakota—Wilson-Roosevelt.
Washington—Roosevelt-Wilson.
Idaho—Roosevelt-Wilson.
Delaware—Wilson-Roosevelt.
Oklahoma—Wilson-Roosevelt.
Utah—Taft-Wilson.
Wyoming—Wilson-Taft.
California—Wilson-Roosevelt.
Arizona—Wilson-Roosevelt.
New Mexico—Wilson-Taft.
Nevada—Wilson-Roosevelt.
Colorado—Wilson-Taft.

There are also published some special dispatches from its political correspondents. In these it is stated that Maine is likely for Wilson with Roosevelt second; Rhode Island is a toss up between Roosevelt and Wilson; Massachusetts is for Wilson with Taft second; Montana strongly Roosevelt, Wilson second; New Hampshire and Vermont both probably for Taft and North Dakota for Roosevelt. No one will question that Louisiana, Georgia, Arkansas, Mississippi, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, North Carolina and Virginia are for Wilson. Oregon is generally believed to favor Roosevelt as one of the western coast States, but the Herald reports cast some doubt on it.

Summed up, Wilson holds first place; Roosevelt a close second and Taft a poor third.

It is utterly absurd for some residents in what is commonly called the Netherwood section to expect that the Board of Education should comply with their request for the erection of a public school building in that district. There is a good and sufficient reason why this cannot and should not be done and the Board is perfectly right in the attitude it assumes. There is a limit to the amount to be used for the erection of additional school accommodations and just at present every cent that can be obtained is sorely needed for the big extension to be made to the high school structure.. Let that and other necessities of the present be carried to a successful finish. Then it will be time enough to discuss the needs in the Netherwood district.

In another column, we publish a communication from George S. Clay, an honored member of the Common Council. Mr. Clay takes issue with our opinion of Mayor Moy's administration. He is not only entitled to a hearing, but as an independent paper we welcome an expression of his views and those of any other reputable citizens. Common courtesy to Mr. Clay requires that we reserve our reply until a later date. It will be given tomorrow.

"Thinking in silence," said Bishop Vincent at a recent convention of Friends, "is a fine method of worship." It is also a fine method of discussing politics during business hours.

In the person of William Newcorn, its newly-elected chairman, the Republican City Commitee has a man who will be "on the job."

GEO. S. CLAY DEFENDS THE COMMON COUNCIL

As a reply to a recent editorial in this paper advocating the re-election of Mayor Moy and reviewing his administration, Councilman George S. Clay has sent the following communication for publication:

October 5, 1912.

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

Now that Mr. Moy has been nominated by the Bull Moose faction for Mayor, it seems fit that something should be said in answer to your recent editorial entitled "Let Well Enough Alone," particularly as you have been led to state an untruth with respect to the attitude of "some" members of the Common Council after Mr. Moy took office. You say:

"Practical politics have played no part in his administration. His appointments have been made regardless of party or factional politics—he has had 'an eye single' to the people's interests. No sooner had he taken office, than attempts were made by some members of the Common Council to embarrass him, to place obstacles in his path of duty and to make efforts to humiliate him."

It is absolutely untrue that some or any members of the Common Council attempted to or did do anything of the kind. It was the hope and desire of every member of the Council that Mr. Moy when he became Mayor would co-operate with the Council so that the business of the city sould be carried on without friction and its best interests subserved.

Mr. Moy's campaign for Mayor seemed to have been conducted on the theory that the city was in the clutch of a "machine;" that the city government was corrupt, and that he was a sort of divinely appointed Moses to lead the people out of the land of bondage into the land of promise. But he found no corruption or graft or mismanagement, for the simple reason that none existed; and hence any ambitious aspirations that he may have had as a great reform leader were disappointed.

It seemed to be his notion that he had been selected by the voters to "censor" the work of the Council—not to co-operate, so that if possible its work might be done right in the first instance, but to criticise what should be done by the Council. Theoretically this idea may be right; practically it is wrong. I have been told by the chairman of the finance committee of the Council of 1911, Herbert Buxton, that when the committee was considering the tax ordinance—a measure which is supposed by many to be very important—he called Mr. Moy on the telephone and told him the committee was to have a meeting to discuss the ordinance before introducing it in the Council and asked Mr. Moy to attend the meeting as the members of the committee desired his advice and assistance. The curt answer received was: "I do not care to attend the meeting. I will criticise the ordinance when it reaches me in the regular course." This is but a sample of the antagonistic attitude of the Mayor towards the Council.

With regard to the Mayor's appointments, the Council also had a duty to perform and that was to confirm the appointments only if in their judgment the persons appointed were fully qualified for the positions for which they were named. Various appointments were made by the Mayor for overseer of the poor, members of the Board of Health, and corporation counsel, and were not confirmed by the Council for good and sufficient reasons. I am sure that you would have concurred in the action of the Council if you had been a member. The final result was that such men as Henry L. de Forest, William M. Wherry, Jr., and A. E. Force have been appointed to office and are serving the city. The Mayor did confer with the Council concerning the appointment of assessors, because as he said, the Council itself had the power, under the law, to appoint a Board of Assessors. At the conference the Mayor suggested the name of a person who had been recommended to him but whom he did not know. That person was unknown to any member of the Council. The Mayor then suggested the name of a man whom he had known for years and whom he regarded as qualified for the place, and this proposed appointment, as well as those of the other assessors, was agreed to without a single dissent. After the death of Craig A. Marsh on November 12, 1910, the Common Council and the city officials were much embarrassed because the city had no legal adviser. Mayor Fisk conferred with the Council on this subject soon after Mr. Marsh' death and would have appointed a corporation counsel at that time, but it was agreed by all that it would be better to wait until Mr. Moy took office, as such action by Mayor Fisk might be looked upon as an act of discourtesy toward the newly elected Mayor. But no action was taken by Mayor Moy with respect to the appointment of a corporation counsel until more than three months after he took office, thereby embarrassing and hindering the Common Council and city officials in the performance of their duties, and making it necessary for the Common Council to employ special counsel temporarily. Finally, and after many months, Mr. Stillman was appointed and promptly confirmed. If anybody played politics in the matter of appointments to office it was not the Council.

As you were correctly informed Mayor Moy did "drop into" a recent conference of the Council and informed the Councilmen that he would not approve the resolutions adopted favoring the indirect route for the trunk line sewer; that he believed the direct route to be the best and most economical in the long run. He also said, that while he would not approve the resolutions, yet he would not veto them. What sort of an attitude is that for the Mayor of Plainfield to assume? The engineer employed by Plainfield, North Plainfield and Dunellen—employed on the part of the city by the unanimous vote of the Common Council and with the concurrence of the Mayor—has reported that the most feasible and most economical route in the long run is the indirect route. The Mayor, although not an engineer (so far as I am aware), disagrees with the engineer in whose appointment he concurred, and says he will not approve the resolutions. Why does he not veto the resolutions and give his reasons for doing so, not that he "believes the direct route to be the best and most economical in the long run," but some reasons based on facts so that the Comon Council will have something to act on, and not allow the Council to fall into the error of adopting plans for such an important work which are not the most advantageous for the city's interests?

I trust that the voters of Plainfield will not adopt your suggestion to "let well enough alone." If this is a case of "swapping horses while crossing a stream," let's swap.

Yours truly,
GEO. S. CLAY.

GOOD LIGHTING HELPS PREVENT WASTE

One of the elements a manufacturer must consider in figuring production costs is spoilage or waste.

No matter how careful operatives may be nor how accurately machines are adjusted there is bound to be waste sometime.

Competent managers seek to keep the percentage of spoilage or waste as low as possible. It means money.

Such managers study efficiency methods and have learned that there is a direct relation between proper lighting and efficiency. A case of cause and effect.

It stands to reason that when men have to work say 500 hours each year by artificial light they will produce better results with good lighting than with poor lighting.

If the lighting is bad the operative is handicapped and can get neither the speed nor the accuracy he could under improved conditions. And where accuracy counts in the making of goods, any handicap gives just so much more chance for spoilage.

You are not called upon to flood a large loft or a building with illumination. This is not necessarily PROPER LIGHTING. It might be much better to have smaller units so placed that the light is directed on the work in hand where it is needed. It surely is not needed in the workers' eyes.

If an eight candle-power lamp properly placed will give as good results as a sixteen candle-power lamp improperly placed, why burn the larger lamp at greater expense?

Again, if your lamps are placed so as to strain the operatives' eyes and cast shadows on their work, your employes cannot produce the goods they could if they were protected from eye-strain and had all the illumination required on the work itself.

The right effect can be produced by the proper placing of lamps and the use of the right kind of reflectors.

Our engineer will consult with you about your shop lighting if you say so. It will cost you nothing to get his views. His suggestions may save you money. Write or telephone.

One of the automobiles, described as "running wild," crashed into one which was hurled against a third. The fatality occurred on one of the beautiful drives for which the park is famous.

The dead are: Robert A. Boyd, 1341 North Forty-fifth street; Edward Shaw, Jr., 1310 Morris street; Daniel Wilkes, Broad and Millar streets; William H. Lawrence, 4823 Ridge avenue; Gordon H. Miller, Leon Nevin, Jesse Holmes, Robert Giefel and Ernest Schofield.

The accident took place at Thirty third and Thompson streets, just outside of Fairmount park, in the early morning hours. The park, which is one of the largest in the country, is noted for its beautiful drives and all day and night strings of motor cars are passing along some of the roadways.

Another Car Running Wild.

Charles J. Spade, who escaped uninjured from the crash except for slight cuts and bruises, declared that his car had just come out of the park and was crossing Thompson street at Thirty-third when another car, seemingly running wild, came flying up out of the darkness and crashed into his car before he could avoid it.

Then the wild car, which it was later learned belonged to Edward Shaw of 1310 Morris street, swung around by the force of the impact, plunged across the sidewalk through a guard rail on the edge of the street to the Pennsylvania railroad tracks, thirty-five feet below. This car was a total wreck and every man in it was killed. Two men in the Spade car were killed and one fatally injured.

When the Shaw car struck Spade's machine the latter was hurled backward and into a third automobile which was passing in Thompson street. This car seems to have escaped without any serious injury, for it made off at once in the darkness, and the police have been unable to learn who owned it or who its passengers were.

Other cars which came out of the park stopped at once. Three men were picked up and put into one of these cars, which was started at full speed to the German hospital more than a mile away. When they arrived two of the victims were dead and the third so badly hurt that his recovery was pronounced impossible.

Police Are Notified.

The night superintendent at once sent a call to police headquarters, and an ambulance was ordered from the hospital to the scene. A patrol wagon with reserves followed. Several automobiles were clustered around the wreck of the Spade car and Mr. Spade, who was the only person in his machine to escape injury, was trying to explain how the accident happened. He seemed dazed by the shock and could not give a coherent account.

A track walker on the Pennsylvania railroad below, who had discovered the wreck of the Shaw car on the rails and who heard the excited cries of the persons in the street, made his way up and led the police down to the railroad. Here they found another automobile completely wrecked, with five dead, the bodies being caught in the wreckage or lying within a few feet of it.

ROOSEVELT TO CORBETT.

Best Wishes From T. R. to Convalescing Ex-Pugilist.

Philadelphia, Oct. 7.—Among the telegrams received by James J. Corbett, the actor-pugilist, was one from Colonel Roosevelt. It read, "Bull moosers delighted at your improvement. Best wishes."

Although not yet pronounced out of danger, the surgeons at the Jefferson hospital, where Corbett was operated upon for appendicitis, consider his condition as remarkable in view of the fact that peritonitis set in following the operation on Tuesday.

LAUNCH BLOWS UP; 3 KILLED.

Occupants of Motorboat Are Blown to Atoms.

Guntersville, Ga., Oct. 7.—Gasoline in a Tennessee river launch suddenly exploded near here. The boat's three occupants were blown to atoms.

Two of the victims were Abraham Powell and Thomas Dossett. The third was an unidentified laborer.

Seeks $50,000 Damages for Arrest.

San Francisco, Oct. 7.—Nicholas J. McNamara, who caused the arrest in New York of his wife, housekeeper and chauffeur as they were en route to Europe, is sued in two damage actions for $25,000 each, brought by Mrs. Cora M. Perkins and her husband, the servants, who allege false imprisonment.

RALLY DAY SERVICES

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

The rally services of the Congregational church opened with an address by John M. Whiton, superintendent of the Sunday-school. The church was strikingly decorated with American flags and autumn foliage. The school was represented in all departments, including the home and cradle roll. The principal feature of the service was the formal calling of the roll of each class.

Superintendent Whiton gave a report on the cup contest and announced the standing of the various classes. The Tuckabatchee Class, a class of thirteen boys, which has held first place for the past two years, was again at the head of the list with a percentage of 98 9-10 per cent., while Miss Stella Winkler's class of eight girls, came second with 92 9-10 per cent. The cup, which is presented by the superintendent, goes to the class holding the highest percentage for three years in succession and is to be held by them for good. Miss Stella Winkler's class won the flag that is given to the class that has the best record in attendance for three months running. This flag is raised above the winning class every Sunday that they are in session with the rest of the school, thus showing the banner class.

The special music of the services was furnished by a sextet that accompanied Mr. McClymont when he sang several solos. The boys of the congregation whistled hymns while the girls sang them, making a tuneful combination.

The speaker of the day was Mr Hall, superintendent of the Park Avenue Baptist Sunday-school. He addressed the school and in doing so used three boxes to illustrate his talk. The first box he used held "Advice to Girls and Boys," the second contained "Advice to the Teachers," while the third was "Advice to Those That Might Become Teachers."

A new class for young men was organized and a number of the men between the ages of eighteen and thirty registered for membership. The present enrollment of the Sunday-school is 200, but there were 235 present at the services yesterday morning.

LOST IN WEST FOUR DAYS.

Miner, Subpoenaed as Witness, Makes Perilous Fifty Mile Journey.

Weaverville, Cal., Oct. 7.—John Poeth, veteran miner, of Carrville and locator of the famous Poeth mine on Coffee creek, wandered through the forests between here and Carrville for four days and nights without food.

Being summoned to court here, he started out afoot on the fifty mile journey. Making a short cut through the woods, he lost his bearings and did not know where he was for four days.

At the end of that time he reached Lewiston, twelve miles east of Weaverville, in a famished condition. He was brought to Weaverville in a vehicle.

The court excused the delay of Poeth, who after giving his testimony started back to Carrville afoot, taking another chance of getting lost.

—Sticking at it has won many a thing that wasn't worth the effort.

ARTHUR L. GARFORD.

He Is Nominated by Progressives For Governor of Ohio.

Aruthur L. Garford of Elyria is the standard bearer of the bull moose party in the Buckeye State, having been nominated for governor by the recent convention of the Progressives. Garford is a manufacturer. He was formerly prominent in the affairs of the Republican party in Ohio and was a candidate for the nomination for governor at the Republican convention in July. He was defeated by Judge E. B. Dillon, who later resigned.

FIRE DOES BIG DAMAGE.

Seven Flemington Buildings Destroyed Within Past Week—Reward Offered.

Flemington, N. J., Oct. 7.—Residents of White House have offered a reward of $1,000 for the apprehension of a supposed firebug. During the present week seven buildings have been burned. Saturday night three buildings were destroyed. The burned buildings were the blacksmith shops of John Vandervoort and L. E. A. Van Sickel's barn.

The general store of George W. Tine, drug store of Isaiah Vorhees and residence of Samuel D. Skillman were gutted by fire Monday evening. Tuesday morning the barn of Mrs. H. Eugene Park, in another part of the town, was discovered to be on fire. The flames spread to barns belonging to Thomas Durling and Mrs. Jacob A. Suydam and Mrs. Park's icehouse, which was destroyed.

ELKUS HURT IN AUTO SMASH.

Lawyer Takes Header When Broker's Car Hits Runabout.

Red Bank, N. J., Oct. 7.—Abram I. Elkus, a lawyer of 170 Broadway, was thrown out of his light gasoline runabout as he was being driven from his home on Tower Hill to the station.

As the machine was running along Monmouth street, near the station, an automobile driven by Mrs. Churchill, wife of George A. H. Churchill, a broker of 115 Broadway, skidded on the slippery pavement and struck Mr. Elkus' lighter machine a glancing blow.

Mr. Elkus was knocked from his seat to the ground, receiving slight cuts on his hands and knees. Neither of the automobiles was much damaged. Mr. Elkas returned home, changed his clothes and took a later train for New York.

TWO WOMEN DEAD IN RESTAURANT BLAZE

Hemmed In by Flames, They Succumb to Smoke.

New York, Oct. 7.—Two young women employed as waitresses in a restaurant at 25 Park row were suffocated to death in a fire that started in the fifth floor from a defective flue and spread rapidly to the other floors. Two other waitresses are in a serious condition as a result of being overcome by smoke, while two men employees were also injured.

The dead are Mrs. Nellie Gillman of 504 Eighteenth street, Brooklyn, and Miss Adelaide Preston of 440 Ninth street, Brooklyn.

The fire started just as the women employees were preparing to go to work in Dennett's restaurant. There is a room on the fourth floor used as a dressing room. Twelve girls were employed in the noon shift. Six had gone down to their stations, while four remained behind to spend the time before they had to go on duty in chatting.

John Buchreddy, who is the coffee man and had gone to this floor for coffee, smelled smoke, but thought nothing of it until he, almost overcome, ran into their room and called out that the entire upper part of the building was in flames. All made a rush for the stairway, but found that the fire had gained such headway that that means of escape had been cut off. The fire spread rapidly, going down in its course.

Word was sent to the firemen in the rear of the building, and Lieutenant Ferguson of truck No. 1 and Laddermen Werner and Boyle shot a ladder up to the window and shouted a warning that the girls should not jump. In the meantime other firemen had gone to the roof and were letting down a rope, which dangled near the window.

Sherwood Brackwell, a member of the Raleigh (N. C.) fire department, who is serving an apprenticeship in the New York city fire department, was the first up the ladder. He grasped Miss Lovett and quickly brought her to the ground.

Ferguson took Miss Preston in his arms and found that she was insensible. He hurried her to a drug store in the Park row building, but she died before medical aid could be summoned.

THOMAS J. RYAN A SUICIDE.

Democratic Leader of Pennsylvania Met With Financial Reverses.

Philadelphia, Oct. 7.—Thomas J. Ryan, Democratic leader of Pennsylvania, member of the Donnelly-Ryan-Guffey triumvirate, ended his life in his office in the Land Title trust building by shooting himself with a revolver.

Ryan was hopelessly involved financially, and from a man of great wealth it is understood that he has through unfortunate investments become practically penniless. A year ago Dreamland in New York burned down, and that loss was sustained almost entirely by him. He built another museum on the site of the old Point Breeze race track, but it has not been a success, and there was a meeting scheduled where his creditors were to gather and consider plans for a trusteeship.

LESTER KRATZEL'S LONG ILLNESS ENDS IN DEATH

Lester E. Kratzel, the youngest son of Paul Kratzel, Sr., and the late Anna Finger Kratzel, died at his home, 195 West Front street, Dunellen, at 11:20 o'clock last night, after a long and trying illness. He was eighteen years of age. The youth was taken ill before the close of school in June, 1911, but with an undaunted spirit in the face of difficulties that was characteristic of him he persisted in closing the school year and graduated in the class of 1911 from the Whittier School. Since then his health gradually failed more and more, in spite of the devoted care of relatives and all the assistance that medical skill could bring, until the end came peacefully at the last.

Lester Kratzel was born in Dunellen. He is survived by his father, three brothers, Paul, George, Jr., Grover C., and Oscar C., and two sisters, Mrs. Henry Wiedenhaupt and Miss Martha Kratzell. The latter was untiring in the devotion and tender care shown to her brother in his long and severe affliction.

The boy was known to a very large circle of friends, among whom he was popular. He was a member of the Dunellen Methodist Episcopal church. Always industriously inclined, he had started to learn the drug business before he graduated from school and was connected for some time with the pharmacy of Harry C. Kirchhoff, now conducted by Edward Pennock, in the Runyon building, Dunellen, where he worked between school sessions.

A funeral service will be solemnized on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the home, Rev. Dr. William A. Knox, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, officiating. On Thursday services private to the family will be held. Interment will be in Bound Brook cemetery. The bearers will be the classmates of the young man in his graduating year in the Whittier School.

RECOGNIZED A VOICE HE HADN'T HEARD IN 20 YEARS

A remarkable feat of memory was related by Captain William C. Smith to some of the veterans at the recent reunion of the Second Cavalry held in this city at the G. A. R. Hall. He said:

"While I was at the last National Encampment at Los Angeles with my wife and daughter we made various short trips to the different parts of the city and surrounding country. One of these trips took us to San Diego. In alighting from the trolley I turned to my daughter and said, 'Tell your mother to be careful in alighting as the step is rather high.'

"At these words a man sitting in the rear of the car straightened up and said to my wife, 'Why that certainly does sound like Captain Smith,' my wife nodded her head and alighted. The man jumped off the car, which had started, leaving his wife on it to get off at the next crossing. He advanced towards me and said, 'I have not heard your voice or seen you in over twenty years, but I was sure that I was not mistaken when I heard you speak to your wife?' I said, 'You have the best of me.'

"'Are you Captain Smith, of Grandview avenue, North Plainfield?' he asked. I said, 'I was.' 'Well,' he said, 'I am the man that built your house on Grandview avenue more than twenty years ago.'

"When he said that I recognized him as being Charles J. Noel, a former resident of this city, who left twenty years ago for the West."

Mr. Noel was in the building and contracting work when in Plainfield and has erected a number of houses in the city.

INDOOR ATHLETICS WILL BE GRACE CLUB FEATURE

The Men's Club of Grace church is planning for an unusually active season, and among the attractions to be offered the men of the church during the winter months will be indoor golf, shuffleboard and a gymnasium, which will be installed in the lower part of the parish house. The club will have "open house" every Monday night. The idea of promoting athletics appealed strongly to the officers of the organization as not only being healthful, but an excellent way of interesting the men.

The new officers of the club are as follows: President, W. H. P. Veysey; vice president, George M. Holstein; treasurer, A. Willis West; secretary, Howard G. Lapsley. There will be a meeting of the club in the parish house tonight, which will formally mark the opening of the season.

SEVENTEEN NEW MEMBERS.

Seventeen persons were received into membership at the communion service at Warren chapel yesterday morning as follows: On confession of faith, the Misses Bertha Bodine, Ethel Hall, Beatrice Ackerman, Grace VanDenburgh, Mildred Smith, Clara Mills, Walter Smith and Mrs. Felma Burr; by letter, Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Lunger, Mr. and Mrs. James T. Goodwin, Mrs. Susan A. Ball, Miss Kate Goodwin, Leon Larison, James Goodwin and Hugh Goodwin.

—It takes 20 men to make a score, except in a baseball game.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

THE SUCCULENT SPARERIB.

PORK will soon be at its best, and spareribs are available at most butchers. Well browned and served with fried potatoes or fried mush, spareribs are delicious.

Spareribs are usually roasted or sauted.

A Decorative Effect.

Spareribs With Spinach.—Take a half dozen spareribs. If they have been salted, soak in cold water for half an hour. Then drain them and place in a saucepan. Add two carrots cut into pieces, an onion with a couple of cloves stuck in it and a tiny bit of garlic. Cover the spareribs and vegetables with water, season with a half teaspoonful of salt and a half teaspoonful of white pepper. Cover the pan and let it boil for three-quarters of an hour. Then add six raw potatoes of uniform size. Let these boil for half an hour. Place some boiled spinach on a hot plate, arrange the spareribs on this and use the potatoes and other vegetables as a border.

Broiled In Oil.

Deviled Spareribs.—Take six fresh spareribs, rub them with a little olive oil and season with salt and pepper. Lay on the broiler and broil slowly on each side. Take off the fire, dip them in a half ounce of melted butter mixed well with two saltspoonfuls of ground mustard, a teaspoonful of white wine vinegar, a teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce, a saltspoonful of salt, a half saltspoonful of cayenne pepper and the yolk of one egg. Then roll in bread or cracker crumbs and broil again for a couple of minutes. Serve on a hot dish.

With Boiled Cabbage.

Spareribs With Cabbage.—Soak the spareribs in cold water for half an hour if they are the salted ones. Select a nice white cabbage, take off the outer leaves and quarter it, removing the stalk; place in a saucepan, cover with hot water, season with salt and pepper and boil slowly for three-quarters of an hour. Then add the spareribs, covering the pan again and boil a little longer. Put in six peeled potatoes of uniform size and boil until done. Arrange the cabbage on a hot dish with the potatoes as a border. Lay the spareribs on top and serve.

Fashions For the Athletic Girl Are Smart and Comfortable.

A blouse, cut kimono fashion, and a skirt slightly gored to allow freedom of movement are the ideal garments for the athletic girl. These are joined together at the waist, and long bretelles that form straps from hem to hem cross the shoulders by way of trimming. With a deep stitched hem and a stitched belt we have an admirable model for the athletic girl who wants to look trim and to enjoy freedom of movement untrammeled by superfluous trimming.

Plaided materials are among the best as well as the most fashionable for

FLEET IN NEW YORK HARBOR.

Ten Battleships, Headed by Flagship Connecticut, Drop Anchor.

New York, Oct. 7.—Just at Sabbath dawn the battleship Connecticut, flagship of Rear Admiral Hugo Osterhaus, commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet, stuck her nose into the Ambrose channel and felt her way through a troublesome fog into New York harbor. Behind the Connecticut came nine other battleships of the fleet in battle formation. The orders were to drop anchor at the stations assigned in the North river.

The order and the position of each in the anchorage was minutely defined. The ten battleships left Newport, where the Atlantic fleet has had its base since early spring, Saturday afternoon. The stations in the North river had been marked off 400 yards apart. So the big fighters measured off 400 yards as they left lower Narragansett bay and, keeping the distance through the night, pulled up the river 400 yards apart and dropped anchor.

THIEVES MAKE HAUL OF $200,000 IN MAIL.

Detectives Search For New York Bank Consignment.

New York, Oct. 7.—Postoffice inspectors of two countries, secret service men and the W. J. Burns detective agency are investigating today the mysterious disappearance of a registered mail package containing $200,000 consigned from Havana to the National Park bank of this city.

The loss was discovered when the registered mail pouch from Havana was opened in the New York postoffice. When and where the package disappeared, whether in Havana, aboard the ship or train which brought it or thereafter, no one has been able to discover.

The postoffice authorities are working zealously on the case in the two republics as a matter of course, while the private detectives have been set to work by the shipper, whose name is not revealed. The National Park bank has no more than a passing interest in the case as by no possibility can the loss fall upon it.

The reports are to the effect that the registered mail pouch arrived in this city by steamship about Oct. 1. The Saratoga of the Ward line, which was due on Oct. 1, came in on the following day and she brought mail from Havana, but everybody connected with the line said the $200,000 package did not involve their ship.

Henry W. Mallory, the president, never heard of it. Alfred G. Smith, vice president, said it was news to him and then recalled that he had heard or read of some money being missed from a Cuban mail bag. Mr. Smith thought $10,000 had been mentioned, but was not sure.

The money was a remittance from a financial institution to the big bank in adjustment of an exchange balance.

HATPIN WARNINGS POSTED.

Steps Are Taken to Minimize Risks In Tramways In London.

London, Oct. 7.—The Manchester corporation has taken steps to minimize risks associated with the wearing of large hatpins.

The corporation officials hope that the mere posting of the notices will be sufficient.

Held For Murder; Breaks Jail.

Cranston, R. I., Oct. 7.—Ernest W. Lorenz, who was awaiting trial for the murder of Gilbert Mann, an aged store keeper, in Johnstown two years ago, escaped from the state prison by scaling a wall. Lorenz was being held on four counts of highway robbery in addition to the murder charge.

Needs Little Care

TWO trips a day to the cellar is all the trouble a SQUARE POT FURNACE will give you—unless the weather is pretty cold—in that case you might have to go three times. These furnaces run with the steadiness of a clock and regulate almost to a degree, so that one firing develops sufficient heat for several hours comfort. Besides (which is well worth considering) they give all the available heat in the coal.

It's the square firepot that does it. This is a great improvement over the traditional round form of pot and actually increases furnace efficiency without adding to up-keep cost. If you want a furnace economical of coal and attention, investigate the SQUARE POT FURNACE

DAILY PRESS TROPHY WON BY RUSHMORE-GARWOOD ELECTRICS

Commercials Are Defeated by the Score of 5 to 4 in the Play-off For Manufacturers' League Championship--Veteran Jimmy Montross Holds His Opponents to Five Hits--Review of the Season.

In one of the closest and best played games run off in the Manufacturers' League this summer, the Rushmore, Garwood Electric team took the baseball championship of that league, and the handsome silver loving cup donated by the Daily Press, which goes with the title. The wind-up of the season's schedule found the Commercials and R. G. E. teams deadlocked for first place and Saturday's game on Parker Field was the playoff. Although the Clerks' team suffered defeat it was one of the heart-breaking kind, for the champions had to result to strategy to come out ahead on the bigger end of such a shaky score as 5 to 4.

The creditable sportsmanlike spirit displayed by the losers in the face of their defeat made the title all the more welcome to the R. G. E. combination and served to wind up the season of this league in such a way as to make it a reality for another season. Unlike the rival amateur league in this city, which ended up the season so unceremoniously last Friday night, the Manufacturers' organization has had no controversies which have tended in any way to rupture the keen but pleasant feeling of rivalry between the contesting nines.

The victors take the cup with a feeling that they are justly entitled to it and know that everyone of the other five contestants relinquish all claim to the crown upon the grounds that the R. G. E. nine has fairly and squarely won the coveted honor on superior playing. That the cup presentation has been decided on merits alone, is undeniable and the victors have a right to accept it in the same spirit in which it is given to them.

One advantage the champions have had over the other league contestants was the wider scope they had to pick a team from. The consolidation of the athletes in two large factories made it easy to obtain nine natural ball players which have been hard to beat. The Commercials led by a good margin earlier in the season but by some steady and consistent uphill fighting the R. G. E. ball tossers have landed on top of the heap. When the sifting out process begins next year to select the Manufacturers' League's contestants for 1913, it will probably find the same half dozen aggregations back in the fold with numerous others clamoring for admission.

The veteran, Jimmy Montross, did the mound work for the winners and his twirling held the Commercials to five scattered hits. Banks was the star at the bat, getting a trio of healthy ones.

The winning run was brought over in the ninth inning on VanZandt's error.

DUNELLEN TAKES FINAL CONTEST

Bound Brook Falls a Victim in Fifth Game of Series.

PITCHERS IN RARE FORM

Score 3 to 1—No Hits off Harney Until the Fifth—Dunellen's Late Rally Brings Three Runs Over in the Eighth.

In the final game of the season for both teams the Dunellen baseball team took the deciding game of a series from Bound Brook on their home grounds Saturday by the close score of 3 to 1. About four hundred enthusiastic fans witnessed the contest, 325 of which were Dunellenites and the remainder of the crowd was Bound Brook's contribution. The game was one of the best played of the season for both aggregations and the winners pulled through by a great rally after the fifth inning when they got their lone hits of the contest. Up to the fifth inning the Dunellen team was held hitless and the only ball that was knocked out of the infield from the delivery of Harvey was nabbed by Bollinger, who turned the play into a spectacular catch in deep right field. After running back a long distance for the illusive sphere the Bound Brook fielder jumped high in the air and nabbed the ball, coming down on all fours. Martin made a similar catch in the sixth when he turned half way around for a line drive and after nabbing the horsehide fell in a heap on the ground, but clung to his quarry.

Dunellen won the game in the eighth inning when three runs were brought across the pan, which put them two runs ahead of their opponents in the end. Dodge hit safely, Schott sacrificed out at first, Dodge going to second on the hit, and Giddes' single brought Dodge across the rubber with the initial tally. Craig hit to Powers forcing Giddes out at second. Martin caught one on the nose which scored Craig and McLaughlin hit for a single, scoring Jack Martin.

Bound Brook's lone tally off the delivery of the veteran McLaughlin came in the second round when Powers hit to Barnes and got his base on an error and on two flies by Nolan and Shaw, Powers went to third, from where he scored on Lidgate's sacrifice.

As is usual in the case of McLaughlin, he was steady and confident of a win at all stages and his work on the mound in tight places was what saved the day for the home bunch. His in-drop was working fine and when the old war horse has this curve with him he is sure to shine and the opposing hitsmiths are usually stood on their heads.

After Harvey had held Dunellen hitless for five innings, the Bogardus aggregation started a rally in the sixth and got a hit and did the same thing in the seventh, so that up until the seventh inning the Dunellen batters could connect for but two lone bingles.

The Bound Brook infield worked like a machine and if there was any star that shone more than another this was Tommy Mullin, the midget third sacker. He got a harvest of high flies and never missed an apportunity to score a putout.

WORLD SERIES ON TOMORROW

National Commission and Those Connected With the Series Meets Today.

FIRST GAME AT N. Y.

Presidential Campaign Will Drop into Second Place for the Time Being—Thousands Interested—Seating Facilities Inadequate.

New York, Oct. 7.—The crowning event of the professional baseball season is at hand. The series for the world's championship between the New Yorks, twice champions of the National League, and the Bostons, winners of this year's pennant in the American League, will begin on the Polo Grounds in this city tomorrow. Today the umpires, official scorers and respective owners of the contesting clubs met with the National Commission to receive instructions and perfect the final details for the series, which will continue until one of the teams has won four of the seven games scheduled. The games will alternate daily between this city and Boston.

It is scarcely an exaggeration to say that, with a large proportion of the public at least, the presidential campaign now on will drop into second place in interest while the world's series is being fought out. From the hour that the umpires cries "Play ball" tomorrow until the championship flag is cinched by one or the other of the contesting teams the tens of thousands of baseball fans, from Hudson's Bay to the City of Mexico, from Coney Island to Manila, will crowd around the tickers, scan the bulletin boards and buy the newspaper extras.

Probably no series that has ever been played in baseball will attract the attention this one will, and probably no series, the weather being suitable, will equal it in attendance. And what a time those twenty-three eligible Giants and twenty-two Red Sox will have when the financial melon is sliced after the series is completed. The Polo Grounds have been put in shape to accommodate nearly 50,000 spectators, while Fenway Park, the new home of the Boston Americans, will take care of at least 40,000 and probably more. As the prices are more than doubled at these games, the receipts for the post-season series this year should greatly exceed those of any like series in the past, and the winning players are pretty sure of making a rake-off of from $2,500 to 3,000 each. If the series should go to the limit the profits of the club owners should be enormous.

As to what the series will bring forth the partisan fans have been keyed up to a high pitch trying to convince themselves and others why their favorite team cannot lose. In view of the fact that the Giants are veterans, even when it comes to contesting for the world's flag, while the Boston Red Sox might almost be termed novices in comparison, it is somewhat surprising that so many newspaper critics and others well versed in the national game should pick the Hub players to win. The average New Yorker, of course, can see nothing to it but McGraw's team, but it is a noticeable and significant fact that around the Broadway hotels and other places where sporting men congregate there appears to be a ready taker for every bet offered on the Giants. Whichever way the series goes, there is already one thing that seems certain, and that is that a larger amount of money will change hands on the result than has ever been the case before.

HOLY CROSS WINS ONCE MORE

Local Warriors Are Weak on Defence but Force the Offence.

NASH GETS FIELD GOAL

Webster and Hamilton Solve the End Question—Both Play Well—Caufield Recovers Ball and Scores Touchdown.—Nash Stars.

In a fiercely contested game on Cricket Field, Saturday afternoon, the Holy Cross football warriors showed a repetition of their last weeks's form and took a 9 to 0 victory at the hands of the St. Alphonsus eleven, of New York. The contest was one of those gruelling affairs that are so interesting to pigskin followers and gave the local enthusiasts a good chance to get a line on their favorites who were just waiting for such a team as the metropolitan bunch to shine against. Although the church team's ends have been considerably strengthened since the last encounter, the rest of the line still displayed the tolerably weak spots which were so prevalent in the initial game and it looks as through Hamilton would do more bolstering before another week has slipped back.

The back field was the whole show again Saturday and although the individuals did not shine as they did against the Rosewood A. C., the defensive work was not up to the standard which would lend them the required interference for spectacular runs and straight line plunges. When it comes to seady, consistent work in every department of the greatest of all fall games, the football followers will have to hand one to James Nash, the Holy Cross half back. His work Saturday afternoon clearly showed that he could gain ground when called upon and he got in a number of the finest sort of tackles which time after time helped materially to check rallies which seemed to be going in the direction of the opposition's scoring station. Ricketts was suffering from an injury which slowed up his work to some extent but he made a goodly number of his team's gains and also got in his usual number of clean tackles.

Both of the respective quarterbacks led their teams on the field with a show of generalship that pulls the necessary work out of their charges and timely headwork on the part of Coyle was what brought Holy Cross close enough to register the lone touchdown of the game. The visiting quarterback was the star for the visitors and besides having to lead his men in every part of the game he had the added difficulty of keeping his men within the bounds of respectability. They were wont to engage in fistic encounters when things seemed to be going the reverse but he held them together, so they did no great amount of damage.

Holy Cross started the festivities going in the first quarter after the opposing warriors had held like a stone wall on the kick off and when the ball exchanged hands on a fumble the home team started to advance steadily toward the goal posts but when the quarter ended it found the ball in the center of the field in the hands of the local team.

During this quarter the bright star of the fray was a new and practically untried man who has not played football for the past two years and then not to any great extent. This new acquisition who showed up for his first practice Friday night was Lester Hamilton, a younger brother of the Holy Cross coach. He was put in at right end to start the game off and almost the first thing he did was to break through the stone like defense of the visitors and tackle one of the backs for a loss of ten yards. From this point on he played a spectacular game and got away with many fine tackles which were mostly all made in the open.

In the second quarter Nash got in a pretty piece of scoring which for a time looked as though it would keep the game from ending in a scoreless tie. Although the ball came to him on an unusually high pass the Holy Cross halfback made a grab for the oval and with the opposing players right on top of him he used his trusty boot to good advantage and sent the ball high and fairly between the uprights.

In the third quarter Caufield grabbed a punt behind the goal posts and counted up six more points for his team, which were the final points of the game, Coyle failing to kick the goal. Nash made a good run in this quarter and by a great exhibition of dodging and illusive running he managed to reel off the only long run of the afternoon for fifteen yards.

Carty played a good game at center for the home aggregation and although he did not shine particularly until the final round, when he broke through the defense and registered a pretty tackle which helped along considerably, coming at the time it did.

In the second quarter, Norman, the visitor's fullback, was accidentally kicked in the head and had to be taken to a nearby doctor's to have his head sewed up. This necessitated the placing of the teams' coach in the vacant position but seemed to add materially to the makeup.

PETS FALL BEFORE GIANTS' CURVES

Husky Colored Twirler Proves a Terror to Local Swatsmiths.

STEWARD BATTED OUT

Plainfield Youngster Makes His Debut Against an Unusually Strong Nine—Cadore Succeeds Him but is also Hit Hard.

At last Peter Simmons' wishes have been gratified and his aggregation of Royal Giants have their initial victory over the Plainfield baseball team to their credit. Although the colored pilot appeared on the field with a fiercely padded up team, Dorflinger's hopes were not daunted and he made good his promise to Stewart, the Temple Baptist twirler, whom he had promised a workout, and sent the youngster to the firing line. It was a particularly one sided frame-up of hard luck to the East End lad, as he had been counting on getting his first trial against Dunellen on the Oval, Saturday afternoon, but negotiations in regard to that contest fell through and he was sent out to oppose the rapid fire and more experienced Wickware. Stewart was informed before the game that the colored heaver was considered even better than the mighty Redding, who appeared here with the Lincoln Giants earlier in the season, but Stewart said all batters and pitchers looked alike to him and hence his somewhat unimpressive debut.

After weathering the bombardment for a trio of rounds, in which the dusky hitsmiths garnered a quintet of hits and three runs in the second, Stewart gave way to Cadore, who, although he yielded but four bingles, was credited with a losing contest, as the winning tallies were pushed across during his reign on the mound.

Simmons picked a winner when he signed up Wickware and the new acquisition proved to be the real cause of the local's downfall. He was practically invincible during the whole regime and Nelson and Harter were the duet of pets who could alone solve his mysterious offerings. While he was disposing of seven along the three ball route, he was ably supported by a cast that put up an errorless brand of ball and helped him out of tight places at critical moments. As far as fielding was concerned the pets did their part, for Dalton's system is not yet clear of his recent spasmotic misplay upheaval, and he made the lone slip up of the game.

Wiley, Brown and Roberts proved to be demons with the wagon tongue for the winners, while Harter and Nelson upheld the reputation of the lighter bunch. Nelson pounded out the single extra base wallop of the game, sending the ball to the tall timber for a trio of sacks.

The match should arouse unusual interest, as both players are at the top of their game and it will be a toss-up as to the winner. The result of Saturday's play follows;

Semi-finals—First sixteen — W. Lester Glenney defeated Morris J. Dumont, 2 and 1; Will T. Glenney defeated R. S. Rowland, 6 and 5. Defeated eight of first sixteen—A. J. Watson defeated S. H. Patterson, 2 and 1; H. R. Stockton defeated J. E. Erickson, 5 and 4.

Third sixteen—H. G. Phillips defeated R. C. Blancke, Jr., 2 up; J. P. Stevens defeated A. W. Kleinecke, 1 up.

PETS DEFEAT ATHLETICS BY OVERWHELMING SCORE

Manager Dorflinger's herd, playing in New Brunswick uniforms at that place yesterday afternoon, took the measure of the Philadelphia Athletics in a one-sided contest which was full of thrills. The world's champions proved easy picking and were shut out by the score of 11 to 0. In the seventh inning with "Big Chief" Bender twirling for the Athletics, Joe Harter came to bat and drove the ball over the center field fence, three runners romping home ahead of him. Jack Martin also played a good hitting game for the home team and got a pretty two bagger early in the game.

Bender and Crabb, two of Philadelphia's best twirlers did the mound work for the losers while Fred Ritter twirled a winning game for Driscoll's aggregation.

The score:

Phila. Athletics	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0— 0

SAURER TEAM WINS.

In a close and hard fought game Saturday afternoon, the Saurer baseball team of the Manufacturers' League, scored a win over the Monroe Avenue nine, which has made such an excellent record in the Sunday-school League during the past season, by the small score of 1 to 0. The victor's winning tally came in the second inning and from then on the game was a pitchers' dual.

NEW YORK GROUNDS HARD ON CATCHERS

Ed [illegible] landers thinks [illegible] ugh to locke[illegible] w York American league grounds. He wants a second catcher to hover above the stands in a balloon to watch for foul flies. He is needed, Sweeney says, to get them when the wind is whistling down the Hudson. "Some day," says Ed, "I'll be running for a foul on that field and the wind will carry the bal' to the center fielder."

Oscar Stanage of Detroit is with Sweeney there. On the first trip east this year Gardner hit a high pop that appeared to be foul. It was foul til' it got above the stands and then the wind caught it, landing it near second.

P. H. S. FOOTBALL TEAM OPENS SEASON OCT. 12

The Plainfield High School football team begins its season on Oct. 12. Its opponents will be the second team from the High School of Commerce, New York City.

Last season High School had one of the best teams in the State, and many good authorities consider it the strongest eleven ever put out from that school. Although the lineup will be somewhat different for this year from last year's, the same spirit prevails, and that means half of the victory. Phillipsburg High School has the honor of having the only eleven that scored on P. H. S. throughout last season. Such a record has never been made by a football team from the local High School before. The boys went into the Phillipsburg game slightly nervous, for the fame of their opponents had traveled to Plainfield long before the date of the contest between the two High Schools. Principal Linsey Best expressed the common sentiment when, after the first and only defeat of the team, he announced that he was all the more proud of his boys for the way they kept at the losing cause although outclassed, and the way they took their defeat. He said he would rather have a team from Plainfield High School be beaten every game and yet take its defeat gracefully than to have it win and be a "poor winner." This year's eleven will travel to Phillipsburg on the 26th of this month, and its members, one and all, swear to avenge their defeat of last season.

James Nash, Jack Ricketts, "Ginger" Linzey, Herman Rosenson, Walter Harrington, Gordon Moy, Jack Zerega, and Joe Widowson, are all absent from this year's lineup, but the scrubs who gamely toiled and took their knocks to train a winning team last year, will ably step into the veterans places and now will earn the name of varsity men. This is the spirit which puts out winning teams.

Coach Doggett is also missed this season, but George Linke is in charge of the squad, and it certainly looks as if he will train the eleven through a victorious season. Manager Janke has booked games with the fastest of school teams in this vicinity, and now all that is left must be done by the team itself. Coach Linke intends to give all candidates a chance to show their worth in the opening games, and as yet has not decided upon his regular eleven, but at present it looks like Good, fullback; Peacock and Mills, halfbacks; Captain VanZandt, quarter; Sminck, left end; Carty, center, and the remaining positions are still doubtful. Of those named, Good, Peacock, VanZandt and Carty, are veterans of last year, while Mills played with P. H. S. two years ago.

Manager Janke announces the following schedule: Oct. 12, H. S. of Commerce, 2nds, at Plainfield; Oct. 23, Westfield at Plainfield; Oct. 26, Phillipsburg at Phillipsburg; Nov. 2, Roselle at Roselle; Nov. 6, Rahway at Plainfield; Nov. 15, Somerville at Plainfield; Nov. 23, Westfield at Westfield; Thanksgiving Day, P. H. S. Alumni at Plainfield. The games pending are with Long Branch H. S., Summit H. S., and New Brunswick H. S.

LOCAL SOCCER TEAM WINS AGAIN

A Large Crowd Witnesses Exciting Match on West End Field.

SPECTACULAR PLAYING

Score 4 to 2—Opponents Were the Nairn A. A., of Newark—Prove to Be Fast and Dangerous Contenders—Rally Checked in Second Half.

In a game bristling with spectacular plays, the Plainfield soccer team defeated the fast Nairn A. A., of Newark Saturday, in an Inter-city Amateur League game, by the score of 4 to 2. A large crowd was on hand, and cheered the locals when they started a rally in the second half, scoring 3 goals and romping away with the contest, the first session having ended in a 1-1 tie. Johnson playing right wing, starred throughout the game.

At the start of the first half, the Newarkers showed good form, keeping the ball in their opponents territory most of the time, and soon chalked up a point, Doig turning the trick on a long pass from Brady from the centre of the field. Carner retaliated soon after, however, by kicking the sphere for a goal from the midst of a scrimmage in front of the uprights. Good work by the goal tenders prevented either side from scoring during the balance of the half.

The locals showed a remarkable brace in form when the second session began, rushing the ball within a short distance of their opponent's goal, where Braidwood managed to squeeze one between the posts. At this stage of the game Rutan, who varied his "kicks" between the referee and the ball, was suspended for the rest of the game, for disputing a decision. When play was resumed F. Craig, of Plainfield, fouled Swithenby, of Nairn, and on a penalty kick William Craig kicked a goal, making the score 2-2. Following the kickoff the ball soared back and forth, with neither side gaining an advantage, until Garner, received a pass from Thomas from the centre of the field, booting the sphere past the Nairn goal for the third score.

Both teams tried hard to score in the next few minutes of play. Johnson missed three attempts in succession, and when dribbling the ball near the posts for the fourth time, the crowd yelled "time." The Nairn aggregation stopped playing, but heeding the shouts from his teammates to continue play Johnson scored with a well-aimed kick, there being three more minutes before the half ended. Time was called with the ball in the centre of the field.

LAST GAME A DEFEAT FOR SCOTCH PLAINS

Bound Brook Nine Administers Kalsomine in a Pitchers' Duel.

Scotch Plains ended it season yesterday by taking a dose of whitewash which was administered by the Bound Brook nine, the score being 5-0. The game was a pitcher's battle between old war horse McLaughlin, who had taken Bound Brook's measure Saturday in a Dunellen uniform, and Kraft. The honors were evenly divided, Bound Brook finding Mac for 9 hits to 5 for the 'Plains, while the war horse fanned 2 to Kraft's 4.

Bound Brook gave Kraft errorless support and were in the game all the time. While McLaughlin's backing was shakey at times, this together with hits at the right time, kept the game safe for the Somerset nine at all stages. Not until the fifth was any signs of a talley made. Bound Brook sent Harvey up who hit to left for a single, Powers followed with a drive to right, Dodge walked, Lidgate found one and placed it in centre scoring Harvey and Dodge. Kraft followed with a Texas leaguer to right, Dixon fielding the ball throwing to Gray at third to catch Lidgate. The throw was low and Lidgate scored before the ball was recovered. Another tally came across in the seventh and one more was added in the eighth, but they were not needed as the 'Plains hits were kept scattered and the stone fence support kept base runners away from the home plae.

NOVEL DOUBLE BILL AT OVAL SATURDAY

Two Games Will Be Played at the Same Time.

Manager Dorflinger has definitely decided not to take his team out of town on Columbus Day and the attractions he is planning for the Oval will make it a rendezvous for fans on that day. Negotiations are under way to secure the New York Yankees to stage the star bout, and there is a pretty good chance of this thing coming through. Should the New Yorkers appear here, there will be somewhat of a unique and extraordinary double - header pulled off. The peculiar thing about this double bill will be that both of the games will be going on at the same time and it will be interesting to see whether one game will have any effect on the other. The affair promises to be somewhat of a two-ringed circus, but, oh no, gentle fan, you will not have to contend with watching the windup of two twirlers and the picking of thirty-six players, and you will not be able to see in reality more than eighteen of the ball tossers.

There is only one diamond at the Oval so while the tail-enders of the American League are fighting it out with the last year's Central New Jersey League champs on the ground floor, a little higher up will be a blackboard on which the Boston and New York baseball teams will be playing for the championship of the world.

Manager Dorflinger is making arrangements to have the results transferred from the Daily Press office to Crescent Oval as soon as they are received over the baseball ticker and the nine innings of play will be depicted minutely on the blackboard. Everything will be complete; the man at bat will be named, the balls and strikes on him and batteries, etc. Now it is entirely up to the local fandom that have been saving up their pennies by staying away from the Oval on Saturday afternoons, to get even with magnate Ernest Dorflinger, and at his expense see the world's championship game and another good one besides, for the small sum of two bits.

In the event that the Yanks cannot appear, an equally as good a game will be played with the Royal Colored Giants who defeated Plainfield last Saturday afternoon.

HOLY CROSS AT STATEN ISLAND NEXT

Game Will Be Played With a Fast Eleven at Fair Grounds.

Next Saturday afternoon Manager Doyle, of the Holy Cross football team, will take his team to Staten Island for the first out of town game of the season. A game has been scheduled with the fast Manhattan eleven and the struggle is carded to take place on the fair grounds on Staten Island. The local warriors ought to be able to show to good advantage on these grounds which are particularly well adapted for football playing, being level and expansive. The field is surrounded by a race track and within the spacious oval which is thus formed, some of the best athletic games of the Metropolitan district are run off annually.

Hundreds of people attend the gridiron games at that resort and the Manhattan aggregation is exceedingly popular with the sport lovers on the Island. A large number of Plainfield supporters are planning to make the trip as next Saturday is a legal holiday and a football game seems particularly appropriate.

Hamilton will have his men out on Cricket Field tomorrow night for another workout and several fast men in this city are planning to re-enter football and will don their suits tomorrow night. A number of shifts will probably be made in the line which has been tolerably weak in the first two contests and unless some of the players want to fall behind they will have to get out tomorrow and display their ability against some of the veterans who are planning to return to the game.

R. G. E. WILL PLAY SUNDAY SCHOOL ALL STAR TEAM

Now that both of the local amateur baseball leagues have ended their seasons an aftermath is about to occur in the form of a game between the winners of the Daily Press trophy and the all-star team, of the Sunday-school league. It seems that a more interesting game than this one could not be staged and the affair will take place next Saturday afternoon, possibly as a preliminary to the big show on Crescent Oval.

While the R. G. E. team is a winner in a league whose all-star aggregation was defeated by the Sunday-schoolers, the factory aggregation is considered to have a fine show of overcoming their rivals and in the event that they do something is wont to give in the Manufacturers' all-star circles.

LOCAL ENTRANT CLEANS UP AT ISLIP DOG SHOW

At the annual dog show of the Islip Kennel Club held at Bay Shore, L. I., last Saturday, F. S. Steward, for the best dog or ditch in the show (open to all entrants); two blue ribbons, one in the open and the other in the limited; the winner's ribbon and the special ribbon.

Mr. Moore will enter the same toy poodle in the Plainfield Dog Show next Saturday afternoon and is expecting a repetition of his success.

LOCAL YOUTH HOT AFTER QUOIT TITLE

Sattels Will Try to Gain Permanent Possession of Silver Cup.

It now looks as though Plainfield would have another champion before many moons in an entirely different line of sport than she has ever had before and the title is due to be brought here by Joseph Sattels, a sixteen-year-old youth who has become proficient in the art of quoit pitching. For two successive years, young Sattels has held the silver trophy emblemic of the quoit championship of the Jersey Boys' Camp and has worked himself up into the finals during the season of 1912. In order to gain permanent possession of the coveted cup the local lad will have to defeat the winners of the title in the other three camp sections and as all of the victors are out to spoil Sattels' record and to put the cap into three more years of competition, he will have to go even harder than he did before to get away with his third title.

The quartet of eligibles will play the title series off in Plainfield in the near future and the rival players, who hail from the Montclair Y. M. C. A., will be entertained by the local association members. Sattels is practicing hard for the finals and says that he is due for a win.

FINE TENNIS IN MIXED DOUBLES AT PARK GOLF CLUB

The mixed doubles tennis tournament at the Park Golf Club on Saturday resulted in some fine playing on the part of the contestants, both sets of one match resulting in the same score. The winners of the finals which will probably be played on Thursday, will meet Miss Irene Dunham and H. S. Eddy, winners of the spring championship, for the championship of the club. Saturday's results:

Mrs. Arthur V. Van Arsdale and Clarence J. Hand defeated Miss May Shreve and G. H. Smith, 6-2, 6-2; Miss Elizabeth Nash and Royle T. Phillips defeated Miss Myra Emmons and H. H. Woodland, 8-6, 6-2.

"GOATS" COMPETITION.

William P. Taylor and H. H. Woodland, holders, refeated Dr. H. K. Carroll and Charles B. Morse, challengers, in the "goats" competition at the Park Golf Club, Saturday. The match was a close one throughout. In the weekly competition for the President's and Oakmont cups these cards were returned:

W. V. Byard, 96, 15-81; Clarence J. Hand, 114, 29-83; Dr. H. K. Carroll, 93, 4-89; Peter C. Sweeny, 95, 5-90; Charles B. Morse, 100, 9-91; A. M. Morrell, 100, 8-92; J. V. Beekman, 114, 20-94; William P. Taylor, 90, plus 5-95; Frank W. Thompson, 131, 31-100.

Columbus Day, Saturday, October 12, there will be play for a holiday cup at the club; also an approaching and putting contest and a two-ball mixed foursome for the Columbus Day cup.

CONCERNING PAINT

If you ought to have painted your house last year and waited for paint to come down, how much do you think you made?

That costs about 10 per cent.; you keep your money a year and pay 10 per cent. for it.

The worst mistake is "Cheap" Paint which has to be made of "cheap" materials.

MRS. EMMA E. MOORE DIES AT THE AGE OF 65

Mrs. Emma E. Moore, widow of David M. Moore, died this morning at her home, 717 Watchung avenue, in the 65th year of her age. She had been in poor health for the past two years and her death was due to hardening of the artries, which developed about a year ago. Mrs. Moore was born at Bath, Maine, and had been a resident of Plainfield about forty years. Her husband, who was so well-known for his religious activity at Warren chapel, died in 1896.

Mrs. Moore was an active member of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, and her life was more or less devoted to the various interests of the church. She was also a member of the various women's clubs and societies in the city and she contributed generously to local charities. Surviving are three sons, Walter J. Moore, of New York; Eugene A., and Horace E. Moore, and two daughters, Miss Lillie E. Moore, who lives at home and Mrs. Edgar Holden, Jr., of Newark. The funeral will be held at the late residence Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie officiating. The burial, which will be private, will be in Hillside cemetery.

CUBANS USE ROSEWOOD AND MAHOGANY FOR FUEL

Services of unusual interest, and featured by addresses by the Rev. C. E. Snavely, of La Gloria, Cuba, who is touring the country to raise funds for the extension of missionary work in his province, were held yesterday in the Holy Cross Episcopal church. His funds were considerably enlarged by yesterday's collection.

An organ recital by Charles Davis, the new organist and choirmaster, assisted by William J. Thiers, vocalist, preceded the evening service. The program included the following

"Marche Triumphale," J. Lammers; "Romance," H. A. Wheeldon; "Chorus of Angels," Clarke; baritone solo, "If With All Your Hearts;" "Barcarolle," Sterndale Bennett; "Toccata and Fugue in D Minor," Bach.

At the morning services, the Rev. Mr. Snavely described his work in Cuba. Speaking of the buildings in his province, he said his rectory is built entirely of mahogany, which is, however, very plentiful down there. He explained that because of the lack of railways or suitable connection with the main means of transportation in Cuba, that a profitable enterprise was being neglected. Rosewood and mahogany, he said, were even used for fuel.

Under the auspices of the Women's Missionary Auxiliary, he spoke in the parish house late in the afternoon.

FOUR BOY CRAP SHOOTERS FINED BY JUGDE DE MEZA

Fines of $2 and $3 or ten days in jail were meted out by Judge DeMeza in the city court this morning to four boys who were arrested yesterday by Patrolman Higgins and Chief Kiely, charged with shooting "craps." They are William Taynor, of 319 Manson place; Patrick Finnerty, of 1217 West Third street, and Arthur Kane, of 216 Manson place, who were fined $3, or a ten days' sentence, and John Bishop, of 223 Manson place, who were fined $2 or ten days in jail.

A telephone message was sent in to police headquarters Sunday afternoon, saying that a crap game was in progress in the vicinity of the Church of the Heavenly Rest in Clinton avenue. The police soon arrived on the scene and the arrests followed.

TROLLEY SCHEDULE UPSET.

The trolley schedule on the Fourth street line was upset between 11 and 2 o'clock today, due to several cars jumping the tracks between Grant avenue and Lee place, where the company is macadamizing the road. The work car had to be summoned to put the cars on the tracks.

INFANT'S FUNERAL.

In Every World's Contest Some Star's Playing Has Shone.

LAST YEAR IT WAS BAKER.

Two Home Runs by Athletics' Third Baseman Had Much to Do With Giants' Defeat—History of Those Who Have Starred.

Not the least interesting feature of the world's series of the past has been the flashing of some star or stars in the firmament of baseball. Dopists always find a considerable amount of pleasure, not to say interest, in wondering who will be the next star that will dazzle a multitude and sparkle for a nation.

In the first world's series, played between the Boston and Pittsburgh teams in 1903, it was Bill Dineen. The latter's great work in the box practically captured the honors for Boston. In 1905, when the New Yorks defeated Philadelphia for the premier honors of the diamond, Billy Gilbert's great batting and Christy Mathewson's brilliant pitching were the features. In 1906 George Rohe's work at third, and particularly at the bat, made the Chicago Americans' victory certain over the Cubs. Frank Isbell of the Chicago White Sox was another to shine that year. It was his four two base hits in the fifth game of the series that helped to put the Cubs to rout.

O'Leary and Rossman of the Detroits were the heroes of the Tiger games in 1907. In 1908 Johnny Kling of the Chicago Cubs was the big show; in 1909 it was Pitcher "Babe" Adams of the Pittsburghs. His great work in the box enabled the Pirates to defeat Detroit. In 1910 Coombs, Bender and Baker of Philadelphia divided the honors.

Last year Baker of the Athletics was the hero. His two home runs in the series with the Giants will always be remembered by the fans. In the first game he fell down when a hit would have meant a run, but in the second game at Philadelphia he broke up the battle with a home run over right field fence, with a man on base. In the third game at New York, with one down and the Athletics one run behind in the ninth, Baker planted the ball into the bleachers and brought in the tying run.

Now that the Giants and Boston Red Sox are to play for the premier baseball honors, who will be the hero?

Of course no one can dope it out, but many experts think that it will be Joe Wood of Boston or Jeff Tesreau of the Giants. Though, no doubt, the two twirlers will do some fine mound duty, it does not necessarily mean that one of the pair will turn out to be the hero. Some other player may spring into eternal fame. Who will it be?

SOX RELY ON SPEAKER.

Boston Fielder Expected to Prove Batting Hero of Series.

Tris Speaker, the contribution of the Lone Star state to the world's baseball series of 1912, may prove the Nemesis of the New York Giants in their ambition to become the champions of the two major leagues. Speaker has been a big cog in the Boston Red Sox machine. He may prove the batting hero of the 1912 post season series, a role played with succes by Frank Baker last fall. He hits any kind of pitching, much in the fashion of Larry Lajoie.

Walter Johnson of the Washington Senators declares Speaker is the most difficult player for a pitcher to fathom.

"When Speaker is up I take an extra long windup, let go and say a short prayer," said Johnson, who has met the Texan in several hard fought series this season.

This opinion of Speaker is shared by other pitchers, among whom are Christy Mathewson, whom the star batsmen of the new American league champions may encounter in the world's series.

HISTORY OF THE WORLD'S SERIES.

The 1912 world's series will be the eighth clash between the American and National league clubs' champions. Each league has won four.

The Boston Americans won the first series from the Pittsburghs in 1903. The New York Nationals beat Philadelphia in 1905.

The Chicago Americans scored over the Chicago Nationals in 1906. The Chicago Nationals then turned in and redeemed themselves by whipping the Detroit Americans in 1907 and 1908.

In 1909 the Pittsburgh Nationals beat the Detroit Americans, and in 1910 the Athletics defeated the Chicago Nationals. Last year the Athletics defeated the Giants.

SILK MILL GIRLS GO OUT ON STRIKE

Fifty young women employed as silk weavers by the Watchung-Mitchell Silk Company in North Plainfield went on a strike today. The trouble, it is said, started over the introduction of new work at the mill, the making of Habutai silk shirting, for which, it is claimed, the company wanted to pay 4 cents a yard. The company finally raised the rate to 4½ cents a yard, but the weavers demanded 6 cents.

The young women left their work this morning to hold a meeting to discuss the situation when, it is said, they were locked out and were told that they need not come back. It is likely that the matter will be arbitrated before tomorrow. The weavers also claim another grievance in being compelled to work in a place not properly heated. There was no one at the mill this afternoon who could speak with authority concerning the trouble, according to a woman employed in the office.

MONDAY CLUB STARTS SEASON

First Meeting is Made a Reception to the New Members.

SONGS BY MRS. DICKEY

Contralto in Fine Voice—Her Singing Rivalled by the Splendid Piano Playing of Miss Whitney—Tea Follows Music.

The opening reception of the Monday Afternoon Club, held yesterday afternoon in Hartridge Auditorium, was featured by a very pleasing musical program by Mrs. Annabelle Dickey, contralto, and Miss May Vincent Whitney, pianist. They were assisted in several of the numbers by Mrs. Harry McGee and the Misses Collins, George and Van Zandt. The officers of the club received.

Miss Whitney, at the piano, showed a touch and finish that was striking. She is a colorist having at her command a great variety of nuances and her variations on the works of Beethoven were especially gratifying to her hearers.

As an interpreter of Scottish selections, Mrs. Annabelle Dickey displayed remarkable tone and expression. Among her selections were, "I'm Wearing A'wa'," and "My Laddie," and her peculiarly pure and golden quality of tone, exhibited to a marked degree in these songs, perhaps more pronounced than in the others, stamped her as a vocal artist of rare ability.

A committee was appointed to take a survey among the members to see who are in favor of an extension of the social, civic and philanthropic work of the club. Among the local institutions under consideration to receive benefits are the Children's Home Association, City Poor Farm, Muhlenberg Hospital, Anti-Tuberculosis League and the Y. W. C. A. Comprising the committee for this work are Mrs. J. Sperry Hanson, Mrs. Joshua Brown, Mrs. Frank Hubbard, Miss Ethel Titsworth, Mrs. Edward V. Cox, and Miss Mabelle C. Phillips.

A number of new members were admitted and were given a welcome by a hospitality committee composed of Mrs. Eugene Hatch, Miss Florence Tweedy, Mrs. John Gray Foster, Mrs. Maybury B. Mellor and Miss Ruth Maxson.

Assisting the officers in serving tea and arranging for yesterday's affair were Mrs. Frank W. French, Mrs. William A. Conner, Mrs. Deuse Van Vliet, Mrs. Harry C. White, Miss Josephine Rosein, Mrs. Albert Atterbury, Mrs. Henry B. Hibbard, Mrs. J. C. Moore and Mrs. Henry Hows.

The officers are: President, Mrs. Hugh F. Fox; vice presidents, Mrs. Henry M. Maxson, Mrs. William Griscom and Mrs. Allan Cowperthwait.

The musical program was as follows:

"A Bowl of Roses," by Clarke; "I'm Wearing A'wa'," by Foote; "At Dawning," by Cadman, Mrs. Annabelle Dickey, assisted by Miss Whitney at piano; variations on a Beethoven theme, C. Saint-Saens, Miss May Vincent Whitney and Mrs. Harry McGee; "My Laddie," by Thayer; "If I Built a World For You," by Lehmann; "Songs My Mother Taught Me," by Dvorak, Mrs. Annabelle Dickey; "Overture to Sakuntala," by Carl Goldmark, Miss Whitney, Miss Collins, Miss George and Miss Van Zandt; "In the Time of Roses," by Reichardt; "Bonnie Sweet Bessie," by Old Scotch; "Charity," by MacDermid, Mrs. Annabelle Dickey.

GIRLS SAVED FROM ANGRY COW BY BRAVE YOUNG MAN

Yielding to the lure of the late summer weather prevailing Sunday, a party of young people consisting of the Misses Elizabeth Bremble, Nina Culberson, Madeline Pennington, and Primrose McLaughlin, Peter Duhamel, Daniel Duhamel and Joel Pennington, Jr., started to walk to Washington Rock. In making a short cut through a pasture-lot, they were suddenly confronted by a vicious cow who charged the party with lowered head. The terrified young women scattered in all directions.

Mr. Duhamel, with bravery and agility, gave battle to the bovine to cover the party's retreat. At one time he grasped the creature by the horns, and was tumbled about considerably. After the rest of the party had reached safety, Mr. Duhamel, by adroitly dodging the enraged animal, reached a fence and bounded over it unhurt.

COUNCIL MOVES TO RAISE POLICE PAY

Amendment Providing for the Increase Introduced by Committee Chairman.

For the purpose of granting the request of the members of the police department for an increase in salary, Councilman C. C. Randolph, chairman of the police board, introduced an amendment to the ordinance defining the powers and duties of the board at last night's meeting of the Council, which carries with it an increase in salary for all the members of the department.

The members of the department recently requested the Council to allow the matter to be submitted to a vote of the people at the next general election, under the provisions of the State law, but the police board decided to make the change itself. The amended ordinance provides for the following salaries: Chief, $1,800; captain, $1,350; sergeant, $1,300; detective-sergeant, $1,300; roundsmen, $1,200; patrolmen—Class A, $1,100; B, $1.050; C, $1.024; D, $964; E, $892; doorman, $720. The ordinance was read for information, at the request of Mr. Randolph, it being the intention to move its adoption at a future meeting.

According to the provisions of the State law, all the members of the department except the chief and captain would receive an increase, but the police board thought it wise to recommend an increase for all the men.

The members of the city fire department also petitioned the Council to allow the question of an increase in salary to be submitted to the voters, but as in the case of the petition from the police, it was laid on the table. The increase the firemen asked for is as follows: Chief, $2,000; assistant, $1,500; captain, $1,500; assistant and engineer, $1,000; others according to the various classes, $880, $984, $1,080 and $1,200.

LIQUOR LICENSES PUT AT $1,200 AND $1,000

Ordinance With Milder Boosts Than First Proposed Passed on Two Readings.

The ordinance introduced by Councilman F. L. Holt at a previous meeting of the Common Council providing for an increase in the liquor license fees, was withdrawn at the October meeting of that body last night and another one substituted. The new ordinance, which was adopted on two readings and ordered advertised, provides for a retail license fee of $1,200 and a fee of $1,000 for wholesalers, instead of $1,500 for retailers and $1,200 for wholesalers as provided in the former ordinance. All the members except Mr. Reville voted for the ordinance.

Another resolution offered by Mr. Holt, for information only, provided that all applications for liquor licenses be presented the first day of January in each year to allow for full investigation prior to acting upon them at the February meeting. This ordinance will come up at a future meeting for action.

STARLESS BUT BALANCED CAST OF "LITTLE WOMEN"

The cast of "Little Women," the attraction announced for Plainfield theatre Saturday matinee and night, October 12, presents a notable example of the absence of an exploited star. The nature of the story precludes the possibility of a one-star part, but it is notable in this connection that one character has not been exploited at the expense of any other. The actresses in the company are not notable in the sense of having had their names "out in front" in past productions. Working together they achieve a success which has given the dramatized version of the Alcott tale a dignified standing among the current dramatic successes. The absence of one particular star and presence of several as yet uncrowned actresses, no doubt working towards the coveted goal of stardom is a welcome relief in a way. The same old exploitation of a woman or man at the expense of everyone else playing with them grows wearisome. The clever lines rightly belonging to a minor character, but usurped by the star, the situations naturally real and maybe interesting, but made unreal and tiresome by exaggeration to emphasize the position of the star rises constantly to remind the playgoer that So-and-So is being starred under Such-and-Such management. Quail each day for thirty days palls the appetite.

SURFACE WATERS FLOOD HOTHOUSE

Stanley Tells Council Bad Street Drainage Causes Him Great Loss.

BOILER FIRES PUT OUT

Physicians Petition for Macadamizing of Hillside Avenue, 150 Feet East of Randolph Road—Belmar Men Offer Garbage Wagons.

Charles M. Stanley, the florist, accompanied by his counsel, Winfield S. Angleman, appeared at the October meeting of the Common Council, last night, to present a complaint regarding the frequent flooding of his greenhouses and boiler room on South avenue by surface water. Mr. Stanley complained that at times there have been three feet of water in the greenhouses and boiler room, due to the poor surface drainage in that section of the city. In his communication the florist averred that because of the flooding the fires under his boilers have been out twenty-four hours at a time, causing him great loss. This matter was referred to the committee.

J. B. Lane, of Watson avenue and Earl place, requested the Council to improve that thoroughfare so that the residents could have mail delivery. The matter was referred.

A communication from Belmar men offered to sell wagons for the collection of garbage. This was referred to the public affairs committee.

A petition signed by practically all of the physicians of the city requested that Hillside avenue, 150 feet east of Randolph road, be macadamized. This was referred to the street committee.

J. K. Larkin and E. L. Allen, of East Seventh street, petitioned for electric lights on that thoroughfare. These were referred as was also the request of the Keystone Pillar Company, of Carteret, for permission to install a demonstration sewage disposal plant in this city.

The Public Service Electric Company informed the Council that it was ready to make the changes in the electric lights on Elmwood place and West Second street, as requested, but that V. W. Nash, Sr., had refused to allow the company to erect a pole on his property at the above named corner and nothing could be done for the present.

A petition for two lights on West Sixth street, between Clinton and Monroe avenues, was referred. City Judge W. G. DeMeza presented his quarterly report, showing that 368 cases had been disposed of and $352.44 had been collected in fines. The monthly report of Horace Adams, clerk of the District Court, showed receipts of $223.51 and disbursements of $82.09, with a balance of $141.42. Building Inspector T. O. Doane reported a total of 45 permits granted during the past two months. Overseer of the Poor H. L. de Forest reported expenses since last report of $812.81 and Street Commissioner Gavett reported the granting of eighteen sewer permits.

A resolution offered by Mr. Mygatt and adopted, appropriated an additional $200 for extra clerical help in the office of the tax collector. Mr. Holt alone voted against the resolution. All of the bids received for the work of repairing the city sewage beds, excepting that of Charles A. Peterson's, the lowest, were ordered returned.

Councilman C. C. Randolph offered a resolution, which was adopted, authorizing an appropriation of $117.28 to pay for necessary repairs at police headquarters made by William Pangborn & Son. On motion of Councilman F. E. Mygatt it was voted that when Council adjourn it be to meet on Wednesday night, October 16, and in this connection a motion made by Councilman F. L. Holt, which was adopted, continued the consideration of the joint sewage proposition until the next meeting.

CROWD LISTENS TO PRESS ANNOUNCER

World's Series Description Draws Hundreds to North Avenue.

A crowd of several hundred people, in every walk of life, crowded around the Daily Press office shortly after 2 o'clock today to listen to the report of the Giant-Red Sox game. Each play was called through a megaphone almost instantly after happening. The Polo Ground "mob" had nothing on the local fans in enthusiasm, and whenever a good play was announced cheers rose from the assemblage.

The plays came over a private telegraph ticker, sent immediately from the scene of the contest, by an expert.

Enthusiasts not hearing of the opportunity of getting the description of the game by this instantaneous manner, before today, were attracted by the crowd which grew larger each minute. Vehicles had trouble in passing, the "rooters" occupying the road as well as the walks on both sides of the street. Included in the crowd were many automobiles and carriages, their occupants stopping to hear the accounts of the game.

REVILLE SAYS FULLER BILL IS EXORBITANT

Protests Against Engineer's Fee for Sewerage Plans —Account Passed.

Councilman P. J. Reville, as chairman of the auditing committee of the Common Council, in presenting the bills for payment at the October meeting of the Council, last night, entered a protest against the payment of G. W. Fuller's bill for $1,020 for work on the sanitary sewage plans, declaring the bill to be exorbitant. He said that he was not surprised that the Council wanted to increase the liquor license fees if they were to pay such bills. As the result of the protest both Mr. Reville and Mr. Endress voted against the payment of all bills.

It was explained by Councilman F. E. Mygatt that the bill of Mr. Fuller's was a just one, it being 68 per cent. of Plainfield's share of the $1,500 bill rendered by Mr. Fuller to the three municipalities, Plainfield, North Plainfield and Dunellen. Mr. Mygatt also stated for the information of Mr. Reville and Mr. Endress that in January last tentative plans were prepared for the three municipalities by Mr. Fuller and then later he was engaged to prepare the plans which have since been presented to the State Board of Health. Mr. Fuller's bill was passed last night notwithstanding the objection of the two members.

SEWER PLANS HEARING.

The State Board of Health has notified the officials of Plainfield, North Plainfield and Dunellen that it will grant a public hearing at Trenton next Tuesday on the application of these municipalities for favorable consideration of the joint sewage disposal plans. All three municipalities will be represented by counsel, and it is expected that Picataway township, which opposes the plans to locate sewage disposal beds in its territory, will be represented by counsel.

DEVLIN HERE TONIGHT.

Martin P. Devlin, a Trenton lawyer, will be the chief speaker at the Wilson and Marshall rally at the club's headquarters tonight at 8 o'clock. Percy H. Stewart, the Plainfield mayoralty nominee, and Azariah Beekman, for assemblyman and Calvin D. McMurtry, for surrogate, will be among the Somerset county candidates to speak. Devlin is a witty talker and a big crowd is expected to hear what he will have to say.

TAX SALE POSTPONED.

The tax sale, which was to have been held yesterday in North Plainfield, has been postponed until October 14.

HOLD UP TWO APPOINTMENTS

On Randolph's Motion Council Sidetracks Advancement of Patrolmen.

CAUSTIC QUERY IS PUT

Reville Wants to Know if Police Chairman's Action is Slap at the Mayor—Randolph and Tolles Enter Disclaimers.

The appointment of Charles A. Flynn and Andrew Saffron as roundsmen in the local police department by Mayor G. W. V. Moy as last night's meeting of the Common Council resulted in a lively tilt in which President Tolles and Councilmen P. J. Reville and C. C. Randolph were the principals. When the appointments were received, Mr. Reville immediately moved that they be confirmed.

Councilman Randolph, chairman of the police committee, interposed a motion that they be referred to his committee, which prevailed. Later in the evening, when Mr. Reville saw that Mr. Randolph did not intend to recommend the appointments for confirmation, he asked whether the Mayor's appointments were not to be considered and he also wanted to know if Mr. Randolph's action was a slap at the Mayor.

This brought Mr. Randolph to his feet with a declaration that the ordinance only provided for one roundsman, and, speaking personally, his action was not intended as a slap at the Mayor. He said he could not speak for the other members. He added that he did not previously know of the Mayor's intention to make the appointments.

The remarks on the part of the councilmen led President Tolles to reply to Mr. Reville rather sharply, declaring that he thought the Fourth ward member's remarks were uncalled for; there was no occasion for such talk, the President said. Mr. Tolles explained that no one had heard of the intended appointments.

Mr. Reville said that he did not mean his remarks in the way that they were apparently taken by the President, and in response to his explanation, Mr. Tolles said that he would accept the apology.

Mr. Reville said he thought the Mayor knew what he was doing, and he could not understand why the appointments should be held up at this time. In answer to further inquiries, Mr. Randolph insisted that the ordinance did not provide for more than one roundsman.

It is the belief of Mayor Moy that the efficiency of the department would be increased by having three roundsmen so that one would be on duty during the day and two at night, one to be used for extra duty at headquarters.

When Mayor Moy was asked today regarding the contention that he could not rightfully appoint two roundsmen because it was alleged that there is but one vacancy and the limit of the number is two, he said that he was unaware of any restriction as to number. The ordinance enumerates as members of the force, a chief, a captain, a sergeant, a detective-sergeant, roundsmen and patrolmen. Roundsman is used in the plural number several times in the ordinance.

It is contended, on the other hand, that there exists a resolution of the police board limiting the number of roundsmen to two and that while the Council need not heed it, that body would not provide for any greater number without first being requested by the police committee. Objection is also made by some of the councilmen because the Mayor, it is said, did not bring his appointments up before them prior to sending them to the Common Council.

COMMISSIONERS' REPORT CONFIRMED BY COUNCIL

Elliot T. Barrows, William A. Woodruff and Michael Rimmer, commissioners appointed in the matter of opening McDowell, Halsey and Bergen streets and Manson place, presented their report to the Common Council at its regular meeting last night, and it was confirmed.

The resolution adopted in connection with the report showed the total cost of the improvement to be $1,044.21, and another resolution offered by Mr. Gloak, and adopted, provided for the payment of damages in excess of benefits to the affected property owners; authorizing Tax Collector Townsend to receive assessments, while another resolution expressed to the commissioners the thanks of the Council for their efficient work, which was performed without compensation.

MEN'S CLUB ELECTION.

The Men's Club of the Church of the Heavenly Rest will hold its regular annual election of officers Thursday night, at the parish house.

BOSTON TAKES FIRST GAME FROM GIANTS—SCORE 4 TO 3

Polo Grounds, New York, Oct. 8.—Boston won the first game of the world's championship baseball series this afternoon, defeating New York.

Tesreau was pitching for New York until the seventh inning when Boston scored three runs. McGraw took him out of the game and Crandall went in the eighth.

Score by innings:

BOSTON	0	0	0	0	0	1	3	0	0	4

Polo Grounds, New York, October 8.—With Tesreau in the box for the Giants, winners of the National League pennant, and Wood on the mound for the Boston Red Sox, the premier team of the American League, the first game of the series for the world's baseball championship started shortly after two o'clock this afternoon. Bright skies overhead, bracing atmosphere and a yelling crowd of forty thousand or more fans put the players on edge for the contest, and they impatiently waited for the umpire's word to start the battle.

All night long a crowd had been forming outside the Polo Grounds. The ticket booths there opened at 8:15 sharp and the gates were thrown open a moment later. At that hour there was a line waiting six blocks long, and crowds began pouring in. The arrangements were perfect and no crowding occurred. At 9:15 a. m. about 9,000 people were inside the grounds. At ten o'clock more than 12,000 were inside waiting for the call of play ball. The experiment of disposing of the unreserved seats to the first comers proved a complete success.

The bleachers were filled by noon and the grandstand was fast following suit. A full hour before the game was called every seat save the reserved section in the upper grand stand and those in the boxes was occupied. Hundreds that crushed into the stadium when the doors were opened early in the morning pre-empted desirable seats in the lower stand and then as the crowd grew towards the time of the great hour offered to sell their seats for $3 each.

The loyal rooters, headed by Mayor Fitzgerald, of Boston, arrived at 1:20 p. m., and filed into their section at the north end of the stand, where the Boston band was already awaiting them. The band struck up the famous winning tune of the Red Sox to the music of Tammany, amid great enthusiasm.

T. R. SPEAKS IN MICHIGAN.

Colonel's Voice and Strength Will Be Saved as Far as Possible.

New York, Oct. 8.—Colonel Roosevelt's train pulled out of the Grand Central station at 4:03 o'clock yesterday afternoon. His present western trip he regards as perhaps the most important stretch of stump speaking in his campaign.

The Progressive candidate's first stops are in Michigan, where he is to speak at Detroit and Saginaw today. The schedule has been allowed to remain practically as already published notwithstanding the colonel's strong desire to abbreviate somewhat a journey which is to keep him away for nearly three weeks and the wish of some of his managers to embarrass the Taft committee, who have made public plans to have their own spellbinders follow the Roosevelt trail in the middle west.

Colonel Roosevelt's strength and voice will be saved as far as possible by cutting down the number of daily speeches. In general they will be delivered in the larger cities and late in the day. O. K. Davis, his publicity manager; Philip Roosevelt, the colonel's manager, and Colonel Cecil Lyon are in his party.

SEMI-AUTOMATIC CROSS TABULATING

Do you know what that means? It means that with a Burroughs equipped with this new carriage every time you pull the handle it automatically moves over to the next column, or clear across the sheet. It doesn't make any difference whether the sheet is ten inches or eighteen inches—it is all the same thing. You can arrange it to carry from column to column, right across the sheet, or you can arrange to have it stop at any point in the sheet you want it.

Of course, this is one of the Burroughs new things.

If you went into your bookkeeping department, and found out what you could do with a device of that kind you probably would be surprised to find how much you were paying for getting along without it.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS.

Playgoers who saw Geo. M. Cohan's musical farce, "The Little Millionaire," during its long run at the Cohan theatre, in New York City, last season, are enthusiastic over this product of his magic pen, declaring it to be the most delightful and mirth provoking play this favorite author, actor, and composer has furnished the American stage down to date. The sub-captain, a musical farce, is used advisedly in the case of "The Little Millionaire" which is written in three acts, the first and last of which fairly bristle with swingy melodies of the well known Cohan brand, while the second is presented as a straight farce without any musical trimmings whatever. This innovation by Mr. Cohan was accepted as a distinct departure in musical play construction and one that has been copied extensively by his imitators, none of whom, however, seem able to inject the amount of speed and ginger invariably noticeable in this author's work. "The Little Millionaire" will be presented at the Plainfield theatre, tomorrow night.

Book plays in recent years have come to be regarded in the light of more than ordinary theatrical interest by the average seeker after serious dramatic entertainment, and it is therefore not at all surprising to note with what cordiality the dramatization of Robert W. Chambers' universally read novel, "The Common Law" was received during its presentation last season when it was given such a trial as was most convincing from a managerial point of view. A. H. Woods, with the keen foresight of a thoroughly experienced manager, lost no time in making preparation for "The Common Law" to travel the length and breadth of the country during the coming season, and the advent of "The Common Law" is announced for the special attraction at the Plainfield theatre, Monday, October 14, is being looked forward to with the most pleasant kind of anticipation by lovers of a genuine dramatic treat.

A. E. Thomas, author of "The Rainbow," which Henry Miller is bringing to the Plainfield theatre on Monday, October 21, has peopled his story with men and women who live and breathe through the three acts of the comedy. "The Rainbow" is a play with live matter in it, full of the healthy sort of emotion that reaches down into the heart of the audience. Its characters are drawn from observations of life, not from memories of other characters in other plays. Every person in the story seems like an old acquaintance whom one recognizes and is glad to see. The play gives Henry Miller a really wonderful role and he plays it with compelling sincerity and feeling, authority and humor. Moreover, Mr. Miller has staged the comedy with complete sympathy and understanding, and he has assembled for his support a brilliant cast that fits ideally into the characters of the play. He is bringing to this city the same company that appeared with him throughout the long New York run.

Views of entrancing beauty are promised by Lyman H. Howe in his new program at the Plainfield theatre on Friday and Saturday, October 25 and 26. One series consists of a magnificent reproduction of the historic palace of Versailles, both of the exterior and interior, the parks and marvelous fountains in play. The famous Gallery of Mirrors, the bedroom of Louis XIV, also Louis XV's study and clock room, will be revealed. The scenes are so perfect photographically and at the same time reproduced so accurately in the myriad tints of nature that the eye and brain accept them as reality even without the excellent mechanical, musical and vocal "effects" that accompany them for the purpose of conveying conviction through the ear also. A thrilling hydroplane race with an 800 horse power motor boat at Monte Carlo; the whaling industry; "Our friends, the bees;" a ferocious attack on a horse by an enraged lion during which the equine is saved only by the dead sure aim of a hunter at the crucial moment when the lion is making a terrific leap at his intended victim, and the burial of the Maine are only a few of the many other features included in the program.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The regular fall schedule of the junior gymnasium classes starts today and already a large number of the younger set are enrolled for the physical work.

Henri Welle, the new swimming instructor, is making preparations to put a speedy junior aquatic team out this fall. He has a plentiful supply of the amphivians to draw from and the aggregation ought to be a corker. To aid him in his speed trials and coaching, the pool has been divided off into three straight-aways to prevent crowding and fouling.

It is now an assured thing that the Ajax will reorganize again this season and the association basketball quintet are out to better their enviable record of last season. There was some doubt in regard to what night they could obtain the use of the gym but Saturday night has been set aside and the team will again get together. Captain Albert Brynaiski has called for the initial practice and the same regulars will be on hand again this year.

Andrew Hetfield, manager of the Ajax, is scouting around for games to complete his schedule and would like to hear from surrounding high schools especially.

Some discussion has been prevalent as to whether or not the association will have a first team this year. In fact, a number of the more enthusiastic declare that the Ajax is strong enough to assume this title. This aggregation can make a good showing against any other Y. M. C. A. five and it might be well to consider them before organizing a quintet of "has beens."

The finals for the silver loving cup in the quoit pitching at the Lake Wawayanda Camp will be played at the local association this year. Joe Sattels is the local representative to stack up against three rivals hailing from Montclair.

C. William Bingeman, boys' secretary, is making preparations to entertain the Montclair delegation of campers here at that time. It is up to the 1912 campers to co-operate with him and help push the project.

The New Jersey boys' conference will be held at Summit this year. Plainfield will be represented by a large delegation, as usual.

A number of new games have been added to the boys' department equipment and seem to make the fellows congregate there during the afternoons.

During his travels abroad, Aquatic Instructor Welle discovered so many varied styles of swimming that he is in doubt as to which he will make his hobby.

It does not matter much which he uses, personally, for he looks about the same anyway he turns.

The official staff of officers at the Y. M. C. A. are the finest assortment of thoroughbred baseball fans that anyone would wish to meet. Mr. Parker is an American League man, (when Cleveland wins—not very often); Mr. Bingeman is a Giant rooter, and Mr. Ostlin is inclined to be a little optimistic and will not advocate his ideas until the winner is announced. Mr. Welle has not been able to discover a pedigreed Dutchman on either team as yet, but Pittsburgh finished as a runner-up, with Hans Wagner, the flying Dutchman, holding down short, so that is some consolation to him.

Among the names that appear on the list of members of the 1916 class at Lehigh University, South Bethlehem, Pa., is that of Lester N. Sutton, of West Fifth street.

MR. CLAY'S LETTER.

After reading the brief presented by Councilman George S. Clay, one is ready to go to the jury—the voters—on the merits of Mayor Moy's administration in the face of the opposition he has encountered. We must confess that Mr. Clay's defense is a disappointment, but it must be admitted that he made the most of a bad job in defending the Common Council, or, we should say, some of its members past and present.

Mr. Clay says: "It is absolutely untrue that some or any members of the Common Council attempted or did anything of the kind," and he enters a general denial to our assertion that "No sooner had he," meaning the Mayor, "taken office than attempts were made by some members of the Common Council to embarrass him, to place obstacles in his path of duty and to make efforts to humiliate him." It would be a reflection on the intelligence of the people of this community for us to go to the length of rehearsing the attitude of some members of the Common Council towards the Mayor since he took office less than two years ago. It is a matter of common knowledge, of local scandal, that even the bitterest opponent the mayor may have will admit. Why, it is not so very long ago that the Common Council did something before unheard of, when it put through a resolution taking from the Mayor his power to pass upon bills, and it was done purely out of revenge because he either held up or returned with his veto claims that he did not consider warranted. And this was but one of innumerable "efforts to humiliate him."

Mr. Clay continues: "It was the hope and desire of every member of the Council that Mr. Moy when he became Mayor would co-operate with the Council so that the business of the city should be carried on without friction and its best interests subserved."

It may be true that all the members of the Council desired that the business of that body be carried on without friction, but everybody who is familiar with political conditions at the time knows full well that it was not every member's concern for the best interests of the city that moved them to hope for the Mayor's discomfiture in everything that might be proposed. It is not a matter for argument that there were members of the Council at the time Mr. Moy entered office who thought more of putting Mr. Moy in the wrong than they did of the interests they were sworn to serve. Even the most casual student of political conditions in this city when Mayor Moy assumed office knows that there were men in the Council bitterly opposed to him politically, and they took no pains to hide it. The record of those men in politics was not such as to lead anyone to believe that they would be above placing political rancor before public service. We do not for one moment insinuate that Mr. Clay was among the number; he's too good a man for anything of that sort.

"Mr. Moy's campaign for Mayor," Mr. Clay goes on to say, "seemed to have been conducted on the theory that the city was in the clutch of a 'machine,'" etc., etc. Why, there was never the least doubt about that; it was the chief issue of his fight and the majority of the voters appeared to be convinced of it, as witness the election returns of November, 1910. If Mr. Clay actually doesn't know that the city was in the clutches of a "machine" we will mention names. But we might refer him to files of the local papers reporting Mr. Moy's campaign speeches to save that trouble.

"But he found no corruption or graft or mismanagement," etc., continues Mr. Clay. Indeed? Well, there's an awakening in store for anyone holding to this notion and—but we will leave that rude shock to the Mayor himself to cause when he takes to the stump very shortly as a candidate for re-election.

Further on, Mr. Clay states that "it seemed to be his notion that he had been selected by the voters to 'ceasor' the work of the Council—not to co-operate, so that if possible its work might be done right in the first instance, but to criticize what should be done by the Council. Theoretically this idea may be right; practically it was wrong." No, practically it was right too, for the majority of the taxpayers must have been led to the conviction that the Council's work certainly needed "censoring," else Mayor Moy would not have been elected.

As for Mr. Buxton's statement, quoted by Mr. Clay, to the effect that the Mayor declined an invitation to attend a Council meeting when the budget was under discussion, giving as his alleged reason, "I will criticize the ordinance when it comes to me in the regular course," we believe the former chairman of the finance committee is in error. Mr. Moy may have said that he would 'consider,' but hardly that he would 'criticize,' but even though he had, was he not within his rights? That was a right vested in him, and we can hardly blame an executive for not usurping legislative functions, particularly when he and the governing body were not dwelling in harmony.

Now as to Mr. Clay's objection to our assertion that "His appointments have been made regardless of party or factional politics. He has had an eye single to the people's interests" we have only to say that we ourselves frankly disagreed with the Mayor on many of his appointments, but we are convinced that he acted as he conscientiously considered best for the community and it is a matter of record that he named Republicans and Democrats as well as some who might be called Independents. He might have erred, we believe he did, but he did his duty as he saw it and we might add that the Council was perfectly justified in "turning down" any appointee it considered not a good one.

Finally, as an objection to Mr. Moy, Mr. Clay refers to a recent incident. It was that the Mayor had "dropped into" a Councilmanic conference and stated that he would not approve of the proposed "indirect route" for the joint sewage disposal system, as he favored the "direct route." What Mr. Clay finds fault with in this connection is the fact that the Mayor stated that "while he would not approve the resolutions, yet he would not veto them." As to what was improper about that, we fail to see. Mr. Moy has given time and thought to the two plans and probably had decided which was preferable. He found that the Council, or most of its members, held to a contrary opinion. He was manly enough to speak frankly; to say that he would place no obstacle in the way of the governing body—he would do just as Grover Cleveland did when a tariff measure was presented for his endorsement; he did not believe in it and therefore let it become law by default on his part.

And Mr. Clay takes Mr. Moy to task because he would not abide by the decision of the paid engineer. Granting the value of the expert's opinion for sake or argument, was the Mayor, or any member of the Common Council, bound by the engineer's decision? Did the Council take the highly paid Mr. Fuertes' opinion as to the suggested water plant plans? Hasn't the Mayor got a right to have a mind of his own?

There will have to be some stronger arguments those those offered by Mr. Clay before we are convinced that we were wrong when we said:

No sooner had he taken office than attempts were made by some members of the Common Council to embarrass him, to place obstacles in his path of duty and to make efforts to humiliate him.

LAVERE CASE SETTLED AS THE TRIAL COMMENCES

The case of Samuel Lavere, a minor, who through his father, Gustav Lavere, brought suit against the Commonwealth Roofing Company, of Jersey City, was settled just after the trial had been begun before Judge Vail in the Circuit Court at Somerville, yesterday. The jury had been sworn and one witness was on the stand, when counsel announced that a settlement had been affected, the company giving the complainant $800.

The suit was the result of an injury young Levere received while passing a house at Somerset street and Summit avenue, where the defendant company was engaged in doing some work. A pulley fastened to a rope, with which some boys had been playing, fell striking the Lavere boy on the head. The injury required the services of a doctor. Francis J. Blatz was counsel for the plaintiff and Lindabury, Depew & Faulks represented the defendant company.

ZIMBALIST DATE SAVED AFTER BOOKING MIX-UP

The lot of the impressario is not always a happy and care free existence as Joseph McIntyre can bear witness. He was urgently wired to come to New York yesterday by Mr. Charlton, representative of Zimbulist, and the Flonzaley quartet, and informed that unless concessions were made in other cities that Plainfield would be compelled to forego the pleasure of hearing these artists this winter.

An unfortunate mixup has occurred and it looked very much as though Plainfield was left out. A vigorous protest followed by the use of wires, telegraphic and diplomatic, succeeded in making a new shuffle and definite dates were secured for these artists.

Zimbulist will be heard on Monday, October 28, four days later than heretofore announced, and the Flonzaley's will appear on Friday, Dec. 6, their first concert, by the way, in America this season.

LARRY GETS AN AUTO.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Polo Grounds, New York, Oct. 8.—The Giants were the first on the field, headed by Matty and Doyle, closely followed by the others. As they trotted across the field the vast audience rose and gave them a cheer that was like the roar of Niagara. After the army of photographers had snapped them "Larry" Doyle was presented with an automobile from Ren Mulford, Jr., chairman of the Chalmers Trophy Commission, for being chosen by the newspaper men as the National League player most valuable to his team. While the presentation was being made the Red Sox came on the field. As they marched to their bench the crowd gave them a hearty welcome.

DIDN'T SEE MORGAN 'PHONE.

Washington, Oct. 3.—Wayne MacVeagh took the stand before the Senate Committee investigating campaign contributions, this morning. He declared positively that he had never seen Mr. Morgan use a telephone and declared he and the banker had never discussed campaign contributions.

Former Senator Chauncey M. Depew, of New York, succeeded MacVeagh on the stand. "I've been a 'stand-patter' ever since the Greely campaign," said the venerable witness, joking over his testimony. "Early in the 1904 campaign Governor Odell said they were short of funds for the New York State Committee. I gave him $10,000. Mr. Twombley told me that Harriman was raising $200,000, I think it was."

As a result of the the city benefitted to the extent of about $97 on last month's bills.

Aeolian Hall, 5th Ave., and 34th St.

Last Week Before Moving

Next Saturday Night [October 12] at 6 o'clock, the doors of the old Aeolian Hall, 362 Fifth Avenue, close for the last time. From that hour, until 8.30 Monday morning, we shall be moving to the new and greater Aeolian Hall on West 42nd Street, between 5th and 6th Avenues

There will be no interference whatever with business during this week at Aeolian Hall. Up till six o'clock Saturday night, everything connected with our different sales departments will go on as usual.

The Aeolian Company's business since the first of September has far surpassed any similar period in its history. And this, our last week at the old Aeolian Hall promises to eclipse all previous records.

With the exception of perhaps a dozen slightly used instruments (exceptional bargains) every instrument now in stock at Aeolian Hall is absolutely new. These instruments, as the public has learned, offer a higher quality at lower prices than it is possible to obtain anywhere else.

During this week we are going to make special terms on all instruments for those who wish to buy on time payments.

Our customers who want a Pianola Player-piano, a regular piano, either Grand or Upright, or a Victor Talking Machine will be able to buy one of these instruments on the lowest monthly payments ever quoted.

We are always liberal in this respect, but during this week especially we shall do our utmost to meet the wishes of each individual purchaser.

Complete Stocks in all Departments

Until 6 o'clock Saturday night, there will be no indication in any of our sales departments that we are about to move. Assortments of all instruments will be complete.

Among the spectators were Mrs. Stevenson and several thousand school children, for whom the aviation program at the Alabama state fair had been specially arranged.

SMOKE DECISION AGAINST ERIE ROAD HELPS CRUSADE

Says the Trenton True American in commenting on the "smoke nuisance:

"By sustaining the conviction of the Erie Railroad for perpetrating a smoke nuisance in Jersey City, the Supreme Court will give encouragement to a number of New Jersey cities that have been attempting or contemplating a crusade against soft coal.

"The Supreme Court finds that smoke may become a serious public nuisance, and lays down the eminently sensible proposition that a railroad company is no more privileged to create nuisances than anybody else.

"Citizens of New Jersey will remember that it has not been many years since the use of soft coal in engines operating through New Jersey was almost unknown. During the big strike in the anthracite coal regions some years ago, however, the railroads began to use bituminous coal, on the plea that they could not secure sufficient supplies of hard coal. Having begun the use of soft coal on this pretext, they never discontinued it. The damage to private properties that has been wrought by soft coal smoke since that time has been almost incalculable.

"For practical purposes, the judgment of the Supreme Court may be taken as supplemental to the action of the Public Utilities Commission, which recently assumed jurisdiction to enforce ordinances against the soft coal smoke nuisance in Jersey City. These two actions, taken together, should warrant the assumption that the soft coal smoke, at least so far as the railroads are concerned, will soon be known no more in New Jersey."

N. P. H. S. NOTES.

At a meeting of the junior class yesterday the class colors were changed from purple and gold to brown and gold. These colors will show up well on the pins and make a good combination for class decorations and flowers.

Those taking part in the junior play will not be troubled about their costumes this year as in previous years. Miss Terry thought it was too much work and took too much time of those in the play and suggested that a committee of girls who take no part in the play be appointed to look after the costumes. Fine class spirit was shown when the president asked for volunteers, five girls standing up at once to offer their services.

The freshmen class is slow in selecting their class color, but the entering class always is a little backward.

The sophomore boys' Athletic Association has elected the following officers: President, Duclos VanMater; vice-president, Ralph Smalley; secretary and treasurer, "Tell" Layton. The basketball team which expects to make a great stand for the school championship this year has elected Elmer French as captain and "Ted" Chandler to schedule the games. The second class basketball team will be as follows: Forwards, Edson Day and Hoyt Tomkinson; centre, Duclos Van Mater, and guards, Hyman Abrams and Captain French.

Professor Mertz's private conferences are very popular and are a big help to the school.

An Event in Fashion.

The Promenade of Toilettes shown to the public on the eighth floor of Gimbel Brothers beggars description. It is the epitome of the highest achievements of such artists as Paquin, Worth, Beer, Doiret, Georgette, Reboux, and all that select coterie which has made Paris at once the dream and the despair of lesser lights in the realm of fashion.

The background for this exceptionally beautiful display has been conceived by an artist in stage setting. It shows the entrance hall of a mansion opening out into a garden adorned with marble seats, palms, shrubbery and flowers, with a fountain playing in the centre. This garden continues into a broad pergola overrun with vines and bordered with autumn colored plants. Through the doorway, across the garden, and down the pergola the models pass, permitting a most excellent view of every detail of the gowns they are wearing to the visitors seated close to the promenade.

Costumes for the entire day are shown both for the house and walking. The evening gowns and wraps are especially beautiful, showing at their best the artistic phases of the new modes, and the absolute perfection of the beauty of the rich brocades, the shimmering satins, exquisite embroideries, rare laces and luxurious furs. Costumes for young girls are displayed, and all of these are especially lovely. Motor coats and bonnets, walking coats and afternoon gowns with appropriate millinery, are exhibited with inimitable taste and grace. Such an exhibition has never been approached. It is an event. It is well worthy of a special visit to the city.

ST. JOSEPH'S WOMEN PLAN FOR HALLOWE'EN REVELS

Tentative arrangements were made last night, by the Women's League of St. Joseph's parish, for holding a masquerade dance on Hallowe'en night, in Debele's Hall, North Plainfield. A feature of the affair will be the decorations, which will include many weird and strange objects.

The committee of arrangements include Mrs. Andrew Carney, Miss Justina Smith, Mrs. A. E. Kenney, Mrs. Joseph Bailey, Mrs. Thomas Mooney and Miss Josephine Geller.

They will be assisted by the officers, who are: Miss Mary O'Connor, president, and Miss Agnes Fitzgerald, vice president.

After the business meeting last night, during which one hundred new members were enrolled, a musical program was rendered by local talent, and refreshments served.

—You can borrow enough trouble in an hour to keep you busy paying it back for the rest of your life.

PLAINFIELD'S CHANCE TO SEE OLD WAR PRISONERS

Winfield Scott Post, No. 72, G. A. R., will entertain the members of the Ex-Prisoners of War Association at its reunion to be held at Reform Hall on Thursday, and a meeting of the Post will be held tonight to complete plans for that affair. There will be a camp-fire Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock to which the public is invited. It is hoped that the people of Plainfield will turn out in large numbers to welcome the old soldiers.

At the camp-fire those present will have an opportunity of hearing some of the personal experiences of the ex-prisoners of war, which should be of great interest, and pupils of the city and borough High Schools are especially invited.

BIRTHDAY PARTY ON LAWN FOR LITTLE HAZEL M'VOY

Hazel Margaret McVoy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McVoy, of West Fourth street, was given a lawn party yesterday afternoon in honor of her seventh birthday anniversary. The little celebrant received many gifts, including a gold bracelet with her name inscribed thereon, which was sent to her by her father who is traveling in Michigan.

The guests at the party were: Elsie Hunter, Alice Hicks, Adrain Squier, Lois Drake, Olive Lindaberry, Jennie Robertson, Patience Lock, Sarah Lock, Lucile Burke, Estelle Burke, Florence and Emily Goodenough, Florence Squier, Helen Ludlow and Master Stephen Woodward.

HOWELL DIVISION ELECTS; MRS. MOORE PATRIARCH

Howell Division, No. 97, Sons of Temperance, held its annual business meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Moore, 331 East Third street, last night, when these officers were elected to serve for three months: Worthy patriarch, Mrs. P. H. Moore; secretary, Mrs. Hattie Gibbons; financial secretary, Mrs. Sarah Mattox; treasurer, Mrs. A. Angleman; chaplain, Mrs. M. Terry; conductor, William H. Conger; worthy associate, Miss Try Mattox; inside and outside sentinel, Mrs. Leland; past worthy patriarch, P. H. Moore.

This is the second term for Mrs. Moore as worthy patriarch. Howell Division meets the first and third Monday evenings of each month at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Moore. William H. Conger was initiated last night. The next meeting will be held Monday night, October 21.

MEN WORKERS AT WATCHUNG MILL JOIN GIRL STRIKERS

In addition to the forty young women employed as silk weavers at the Watchung-Mitchell Silk Company who went on a strike yesterday, fifty men employed by the company have quit since that time. It was stated today by a representative of the strikers that the company had offered to pay $11 a week to an operator to run two looms, but the operators have refused, their demand being $15. The company, it is said, have made two concessions, allowing two shuttles on each loom and raising the rate a half-cent a yard on what is known as "bad work."

The weavers are confident of enforcing their demands and believe that the trouble will be adjusted by tomorrow. Yesterday, it was said, that the company refused to arbitrate, but that today efforts have been made to settle the strike. The weavers will hold a meeting tonight to decide on future plans.

ENDRESS TURNS ATTENTION TO ELKS LIQUOR LICENSE

The question of the city securing the fees from the liquor license granted to Plainfield Lodge, No. 885, B. P. O. E., was raised by Councilman Fred Endress at the meeting of the Council, last night. He thought that inasmuch as the Elks get the benefit of police protection, the city should get the benefit of the money paid for a liquor license.

Councilman Clay moved that the matter be referred to the corporation counsel for an opinion, while Councilman Mygatt moved that it be referred to the State Legislature. It was finally voted to refer it to Mr. Stillman, Councilmen Tolles, Wilson, Gloak and Dunn voting against the motion. Several of the members were inclined to regard the matter as a joke, but Mr. Endress was evidently in deep earnest and was desirous of getting a legal opinion.

—It's all right to be an early bird, provided you are not merely scratching up the worms for the late risers.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

SOME CURRIED DISHES.

PERSONS who prepare their food highly spiced will like curried dishes.

These foods are either seasoned by the use of a curry powder or are served with a curry sauce.

Curry sauce may be used with eggs, chicken, etc., and is prepared as follows:

Curry Sauce.—Take a tablespoonful of chopped onion and cook for five minutes in a tablespoonful of butter. Stir in a tablespoonful of curry powder and two tablespoonfuls of flour and stir it into the butter. Then add a pint of hot milk, stirring it in very gradually.

Meat and Vegetable Curries.

Curry of Beef.—Take cold roast beef and cut it into small cubes. Mince an onion and brown it in a frying pan. Add to the onion a teaspoonful of curry powder, a saltspoonful of salt and quarter of a pint of water. Thicken this with a teaspoonful of flour mixed with a little cold water. Add the meat and squeeze over it the juice of an orange.

Curried Tomatoes.—Take a cupful of rice and wash well. Then open a quart can of tomatoes and have a casserole dish ready. Put in alternate layers of tomatoes and the uncooked rice, season with one tablespoonful of minced ham, one teaspoonful of minced parsley and a teaspoonful of curry powder. On the top layer sprinkle cracker crumbs and dots of butter and bake.

These Are Highly Spiced.

Curried Eggs.—Take four eggs, an onion, an apple, one tablespoonful of curry powder, one dessertspoonful of minced chutney, one ounce and a half of butter, one ounce of flour, half a pint of stock, a squeeze of lemon juice and salt. Boil the eggs hard, remove the shell and cut in half lengthways. Chop the onion and apple and fry in the butter. Add the curry powder and then the flour and the stock. Boil for ten minutes; then put in the eggs until they are warmed through. Serve with boiled rice.

Curried Chicken.—Take a nice tender chicken. Cut up and place in a deep saucepan. Fry in butter until light brown. Take out the chicken and fry chopped onion in the same butter until light brown, add one dessertspoonful of curry powder and fry a little, constantly stirring. Put the chicken in again, with one dessertspoonful of grated cocoanut, three cloves and a small stick of cinnamon. Mix well. Add one gill of rich brown sauce, one-half gill of tomato pulp and one-half gill of stock or water. Boil and skim. Cover and let simmer forty minutes. Ten minutes before serving salt to taste and add the juice of one-half a lemon. Serve with plain boiled rice.

SOVEREIGN SUGGESTION ACCEPTED BY COUNCIL

Street Committee Preparing for Passage of Ordinance on Kensington Ave.

The councilmanic street committee having decided to accept the suggestions of George E. Sovereign regarding the opening and extending of Kensington avenue, from Prospect to Park avenues, an ordinance was offered by Councilman Gloak at last night's meeting of the Council, providing for this improvement. At the same time the old ordinance which caused so much discussion and opposition and which led to an injunction being secured by the property owners, was repealed.

According to the new ordinance which was adopted on two readings and ordered advertised, the extension will run from the south side of Prospect aenue to the northeast side of Park avenue, slightly to the south of the old line, as suggested by Mr. Sovereign, and which will not interfere with the realty development in the vicinity of Randolph road and Park avenue. The street is to be sixty feet wide. There will be a public hearing on the ordinance on Monday night, November 4. It is understood that the plans as now outlined in the new ordinance will not be objected to by the property-owners on Kensington avenue.

Harry B. MacDonald, Howard Tracy and E. A. Laing, commissioners in the matter of the proposed sewage extension, presented their report, maps, etc., and a resolution fixing Monday night, November 4, as the time when the report will be considered, was adopted.

Councilman George S. Clay returned the various bids received sometime ago in connection with the proposition to introduce a municipal system of collection of garbage and ashes, and offered a resolution, to the effect that they were found to be impracticable, rejecting the same and providing that the street commissioner and corporation counsel be instructed to prepare specifications and submit them to the Council.

CITY SUPPLY CONTRACTS ARE GOING BEGGING NOW

Although last night was the time fixed for the Common Council to receive bids for furnishing coal, hay, straw and oats for the various departments, only one bid was presented and that for oats, hay and straw. Not a bid for coal was made.

Joseph Harrigan offered to furnish the city with oats at $1.25 a bag, hay at $26 a ton and straw at $22 a ton, these prices to hold good until April 1, 1913. This bid was referred to the fire and building committee.

AID SOCIETY GIVES DINNER TO FIRST METHODIST BOARD

A banquet was given to the Official Board of the First Methodist church last evening by the Ladies' Aid Society of the church. Mrs. H. E. Parker acted as chairman of the committee in charge.

Henry A. McGee was toastmaster while the following were called upon to make speeches: James W Jackson, Samuel Bingaman, L. D. Albin, James R. Joy, James Rittenhouse, Harry Gee and Dr. C. M. Anderson. Solos were sung by Mrs. S. H. Tugwell and Mrs. Thomas MacDonald.

The banquet room was decorated with autumn foliage and hydrangeas, while the tables were adorned with vases of fall flowers.

SORROWING MOTHER KEEPS UP SEARCH FOR MISSING BOY

Elmore George Kane, the 19 year old son of Mrs. August Brandel, of 206 Manson place, who disappeared from his home on July 2 last, is still missing and despite the fact that the boy's mother has kept up a constant search, she has been unable to get any trace of him. The last Mrs. Brandel heard from her son was on August 15 last, when she received a postal card. He wrote that he was destitute.

The lad worked at the Pond Machine Tool Works for nearly three years and at the time he left home was working at the Ransom Concrete Company plant, drawing $15 a week. Mrs. Brandel says that she will not give up her search until every posible hope is gone and her means are exhausted.

CHURCH CLUB SOCIAL.

The first regular weekly social of the Men's Club of Grace Episcopal church was held in the gymnasium and club rooms, last evening. Games of all sorts were played in the "gym" during the early part of the evening and refreshments were served in the club rooms after the games.

STILL COLD IN BORO SCHOOLROOMS TODAY

The new course of study drafted and suggested by Supervisor Vossler of North Plainfield schools, for the elementary grades, and submitted to the Board of Education recently, was adopted at a special meeting of the Board held last night. It was also decided to place the fifth and sixth grades on a two session daily program, instead of a long, single one, as heretofore.

Contrary to expectations, there is no heat in the building today, as the temporary system is not completed, making it decidedly uncomfortable for pupils and teachers.

SCHOOL BOARD APPOINTS NIGHT SCHOOL FACULTIES

Aside from the appointment o teachers for the evening schools, the Board of Education had little business to transact at last night's meeting. Those chosen for the high school work were Miss Zoe Bateman as principal, and Sara L. Wardner Julius J. Newmark, Rita C. Pond and Elizabeth Fraser as instructors.

The committee on teachers to whom was referred some time ago the suggestion made by E. F. Feickert, that a school savings system be established, reported, and as a result of their report it was decided not to do anything about the matter.

On September 30, the custodian had $2,414.33 on hand, and the collector took in $88.29 during the month. The nursing bureau reported 5,727 inspections in September.

INQUIRE INTO SANITY OF WIFE-BEATER MANHATTAN

Joseph Manhattan, of 247 East Third street, who was arrested three weeks ago for beating his wife, and at that time took the pledge, was before Judge DeMeza in the city court this morning on the same charge. Last night Manhattan went home full and tried to make a football, punching bag and baseball out of his wife, all in one operation. When the judge made Manhattan take the pledge three weeks ago, he had him report to Chief of Police Kiely every Sunday morning. Manhattan broke the pledge almost immediately and has not reported to the chief once. This morning he pleaded on bended knees for one more chance, but the court remanded him until tomorrow, and in the meantime he will be examined as to his sanity.

John Hogan, of Front street, was let go on a charge of being drunk, but was told that if he came back within six months he would get sixty days in jail. He promised to be good.

COMPANY K HAS A BUSY OPENING MEETING

Company "K" opened its fall and winter season last evening with a company drill and a business meeting. About three-fourths of the company turned out. The applications of two men were received for membership. The election of four members that were introduced to the company at its last business meeting was held over until next week.

The entertainment committee reported that all arrangements for the smoker and reunion to be given next Monday night to the old members of the company had been completed. An informal invitation from the Knights of Columbus to participate in the Columbus Day parade to be held Saturday afternoon was declined by vote because of incomplete equipment. Lieutenant N. A. Hort was appointed a committee to organize an independent gun club of members and honorary members to use the indoor range during the winter season.

A letter was received from Company C, of Elizabeth, for the local company to take part in an athletic meet the latter part of this month. Private James A. Thompson was appointed chairman and Corporal George Howell and Private Robert Harrison were asked to serve. The company expects to be able to put a good basketball team in the field and is working up a track team to compete in the different athletic games to be held by the National Guard this winter.

DORA VIEWS THE WORLD.

Dora Goldstein, two and a half years old, went on a sightseeing trip yesterday. She left her home at 119 Liberty street shortly after dinner, and at 3 o'clock was picked up on Front street by Patrolman Hendershot, and seemed to be very much bewildered as to the magnitude of the world which she had found up to that time. Her father, Strul Goldstein came to police headquarters shortly after 6 o'clock and took her home.

GRACE CHURCH AUXILIARY.

Plans for the winter's work were talked over at the first fall meeting of the Young Women's Auxiliary held in the parish house of Grace Episcopal church, yesterday afternoon.

BORO DEMOCRATS HEAR CANDIDATES

All Kinds of Politicians Gather at Wilson and Marshall Rally.

EVEN G. O. P. MEN THERE

Anderson and Blackman Shake Hands Outside the Hall—Inside Azariah Beekman Whacks Watchung Statesman as a Dodger.

A mass meeting under the auspices of the Wilson and Marshall Club of North Plainfield, was held in the headquarters of that club, last night, and proved an attraction to a large number of politicians and candidates for local offices. Democrats crowded into the club rooms to hear stirring speeches embracing every phase of the campaign. National, State and local issues were discussed by the nominees and by Thomas Lincoln Dick, of New York, who has just completed a tour of the New England States, under the direction of the National Democratic Committee.

On the outside of the hall, shaking hands with the voters and asking for support were William E. Blackman, candidate for Congress, and Assemblyman Anderson, both Republicans, who have been campaigning through Somerset county accompanied by E. E. Cooper, G. O. P. candidate for Surrogate. In a number of instances, men of opposite political beliefs, who are assailing each other on the "stump," buried the hatchet for a few minutes and exchanged pleasantries.

Daniel Bodine, president of the Borough club, presided at the meeting and introduced Mr. Dick, who gave a lengthy address on the tariff question, various National issues, and called for the loyal support of Governor Wilson, and his running mate Marshall.

Congressional candidate Walsh, of Trenton, was the next orator, and spoke on, "Woodrow Wilson and the Legislature." He described the progressive democracy of Wilson's platform. He told the voters of business conditions in the factories of Trenton and of the old convention on system of selecting candidates, and said under the old way, he would have had no chance to be office-seeker, but under the Geran Act, he had become a candidate and asked for support. His address was interrupted by the entrance of George La Monte, who when running for Congress at the primaries, received 90 per cent. of the Borough Democratic vote. Walsh paid a high tribute to La Monte who in turn made an address and returned the compliments.

The next speaker was Assemblymanic candidate Beekman, who bitterly assailed his opponent, Mr. Anderson. Although having no personal views against Anderson, he said he had been unable, up to the present time to find out what political policies his Republican adversary stood for.

The borough candidates for Common Council, Perkins and Lewin, were the concluding speakers of the evening, both telling the voters they would work for the better interest and industrial advancement of North Plainfield.

TO ALLOW P. S. R. TO MAKE IMPROVEMENT

Ordinance Permitting Installation of "Y's" Goes to Third Reading.

Ordinances were introduced by Councilman Gloak at the Common Council meeting last night giving the Public Service Railway the right to install a passing siding on East Second street, west of McKinley place, a "Y" at Richmond and East Fifth street and another "Y" at Grant avenue and West Front street, the company agreeing to pave with wood block those corners where the "Ys" are to be placed. The "Y" wanted at Watchung avenue and Fourth street was not included at this time. The proposed ordinances were adopted on two readings and ordered advertised. Mr. Gloak presented a letter from H. G. I. Roberts, vice president of the trolley company, in which the company agreed to pave the intersections with wood blocks.

Councilman Gloak on behalf of G. Stuart Simmons, of a local realty company, presented a new map of the tract, and the same was filed. The realty concern has petitioned for certain improvements, including sewers. On motion of Mr. Gloak the ordinance providing for an extension of the sewer system was passed on third reading.

SEWERAGE COMMISSION.

Owing to the fact that Councilman Duncan W. Taylor and F. L. Holt will retire as members of the Common Council this year, at the suggestion of the former, President Tolles at last night's meeting, appointed Councilmen C. C. Randolph and F. E. Mygatt as members of the sewerage commission to succeed the retiring members so that there may be no interruption of the work.

Philosophical Phelix Says:

JUST TAPS BY "BUNTS"

Judging from the crowd awaiting for the World Series returns some interest must be prevalent in local baseball circles in regard to the big show. Even though we can't get a seat at the Polo Grounds it is better to hang around these diggins until noon and then journey downtown to hear the results.

Dorflinger's pets could not defeat the Colored Giants but they journey over to New Brunswick the next day and take the World's Champion baseball team into camp with an 11 to 0 score. Now it is up to the baseball fanatics to figure out the chances of the local colored ball tossers when it comes to be the big league article of ball.

Harter's homer off Bender over the center field fence was one of the kind he generally gets when he goes to Bound Brook and this was an unusually good one as it resulted in four runs.

Harter's idiocyncrasies with the birch were closely followed up by Jack Martin who got a two bagger out of the Athletic twirlers whom he has met before, by the way.

There was absolutely no remedy available to suppress the lightened spirits of the colored population Saturday night and the victory of Simmons' men was just what they have been laying for so long. Now that they took the first game Dorflinger will give them an opportunity to repeat it on the oval next Saturday afternoon and if they do it we will have to admit that they have the superior aggregation.

R. G. E. have now won the trophy in the Manufacturers' league and they won it by playing for it too. Wonder if they will stop now and rest on their laurels or continue to play all winter as some others have started to do. Let us hope they have had enough, the gridiron warriors want a chance to shine.

Manager Dorflinger has arranged two real things in baseball for the local fans for next Saturday afternoon. Just think of seeing a world's championship game and a fast battle between two of the best semi-professional nines in this vicinity for two bits. Can you beat that?

P. H. S. starts its football season next Saturday afternoon. Here's hoping it will blow into the game as successfully as its rival, Holy Cross, has. We want an interesting battle when these two elevens are brought together for the local title.

Certain N. P. H. S. athletes are seen every night doing the marathon act down Mountain avenue and we wonder why. Some one has said that this ambitious set of athletes is being led by George Townley and he is getting his men into condition to take another basketball title from the local High School boys.

Manager Grisley, of the High School basketball team, is busy making up his schedule and expects to have several new quintets on the program this season and will also open up competition between a number of teams that have been blotted off the local school's schedule for some time past.

Bob Bogardus says that he is now ready to retire for the season as he has accomplished the aim of his baseball career—to take a season series from Bound Brook.

WHY MONROE NINE WITHDREW

Sunday School Leaguers Did Not Get a Square Deal From the Board.

PEEVISHNESS CHARGED

Robins, Who Presided at the Meeting, Was Angered and Only Added Insult to Injury—Facts Presented—Statistics Favor Monroe.

Sporting Editor, Plainfield Daily Press:

Your issue of Saturday last announces that the board of managers voted the cup given by the Courier-News to the Hope Chapel team. The Courier-News reports that "in a speech by the president of the league the resignation of the Monroes was set down as being unsportsmanlike in the extreme and a blight upon the Athletic Association of Monroe Avenue Church." President Robins, in his anger, only added insult to injury. He also said that "all of the kicks against the decisions of the league were the arguments of one man set against the views of six other men." Which is not in accord with the facts, else there would not have been two protests from different teams and there would not have been so many tie votes for the president to decide. Monroe does think he is right in admitting that we could not get a square deal from the board. But we will not indulge in such vituperation as some have, but desire to be judged by the facts.

Fact 1. The constitution of the S. S. League says: "Spaulding's set of National League rules shall govern all games. Any modification necessary being made by the governing body." It further says: "The president shall preside at all meetings, enforce the laws, decide all questions of order, and cast a vote in case of a tie."

Fact 2. Spaulding's rules Nos. 63 and 65 absolutely prohibit an appeal or protest on an umpire's decision based on the accuracy of his judgment.

Fact 3. Monroe has in every game displayed real sportsmanship by invariably accepting the umpire's decisions and following the rules.

Fact 4. Not one protest has been registered by the Monroes against any umpire or team, although opportunities were no more lacking for them than for the teams who did protest.

Fact 5. On July 27, Monroe played the Park Avenue Baptists and won the game fairly by a score of 8-7.

Fact 6. The Park Avenue Baptists protested the game on the basis of the umpire's decisions, which protest was in violation of league rules.

Fact 7. The board of managers permitted the protest to stand and ordered that the game be replayed, thus themselves acting in utter disregard of the rules and encouraging further violations.

Fact 8. They refused to accept the umpire's report but permitted and accepted the statement of interested spectators; a most unsportsmanlike proceeding on the part of the governing body.

Fact 9. Upon the basis of the "kicks" of one team the board forced the retirement of Umpire Bolmer, a fair-minded gentleman, who umpired nine games without a protest, yet on the first complaint the board throws him out. Monroe's withdrawal is a protest against this unfair and unsportsmanlike action.

Fact 10. Monroe Avenue replayed the game upon orders from the board although with a feeling that the order was irregular and illegal, not to say most unjust. They won the game by a score of 11-2 in a manner that even the board itself would not dare to question.

Fact 11. A repetition of the above invalid action of the board was enacted in the case of the protest of Hope Chapel against the Temples. Monroe has withdrawn as a remonstrance against such enforcement of league rules.

Fact 12. The league schedule calls for fifteen games. Monroe has actually played sixteen games and won twelve out of the sixteen. The last Courier-News and Press reports show that Hope Chapel has played fourteen games and won ten. This clearly shows that without having two games given to them, Hope Chapel could not possibly claim the cup. We have no quarrel with the Hope Chapel team, but we do remonstrate against such an arbitrary interpretation of the rules as will give any team the advantage of three games never played and the cup. Monroe cannot stand for such a fictitious tie with Hope Chapel and therefore does not see why we should play a final game with that team.

Fact 13. Mr. McCormick acted under positive instructions of the team, he did not lose his temper nor "peevishly" withdraw. He has the unqualified respect of every member of the team and of Monroe Avenue church. He has stood for right even when alone.

Fact 14. The Monroe Avenue team has smiply insisted on fair play and a square deal. We believe that games should be played on the field and not in the board of managers, by fans. That is of more consequence than the cup, although we take second place to none in the respect we have for the donor and we do not in the least affect to despise the cup. In fact, we hold that we have honorably won the cup in the field.

Fact 15. Under these circumstances we regret that we cannot in honor continue with such management and for these reasons we have withdrawn. We gave the board the very last minute for doing justice, but to no avail.

We desire to thank the public for their generous and unfailing support and are perfectly willing to rest our case with fair-minded people on its merits and on the facts.

Signed,
THE MONROE AVENUE BASE-BALL TEAM.

P. S.—In a recent protest made by Philadelphia against the Giants, President Lynch enforced the rules, throwing out the protest in this language: "The umpire's ruling on this play was based solely on his arruracy of judgment, and as his ruling was not in violation of any of the rules, the decision cannot be reversed." Our claim is that all the cases in the Sunday-school League come under the same rule.

"HOME RUN" BAKER IS A BOOMER FOR WILSON

New York, Oct. 8.—Having been assured of the moral support of Ty Cobb and other famous baseball players, Governor Wilson is now receiving the financial support of the famous Baker family.

Treasurer Rolla Wells received a perfectly good bill of United States currency, No. Z68597756, from J. Franklin Baker, who gave his address as Trappe, Talbot county, Md., and added that he played third base for the Philadelphia Athletics.

"Home Run" Baker was not satisfied with sending in his contribution to the campaign fund, but he also had F. A. Baker likewise send in legal tender.

DOYLE AND SPEAKER GET AUTOMOBILES

Pronounced the Greatest All-Around Players in Their Respective Leagues.

Tris Speaker, center fielder of the Red Sox, and Larry Doyle, second baseman and captain of the Giants, have been pronounced the greatest all-around players of their respective leagues for the season of 1912 by the Chalmers Trophy Commission. Each of the champions will receive a Chalmers 1913 "Thirty-six."

Ren Mulford, Jr., chairman of the jury of newspaper men, has arrived in Chicago bearing the papers containing the votes, and the two players will receive the new cars during the World Series.

Hugh Chalmers, president of the Chalmers Motor Company, of Detroit, who last season evolved this idea of stimulating the general play and conduct of the big leaguers, was present today at the Polo grounds, New York, to deliver a Chalmers car into the keeping of Capt. Larry. Tomorrow at Fenway Park, Boston, the motor car maker will make a like award to Speaker when the Giants and Red Sox prepare for the second battle of the world's championship.

Last season the commission composed of newspaper baseball writers in the eleven cities of the two major circuits honored Frank Schulte, of the Cubs, with a total of 29 points, and Tyrus Cobb, the sensational Tiger who was given a perfect score of 64 points. This season "Wildfire" failed to earn a point while Cobb is tied with Baker, of the Mackmen, for seventh place, each having been awarded 17 points. Fifty-nine points were voted to Speaker's credit while Doyle amassed a total of 48.

Speaker participated in 150 American league games and in 569 times at bat he polled 218 hits for a total of 325, scoring 183 runs.

Doyle, batting fifth in the National league, with an average of .325, engaged in 139 games, went to the plate 544 times, scored 100 runs and made 177 hits for a total of 256 bases.

RESUME OF LAST YEAR'S WORLD SERIES

How Games Were Won and Lost That Made Athletics Champions.

Facts concerning the world's series last fall may be interesting to fans who, perhaps, have forgotten some of the details. Six games were played, the Athletics winning four and the Giants two. The first game was played at the Polo Grounds on Saturday, October 14. The Giants were victorious, 2 to 1, the pitchers being Mathewson and Bender. The New Yorks made five hits and no errors, with six hits and two errors for the Mack men. The Athletics scored their run in the second inning on Baker's single, followed by another hit, a passed ball and a sacrifice. New York's run in the fourth inning was made by Snodgrass, who was hit by a pitched ball, a subsequent error by Eddie Collins sending him home. The winning run was secured in the seventh inning on successive two baggers by Meyers and Devore.

The Athletics triumphed in the second game at Philadelphia, 3 to 1, Plank holding the Giants to five hits. The Quakers made but four hits themselves, one of them being a home run by Frank Baker in the sixth inning, which sent Collins, who had doubled, across the plate, too. These wallops were made off Marquard, who had allowed Lord to count in the first inning on a single, a sacrifice and a fearfully wild pitch. The Giant run was hung up in the second inning on Herzog's double, an infield out and Meyers' single.

The third game, played in New York, lasted eleven innings, the Athletics again winning, 3 to 2. Coombs and Matty were the pitchers. The Quakers made nine hits to the Giants' three, the New York committing six fielding mistakes. McGraw's men held the lead by 1 and 0 up to the ninth inning when Baker hammered the ball into the grandstand for another four bagger, tying the score. In the eleventh, Matty was found for three hits, which with errors by Merkle and Herzog netted two runs. Herzog scored a run in the last half on a double and an error by Collins. This game was played on October 17, after which rain set in and held the series up until October 23 in Philadelphia, when the Athletics scored their third victory, 4 to 2. Bender held the New Yorks to seven hits, while ten bingles were gathered off Matty in seven innings. The Athletics clinched victory in the fourth inning with three runs, the result of two baggers by Baker, Murphy and Davis, an out and a sacrifice fly.

In a sensational ten inning struggle on October 26, the Giants won, 4 to 3. Marquard started out well, but in the third inning with two men on, Oldring hit the ball into the left field seats for a home run. The Rube was taken out and Ames pitched runless ball in the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh rounds. Crandall then finished the game effectively. In the ninth inning with the score 3 to 1, the count was tied when Fletcher and Crandall doubled and Devore singled. Larry Doyle scored the deciding run in the tenth, when he doubled, took third on a fielder's choice and ran home on Meyers' base hit. Coombs pitched great ball in this game until he wrenched his side. Then Plank unsuccessfully tried to stave off defeat.

The Athletics administered a severe beating to McGraw's men in the last game at Philadelphia on October 27, the score being 13 to 2. Bender came back with a four hit game, while the champions hammered Ames, Wiltse and Marquard for a total of thirteen safe drives.

KLING APPLIES FOR HIS IMMEDIATE RELEASE

John Kling, manager of the Boston National League Baseball Club, is through with organized baseball unless he is allowed to manage the Kansas City team, from which club he recently received an offer at the salary he received in Boston. Kling left last night ostensibly to go to his home in Kansas City, but it is understood that he has hit the trail in search of President Gaffney in hopes of ascertaining where he stands. McGraw, Fred Clarke and Charlie Dooin have each made inquiries of Kling as to what he is going to do in case he is succeeded by Stallings as manager of the Boston team.

There are reports in circulation that a Boston man has made an offer amounting practically to $400,000 for the club. This offer consists of $150,000 cash, the assumption of a note of $50,000 and the taking over of a $200,000 mortgage. The Gaffney interests, so it is reported, wanted $174,725 cash, or $185 a share for the 945 shares they own, and will not sell unless every share is taken in a lump.

LOCAL COLLEGIANS WIN AT RUTGERS

Schenck and Robins Win Prize at College Athletic Meet.

On last Saturday afternoon, at Neilson Field, New Brunswick, was held the annual track and field meet of the classes of Rutgers College. About fifty contestants were entered in the various events, among whom were Harold Schenck and Stanley Robins, of this city, and every number on the program was hotly contested. The meet resulted in a victory for the freshmen, who scored 51 points, and the seniors finishing second with 33 points.

Schenck ran second in the third heat of the 100 yard dash and also in the semi-finals, but was defeated in the finals which was won in 11 2-5 seconds. He also took second prize in the high hurdles, second in the 16 lb. hammer throw and ran on the winning relay team representing the class of 1912.

Robins took first place in the second heat of the century but was eliminated in the semi-final round. Robins is a member of the same class as Schenck and ran on the winning relay composed of Schenck, Robins, Howell and Silvers.

ZEREGA PLAYING FOOTBALL WITH PRINCETON PREP

Jack Zerega, the former Plainfield High School all-round athlete, is taking up a course of study, preparatory to his entering college, at the Princeton Preparatory school at Princeton, N. J. Although this is his first year at that institution of learning, the coaches have already found out his athletic ability and have picked him for the varsity eleven. In the game between Princeton Prep. and East Orange High School last Saturday he played quarter-back and although his team was defeated 61 to 0, it was through no fault of Zerega's.

He displayed great "head work" all through the contest and ran his men through the signals like a veteran. Jack's success is probably due to the fact that in whatever he takes a part he puts his undivided energy to the task. As East Orange H. S. has one of the fastest elevens in the State and as Saturday's game was Princeton Prep.'s first struggle, it must not be thought that the Princeton boys made a poor showing.

HOLY CROSS PRACTISING FOR DEWITT CLINTON

"Doc" Hamilton, of the Holy Cross football team, has issued a call for practice on Cricket Field this evening. Every candidate must be on the field in football "togs" in order to be sure of an opportunity to get into the big game next Saturday afternoon.

On account of next Saturday being a legal holiday and in order to give local gridiron enthusiasts a chance to see the church team in action, Manager Doyle is trying to arrange a game to be played here, instead of taking his warriors to Staten Island, as was originally planned. A game had been scheduled with Dewitt-Clinton High School on their home grounds but negotiations are under way to stage the game here.

In the event that the Holy Cross manager succeeds in doing this, Plainfield followers will be given a rare treat as the New York team is one of the speediest in Metropolitan scholastic football circles.

RITTER MAY JOIN ATHLETICS

Twirler Who Appeared Here Against Bound Brook Gets Tempting Offer.

WILL REPORT TODAY

Is in Philadelphia Today as the Guest of the Athletics—His Twirling Sunday Attracted Connie Mack—Is a Favorite With the Players.

This may be the last season that local fans will see Fred Ritter perform on the mound for the pets and Manager Dorflinger. The Philadelphia Athletics, who were at New Brunswick Sunday, are after the Brunswick star pitcher, and Ritter may consent to pitch for Connie Mack before this week is over. Ritter, who has been the idol of the fans since he made his debut here against Bound Brook, will finish the season with Driscoll's team. He has a large following here.

Ritter will go to Philadelphia today to meet Connie Mack. This appointment was made last evening by Ira Thomas, who had a conference with the pitcher. The Athletics and the Philadelphia Nationals are playing a series of games and Ritter will attend as the guest of the Athletics.

Just whether Ritter will decide to join the Athletics next season is not known. It is thought, however, that if Mack gives Ritter a good enough offer he will accept and enter major league ball. Several league managers were after Ritter this season. Manager Callahan, of the White Sox, wanted him, so did Fred Clarke, of the Pittsburg team, and it is said that Harry Wolverton, of the New York Yankees, and Clark Griffith, of the Washington team, had their eye on him. All of the offers he received were turned down. He preferred playing semi-professional ball.

Earl Mack, son of Connie Mack, who played short stop for the Athletics Sunday, was a close observer of Ritter in the game. Captain Danny Murphy, of the Athletics, who sat on the players' bench during the game, also looked over the local pitcher. Mack and Murphy were seen talking together. Chief Bender was also in the conference. At the end of the seventh inning Young Mack went to the pitcher's box and had a talk with Ritter. The result of the conversation could not be learned, but judging from a remark which Catcher Thomas made to the fans later it was evident that Mack was talking to Ritter about joining the Athletics.

Earl Mack had a talk with Driscoll after the game relative to Ritter going to Philadelphia.

"Are you going to give Ritter a tryout with the Athletics?" young Mack was asked.

"That is one of the main reasons why we came over here today," was his reply. "We have been reading a great deal about him, and if we can get him we certainly will take him. He will be a great help to the team next season in the American League. I have known Ritter for some time and he is a great pitcher. It's a fine team you have here, and the town should feel proud of the nine."

"I want you to come over to Philadelphia this week," said Thomas to Ritter.

"I would not do that," replied Ritter.

Ritter finally promised Thomas that he would appear in Philadelphia today and would go to the park where the team was playing.

"Ritter is a great pitcher," said Thomas, "and we would like to get him. The entire team is stuck on him. We watched his work against us and we are well satisfied that he can make a good showing."

COMMISSION NAMED FOR WIDENING STREET

The Common Council having determined it to be impossible to treat with the property owners on Madison avenue for the widening of that thoroughfare in any other way, Councilman W. L. Gloak, at last night's meeting of that body, offered a resolution, which was adopted, providing for the appointment of Elliot T. Barrows, Howard Tracy and Michael Rimmer as commissioners to assess benefits and damages for the improvement. The commission will meet on Tuesday night, October 29.

GET ONE JUROR IN BECKER CASE

Each Talesman Is Carefully Scrutinized by Defendant.

MAY HOLD NIGHT SESSIONS

Goff Threatens to Remove McIntyre From Court—"Big Jack" Zelig Buried—Now Thought He Was Victim of Gang Feud.

New York, Oct. 8.—After an all day session Harold B. Skinner, manager of the branch office of the New York Edison company at 830 Third avenue, was selected as the first juryman in the trial of Lieutenant Charles Becker, indicted for the murder of Herman Rosenthal. Skinner is the son of Charles Skinner, state superintendent of public instruction from 1895 to 1904 and who is now assistant appraiser of the port.

Fourteen talesmen were examined in the two sessions of the opening day, and after five hours passing with but one juryman in the box, Justice Goff notified District Attorney Whitman and Lieutenant Becker's chief counsel, John F. McIntyre, that if the jury is not completed by 5 p. m. today he will order night sessions.

Justice Goff said very plainly that he will not tolerate methods of jury selection which have been, he said, a scandal in the past. Presiding with a firm hand, alert in detecting stratagems of counsel distasteful to him and emphatic in repressing unnecessary argument and time-wasting tactics, the justice was at all times the master of his court. Bearding him early in the proceedings Mr. McIntyre subsided speedily upon being told that removal and arrest was imminent.

May Hold Night Sessions.

When the day's work was over it was plain that the difficulty of getting a jury satisfactory to Llentenant Becker himself would require night sessions. Incessantly watchful, keen in sensing the antagonism of talesmen, the lieutenant rejected more than one man who appeared to be satisfactory to his counsel. Impassive and concentrated, the accused policeman was a figure to be marked.

The cause of the slow progress was the statement of every talesman questioned that from reading the newspapers he had formed a strong opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the defendant. Nearly all believed that their opinion could be changed by the evidence, but there was that in their manner and in their tone which made Becker and his counsel wary of them, even though the justice in many instances held that they should not be disqualified because of an opinion formed previous to the hearing of testimony and overruled Mr. McIntyre's challenges for bias, so that counsel for the defense were compelled to use four of their thirty peremptory challenges. The district attorney challenged peremptorily three times.

"Big Jack" Zelig Buried.

When "Big Jack" Zelig, who was murdered on Second avenue Saturday night by "Red Phil" Davidson, was buried in Washington cemetery, Brooklyn, Jack Sirocco, himself a gang leader and an enemy of Zelig, said:

Just how important Zelig would have been as a witness to the defense or the prosecution was a matter which interested many persons.

Jacob Sandler, who has a small coffee house in Broome street and from whom Davidson says he borrowed $10 on Saturday, denied that he had given any money to Davidson. Sandler says he saw Davidson twice on Saturday, in the morning and about 7 o'clock in the evening, but he did not give him any money. This knocks out part of Davidson's story of how he got the money with which to go to Jersey City and buy in a pawnshop the revolver with which he killed Zelig.

Ex-Magistrate Wahle, who was counsel for Zelig, said that after interviewing the gang men in the Tombs and friends of Zelig he had been unable to find any motive for the killing of Zelig.

JUSTICE JOHN W. GOFF.

Ruling With Iron Hand at Trial of Lieutenant Becker.

IRONWORKER ADMITS HE IS A DYNAMITER

Business Agent's Plea of Guilty Causes Sensation.

Indianapolis, Oct. 8.—A sensation surpassing that caused by the district attorney's denunciation of H. S. Hockin on Saturday came in the dynamite cases when the district attorney announced at the opening of court that Edward Clark, business agent of the Cincinnati local of ironworkers, wanted to change his plea of not guilty to one of guilty. As the announcement was made every eye in the courtroom was leveled upon Clark, who rose and walked to the judge's stand.

"Do you plead guilty?" asked Judge Anderson.

"I plead guilty," said Clark.

The prisoner was then separated from the other forty-five defendants and taken to jail to await the imposing of his sentence. Clark pleaded guilty to all charges, five counts of conspiracy and fifty counts of being a principal to the actual illegal interstate shipment of dynamite and nitroglycerin.

Clark was business agent and president of local union 44 of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Ironworkers from January, 1908, to July, 1911. His activities in promoting explosions, Mr. Miller asserted, were carried on through letters written by Frank M. Ryan, president of the union, and the McNamaras. An ivory handled umbrella bearing the initials "E. C." found in the wreckage of a dynamited bridge at Dayton, O., Mr. Miller said, led to the disclosure that Clark actually had caused the explosion, having used the umbrella to protect the dynamite from the rain, then leaving it behind. Clark was charged with carrying out plots against employers of nonunion labor.

In connection with a scheme to blow up the Harrison avenue viaduct at Cincinnati, Mr. Miller alleged Clark wrote to Ryan: "It would be dangerous for me to buy explosives down here. You had better send a stranger. I have got one man out of a lot of trouble already. I am afraid I can't do much more, for the police judge said, 'For God's sake don't bring this bunch before me again or I'll have to do something.'"

FATHER OF POPULISM DEAD.

Former United States Senator Peffer Dies at Home In Kansas.

Topeka, Kan., Oct. 8.—William A. Peffer, the first and only Populist United States senator and founder of the Populist party, died at the home of his daughter at Grenola, Kan.

He was elected to the senate from this state in the early years of the Populist craze.

The former senator was born in Pennsylvania in 1831.

A few months ago he suffered the amputation of a leg that a history on Populism, upon which he was at work, might be completed. It was to have been kept in the archives of the Kansas State Historical society, to be read by historians in years to come.

DIPHTHERIA IN MILL TOWNS.

Forty Cases Develop In Two Days In Webster and Dudley, Mass.

Webster, Mass., Oct. 8.—Forty serious cases of diphtheria have developed in Webster and Dudley within two days, and physicians are making every effort to check the disease. The use of well water by employees of the East Village mills of S. Slater & Sons will be forbidden, and all departments will be connected with the city water main.

Germs in the water are the cause of the illness of the diphtheria victims, according to Dr. Joseph N. Roy, who is attending some of the critical cases.

Smothered In His Pulpit.

Thomasville, Ga., Oct. 8.—A telephone message from Pavo says that the Rev. Samuel Johnson, a negro preacher, was smothered in the excited embrace of his congregation. He was conducting a revival meeting at the time.

CONCERNING PAINT

If you ought to have painted your house last year and waited for paint to come down, how much do you think you made?

That costs about 10 per cent.; you keep your money a year and pay 10 per cent. for it.

The worst mistake is "Cheap" Paint which has to be made of "cheap" materials.

COMMUNION SERMON BY REV. DR. P. B. STRONG

Sunday morning at the First Baptist church the ordinance of the Lord's Supper was observed, and the sermon was in keeping with the ordinance, "Being Therefore Justified Through Faith, We Have Peace With God Through Our Lord Jesus Christ," Rom. 5:1. "These are the words of the greatest of the apostles, Paul. Jesus made no mistake in choosing this masterful man, polished, cultured, scholarly, genuinely converted, as an interpreter of the doctrines upon which His church was to be established. And the true scholar will see that the teachings of the two are parallel. All our hopes are founded upon this doctrine of justification by faith, which figures so prominently in this masterpiece of logic, the epistle to the Romans. It has been the marvel of the ages that the Lord Jesus so willingly took upon Himself the sins of the human race, but we lose sight of the fact that it was first God who 'so loved that He gave' this precious gift. The doctrine of the Trinity is an absolute psychological necessity, for the suffering Christ is but the revelation of the loving God, and the Holy Spirit is He who prompts us to appreciate divine truth and yield ourselves to Him in response to that love. Just as the elements of love and justice are blended in the Diety, so are the lives of human beings inseparably linked together, so that the doings of our fellow men effect us immeasurably. The going astray of one woman brings shame to the whole of womankind, and the disgrace of one man is a reproach to every one of his brothers.

"God, who is Legislator, Executor and Judge, has so ordered that a sinful race might be justified through faith in the merits of the peerless Christ. In Him only shall we find peace. The world is struggling to join it, but it cannot be found in wordly pleasure and amusement. There was but one who came to bring peace to the hearts of men, and through Him alone may it be gained. But we must have faith in His atoning sacrifice, a simple child-like faith which makes to echo in our hearts the sublime and yet simple words of him who wrote:

"'Not the labor of my hands,
Can fulfill Thy law's demands.
Could my zeal no respite know,
Could my tears forever flow,
All for sin could not atone,
Thou must save, and Thou alone.'"

The Bible school session was of especial interest. Miss Edna Kimball, of Brooklyn, sang several beautiful selections and the superintendent, Arthur M. Harris, gave a stirring temperance talk to the school, urging upon them the importance of absolute total abstinence.

The evening sermon was from Matt. 12:10, "Behold, a Man Having a Withered Hand." The Wednesday evening service will be an unusually helpful one. The topic is "250 And." It is expected as one feature that 250 "and more" will be in attendance.

Miss Edna Swain, teacher in the public schools of New Canaan, Conn., has returned to her duties after spending the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Swain, of Craig place.

Herbert Dobbs, of Atlantic City, is spending two weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dobbs, of East Fifth street.

WILSON CONVERT STIRS DEMOCRATS

Martin Devlin, Who Once Opposed Governor, Now Hotly for Him.

TRUST LABOR IS CHEAP

Orator Points out How Tariff-Protected Monopolists Seek to Convey False Impressions—Local Candidates Also Speak at Meeting.

Martin P. Devlin, a Trenton lawyer and campaign orator, who spoke in opposition to Woodrow Wilson when the latter was running for governor because he objected to the man who promoted his nomination, was the principal speaker at the Wilson and Marshall Club last night. He left no doubt in the minds of his hearers last night, however, as to the man he thought occupied the highest pedestal in the field of American politics today—Woodrow Wilson.

He said he looked upon the promises of the Governor, when he was a candidate for the State's chief office, as utterly impossible in the face of the strong political machine which was in power throughout New Jersey, and added that Wilson disappointed him to his satisfaction. More reform had been accomplished in this State during the last gubernatorial administration than had been accomplished in fifty years.

In opening his address Mr. Devlin said that the remedies of present conditions were advocated by the Democratic party sixteen years ago, but at that time they were not considered fashionable or good politics. He said that everything that is good in Theodore Roosevelt and Taft's platforms were taken from the ideas of prominent Democrats and added that the new ideas of Governor Wilson had made this year's Democratic platform the greatest in years.

In speaking of the tariff, and the claim made by the trusts that they want the high rate of tariff to protect American workingmen, Mr. Devlin said, that if the monopolies wanted to protect American labor, they would not employ foreign cheap labor; their cry that they are protecting American mechanics is a statement made to convey a false impression of existing conditions. The common people are not protected by the tariff, he continued, never have been and never will be. In closing he called the attention of his hearers to the manner in which Woodrow Wilson defied the bosses who sought favors, and made an appeal for a Democratic State Legislature.

The next speaker, George Tyler Smith, candidate for councilman from the second ward, called for support of the whole Democratic ticket. In asking for the support of his candidacy, J. S. Schinkle, running for city treasurer, said that the present officeholder did not distribute funds to all of the banks of Plainfield, which are all aiding the uplift of the community.

Other candidates who spoke were: James J. McCann, nominee for Freeholder; councilmanic candidates W. R. Way, of the First ward; Daniel J. Couraine, of the Third ward, and Frank Cullen from the Fourth ward; J. V. F. Dilts, running for city collector; J. B. McNamara, freeholder candidate, and Maxwell Perkins, of North Plainfield, who is running for councilman in that borough.

The club members are making extensive preparations for open-air campaigns throughout the city, and a monster demonstration is being considered, where the tariff will be the chief subject of discussion. Graham McAdams, of New York, an expert on this topic, and who is now touring the country under the direction of the National Committee, will be secured to address the gathering.

Percy H. Stewart was not present at the meeting last night, as expected.

PASTOR BOOMS T. R.

Rev. George Mooney, at one time pastor of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church and now pastor of a large church in South Orange, was in Plainfield yesterday with C. W. Ennis, the Bull Moose candidate for Congress. "I'm heart and soul for Roosevelt," said the clergyman, when explaining his mission. "I firmly believe that Roosevelt will be the next President," he continued.

CLAY PUTS QUESTION FOR BERGEN'S ANSWER

Says Lawyer's Opinion Would Be Interesting But Profitless.

The following communication for publication has been received from George S. Clay, chairman of the Common Council's public affairs committee:

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

I received your letter of September 26, enclosing a letter addressed to you by Mr. Frank Bergen, giving his opinion on the question whether blowing factory whistles is a nuisance, and have also read the opinion as published in the Press and your editorial suggestion to the Council, namely:

"With such advice at hand the Councilmanic Public Affairs Committee will be only performing a public duty by introducing the necessary ordinance forbidding the practice and the Common Council should lose no time in passing it."

I agree with your statement that Mr. Bergen is a brilliant lawyer and is also a gentleman of culture. Anything that he writes on a legal or general literary subject is always very interesting and instructive, and while his opinion on whistles is instructive, yet it seems to me after reading the cases cited by Mr. Bergen that these cases might have been referred to by Corporation Counsel Stillman and his opinion remain the same as that expressed in his letter to me dated September 17.

It would be interesting to know how Mr. Bergen would answer this question: "Would you, if you were the Corporation Counsel of the City of Painfield, advise the Common Council, on the strength of the cases cited in your letter to the Plainfield Press, dated September 25, 1912, that the blowing of factory whistles in the City of Plainfield is a nuisance per se; that the Common Council has lawful power to pass an ordinance prohibiting the blowing of factory whistles in the City of Plainfield; and that if such an ordinance were passed and approved it would in your opinion be sustained by the Courts of New Jersey as a lawful exercise of the powers of the City?"

I say this would be interesting, but it would be profitless for I am sure that no Common Council would be willing to pass an ordinance in the face of the opinion of the Corporation Counsel that such an ordinance if passed would be adjudged by the Courts to be unreasonable and void.

In the present case I requested Mr. Stillman's advice on the subject of the power of the Common Council to pass such an ordinance as Mr. Rushmore suggested in his letter to the Council, so that if the Corporation Counsel's opinion were favorable, an ordinance could be prepared and introduced for such action as the Common Council might deem to be best. In view of the advice of the Corporation Counsel, it seems to me that the Common Council took the only action proper under the circumstances.

Very truly yours,
GEORGE S. CLAY.

[The Daily Press will gladly comply with the request made by the Chairman of the Councilmanic Public Affairs, although "it would be profitless." Mr. Bergen's legal opinion on the question as put by Mr. Clay will be published in the course of a few days.—Editor.]

NOVEL PLAN TO ADVERTISE CITY

H. N. McMenimen Announces it at Chamber of Commerce Committee Conference.

DETAILS ARE WITHHELD

R. Henry Depew Calls Attention to Some of the Things That Contribute to the Present Unsatisfactory Conditions in Plainfield.

A definite policy for advancing the interest of the city through the medium of advertising was determined upon at a meeting of members of the Chamber of Commerce and others held at the Chamber headquarters, last night. The meeting was held under the auspices of a committee appointed by President George L. Babcock, consisting of Paul H. Burns, chairman; P. J. McDonough and Charles H. Hand. The discussion was informal and was opened by R. Henry Depew.

In part Mr. Depew said: "There are four or five things that contribute to the conditions that exist. The appearance of the property abutting the railroad gives those passing by in trains a bad impression of the town. Secondly, the station, tracks, and the streets of the city are not lighted sufficiently. Thirdly, the real estate agents do not work in harmony. Fourthly, there seems to be a great deal of overbuilding and the houses being built are not along attractive lines. Finally, another thing that tends to hurt the town is the attitude of the authorities in not endeavoring to keep up the tone of select localities, and I will cite the action of the Board of Education in trying to place a schoolhouse in the Netherwood section, where it is not wanted by the residents of the neighborhood, and there are only thirty pupils available."

H. N. McMenimen suggested a plan for securing a great deal of publicity for the city and the means of making it permanent and effective. The extensiveness of the plan when worked out will be so marked that it was decided that the original suggestion be withheld from publication until the whole plan can be put out.

Soloman Marn, the West End grocer, said: "If you have one thousand dollars to start in business, spend one hundred dollars in stock, and nine hundred dollars for advertising. I used my money in those proportions and have found that it was most beneficial. It seems that the interests of the property owners of a city such as this could be well served by spending a considerable amount of money in making its advances widely known."

J. D. Loizeaux, P. J. McDonough, Charles H. Hand, Captain J. E. Curtis, George M. Clarke, ex-Sheriff B. Frank Coriell, D. W. Littell, James C. Hansen, Councilman Fred Endress, and others, made statements of their firm belief in having a certain amount of advertising done.

The suggestions offered will be fully considered by the advertising committee and in a few days presented to the directors of the Chamber of Commerce for immediate action.

NEW SENSATION AT WHITEHOUSE

Suicide and Arrest Figure in Latest Development of Firebugs' Reign.

SUSPECTS PROMINENT

Thomas J. Durling Hangs Himself After Grilling by Detectives and Elmer Vanderbeek's Arrest Follows—Both Lifelong Residents.

Whitehouse, Oct. 9 (Special).—The reign of terror that has prevailed here during the past ten days because of the work of firebugs, ten buildings having been destroyed in as many days, took a sensational turn yesterday afternoon, when Elmer Vanderbeek, aged 45 years, was arrested on suspicion of being implicated in the work, and Thomas J. Durling, aged 56 years, also a well known citizen, hanged himself in his brother's barn, after being put through the "third degree" by County Detective Hann and a detective from a Newark agency.

Detective Hann and his assistant called on Durling yesterday afternoon, and under the severe questioning of the detectives he is said to have weakened. Having no warrant the detectives left Durling at home while the necessary authority was secured from the county prosecutor. When the detectives returned they found Durling hanging lifeless in the barn.

Vanderbeek's arrest soon followed. He was taken to Flemington and admitted to $5,000 bail by Justice of the Peace Dunham, of that place.

The suicide and arrest have stirred the town. It had previously been announced that no prayer-meeting would be held at the Reformed church tonight, the pastor declaring that he did not think it would be safe for the people to leave their homes at night. Both Durling and Vanderbeek have lived here practically all their lives.

HOME OF MRS. C. A. MARSH ENTERED BY BURGLARS

The home of Mrs. Craig A. Marsh, of 308 West Eighth street, who is out of town visiting relatives, was reported to the police this morning, to have ben entered by burglars and $6 in money and a gold stickpin taken. These articles were the property of Fred H. Andrews, of Central avenue, who with his wife, is caring for the house during the owner's absence.

An investigation by Chief Kiely, however, revealed that a pillow cover had been taken, which he thinks was used by the robbers to carry away other articles. No evidences of force being used was found and it is thought entrance was gained with a skeleton key.

Woman With Whisky Flask and Loaded Revolver Ordered From City.

CHILD HER COMPANION

Arrested While Bargaining for Taxi Ride to Atlantic City—Suspicion That She Kidnapped Daughter From Husband's Custody.

Mrs. Mamie B. Nuckles, claiming 610 Pacific avenue, Atlantic City, as her address, was fined $8 or forty days in jail, by City Judge De Meza, this morning on charges of intoxication and carrying concealed weapons. Sentence was suspended on the condition that she take the first train leaving Plainfield, which she did.

She had with her a 7-year-old girl, whom she claimed as her daughter. When searched the remains of a flash of whiskey and a fully loaded 31-calibre revolver was found in her possession. PASTOR BAILEY ASKED TO MOVE NEW CHURCH

He is Too Near Calvary, Baptist Ministers' Council Finds.

Responding to a call from the Calvary Baptist church for an advisory council, Baptist ministers and deacons of the city held a conference at the chruch yesterday afternoon to take action regarding the conduct of Rev. G. W. Bailey, a former pastor, who has started a new church at Reform Hall. The conclusion of the conference was that a committee from the church be appointed to wait on Mr. Bailey and urge him to leave the immediate neighborhood, as the best interest of Calvary church depends upon such a move.

The council suggested that if Mr. Bailey desires to conduct another church he remove to some other section of the city, it being the opinion that two churches on one corner is decidedly one too many. There was a thorough consideration of the causes leading up to the request for Mr. Bailey's resignation as pastor of Calvary church, and the steps taken by the church, and the request that Mr. Bailey remove from the neighborhood was incorporated in suitable resolutions. The council pledged its co-operation in getting Mr. Bailey located in some other field.

Those comprising the council were Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire, of the Park Avenue Baptist church; Rev. Evarts C. Conover, of the Temple Baptist church; Rev. E. E. Jackson, former pastor of the Mt. Olive Baptist church; Rev. E. W. Roberts, of the Shiloh Baptist church, and Rev. Messrs. Henderson, Cannon and Waller, representing other colored churches.

IN 11 INNINGS BOSTON AND NEW YORK TIE 6 TO 6

Boston, Oct. 9—After an eleven inning struggle the second game of the world championship series resulted in a 6 to6 tie, the game being called on account of darkness.

Collins replaced by Hall in the eighth. Score by innings:

NEW YORK	0	1	0	1	0	0	0	3	0	1	0—6

Fenway Park, Boston, Oct. 9.—Determined to get revenge for the defeat handed to them by the Boston Red Sox at the Polo Grounds, yesterday, the New York Giants took the field here this afternoon prepared to strive to turn the tables, and win the second game of the world's baseball championship series. "Big Six" Mathewson was sent in the box to start the game by Manager McGraw, while "Jake" Stahl picked Collins to hurl them over for the Red Sox.

The scenes at the Polo Grounds in New York yesterday were largely repeated as the crowd assembled, although a light rain which started before noon somewhat dampened the spirits of the fans, who feared that the game might be postponed. Just fifteen minutes before the game was scheduled to begin, the rain stopped, and there was a shout of joy from the 35,000 fans present as the two teams trotted on the field. There was a high wind blowing.

The Shuttle Carriage

On a Burroughs is something entirely new. For instance, if you have two columns of figures you want to carry, some are in one column and some are in others, you put in your sum, pull the handle, and it prints in the first column; then it automatically carries to the next column and you print in that. You pull the handle and it automatically sends the carriage back to the first column.

You may say that you have no use for such a machine.

How do you know?

Have you ever gone into your departments and found how much of that kind of work you are doing? If you have, just put a stop watch on that sort of work for half an hour, and then have an adding machine brought in and you will probably find out you could save 75 per cent. of the time.

Time is what you are paying for when you hire clerks.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS.

"The Little Millionaire," Geo. M. Cohan's most fascinating musical farce will be the attraction at the Plainfield theatre tonight. "The Little Millionaire" will be given here with a cast and chorus of nearly a hundred people, and the production is practically the same that made a sensation at the Cohan theatre in New York last season. Cohan's fame as an originator of novel entertainment already world wide, has been materially enhanced by the innovation of interjecting an act of straight farce as an inter-medium for the first and last sections of "The Little Millionaire," a musical play that, for good clean wholesome fun, interpreted with the speed that makes the laughs it inspires a continuous explosion of merriment from curtain to curtain, has not been equalled in recent years.

That astute manager, A. H. Woods, whose theatrical successes are legion, has surely picked another winner in Robert W. Chambers' "The Common Law," a dramatization of which was presented last season by Mr. Woods in such a manner as to leave no doubt regarding its future as an entertainment well calculated to rivet the attention of that class of theatregoers who give serious thought to something substantial, as against the multifarious offerings in the lighter vein of stage presentations.

"The Common Law" is scheduled for a hearing here at the Plainfield theatre on Monday, Oct. 14, and already there seems to be a wide-spread interest in witnessing the characters of Mr. Chambers' book in the flesh and blood. As is usually the case Mr. Woods has spared no pains nor expense in making the production complete in every detail and has gathered together a company of players who may be absolutely relied on to give an intelligent interpretation of the work as set forth by the author of the famous novel from which the play has been taken.

Henry Miller's beautiful play, "The Rainbow," has paternal love for its central theme. Neil Sumner, who has been separated from his wife and daughter for years, is greeted one morning with the announcement that the seventeen-year -old girl is coming to visit him. She is doing so on her own initiative, having overcome her mother's objections. These objections are based on the belief that the man's life and associates since the separation have made him unfit to have the care of the girl even for a short time. At any rate the girl comes, and turns out to be a charming little creature, full of the most captivating ways, and the father falls dead in love with her. For a few golden days they are supremely happy. Their happiness is disturbed by the arrival of the mother, who insists that the daughter must come back to her. She tells Sumner that he cannot get away from the life he has been leading and that he is unfit to have the child another day. What is more, she makes him agree with her. So he sends the daughter away after a scene that is tremendously affecting and exquisitely played by Mr. Miller, as the father, and little Miss Ruth Chatterton, as the daughter. The third act, however, brings about a reconciliation and reunion of the three. It is convincingly told and portrayed. Mr. Miller will be supported by the original New York cast. His engagement here is for one night only, Monday, October 21

The title of "Travel Festival" will be more than justified at the Plainfield theatre on Friday and Saturday October 25-26, when Lyman H Howe will take stay-at-home travelers to the imperial abode of the former sovereigns of France—Versailles—with its world famous fountains shaded avenues, groves and lawns peopled with a multitude of statues Here among scenes of unparalleled splendor will be shown the Gallery of Mirrors, 240 feet long, the bedroom of Louis XIV and the study and clock room of Louis XV. The magnitude of the Palace may be better conceived when it is remembered that if you wanted to walk through all the rooms and corridors you would have to travel seven miles! Throughout its entirety it is dazzling in its splendor The beauty of the immense park is almost bewildering and forms a setting well worthy such a gem of men's handiwork. Whaling, the burial of the Maine, the bee industry, a thrilling race between a hydroplane and an 800 horse power motor boat in the harbor of Monaco and an exciting adventure with a ferocious lion are only a few of the other features of a program that is entirely new, excepting only that amazing botanical study entitled "The Birth of Flowers," which Mr. Howe will present again in response to popular demand. No other reproduction that he has ever presented has elicited such numerous requests for another presentation and it is in deference to this wide demand that he offers his patrons another opportunity to peer into one of nature's greatest secrets.

CONCERNING PAINT

If you ought to have painted your house last year and waited for paint to come down, how much do you think you made?

That costs about 10 per cent.; you keep your money a year and pay 10 per cent. for it.

The worst mistake is "Cheap" Paint which has to be made of "cheap" materials.

Plainfield, N. J., October 9, 1912.

YOUR CITY FIRST.

Plainfield will be without representation on the Board of Freeholders unless one or both of the Democratic nominees, Thomas J. Hughes and James J. McCann are elected. Everybody in Plainfield should be made to realize this important fact. Next to Elizabeth, which monopolizes the nominations on the Republican ticket, Plainfield is the biggest contributor of tax money in the county, and should the G. O. P. ticket win out, this city will have no voice in the expenditure of the great sums raised for county purposes. Wilbur and Doane, two worthy members of the present Board of Freeholders, met with defeat at the primaries and that left Plainfield without a candidate on the G. O. P. ticket. In the face of the opposition, it is improbable that A. M. Morrell, a local nominee of the Progressives for that office, can win. His chances, viewing the situation in the county as it is just now, are not nearly so good as those on the Democratic ticket, particularly as this is Presidential year and it will not be surprising if Union county is again swept by Wilson.

There is no sound reason why National politics should cut any figure in selecting Freeholders and therefore with perfect propriety a Republican could cast his vote for Hughes and McCann when it means so much to Plainfield that this municipality have representation on the Board. Both of them are clean and are qualified to fill the offices they seek. Why not, then, concentrate on them? A heavy vote in their favor here will undoubtedly insure their election.

A war is on among the rival newspapers in Trenton. Since the appearance of a new Sunday paper in the field and the retirement of the True American from the morning field, all the dailies have decided to reduce their price to one cent. The True American will enter the afternoon field on Monday and will be on sale at a penny. The Evening Times has also decided to make a similar cut as has the State Gazette. The Gazette has the morning field now all to itself. The new Sunday paper will sell for two cents while the Sunday Advertiser will continue its present rate of five cents but will add a comic supplement. There are now but five morning papers in the State, the Paterson Call, the Newark Star, the Trenton State Gazette and the two in Atlantic City. Experience has taught that within the metropolitan field it is a hard thing to make a morning daily a paying enterprise. Thousands of dollars have been sunk in the attempt to do so and the fact that but five remain in the field and only one of these is a big money maker, is fairly good evidence that the competition of the New York morning papers is to keen for enterprises of the sort in even many of our larger Jersey cities.

It was gratifying to see the reception given the Daily Press enterprise in bringing the Red Sox-Giants game to Plainfield yesterday. Such a thing as reporting the great contest play by play by means of the wire and megaphone was something unheard of in Plainfield newspaperdom; the swiftness and completeness of the service was not surpassed by any New York newspaper. While the street in front of the Press building was packed with "fans," it was a good natured crowd and caused no trouble. Less than four minutes after the game ended, the regular edition of the Daily Press was on the street with the full story of the contest, play by play, and for the first time in local newspaper work; and every subscriber and reader appreciated the feature. The Daily Press was more than half an hour ahead of any other paper in getting out on the street and with the acknowledged best story of the struggle. It was not an "extra" hurriedly slapped together which few saw and whose only purpose was to follow the example of a live paper and make some sort of a showing.

It is satisfactory to learn that the Common Council proposes to grant increases in pay to the officers and members of the police force. While the advances are not as much as the men probably would have obtained had the referendum law been taken advantage of, they are considerably more than they receive at the present time. The chief for instance will be paid $1,800, but P. S. Kiely is a man who knows his business and it is no exaggeration to say that the city could not duplicate him for $2,500. That's what he is worth and we would like to see him get it. The able body of men under him are considerably more than they are given. When the city fathers see their way clear to make further advances in the scale it is not unlikely that they will do so.

Wilson, Roosevelt and Taft should take the opportunity to rest their throats while the World's series is on, for who is going to listen to them when the baseball championship is being decided.

McGraw's men hard luck may have been due to their boasting but not "knocking Wood."

OAK FARM PLAYERS START REHEARSING NEW PRODUCTION

The Oak Farm Dramatic Club held its first rehearsal of a new play at the home of the manager last night. The play is "The Old New Hampshire Home."

There are three changes in the cast this year, due to some of the old members moving out of town, but several of the old familiar faces will be seen in the play.

The club was organized over seven years ago and is considered the best amateur theatrical organization in this city. It has received letters from various lodges and organizations for open dates. It has six engagements but has not set the exact date for the play.

FIRST WARD G. O. P. CLUB TO JOIN STATE LEAGUE

The following delegates were appointed at the meeting of the club last evening to attend the convention Albert Littell, W. L. Hetfield, Jr., William L. Gloak and Alfred Prudon. The committee appointed to make arrangements for a rally of the First ward voters are as follows: W. L. Hetfield, Jr., Caspar Stadele and Victor Lorton.

A special meeting of the club was called for next Tuesday evening to complete the arrangements for the rally.

RUNAWAY VICTIMS WORSE.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Vail, Mrs. E. W. Davis and her son Barton Davis, all of West Fourth street, who figured in a runaway accident Sunday afternoon, sustained more serious injuries than at first supposed. Mrs. Vail is confined to her bed in a helpless condition, because of strained ligements and numerous bad contusions. Mr. Vail received bad cuts about the head Mrs. Davis and her son are receiving daily medical attention as their injuries have become worse since the accident happened.

HOSPITAL BIDS.

The building committee of the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital received bids yesterday for the proposed new buildings and improvements. There were in all about a dozen bids, and owing to the fact that some of them included alternate bids, the committee has not yet been able to determine who the lowest bidder is. Among the bidders were many Plainfield contractors.

Leal's also have their initial period on the gym today beginning at 4.15. A number of good athletes have been enrolled at the school and preparations are being made to form a speedy basketball five to place in the interscholastic league. A call will soon be issued for the first workout in the Y. M. C. A. gym.

Business Men's class tonight at 5:40. One hour of stiff work in calisthenics, etc., is assured.

Older boys and seniors on the schedule tomorrow. All members are needed to effect the function of classes.

What has become of that wireless club? It is time somebody was getting busy on it again.

A meeting of the older fellows will be held in the boys' rooms Friday at 4 o'clock.

Albert Brynarski, captain of the Ajax, is ill at his home on East Second street. His condition is not serious, however, and he expects to be around again in a few days.

A little soreness is prevalent among the Y. M. C. A. members but this is only natural after the first time on the gym floor. Many of the veteran leaders have returned and will make the work strenuous.

One of the familiar figures who has graced the junior boys' class for so many years will be missing from the day classes this term. This is Ray Manley, who has gone into business, but he will still cling to the association.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

About eighty young women were present at the class rally held at the Y. W. C. A. last evening. Miss Louise Connolly, former superintendent of the Summit schools, was the principal speaker. The subject of her talk was "Being Alive." She used a great many striking illustrations of people who were as dead as could be, and then of those that were alive to everything that went on around them. Miss Connolly was introduced by Mrs. Frederick Mead. The rally was in charge of the educational committee composed of Mrs. Howard McWilliams, Mrs. Frank Rowley, Mrs. H. H. Williams and Mrs. C. W. Mountfort. Great enthusiasm was shown by those present for the classes, which start October 14, and a number of pupils were registered and assigned to the various classes. Ice cream and cake were served at the close of the meeting.

The opening vesper service of the year will be held Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, of the First Baptist church, will lead the meeting. His subject will be "Reasons for Bible Study." All women and girls are invited to attend.

The classes in English for the foreign speaking girls of this city will begin tonight. They will be taught to read, write and spell the English language. Registrations of all nationalities will be received.

On Thursday, October 24, Mrs. Harry Wade Hicks, of Glen Ridge, wife of H. W. Hicks, of the International Young Men's Christian Association, will be the guest and speaker of the evening at the Bible Study Rally. The subject of the meeting will be "Modern Rachaels and Rebeccas," and will be illustrated with stereopticon views. The public is cordially invited to attend the meeting.

JOSEPH ANGERBAUER IS HURT WHEN HORSE FALLS

Joseph Angerbauer, of 318 East Third street, probably one of the oldest employers of the city street department, was removed to Muhlenberg Hospital this morning suffering from an injury to his hip, the result of a fall off a cart in which he was riding. The accident occurred on West Front street, near Girard avenue. Mr. Angerbauer was driving one of the city's horses, when the animal suddenly stumbled and fell, causing Mr. Angerbauer to fall in the street.

Fellow-workmen assisted him to the office of Dr. Ellis W. Hedges, where, after an examination which showed an injury to the hip. It was thought best to remove the injured man to the hospital owing to his advanced age.

MRS. MOORE'S FUNERAL.

ZIMBALIST HAS HAD REMARKABLE HISTORY

Violinist Who Comes Here Oct. 28 is One of Musical Family.

Efrem Zimbalist, the violinist, who will appear here as the first star of the McIntyre concerts on October 28, has had a remarkable musical history.

Born twenty-three years ago in Rostov, Russia, Zimbalist is one of a family of seven, all musical. His father conducts an orchestra, while a younger brother bids fair to secure a distinguished career as a 'cellist. Professor Leopold Auer, of St. Petersburg, teacher of a number of the best known violinists of the day, spared no pains to make the youth Zimbalist his banner pupil. How well he succeeded is a matter of record.

At the St. Petersburg Conservatory Zimbalist was awarded the Royal Stipendium of 1,200 rubles a year for two years, besides capturing a gold medal of an order rarely given. Other honors followed fast, and today despite his youth, Zimbalist has achieved triumphs that prove him one of the greatest masters of the violin. The most distinguished orchestral societies of the world have engaged him again and again as soloist, the highest possible tribute to the genius of this modest and remarkable artist. His recitals in Berlin, Paris, London and New York have created a furor, leading invariably to return engagements. The public, it would seem, cannot get enough of his magical music. The most eminent critics, without a dissenting voice, proclaim him a master.

Highly educated, of refined personality, devoid of mannerisms or ostentation, Zimbalist by the sheer power of his art, invariably takes the most critical audience by storm. The very spirit of music personified sings in his exquisite tones, the mellow quality of which has been extolled in lavish terms. On the G-string his tone has the golden fullness of a 'cello. Whatever he touches, be it an ancient classic of Bach, Tartini, or Corelli, a favorite selection of Beethoven, Mozart or Brahms, or a modern virtuoso work bristling with technical difficulties, he solves the musical problem with amazing ease, fascinating charm and brilliancy. It is always complete mastery and perfection.

Zimbalist after having taken Europe by storm came to America and repeated his foreign triumphs. His debut with the Boston Symphony Orchestra was followed by no less remarkable successes in New York with the Philharmonic Society, in Chicago with the Thomas Orchestra, in Cincinnati with the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra, and in a long list of other cities with organizations of similar importance. The distinguished artist in the face of tempting offers from European managers, has now been induced to revisit America, under the management of Loudon Charlton. Zimbalist his what the public demands, but rarely bids, the "human note," the vital sympathetic throbbing quality that touches the heart. To heart Zimbalist is a revelation. The violin with all its power to please shows under his masterly skill new possibilities of expression, and a height of enjoyment seldom realized.

The rise to fame of Efrem Zimbalist constitutes one of the remarkable records of musical history. Within four years his name has become a household word throughout Europe and America.

YELLOW FEVER ON SHIP.

Patient From Brazil Arrives at Mouth of Mississippi.

New Orleans, Oct. 9.—A Greek who boarded the British steamship Chaucer at Santos, Brazil, was taken from the ship with a well developed case of yellow fever when the vessel arrived at the quarantine station at the mouth of the Mississippi river.

The Marine hospital authorities here are not at all alarmed about the case. They say there are no other cases aboard the ship. The patient was placed in the detention ward of the Marine hospital, and the Chaucer will be held in quarantine for six days.

467 ASSORTED DOGS WILL BE ON SHOW

Fair Weather and Crowd Only Things Need Now by Kennel Club.

Four hundred and sixty-seven dogs, for a total of 750 entries, will be on exhibition at the annual bench show of the Plainfield Kennel Club on Saturday morning and afternoon at the grounds of the local Horse Show Association. All that the bench show committee needs to make the show successful in every way is to have fair weather and a good crowd, for so far as the canine end of the show is concerned success is assured.

The largest number of entries in any one class is that for Boston terriers, in which forty-seven dogs will be shown. There will be thirty-nine English setters; thirty-one bulldogs; twenty-nine cocker spaniels; twenty-seven French bulldogs; twenty-one collies and twenty-one airedale terriers, and many others of various classes, with practically every known rare kind of dog being represented by at least one specimen.

An added feature of the morning on Saturday will be the finish of the regular weekly run of the Watchung Hunt Club, which will take place at the dog show grounds. The dogs will be sheltered by a large tent, so that no matter what the weather overhead the spectators are assured that they will be able to keep dry. Luncheon will be served at the exhibition grounds for those who wish it.

PRUDENTIAL GETS DIPLOMA AT THE HYGIENE CONGRESS

President Forrest F. Dryden has just been notified by Dr. J. W. Schereschewsky, director of exhibits of the Fifteenth International Congress on Hygiene and Demography recently held in Washington, D. C., that the Prudential Insurance Company was awarded a diploma of superior merit for an exhibit in connection with statistics and information relating to industrial and occupational hygiene.

The Congress, the purpose of which are improvement in public hygiene and the collection of vital statistics on matters relating to the public health, has previously been held in Europe, the present being the first year in which this country has been the seat of its activities. It was very largely attended by men of note from all parts of the world.

The Prudential's exhibit dealt with the essentials of industrial hygiene as reflected in the mortality experience of an industrial insurance company and the general mortality data of particular occupations as derived from official returns.

N. P. H. S. NOTES.

The Sigma Gamma Kappa girls held a meeting yesterday noon to plan for the coming year. A Hallowe'en party is being arranged for the Friday before Hallowe'en in the High School drawing room. There is also some talk about organizing a camp fire circle.

The monthly report cards will be given out this week.

A High School singles tennis tournament will be held next week. The various classes will have tryouts and the best man will represent his class. This will mean a small entry but will make the tournament much more interesting than a free-for-all. The regular matches will be played on the Watchung Tennis Club courts on Mountain avenue. A suitable prize will be offered to the winner.

There is now a question as to whether first team men and substitutes shall play on the class basketball teams or not. Last year the regular five were not allowed in class contests but substitutes were and now the "subs" are not wanted. If this branch of athletics is put under the control of the High School Athletic Association at the next meeting it will be a matter for the High School to decide. If not passed the class association will decide for their own teams.

CLERGY'S PLAINT ABOUT FAIR UP TO GRAND JURY

Trenton, Oct. 9.—A committee of the Interchurch Federation and the Ministerial Union of this city called upon Justice Trenchard yesterday and entered complaints against the Interstate Fair Association. The committee charge that gambling was carried on at the fair last week and that a number of indecent shows were conducted along the Midway.

In the charge to the grand jury yesterday Justice Trenchard told the jurors of the complaint and instructed them to investigate the matter closely and if the evidence warranted, to indict both the individuals and the association for conducting a disorderly house.

ACKERMAN PUTS SIX QUERIES TO SAUNDERS

He Wants to Know How Tariff Reform is to Help Conditions.

In reply to William L. Saunders' speech before the Wilson and Marshall Club, in which he took issue with statements made by Ernest R. Ackerman regarding the capture of our markets by foreign manufacturers in the eevnt of free trade, Mr. Ackerman gave out the following prepared statement today:

"It seems by reading a recent issue of your paper that Dr. William L. Saunders has been so much interested in the remarks on business conditions which I recently made on returning from a trip abroad, that he has taken exception thereto.

"I repeat what I then said, that 'all foreigners are zealous for our markets and they of course want to see the tariff bars let down by those who are not friendly to the protection principle because then they believe they can capture our markets. Isn't it laughable to hear them say, 'After we in England have adopted the protective system which is our only salvation, we will go hot after your markets.' In one particular line of which I have knowledge they are putting up factories in British territory close to our boundaries so as to be free from our laws but to be in a position to supply our market as soon as they, like the camel in the story, can get their nose in. That was told to me by those interested in the business and the plan is only to locate one of the plants in Canada.'

"Dr. Saunders also refers to the question of factory costs. Is he prepared to demonstrate generally that all the elements of production considered, goods can be produced here as cheaply as in other countries? Many of us thought that wages were one of the largest elements in the cost of production. Can wages be safely ignored in the calculation when considering the welfare of the whole people when wages in the United States are the highest paid in the world?

"In a paragraph of a report by Democratic Senators, favoring absolute free trade, Great Britain was referred to as an example, saying it was the most prosperous nation in the world except our own. How then is it that paupers are increasing at such an alarming rate as shown in my statement, and taken from official figures published in London newspapers? Why legislate on a descending scale?

"A Democratic report has shown that the tendency of wages in this country is upward to an average amount of not less than twenty per cent. during the last ten years. A prominent member of the English House of Commons in his latest book entitled "Things That Matter" shows that living costs in England are steadily on the increase with practically no advance in wages. Which system does Dr. Saunders prefer?

"The Democratic Senators also said that the abolition of the tariff in England did not bring down the rate of wages and that free trade in the United States would not affect wages. Additionally, that if we adopted free trade allowing prices to sink to foreign costs, the question of wages would take care of itself. Is that so? Are not the lower foreign prices referred to due to lower factory costs including labor?

"Will Dr. Saunders kindly demonstrate how the price of all manufactured goods can be reduced without also reducing wages paid to labor? How would the workmen of New Jersey engaged in manufacturing and reciving in wages over $218,000,000 a year be helped by encouraging and largely increasing the importation of foreign made goods?"

DUNELLEN PROGRESSIVES WILL RALLY TOMORROW

The Dunellen Progressive League will hold the first of a series of mass meetings tomorrow evening on the premises of Alvah A. Gray, Washington avenue and Front street, Dunellen. The meeting will be preceeded by a parade and band concert. Judge Adrian Lyon, of Perth Amboy, and Mark O. Prentiss, of Metuchen, and others of national reputation, will speak.

The league headquarters are open every evening and good music and speeches are heard.

Westfield.

The cases of William Weldon and Harry Miller for automobile speeding were tried before the recorder yesterday afternoon. The case of the overseer of the poor against John C. Tobin will be tried before the recorder and a jury next Friday afternoon.

A delegation of Westfield Democrats will attend the Democratic banner raising in Springfield next Thursday evening.

As the Republicans will have a banner raising Thursday night, the Democrats have decided not to have speakers at their regular meeting on that evening.

New York, Oct. 9 (Special).—The myriad wonders of electricity were never better illustrated than in the countless exhibits at the Electrical Shaw, which opened today in Grand Central Palace. Foremost among the exhibits is that of the Federal Government. This includes a minlature reproduction of the Gatun section of the Panama Canal, showing how the great locks will be operated by electricity when completed. Another Government exhibit is the pulmotor, an electrical device adopted by the Bureau of Mines for resuscitating miners overcome by suffocation.

EIGHTY DOGS FAILED TO PROTECT TWENTY HENS

Whippany, Oct. 9.—Eighty dogs failed to protect twenty hens from the ravages of a chicken thief at the Reinor kennels, and today sleuths are looking for the miscreants who raided the coop Monday night.

About 9:30 o'clock a great baying and yapping was heard from the kennels, but small attention was paid to it, people at the house believing the commotion was only one of the disputes that arise constantly over canine politics. Later, however, the fowls were missed, with not a feather or a thumb print for a clue.

The theft occurred while some of the larger dogs were roaming unleashed in the enclosure.

NEW BRUNSWICK'S OWN CENSUS SHOWS 27,456

New Brunswick, Oct. 9.—The population of the city of New Brunswick, according to the police census, the report of which was presented at Monday night's meeting of Common Council by Chief of Police Michael O'Connell, is 27,456.

Census taking by the government officials in 1910 showed that there were 23,388 inhabitants. This census was not satisfactory to New Brunswick residents, who thought many people were missed. The police census was completed Monday. The total, however, still makes this city the second in size in Middlesex county. Perth Amboy at the census of 1910 had 32,121 inhabitants.

The police have found that there are sixteen Chinese in the city, 82 colored people and 26,620 white people. Of the inhabitants there are more women than men, the figures showing 13,461 males and 13,995 females.

There are representatives of thirty-seven nations in this city. Four of the persons quizzed as to their age, nationality and so forth declared they belonged to no nation. There are 19,204 Americans and of the other nationalities there are more Hungarians than any other race. The natives of Hungary number 3,618. The other residents are divided among the following countries:

Armenia, 6; Austria, 281; Bohemia, 4; China, 16; Canada, 35; Cuba 1; Denmark, 13; England, 280; Finland, 5; France, 651; Germany, 988; Greece, 137; Holland, 11; Ireland 807; Italy, 681; Norway, 12; Russian-Poland, 2; Poland, 77; Portugal 2; Peru, 2; Russia, 787; Roumania 17; Scotland, 84; Spain, 10; Sweden 35; Syria, 108; Slavish, 101; South America, 1; Switzerland, 7; Wales 1; West Indies, 2; Africa, 1; Asia, 1; Boer, 2.

RHODE ISLAND DEMOCRATS.

Providence, R. I., Oct. 9.—Encouraged by predictions of success at the polls in November, Rhode Island Democrats are preparing for an enthusiastic State convention here tomorrow to name candidates for presidential electors and for governor and other State officers. Preceding the State convention there will be held conventions for the selection of candidates for Congress. The possibility of a combination of the Democrats and the Progressive party, for the purpose of capturing the general assembly at the coming election, has been discussed, but the present indications are that the Democrats are not likely to take any steps in this direction. Theodore Francis Green appears to be the strongest candidate for the nomination for governor. Mr. Green belongs to an old Providence family. He has been a practising attorney in this city for many years and is a trustee of Brown University.

FOR LOWER EXPRESS.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 9.—This was the date tentatively fixed by the Interstate Commerce Commission for the express companies to show cause why the new rates fixed by the commission should not be adopted by them. But as the new parcels post system has raised some complications in the adjustment of the express rates, which the commission as well as the express companies believes will take some time to straighten out, it is regarded as likely that the hearings on the new rates will go over until December.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

OYSTER SOUPS.

A NOURISHING and palatable soup or stew may be eaten by many persons who do not care for oysters served in any other way.

The milk should be absolutely sweet and fresh, and the same should be true of the butter which enriches it.

Nourishing Food.

Oyster Soup.—Scald half a dozen oysters in their own liquor, having first carefully taken off the beards; put them in a small soup pot; simmer the beards and liquor in half a pint of white stock; strain, season with salt, pepper and mace; thicken with a tiny bit of flour and butter, add two tablespoonfuls of cream, reheat, pour over the oysters and serve.

Oyster Chowder.—Take about four dozen large oysters. Prepare one cupful of finely chopped celery and two cupfuls of cold boiled rice. Lay a layer of celery in the bottom of a saucepan. Over this put a layer of rice and a layer of washed oysters. Season with salt and pepper and repeat until all the materials are used. Pour one cupful of boiled water on this and cook slowly for half an hour. Into the beaten yolks of two eggs pour one cupful of milk and add this to the chowder. Stir carefully for a few minutes and serve hot.

Rich and Tempting Soups.

Bisque of Oysters.—Take about a quart of fresh oysters, one quart of rich milk or cream, eight crumbed and powdered soda crackers, a teaspoonful of beef extract, a half cupful of finely minced celery, two tablespoonfuls of butter, worked into an equal quantity of flour, the yolks of three eggs, a teaspoonful of salt and one-half teaspoonfuls of pepper, with a sprinkle of cayenne. Chop the oysters, put into a stewpan of their own liquor and a pint of water, the celery, beef extract, crackers, salt, pepper and a little parsley. Boil slowly for twenty minutes. Rub through a sieve until all moisture has been pressed through. Return to the stove, add milk and simmer again for ten minutes. Set back and stir in the beaten yolks of the eggs. Serve at once.

A Palatable Stew.

Oyster Stew.—Take two quarts of oysters and drain them with a fork from their liquor; wash them in water to free them from grit. Cut in small pieces two slices of lean bacon; strain the oyster liquor and put in it the bacon, oysters, some parsley, thyme and onions tied in a bunch as thick as the thumb. Season with pepper and salt if necessary. Let it boil slowly, and when almost done add a lump of butter as large as a hen's egg rolled in flour and a gill of good cream.

VOTES FOR WOMEN

Conducted by the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield.

When about thirty years ago arc lights began to banish the gloom of our city streets at night someone said that the electric light would prove itself the emancipator of women. It surely has brought her a degree of safety and freedom impossible in the hitherto dark ages of dimly lighted thoroughfares.

Liberty with her electric torch is more than a mere symbol. She is the embodiment of today's achievement and tomorrow's promise.

Franklin with his little kite coaxing the lightning from the sky never dreamed that he was thereby helping the suffrage cause. But if that sage old champion of liberty and progress were alive today and could read Edison's "Woman of the Future" in the current number of Good Housekeeping, he would be quick—and proud—to see the part he unwittingly played in hastening our Independence Day for Womankind.

"The housewife of the future will be neither a slave to servants nor herself a drudge. She will give less attention to the home because the home will need less; she will be rather a domestic engineer than a domestic laborer, with the greatest of all handmaidens, electricity at her service. This and other mechanical forces will so revolutionize the woman's world that a large portion of the aggregate of woman's energy will be conserved for use in broader, more constructive fields."

The great inventor is heartily and frankly in favor of suffrage for women. He also has the courage to say frankly that to his mind woman at present is undeveloped—and in that sense inferior to man whose development is much more advanced. But when one proceeds to read the whole of woman's lack of development and discovers how Edison, with convincing logic, lays the blame for this where it belongs—upon the shoulders of the man—then she realizes how even this apparent discount of woman's mental ability today is in reality a tribute to her potential abilities and a rebuke and a challenge to "the stronger sex." In his own words:

"There never was any need for woman's retardation, man's selfishness, his lust for ownership, must be held responsible for it. He was not willing to make woman equal partner in his various activities, and so he held her back from an ability to fill an equal partnership."

Edison proceeds to show how his blindness to the mother's rights of development the father has actually stunted his own children. A retardation of woman's development must mean retardation also for the children; retarded mothers mean a retarded race. It seems strange that any man should need the words of "Wizard" to bring him to a realizing sense of this very potent fact.

"The drudgery of life will bye and bye entirely disappear. The menial phases of existence may be said to be upon the verge of disappearing." These are bits of Edison's gospel. And again: "When woman has to meet in future the same crises which men in the past have had to meet the conservation of her time which modern science has made possible will have armed her for the encounter."

Evidently Edison believes that electricity applied to domestic affairs is going to give women the "time to vote" that so many careful souls have feared it would be impossible for her to find. In conclusion he says:

"The development of women will solve many problems which we now deem quite insoluble. When women progress side by side with men, matrimony will become the perfect partnership. This perfect partnership will produce a childhood made up of individuals who would now be thought not only mental, by physical and moral prodigies. There will be no drawbacks to life."

—Paradoxical as it may seem, the left hand is the right hand for the wedding ring.

How did John Wanamaker and our other commercial kings build up their vast enterprises? Simply by good business ability and—Advertising constantly—keeping at it. You wouldn't apply a liniment with a feather would you, you rub it in—just the same with advertising, except that you keep on rubbing it in and the harder and longer you do the rubbing the greater the returns.

We once read in a country paper the following: "If you have a prosperous business, advertise and keep it—if not advertise and get it. If you can't find the necessary time to devote to advertising your business properly phone us. We have an expert who will put up your "Copy" that will bring sure results.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

Philosophical Phelix Says:

JUST TAPS BY "BUNTS"

Cheer up there are more games coming. New York will have to win some time. Wood appeared to be the whole thing yesterday and proved his worth by fanning the two last men to face him in the ninth when a pair of Giants were dancing around on the sacks waiting for an opportunity to race home with the tying tally.

What would Boston have done without Wood and what will they do without him this afternoon?

By the enthusiasm coming from the fanny crowd in front of the Daily Press office yesterday afternoon, it sounded as though the sentiment of the mob was pretty evenly divided. When either team made a tally, a shout went up from the frenzied throng and hats floated through the air in every direction.

What has become of those Giant fans who went to the Polo Grounds yesterday afternoon and have not as yet returned. It looks as though they might have squandered some of the long greens rashly. "Just take a little tip from father" (Bet on New York today).

By the representative population that gathered in front of the Press office it did not look as though many Plainfielders had left for the Metropolis.

It is a good thing that we got rid of our local league championships before the big show began.

Someone has asked who will take charge of the R. G. B. trophy. The two factories consolidated on the teaming up question but evidently did not consider their pennant possibilities particularly bright at that time.

Football practice at Parker Field is a secondary question at present. It might be fell to call off the drills until after the World Series is decided.

Its just like seeing a big game to hear "Bill" Nash yell it through a megaphone. He does look something like a ball player anyway. He would make a good Hughey Jennings coaching on the first corner.

Query: Why do the High School fans gather around close to the window of the Daily Press lower office? Oh, no, "Skip," you weren't watching the score by innings.

"Doc" Hamilton, of the Holy Cross football team, thought he had unearthed a find in his younger brother for the end position but the prodigy got away yesterday and for certain reasons did not return as soon as he expected. Why, Lester, I'm surprised.

Rival Managers Caught by Camera Just Before "Play Ball!"

LOCAL FANS SEE NEW YORK GET BEAT

A good-sized delegation from this city witnessed the Giants' defeat at the Polo Grounds yesterday afternoon and the Plainfield "fanniest" declare the game was one of the finest they had ever seen. Both aggregations put up an aggressive article of ball and the Giants' great rally in the ninth brought the 40,000 baseball followers to their feet and the noise was deafening.

Among the fans from this city were Joseph Carty, Silas Guttridge, James Buckle, Fred Dilts, Lester Hamilton, C. L. Ford and Robert Scott. A number of others are planning to take in another game Saturday.

TWO WORLD SERIES' TICKETS FLOATING AROUND HERE

One of the few fans in this section to be blessed with tickets for the big series is "Bill" Nash, the popular Elk bowler. He is the proud guardian of two pasteboards which will convey his person and some one of his friends into the New York grandstand next Saturday afternoon. Nash refuses to divulge where he got the tickets but it is considered plausible that he might have put up the necessary three dollars for the pasteboards. However, whether he is a stockholder in the New York club or just got them through some kind of a pull, he surely has the passports tucked safely away and will not take them out of his stocking until he gets on the grounds.

Nash plainly showed that he was not a ticket scalper when he turned down an offer of twenty-five dollars for the tickets, but then when we stop to think how much these tickets are being sought for, we are tempted to think that he might be holding out for a higher price. Don't offer him any more, he might take it—he's a lawyer!

WOOD'S PITCHING WINS FOR RED SOX

Review of Game in Which Giants Were Beaten in Brilliant Contest, 4 to 3.

TESREAU STARTED WELL

Unhittable for Six Innings, Red Sox Get to Him in Seventh—Wood, in Supreme Effort, Checks Ninth Inning Rally.

OFFICIAL ATTENDANCE AT FIRST BIG GAME, 35,730.

New York, Oct. 9.—The total receipts for the first world's series game at the Polo grounds were $75,127. The players receive $40,568.50. The national commission receives $7,512.70. Each club management receives $18,522.16. The attendance was officially announced at 35,730.

New York, Oct. 9.—In a brilliant game at the Polo grounds the Red Sox of Boston conquered the New York Giants by a score of 4 to 3 in the opening game of the world's series.

The details of the game by innings were given in last night's Press, but a review is of interest, after an analysis is made of the play.

It was a game well fought in the spirit of its sportsmanship and in its actual work on the field. It was cleanly won, cleanly lost. The credit of a victory fairly and squarely won by the Bostons is paralleled by a defeat which reflects credit on the defeated, for in losing the Giants came out of the game with their portion of praise. The acute satisfaction of victory wasn't theirs, but whatever the future of the series may bring forth the Giants proved themselves worthy of Boston's steel, and by the same token the men of Boston were such foemen as strong men delight to battle with.

As this opening game of the premier teams of the National and American leagues unfolded, it didn't bring baseball that was the very best in mechanical execution, although nicely played in the field and with both teams handy at doing well with their opportunities at the bat. It did bring out a battle which was in doubt from first to last and evenly and stubbornly waged. Of superiority to an appreciable extent there was none one way or the other, individually or collectively. One bold, concentrated foray with their truncheons, and the Bostons had won. One clustering of hits, and it was practically all the batting they did, and the game was theirs to have and to hold.

Wood's Spectacular Finish.

A grim, game rally by the Giants in the ninth inning had the multitude a tingle with excitement, and among the Giant rooters hope.

There was both alarm, menace and glory for Joseph Wood, a pitching paragon in his own set and the hope of Boston in this ninth inning rally. First gouging him for three hits with one out. Another hit, or the slightest break in the Boston defense, and one and perhaps two men would have dashed for the plate. The dash, alas, never came. Summoning all the speed he had and with a final twist of his supple wrist, Wood's smoke ball came through with such quirks and quivers that two Giants struck out and left two comrades fettered to the bags. This, the game's most dramatic moment, came as a climax.

Inning to inning the score fluctuated. The Giants held a lead of two runs to the sixth inning, then it dwindled to one. In the next inning, the period in which they mustered their hits and solved Tesreau for the first and only time, the Red Sox jumped to the front by two runs, and in the ninth that advantage was cut to one run. The Boston's played a resolute uphill game and won. The Giants made a gallant uphill fight to re-establish themselves. The effort failed, but it bespoke valor and class.

No one man stood forth pre-eminent in the encounter; no particular hero showed his head. The pitchers were uppermost, as in most world's series games they dominated. The Giants outbatted the Red Sox in one sense. They made eight hits off Wood, which was two more than the Red Sox made off Tesreau and Crandall. They distributed their hits more freely throughout the game than the Red Sox and were not at all terrified by Wood's speed and reputation.

New York's hitting, while numerically better than Boston, was less effective because more scattered. The great strength, the telling factor in Wood's pitching, was not in keeping the Giants from hitting safely fairly often, but at critical times in keeping them from hitting at all. Striking out men was how they scored and scored heavily. He took eleven men into camp by striking them out, and his greatest exhibition of skill in this line was at a time when it was most needed, with two men on bases in the ninth inning and one out. He had it in him to keep men from the ball at all that was the time to do it.

Tesreau Starts Fine.

Six of the Giants' hits were clean. Five of the hits of Boston were clean. That's how even the batting was. Five of the Boston hits were off Tesreau and four of these in the decisive seventh inning. When the swish of Boston's bats was over three runs had been evolved from three singles and a two bagger. Tesreau's delivery came through as swiftly and his spitball broke as sharply as in any of the previous innings, but the Boston men just hit him, that's all.

For the first five innings Boston did not make a hit off Big Jeff. His was a brand of pitching that they hadn't seen before, and they couldn't fathom it. It looked as if he were going through to a shutout game. He was pitching as he had done in many a game—wild, but composed and tightening up immediately after deadheading a batter to first. The Bostons made the most of Jeff's wildness. Wood was, however, his superior, there is no doubt. He may not be next time, but he was this time. In no other position were the Red Sox one whit superior unless at short. Fletcher didn't have as many chances in the field as Wagner, but Wagner excelled his New York vis-a-vis at the bat rather than in the field. The only errors of the game came at this position, a fumble by each shortstop, which cost nothing.

So far as this game went there was little choice between the two teams in the matter of ability. In physical proficiency they were on a par, and neither was upset by the bigness of the occasion to any serious extent.

—Sillicus—"Just look at Mrs. Dashaway in her decollete gown. She's very fond of dress." Cynicus—"Then I should think she'd wear more of it."

SPEAKER AT BAT.

Snapped Just Before He Made Historic Three Base Hit.

BUNTS, PUNTS, PUNCHES

"If the Cubs had Knetzer of the Brooklyns," said Jimmy Archer recently, "we would win the pennant hands down."

Lejune, the Grand Rapids outfielder drafted by the Cleveland Naps, had a trial with the Brooklyn team two years ago.

Rumors are traveling thick and fast that Robert Brown, of Louisville, has been picked to suceed Thomas J. Lynch as president of the National League.

Washington fans were as jubilant over the Senators winning the 19-inning game at Philadelphia as if the Griffith Climbers had won a world's series contest.

President Dreyfuss, of the Pittsburg Club, has refused to allow Marty O'Toole and Bobby Byrne to join Umpire Rigler's all-star team on a Cuban tour, this winter.

"Germany" Schaefer, the Washington cut-up, hopes the scribes will not forget to compare him with Eddie Foy when they write columns comparing Walter Johnson and Joe Wood.

The Phillies have had more hard luck this season than all the other major league teams combined. The latest victim is Manager Charley Dooin, who is out of the game with a broken finger.

It was Third Baseman Baker who put the Nibosh on the Giants last year, and the New Yorkers will surely keep an eye on Larry Gardner, who plays third for the Red Sox, in the coming championship series.

Eddie Harlan, the former Princeton star, is coaching the Johns Hopkins University eleven in Baltimore.

York, one of Yale's heavy guards, is a former tackle at Andover, and also put the shot for the track team.

Annapolis has a very easy schedule this season, while West Point will meet both Yale and the Carlisle Indians.

Minnesota has lost Walker, the All-Western tackle of two season's ago. He will play with the University of Virginia eleven.

Tenney, who scored Brown's touchdown against Harvard last year, will again be a member of the Brown eleven this season.

Johnny Dundee and Tommy Bresnahan have signed for a clash to take place in Pittsburg, Oct. 11.

The two Western lightweights, Steve Ketchel and Sammy Trott, have been matched to meet in Winnipeg, Oct. 15.

George Carpentier, the sensational French middleweight champion, has decided to quit the 158-pound ranks and join the heavyweight division.

DIES AS OLD MARE LOSES.

"She's Not as Good as She Used to Be," Last Words.

York, Pa., Oct. 9.—"The old mare is not as good as she used to be." Those were the last words spoken by Lewis Campbell, a widely known horseman of Arlington, Md., who had entered his horse, Nettie May, in the 2:17 trotting race at the grounds of the York Agricultural society. The mare had finished fifth in the field of seven horses. The old horseman was disappointed. It so affected him that when he stepped from his sulky after the race was over he dropped dead.

ECLIPSE OF THE SUN.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 9 (Special)—There is to be a total eclipse of the sun tomorrow, but few persons in the United States and none in Canada will have an opportunity to view the phenomena. Residents of southern Florida, if conditions are favorable, will be treated to a partial performance by Old Sol when he hides himself behind the moon. The path of totality will cross South America from a point near Quito, Ecuador, to Rio Janeiro, Brazil. The best place, it is figured, for observing the eclipse will be in the vicinity of the Brazilian metropolis. Here the astronomers from America and Europe have set up instruments with long, unpronouncable names to take observations during the two minutes' duration of the total phase.

SESAME CLUB TO MEET.

The Sesame Club will meet tomorrow morning with Mrs. Charles W. Foster, of 331 East Seventh street. The subject will be "The Indians, Their Life, Custom and Myths."

GREAT CROWD AT MT. HOLLY'S FAIR

Many Little Folks Flock to Children's Day.

DISPLAYS ARE ATTRACTIVE

Number of Exhibitors Larger Than Ever—Biggest First Day's Attendance In Many Years—Sights and Features of Day Are Greatly Enjoyed.

Mount Holly, N. J., Oct. 9.—The thirteenth annual exhibition of the Burlington County Fair association opened with a magnitude never before reached. It was the largest first day crowd in many years and over 8,000 persons enjoyed the sights and features of the day. It was children's day and all the "kiddies" were admitted free. They were the guests of the society and carefully looked after by B. P. Wills, the secretary, and his appointed assistants.

Many of the little guests under fourteen years of age have exhibits, the girls showing all kinds of fancy work, with specimens of art, and the boys mostly have paintings in oil and water color. The boys and girls made good use of everything coming their way while making the rounds of the buildings, during which they had many free samples to take home. While the children were romping at will, members of the various committees were in a state of excitement arranging the belated exhibits, some of which came from the Trenton fair.

Those who enjoy rural life were attracted by the fine display of agricultural machinery, the number of exhibitors being larger than ever. In the display of farm products the grangers have combined their interests and their displays are attracting considerable attention. There is a great display of mammoth pumpkins, watermelons, beets, squashes, etc., that covers one section of a building. There are also fine specimens of vegetables, fruits, nuts and grain, showing the fertile condition of the county. The skill in kitchen and sewing room of the women agriculturists is fully displayed in the culinary department, where there are hundreds of tempting displays of preserves labeled and arranged for the eyes of the judges who are selecting the first and second premium winners. In this building, to which the public has no access, there are hundreds of fine cakes, loaves of bread, pies, rolls of butter and the like, upon which judgment must be passed.

TOWN AT MERCY OF THIEVES

All the Policemen of Wallington, N. J., Either Suspended or Ill.

Passaic, N. J., Oct. 9.—With all its police service either suspended or unable to perform duty, the borough of Wallington is practically at the mercy of marauders.

At a stabbing in a saloon last Saturday night Chief Thomas Dembroskie arrested a man known only as "Bravey," whom he found with a knife in his hand. Influenced by statements by onlookers that he was the wrong man, Dembroskie released the prisoner and was suspended for doing so. Policeman Charles Neilly, the borough's only other regular patrolman, has been ill for a month. Constable John Chrystaline, placed on the force temporarily, was found intoxicated and suspended. Samuel B. Marsh, another temporary officer, was found off post and suspended. Thomas Dembroskie, Jr., son of the chief, resigned, leaving the town without regular police.

THREE BADLY HURT BY AUTO

Aged Woman, Judge and Trained Nurse In Newark Hospital.

Newark, N. J., Oct. 9.—Three persons were badly injured in an automobile accident on Frelinghuysen avenue, this city. They are Miss Mary A. Tuttle, seventy-five years old, sister of the late Judge Tuttle; her nephew, George S. Tuttle, forty-five, of 71 East Park street, and Miss Catharine Jones, a trained nurse, thirty-five.

The accident happened near Weston avenue. A knuckle joint on the front axle broke, releasing the wheel, and the machine overturned, throwing the occupants on the car tracks.

Miss Jones received a scalp wound, and her skull may be fractured. Tuttle's collar bone was broken, and he was badly cut and bruised about the body. Both are in the City hospital. Miss Tuttle was cut and bruised and was badly shaken up. She was removed to her home and is under the care of a doctor.

TWO MEN BLOWN 100 FEET

One Instantly Killed by Explosion In Du Pont Powder Works.

Paterson, N. J., Oct. 9.—Robert Rhinesmith, thirty-two, was killed and Louis Luke, twenty-one, was hurt so badly he is not expected to live by an explosion in the charging house of the E. I. Du Pont powder works at Pompton Lakes, near here.

The cause of the explosion is not known. It blew a galvanized iron building apart and threw the two men 100 feet. The noise was heard a mile away. Rhinesmith died instantly. Luke was taken to the Paterson hospital.

563 STUDENTS EARNED $95,035

Annual Report on Employment of Columbia Undergraduates.

TOOK ALL SORTS OF ODD JOBS

Domestic Service, Tutoring, Sewing and Sawing Wood Were Sources of Profit—Forty-seven of the Number Who Got Employment Were Girls.

More than 500 students at Columbia university, New York, worked their way through college, either in whole or in part, last year, according to the annual report of the committee on employment for students.

The students, by doing odd jobs of all kinds during the summer vacation of 1911 and the academic year which ended last June, earned $95,035.53. More than one-third of this was made from work found for the students by the employment office.

Out of the total number of 563 students there were forty-seven young women who earned relatively just as much as the men. They worked in private families as tutors and governesses, and some of them even got work meant for men students. A great many of the students found employment as tutors, and this kind of work was the most lucrative.

During the summer vacation of 1911 the students earned a total of $9,416.29 with the committee's aid and $15,307.38 without the committee's aid, making a total of $24,738.67, or $8,000 less than the report for the summer of 1910. The falling off was in the work which the students found for themselves, the committee's earnings in that period increasing by more than $1,500.

In the academic year, which began last October and finished in June, the committee found work that netted $26,003.27 for the students, and by themselves they earned $44,308.59, or a total of $70,311.86, nearly twice as much as they earned in the corresponding academic year 1910-11.

Average Earnings.

The average earnings in all the schools of the university during the academic year were: College, $133.06; applied science, $73.63; medical, $148.51; graduate, $280.65; law, $189.17; fine arts, $547.37; Barnard college, $164.88; Teachers' college, $162.88; students in extension courses, $76.12.

One student in the law school spent the summer in a country grocery store and earned $294. Another worked in a Canadian paper mill and made $280, which he supplemented with $128 earned by tutoring in a private family. A third year student in the medical school got a little practice at his profession by working as camp physician at a summer camp in Maine and, in addition, cleared up $508.

A senior in Columbia college, who started to work his way through the university by waiting on table, spent his last summer as an undergraduate by managing a lunch room on an excursion boat and netted the tidy sum of $320. Another student in the college played in seacoast orchestras and earned $247. One enterprising college student organized a traveling moving picture show company at a profit to himself of $1,200.

What They Worked At.

A great many of the students were clerks in banks and summer hotels, averaging in these positions about $100 a month. One girl tried her hand at several things, including looking after children, making up financial tables and redecorating a house. From these various sources she netted $200.

Another girl taught gymnastics in a summer playground and made $120, while a third girl directed a settlement house for the summer for $125. The high record for the summer of 1911 went to a third year student in the law school, who worked as a life insurance agent in the south and made $656. Another law school student clerked in a shoe store and earned $206.

A third year engineering student was a cook and butler in a private family for the entire year, and in addition to earning his board and lodging he cleared $72.50. Another engineering student spent his Saturday evenings working as a shoe salesman and at this made $98.

STOOLS FOR CONGRESSMEN.

No Desk Room In House For Forty-two New Members.

Elliott Woods, superintendent of the United States capitol building, after an examination of the floor of the house of representatives, has found it practically impossible to make desk room for the forty-two new members to be added to the house by the next general elections. It is probable some new members will have to occupy extra chairs or stools.

Provision had been made for the rearrangement of the house chamber, but Woods will be unable to make permanent changes before the December session. The new congress will come into office March 4 with the prospect of an extra session next summer. If no extra session is held, the house chamber will be rebuilt before the fall session.

MAN OF MANY SUPPERS.

Court Ball Comedy of a Small German Capital.

An amusing story of an incident at a masked ball given at the capital of one of the smaller German principalities is told in Berlin. The rule was printed upon the invitation cards that every one must come either in fancy dress or in a black domino.

In one of the rooms of the court a buffet had been set out, and the attendants there soon came to remark the unusually active appetite of one guest, duly masked and cloaked, who consumed extraordinarily large quantities of the more expensive delicacies and wines. After several minutes of vigorous eating he would leave the buffet and disappear among the throng of dancers. Soon, however, he would be back again, his appetite apparently as strong as ever.

After the fourth visit at short intervals of this hungry guest the head waiter called the attention of the master of ceremonies, who waited at the buffet until the masked stranger once more returned. He was again served with a full supply of food and wine and as he turned away was politely asked to show his invitation card.

At this some confusion was noticed in his bearing, and the master of ceremonies requested him to remove his mask and cloak. To the astonishment of the servants and the amusement of the guests there was revealed the shamefaced figure of one of the soldiers of the guard on duty in the hall below. The guards had found a spare domino lying in the hall and they had been putting it on one after the other during the evening, so as to be able to go boldly into the ballrooms and eat their fill at the buffet unchallenged.

So amused at the story was the grand duke that he refused to allow the greedy soldiers to be punished.—Berlin Cor. London Mail.

GORGEOUS NIGHTROBES.

Velvet and Silken Ones Used to Be Worn in the Daytime.

In the middle ages night robes, as a general thing, were unknown luxuries.

Under the Tudors royalty and nobility had them made of silk or velvet, and, as the old books say, "hence no washing was necessary."

More luxurious still was one owned by Queen Bess. It was of black velvet, fur lined, and greatly offset by flowing borders of silk lace. And in 1568 her majesty gave orders that George Brodigman should deliver "threescore and six best sable skynnes, to furnish us a nightgown." Four years later her highness orders the delivery of "twelve yards of purple velvet, friezed on the back syde, with white and russet silke," for a nightgown for herself and also orders the delivery of fourteen yards of murry damask for the "makynge of a nightgowne" for some one else.

Nightgowns for ladies of a later period were called "nyght vails." In Queen Anne's time it was the fashion to wear them over the customary dress in the streets in the daytime, when out on a pleasure walk. And, as was fitting, ladies who indulged in nightcaps had them also made of silk or velvet, with "much pretty garnishing of lace and glittering cords," and the fair ones made presentation of costly caps to each other as tokens of respect or affection.

More Bovine Than Prodigal.

Corporal Nugent had returned to Kansas City, Kan., after a long absence, and the farmer who delivers eggs twice a week at the Nugent home recognized in the corporal a strange individual, but an undoubted member of the family, judging from facial appearance. It happened a few days ago that the corporal was alone in the house when the farmer delivered the eggs. The farmer was desirous of saying something pleasant of course.

"I suppose," he said, "that you are the prodigal son."

"No," said the corporal gravely. "I am the fatted calf."—Kansas City Star.

Japanese Royal Composers.

The imperial family of Japan, like the Hohenzollerns, has produced some musical composers. At the reception given by the mikado in 1894 to celebrate his silver wedding a dance was played which, according to the program, was "composed 1,300 years ago by the Emperor Yomer. It represents the joyous flight of a bird of paradise in the golden age." Another dance was "composed 987 years ago by Prince Atsumi."

Much Better.

Small Edgar while out walking with his mother hesitated at a muddy crossing.

"Well, why don't you go ahead?" she asked.

"I was just thinking," replied Edgar, "that it would be better to go afoot."—Chicago News.

The Way.

"I should think they could easily run a funny department in the Congressional Record."

"How would they do it?"

"Why, look at all the jokers they have in the bills."—Baltimore American.

BICYCLIST BADLY HURT BY AUTOCAR

Johansen, Unconscious Since Accident, Has Only Slim Chance to Recover.

CHAUFFEUR IN CUSTODY

Magistrate Refuses to Accept Bail Pending Outcome of Victim's Injuries—East Seventh Street Scene of the Casualty.

Fred S. Johansen, fifty-two years old, of 50 Pearl street, lies in Muhlenberg Hospital at the point of death, as the result of injuries sustained when an automobile owned by G. A. Bowman, of 816 Hillside avenue, threw him from the bicycle he was riding on the way home from work, late yesterday afternoon.

The accident occurred in East Seventh street, between Woodland and Central avenues. Benjamin Urquhart, colored, chauffeur for Mr. Bowman, was driving the car at the time of the accident. Mrs. Bowman was in the car.

According to Urquhart, he was driving at moderate speed north on East Seventh street about 6:45 o'clock yesterday, with his oil lamps and acetyline reflectors burning, when Johansen, who was traveling in the same direction, suddenly cut across the road in the path of the auto.

"I applied my brakes," the chauffeur said, "and at the same time turned the car completely side-ways, in an attempt to avoid a collision, but the mud guard struck the rear wheel of the bicycle, throwing Johansen to the ground with great force."

Mrs. Bowman left the car and hurried to the side of the unconscious victim of the acident, and made a hasty examination. She then ran to a nearby telephone and notified the police, who responded with the ambulance, taking the man to Muhlenberg Hospital. At that institution this afternoon Johansen was still unconscious and it was said his chances for recover were small. His family visited his bedside, and are frantic with grief.

Despite the offers of his employers to supply bail, Urquhart is held at the order of City Judge DeMeza, to await the result of Johansen's injuries. The chauffeur, accompanied by Patrolman McDonald, visited the scene of the casualty this morning, where the former was closely questioned as to details of the accident.

EX-WAR PRISONERS MEET IN THIS CITY

Veterans From All Parts of the East Attend Reunion Gathering.

The Union ex-Prisoners of War Association of New Jersey is holding its twenty-sixth anual reunion today in Reform Hall. The members, together with their wives and daughters, are being entertained by the Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., assisted by the Women's Relief Corps of the past. Veterans from all sections of the East were present when the business meeting began. A banquet, replete with stirring speeches by the ex-prisoners, followed the election of officers. This afternoon a camp fire meeting will be held, and following a short musical program addresses will occupy the rest of the day.

Among those present were General E. L. Hays, one of the organizers of the association, and who bears the distinction of being one of the six surviving politicians who formed the Republican party.

The officers elected: William H. Bratton, of Newark, president; J. M. Foote, of Newark, vice-president; Almon Ricker, of Belleville, William S. Stout, and C. R. Williams, of Newark, members of executive committee; C. F. Hopkins, of Boonton, adjutant; J. M. Foote, of Newark, and N. V. Compton, of Rahway, delegates; W. H. Blaurock and R. R. Riley, both of Newark, alternates, and E. H. Williams, of Orange, chaplain.

MRS. SOPHIE LUNDSTROM.

Mrs. Sophie Lundstrom, wife of B. S. Lundstrom, died yesterday in Christiana, Norway, of tuberculosis, with which she had suffered for two years. She lived in this city ten years. She started for her old home in Sweden last year, in an effort to regain her health. Too ill to complete the journey, she was taken to a sanitarium outside Christiana. She was a charitable woman, and is mourned by many friends. She is survived by her husband, an adopted son and a brother in Utah.

ANOTHER VERDICT FOR MISS JOSEPHINE KYLE

Three Juries Have Said Railroad Should Pay But Courts Interpose.

Somerville, Oct. 10 (Special).—The third trial of the suit of Mrs. Josephine Kyle, administratrix, against the Lehigh Valley Railroad, was concluded yesterday afternoon in the Somerset County Courts, before Judge Benjamin A. Vail, of Elizabeth, before whom the two previous trials were held. The jury was out but little over an hour when they brought in a verdict of $18,000 for the plaintiff. The testimony adduced at the trial was practically the same as that of the two previous trials.

Robert H. Kyle, husband of the plaintiff, was killed on the Hillsborough crossing of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, April 9, 1910, while driving on his way home from Somerville.

At the first trial in November, 1910, the jury rendered a verdict of $35,000 in favor of the plaintiff, and this verdict was set aside by the Supreme Court of the State on the technical ground that Judge Vail, in his charge to the jury, had not been broad enough in defining the liability of a person in passing over an extraordinarily dangerous crossing, and ordered a new trial.

The second trial was held in October last year, when the jury rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $25,000. This was set aside and a new trial ordered because Judge Vail in his charge to the jury misinterpreted the meaning of the decision of the Supreme Court.

The case yesterday went to the jury about half-past three and the jury rendered its decision an hour later. Theodore Rurode was counsel for Mrs. Kyle, and Collins & Corbin represented the railroad. It is thought that the railroad will also appeal from this verdict.

G. O. P. EXECUTIVE BODY IS SEEKING ADVICE

Committee Will Be Guided by Advisory Council—Meeting of Candidates.

There will be a meeting of the City Executive Republican Committee in the Frost building on Park avenue tonight, when the names of two members from each of the election districts will be presented as an advisory campaign committee. Arrangements are being made by Arthur Lovell, chairman of the committee on mass meeting, and Chairman William Newcorn, for mass meetings at Reform Hall every Tuesday night until election; also for two large meetings to be held at the Plainfield theatre, Friday night, October 18, and Friday night, November 1, at which there will be speakers of national reputation.

The meeting at Reform Hall Tuesday night will be in the nature of a ratification of the various candidates. The committee has been advised that the ministers of the East New Jersey Baptist Association at a meeting held at Perth Amboy, endorsed William N. Runyon as the candidate for Congress on the Republican ticket.

BISHOP HOLDS TWO SERVICES

INSPIRATIONAL TALK

Prelate Urges People of Parish to Work Hard for Growth in Numbers—Great Field for Enlargement Lies About Them.

Consecration of the new pipe organ was combined with the confirmation services at St. Stephen's Episcopal church, last night. Bishop Scarborough, head of the diocese of New Jersey, conducted the two ceremonies. Special music by S. Frederick Smith, organist of Grace Episcopal church, accompanied by Mrs. Violet Truell-Johnston on the violin; Mrs. W. E. L. Ward, wife of the rector, and William Tallamy, who sang solos, featured the program.

At the opening of the service the choir marched in to an organ prelude, with the rector and the bishop bringing up in the rear. When the hymn had been sung, the bishop conducted the consecration service at the organ.

He spoke on the wonderful invention of the organ, its history and the value derived from its use. He called it the most wonderful musical instrument ever made. At the close of the organ service the bishop again addressed the congregation. He asked for the hearty support of the church workers for the rector who is new to the parish. He said there was a splendid opportunity for a larger parish. During the hard times that affected cities all around, the bishop said, Plainfield thrived and blossomed. People who have been living in New York and its vicinity are flocking over into Jersey. Cities that were not on the map in the southern part of the State have been springing up into prominence each year. The growth of the church in this State, the bishop continued, was wonderful in the past ten years.

At the close of the inspirational address the prelate delivered his sermon, taking 2 Kings 5:18 as his text. He spoke of the leper who, when he asked the Lord to heal him, turned away in anger at the answer of the Lord, who told him to wash seven times in the Jordan, and how his servant, having more faith in the Mighty One, persuaded his master to do as he was told, and by so doing was healed of his disease. This was a proof of the Lord's power, the bishop said, and if at any time the candidates were going astray they were to stop and ask Him for His blessing and help in regaining the straight and narrow way. The bishop then directly addressed the members of the confirmation class and explained to them the meaning of the service. At the close he confirmed the class.

The confirmation class will attend its first communion service Sunday morning at 8:30 o'clock. Eight young women and four young men make up the class.

GEORGE DOODLESACK LOST FORTY QUARTS OF MILK

George Doodlesack, a dairyman from Mt. Bethel, suffered the loss of about forty quarts of milk, yesterday morning, when his horse ran away on Greenbrook road, while he was delivering milk at a customer's home.

The horse became frightened at something and upset the wagon before Mr. Doodlesack could catch the animal. It broke away from the wagon and was caught several blocks away uninjured.

CHANCERY ORDER IN NUCKOLS CASE

Wife was Directed to Turn Child Over to Mt. St. Mary College.

STATEMENT BY SCHOOL

Mother Superior Says Woman Would Have Been Admitted to Institution With Child if She Had Appeared at a Seemly Hour.

Mrs. Amy Nuckols, of Atlantic City, who appeared before City Judge W. G. DeMeza, yesterday, having been arrested late Tuesday night on North avenue for creating a disturbance, reached home last night with her 7-year-old daughter, Muriel. She informed her friends that the Mother Superior of Mt. St. Mary College had refused to admit her daughter, although she took the child to the institution under a court order.

According to a story from Atlantic City, Mrs. Nuckols, whose husband, William Preston Nuckols, is suing for divorce, came to Plainfield in compliance with an order issued from the Court of Chancery to deliver her child into the custody of Mt. St. Mary College. When questioned about the matter today, the Mother Superior said that she did not see the woman, but was informed that she and the child reached the college about 10:30 o'clock Tuesday night, and were denied admittance, on account of the hour, in accordance with the college rules. Mother Superior said today that if the woman had called at a proper hour with the necessary credentials, she would have been received.

Mrs. Nuckols was compelled to appear before the Vice Chancellor in Camden a week ago because of her failure to turn over her daughter to Mother Superior in compliance with his order and was placed under a $500 bond in contempt proceedings. Mother Superior says that she has no knowledge of any court order.

Mrs. Nuckols was arrested while engaged in an altercation with a taxi driver on North avenue. She had a loaded revolver and a partly filled whiskey flask in her possession when arrested. One of the charges against her was carrying a concealed weapon. A fine of $8 or 40 days in jail was suspended on condition that she return at once to Atlantic City.

Fenway Field, Boston, Oct. 10.—Bright skies overhead and the thermometer at a point which made genuine baseball weather brought another enormous throng out this afternoon to see the Boston Red Sox and New York Giants start their third struggle for the 1912 world's championship. Although it is the third game played, it is really the second of record, for yesterday's eleven-inning tie does not count.

Filling every available seat when Chief Umpire Evans, who was at the plate, called "play ball," was a crowd of nearly 40,000 spectators, thousands of them having entered the grounds as soon as the gates opened at eight o'clock this morning.

Manager McGraw put Marquard in the box for the Giants and O'Brien occupied the mound for Boston. Devore, the Giants' fielder, who was out of the game yesterday, was back in right field today, and started off when first at bat with a single for the Giants on the first ball pitched.

Speaker's automobile arrived at 1:45 and was driven up to the home plate to be presented to him as the most valuable ball player in the American League. Larry Doyle and Speaker got in the auto and rode around the park, to be cheered to the echo by the crowd.

In the eighth inning Boston changed it's lineup in the effort to save the game. Engle went in to bat for Carrigan and Ball batted for O'Brien. Cady caught for Boston in the ninth, and Bedient succeeded O'Brien in the box.

TWELFTH BECKER JUROR IS PICKED

New York, Oct. 12.—The twelfth juror in the Becker case has been accepted in the person of Samuel H. Haas. He is a married man and in the contracting business. He was one of the special panel of 100 talesmen which reported today. The trial of the case was begun immediately after his selection.

Justice Goff this morning informed the lawyers in the case that he would not tolerate continued efforts to delay the finding of the twelfth juror and this hurried matters.

A dispatch from London to the Evening World today said that Scotland Yard announced it had received word from Assistant District Attorney De Ford, of New York, that he had finally induced Thomas Coupe, the former clerk in the Elks' Club, to consent to return to New York to testify at the Becker trial. They are expected to sail on the first steamer.

It was hard work getting jurors to try Lieutenant Becker for the murder of Herman Rosenthal. When court adjourned last night there were only eleven in the box. It seemed to Justice Goff that talesmen were deliberately disqualifying themselves. Man after man doggedly or glibly insisted that he had such set convictions that he didn't believe he could give Becker a fair trial.

NO SCHOOLROOM RALLIES.

The Progressive Club, of Westfield, recently asked permission of the school trustees to use the Washington School auditorium on the evenings of October 12, 26 and November 2 for political meetings. District Clerk Webster was instructed to write to the club that the room was not available for such meetings.

—Tommy—"Mamma, what is economy?" Tommy's Mamma—"Economy, my son, is what a husband preaches and a wife practices."

—"Faint heart ne'er won fair lady," quoted the Wise Guy. "Which may be lucky for faint heart in the end," added the Simple Mug.

—Blobbs—"That fellow Bjones says he belongs to a swell family." Slobbs—"Well, he's a good bit of a sponge himself."

A New Wrinkle

Probably you have never heard about the Burroughs extra Total Button. On some of the big machines, for instance, that will handle two columns of eight or nine figures at the same time, you may want to take a total of another; we meet that—with the extra Total Button.

Again, you can be adding in both sections of the machine, but you can total in either section that you want to—just another advance step in adding machine construction that most manufacturers never thought anything about, but we have to meet all conditions.

Let us show you.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

It is the older boys' afternoon at the association today. Wonder if the World series' results will have any effect on the attendance.

The senior class meets tonight at 8:15. It is time to get down to the gym and get some of that summer stiffness worked out.

A number of the older boys, mostly High School students, have been invited by Mr. Bingeman to attend a lecture in the boys' rooms tomorrow afternoon. Charles R. Drum, who will speak at the coming Y. M. C. A. conference here, will deliver a short personal talk to the fellows of the association tomorrow afternoon.

The motion picture program for Saturday afternoon and evening will be as follows: "Christopher Columbus," "Little Red Riding Hood," "Lost, Strayed or Stolen," "A Thousand Miles Through the Rockies," "Seeing Cincinnati," "Oyster Industry," and "Sheep Shearing in New Mexico." The program is particularly appropriate for Columbus Day and preparations are being made to handle a large crowd.

Charles R. Drum spoke this noon to the employes of the Spicer Manufacturing Company. This evening he will speak at a "Men and Religion" conference to be held in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium.

Henry Kinney has been appointed assistant physical director for the winter season. He has been a "leader" in the boys department and when he became old enough he joined the men's department and was appointed to his new duties.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

The Camp Fire Girls were entertained by Mrs. A. S. Van Denburgh at her home on Franklin avenue last night. A large bonfine was built across the way from her house and the girls sang their camp fire songs.

Two visitors were entertained at the Y. W. C. A. yesterday. They were Miss Henrietta Roelofs, chief executive secretary of the Territorial committee for New York and New Jersey, and Miss Neva Chappell, departmental city executive secretary for the same territory. They spent the day in looking over the equipment and accommodations of the local association.

The first class in English for foreign speaking girls was held last night. Miss Harriet Goddard, who is in charge of the class, teaches them to read, write, spell and speak the English language properly.

"LITTLE MISS BROWN" FILLS 48TH ST. THEATRE

New York, Oct. 10.—"Little Miss Brown," with its amusing complications based on a young girl's difficulties in securing hotel lodgings, is filling the Forty-eighth street theatre every evening and Thursday and Saturday afternoons. Some of the characters in Mr. Bartholomae's farcical comedy are especially familiar to most spectators—such for instance as the stony faced hotel clerk, the "fly" telephone girl, the colored porter, the "fresh" bell boy and the coy and pretty daughter of the landlord. All these roles are played with the utmost aptitude, as also is little Miss Brown herself, the last mentioned by Miss Madge Kennedy, a new arrival upon Broadway and a very welcome visitor. Miss Kennedy is just emerging from her 'teens, and apparently justifies the high hopes entertained by the management for her future. "Little Miss Brown" seems certain to remain in New York until past Christmas, and quite possibly may continue through the entire season. It has been steadily increasing in strength from the start.

UNION DEMOCRATIC FORCES ORGANIZED

Calvin Brodhead on Executive Committee—Latter a Model of Representation.

The organization of the Democratic forces of the county for the ensuing year is now complete, the county chairman having announced the personnel of the standing commitees. Notices have been sent to the various appointees by Secretary Fred Zior, and activities will start at the county committee meeting tomorrow night.

Ten members at large have also been named by Chairman Tuttle, repreesnting every part of the county. The executive committee, which is, of course, the most important one, is a model for giving recognition to about every important coterie of Democrats in the county.

Robert H. McAdams, of Elizabeth, who recently left the chairmanship of the city executive committee, is chairman. Mayor Stein and City Clerk Kenah are named as his Elizabeth colleagues. Then comes John J. Lane, of Summit, who led a militant minority in the county committee, opposing certain wishes of the controlling forces during the last year. County Tax Commissioner Calvin E. Brodhead is the Plainfield member. John F. Peniston, of Cranford, and Thomas A. Roarke, of Rahway, complete the committee.

The names of several Democrats who were defeated for nominations at the September primaries are conspicuous on committees.

City Attorney Frank V. Dobbins, of Rahway, who lost the race for an Assembly nomination, is selected as a member at large of the county committee. Former Freeholder William H. Swain, of Summit, who was defeated for a freeholder nomination, is another member at large. The other eight are the city attorney of Elizabeth, Comptroller Sauer, Fire Commissioner Collins and former Mayor Ryan, of Elizabeth; Abraham P. Morris, of Union township; John J. Kenney, of Westfield; A. H. Atterbury, of Plainfield, and Miller F. Moore, of Roselle.

The other committees appointed are the following:

Finance—General Dennis F. Collins, Assistant City Attorney Joseph T. Hague, Hugh F. Boyle, of Elizabeth; A. W. Wetmore, of Roselle; Percy H. Stewart, candidate for Mayor of Plainfield; R. L. De Camp, of Westfield, and J. Williams Crane, of Union.

Speakers—Ten Eyck R. Beardsley, of Fanwood; James P. Kelly, of Elizabeth, nominee for surrogate; John L. Crowell, of Rahway; Charles C. Boyd, of Kenilworth, and Edward M. Meek, of Elizabeth.

Printing—John J. McGowan, of Elizabeth; F. J. Dushanek, of Garwood; Herman Kuhlenschmidt, of Cranford; W. J. Haliday, of Rahway, and F. J. O'Brien, of Summit.

Entertainment—Edward F. Whelan, of Elizabeth; James T. Sickley, of Springfield, J. J. Meehan, of Elizabeth; Bernard Tansey, Jr., recently elected chairman of the city committee, and Charles W. Sorter, of Westfield.

Naturalization—Frank J. Pfaff, of Elizabeth; Frank M. Wagner, of Plainfield; former Judge Alford B. Cook, of Rahway; John J. Ryan, of Elizabeth, and Edward J. McCue, of Plainfield.

CONCERNING PAINT

If you ought to have painted your house last year and waited for paint to come down, how much do you think you made?

That costs about 10 per cent.; you keep your money a year and pay 10 per cent. for it.

The worst mistake is "Cheap" Paint which has to be made of "cheap" materials.

Plainfield, N. J., October 10, 1912.

THE THING TO DO.

A question is asked by a reader of this paper, who takes exception to our suggestion as made in this column yesterday, "why should a Republican support a Democrat for Freeholder even though there is no local nominee on our own ticket?" Our correspondent refers to the opinion expressed that Plainfielders should place their city above their party when it comes to a consideration of choice for Freeholders and that inasmuch as there are two candidates on the Democratic ticket, Thomas J. Hughes and James J. McCann, both of this city, expediency and wisdom would warrant their support regardless of what the voters' belief may be on National issues and candidates.

The situation is simply this—the small Board of Freeholders which takes office on January 1, 1913, will consist of seven members. On the Republican ticket, five of the seven candidates are from Elizabeth, one from Cranford and one from Westfield. Elizabeth on a vote among the members, should the Republican ticket win, will have things all its own way, and what is more vital to us is that Plainfield will have no voice. And Plainfield is the second largest and second most important city in Union county. There is a local candidate offered by the Progressives, A. M. Morrell, but to support him would be a mistake, we think for the vote in the county would probably then be so split that the Republican seven might all win out. On the other hand, if Plainfield's voters who have the best interest of their city at heart concentrate on Hughes and McCann, or on one of the two, they or he would undoubtedly be elected. And Plainfield would have representation on the County Board.

The Board of Freeholders has charge of the county moneys and affairs. It says when and where roads are to be improved, bridges to be built and other improvements to be made.

Is it not only fair, is it not only right, then, that Plainfield should have a spokesman on the Board, a resident who as a member will see to it that Plainfield gets "the square deal." We grant that Elizabeth is entitled to at least two members. That city pays forty-one and six-tenths per cent of the State and county taxes. Plainfield, however, is the next largest contributor, its share of the burden being seventeen and six tenths. The apportionment of last year shows that Elizabeth's part in this respect for State school purposes is $152,503.35, and as to the county tax $184,534.43. Plainfield's on State schools is $64,487.32 and on county tax, $78,031.92. The net valuations on which the county and State school taxes are apportioned are $60,061,982 in Elizabeth and $25,397,708 in Plainfield. Therefore, we think that it would be a serious mistake to elect a board of seven, five of whom would be from Elizabeth and none from Plainfield. For the sake of Plainfield's interests, the only way to prevent such a likely situation is to vote for Hughes and McCann.

In calling attention to some of the things that contribute to unsatisfactory conditions here. R. Henry Depew said at a Chamber of Commerce advertisihg conference that the streets are not properly lighted. Mr. Depew is right. It was only a very few years ago that he was largely instrumental in bringing about for a time a better condition in this respect without added cost to the taxpayers. An investigation conducted by the then live Plainfield Protective Association revealed the fact that the city was not getting what it was paying for. Many of the incandescent lamps throughout the city were half burned out and the actual candle power was far below what was called for. During the last year or so, there seems to have been a return to the old order of things and the lamps, or rather very many of them, do not shed the amount of light that they should.

At least fifteen hundred "fans" crowded the street in front of the Press office yesterday afternoon to hear the story of the game between the Red Sox and Giants as reported play by play through a megaphone. There was no interruption of the telegraphic flashes from Fenway Park, Boston, from the time the umpire shouted "play ball", until the game was called on account of darkness and the service was admirable throughout. Many who take no interest in the great American game were attracted by the good-natured fun of the "rooters" as some great play was reported and the scene was one of wild enthusiasm when the scores were tied. The ministers in the crowd seemed to be as interested as were the youngsters who gave vent to their feelings of joy when a hit was made or a batter fanned.

The tariff debate between former State Senator Ernest R. Aackerman and former Mayor William L. Saunders is becoming interesting to their fellow townsmen. The Republican leader had his rejoinder in yesterday's issue. Now, it is up to the Democratic State Committeeman to "come back at him."

There's something wrong with the office boy who can be located by his employer after 2 o'clock these afternoons.

When two millionaire manufacturers get into an argument as to the tariff, some secrets are apt to be told.

Notice to Press Readers— Because of the intense interest in the world's championship baseball games, the city edition of the Daily Press will be held each day during the series until the game is completed. This will make the delivery boys a little later than usual in reaching the homes during the games, but the great demand for this news justifies the delay.

WEDDED WITH A RING MADE FROM OLD COIN

Somerville, Oct. 10 (Special).—In St. Bernard's church, Raritan, Miss Mayme Cahill, daughter of Mrs. John Cahill, of Raritan, and Frank Cox, of Princeton, were married at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon by the Rev. Cunningham and John Cahill, brother of the bride, were the ushers, and Geo. Titus, of Princeton, was best man. Miss Jennie G. Cahill, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. The ring used in the ceremony was made from a gold sovereign brought from Ireland by the bride's mother many years ago.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, on Anderson street. The couple left about seven o'clock for a brief wedding trip by way of Bound Brook, and on their return will reside at the home of the bride's mother until spring, when they will begin keeping house.

MISS VAN FLEET BRIDE OF CHARLES H. MATHEWS

Somerville, Oct. 10 (Special).—Miss Anna Corrinne Van Fleet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abram Tunison Van Fleet, was married last night to Charles Hankins Mathews, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Mathews, also of West Cliff street. The ceremony was performed at the bride's home at 6 o'clock by the Rev. A. A. Pfanstiehl, pastor of the Second Reformed church, in the presence of about fifty friends and relatives. Miss Ethel Van Fleet, sister of the bride, was maid of honor.

The bride's gown was of satin, trimmed with Spanish marguerite lace, with veil cap fashion. She carried a shower bouquet. The maid of honor's gown was of embroidered canton, and she carried pink rosebuds.

The best man was Claude L. Mathews, brother of the bridegroom. Burroughs Van Fleet, brother of the bride, and Karel Vander Veer, of Dunellen, were ushers. Miss Ella West, of Raritan, cousin of the bride, played the Mendelssohn wedding march as the bridal party entered the parlor.

The house was tastefully decorated throughout, the color scheme being green and white, and cut flowers and palms were used in profusion. After the ceremony dainty refreshments were served, soon after which the bridal couple left for a brief honeymoon trip, and on their return Mr. and Mrs. Mathews will reside in Somerville. The bridegroom is associated here with his father in business.

MAYOR MOY WELCOMES AFRO-AMERICAN BAPTISTS

The eighth annual convention of the Afro-American Baptist association was called to order by Rev. G. E. Morris at the Shiloh Baptist church this morning. Mayor Moy addressed the assembled delegates at eleven o'clock. His topic was "As you sow, you reap." He welcomed the delegates to the city and wished them great success.

Addresses were delivered by Rev. A. D. Jones, of Elizabeth, whose topic was taken from Romans 1:16, "God's Power in the Gospel of Christ," and Rev. Dr. G. E. Morris, of Morristown, delivered the annual address of president.

WAR ON HARVARD BEER KEG.

Divinity Student Would Abolish Cherished College Institution.

Cambridge, Mass. Oct. 10.—J. N. Bixby of Norwich, N. Y., a student in the Harvard divinity school, is conducting a crusade at Harvard which has for its purpose the abolition of beer nights by members of the different classes in the university. Already 100 names have been signed to a petition which is to be presented to the faculty asking that these gatherings be done away with.

The different classes in the college proper held socials at frequent intervals, and at these affairs a keg or two of beer has a place of prominence in the festivities. Mr. Bixby states that there is considerable roughness following these times which injures the university.

THE GREATER BAMBERGER STORE

FORMAL OPENING NEXT WEDNESDAY

Five more days and the great idea, born twenty long years ago, will crystallize into shape. Four more days and the newest and possibly the finest of America's great stores will open its doors to an expectant public. No one will ever know the days and weeks and months of labor and worry and concentration that this great structure has cost those who are responsible for its being, nor will anyone ever realize the earnestness and thoroughness with which even the smallest details of the great work were prosecuted. Greater Bamberger's is now a reality and when the doors swing open next Wednesday the people of New Jersey will behold a perfect store. This is the first of a series of very remarkable opening announcements that has been prepared. Watch for these announcements and read them carefully—aside from their artistic value, they will tell you many interesting things about a very interesting new store. They will unfold the story of the great idea from its inception to its complete realization. Consult your calendar and see that next Wednesday is kept open—the inauguration of the new Bamberger store is too important a function for you to miss.

C. R. DRUM TALKS TO HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS

In His First Address Evangelist Decries Drink, Tobacco, and Profanity.

Before the pupils of the Plainfield High School this morning Charles R. Drum, delivered the first of his series of Forward Movement talks on "Independence." Mr. Drum spoke at length on the relations of a boy to his home and although he urged independence in every walk of life he cited reasons why a youth should look with dependence on his parents.

Smoking and the incessant use of tobacco in any form were denounced as producing two of the worst kind of effects, one to the person of the user and the other to his companions. Mr. Drum said that while he was personally opposed to the very common habit, he looked with a great deal more respect and admiration on the fellow who walked down the street with the latest cut of clothing, trousers turned up to display three inches of purple socks and a cigar stuck in the corner of his mouth; than he did on the fellow who took his cigar and sneaked around the corner of the haystack to smoke it where he would not be seen or molested.

Mr. Drum said that tobacco using was the cause of many of the present day youth's failure to succeed in business. When a firm manager or employer seeks help he usually inquires into whether or not the applicant uses tobacco or liquor to excess and if he finds this to be true the employment is denied because of the fact that he knows the habitual tobacco user cannot do his work as well as the man who lets nicotine alone and has a brain untainted with the poison.

The speaker said that drinking leads to three of the things that are demoralizing the population of the world today and besides injuring the body and making it a subject for pathology it also tends to bring about evil companionship, as the boy or man who seeks liquor, generally has to go to a place to get it which is not frequented by men of the higher class.

"Profanity," said Mr. Drum, "marks the ignoramus. It is only used by the class of people whose vocabularly is insufficient to express their emotions and thoughts."

The speaker said that swearing was unkind and ungentlemanly, as it was as a rule directed to the ears of some one who opposed it and came as a shock to their feelings. In closing the talk the speaker said that not only was profanity a curse of the nation, surpassed only by drink, but that it was in direct defiance of the creator.

ANOTHER GREAT STATE STORE

L. Bamberger and Co. Will Enter New Merchandise Palace Next Wednesday.

$2,000,000 STRUCTURE

Firm Has Grown Since 1893 Into Place of Prominence Among Newark Merchants and Now Ranks Second to None in State or N. Y.

L. Bamberger & Co., of Newark, will open their new two million dollar store next Wednesday.

The present firm of L. Bamberger & Co. was established in February, 1893, by Louis Bamberger, Louis M. Frank and Felix Fuld. With the exception of Louis M. Frank, who died in Lucerne, Switzerland, in 1910, the personel of the firm remains unchanged.

The new Bamberger store, like many other great enterprises, had its inception in a very modest way; the original store occupying less than one-half of one floor of the old building just vacated. Here, however, were sown the seeds of enterprise which ripened rapidly. Here was conceived the ideal which the present great store typifies.

The new Bamberger store is an L shaped structure of pure Gothic architecture, with 144 feet on Market street, 235 feet on Halsey street and 117 feet on Washington street. It has been spoken of as one of the most unique commercial structures in America.

The work of demolishing the building upon which the new store stands was begun in February, 1911. The foundation was started in August of the same year and the first steel work set in November. From that time until the great structure was finally turned over to its owners, work progressed with unusual rapidity and with fewer accidents and setbacks than are usually encountered in the erection of an edifice of similar size.

Practically every human need, with the exception of groceries, may be found within the four white walls of the great new store. As you enter the Market street door, you behold a beautiful vista. Rich mahogany fixtures stretch out in long, straight, almost interminable aisles. This floor is devoted to lines usually found on the street floors of great establishments, and the arrangement of the various departments is so perfect that shopping here is a pleasure.

On the commodious mezzanine floor will be found the book department together with certain executive offices.

On the second floor we find one of the largest shoe departments in the country, together with silks, dress goods, men's clothing, hats, infants' wear, muslinwear, boys' clothing, corsets, etc.

Women's cloaks, suits, costumes and millinery are found on the third floor, where are also quartered such lines as wrappers, kimonos, waists, petticoats and worsted goods. The Washington street side of this floor is given over to a commodious and luxurious waiting room, manicure and hair dressing parlors, the Bureau of Public Convenience and public telephones.

Carpets and rugs, upholstery goods, wall paper and certain lines of furniture occupy the entire fourth floor.

On the fifth floor will be found the main furniture department, together with the restaurant and men's smoking room.

The sixth floor will be devoted to sporting goods, trunks and bags, pictures, sheet music, musical instruments, toys, phonographs, baby carriages and cameras. The piano department and auditorium are also on this floor.

The executive offices and department of accounts will be found on the seventh floor, together with sample rooms, receiving rooms, stock rooms, etc.

On the eighth floor are the great, dry cold, air storage vaults with a capacity of over thirty thousand garments. The balance of the floor is devoted to fitting rooms, work rooms, employes' restaurant and hospital.

The basement of the new store is given over to housefurnishing goods, china, crystal, art objects, etc.

Many stores entering a field of broader endeavor such as the Bamberger store is about to enter, would consider it incumbent upon themselves to lay in vast stocks of impractical merchandise priced at impossible figures.

The increased floor space renders it possible for the new store to carry more fine merchandise than it has been able to carry heretofore, but fine merchandise does not necessarily mean extravagant merchandise.

It is the purpose of Greater Bamberger's to carry as good stocks and as complete stocks as any store in the so-called Metropolitan district. These stocks have been chosen, however, by experts who know the Newark shopping public better than it knows itself. The new store does not attempt to impress, or rather awe you, with merchandise that was created for show purposes solely. It does not show you a gown that you would hesitate to wear; it does not show you a rug that you would not admire for its beauty alone; it does not show you a piece of furniture that you would not care to install in your home.

BAMBERGER'S NEW $2,000,000 NEWARK STORE

Bamberger's buyers and commissionaires have visited practically every land on the face of the globe in quest of merchandise for the new store, but each buyer and each commissionaire was charged with specific instructions to procure only such goods as would appeal to a metropolitan community.

The merchandise of the new Bamberger store will be above criticism.

Better facilities, augmented selling space and more scientific arrangement of departments will make for a general increase in efficiency. Increased efficiency means greater sales and greater sales mean lower prices. If a price revision is made at all it will be a "downward revision," as they say in tariff parlance.

It is ridiculous to suppose that a great store could deliberately "raise" its prices. Competition is too strict a taskmaster to permit of such a thing, besides it would be an absolute insult to the buying public. The new Bamberger store will not raise its prices.

Your dollars will buy the same one hundred cents' worth of value in the new "White Store" that they have always bought in the old building. The only difference will be your purchases will be made in a great, big, light, cheery store, where pure air is allowed to circulate—where everyone is happy, healthy and contented.

The ventilating system, which has been installed at the expense of much money and great floor space, is regarded as one of the most elaborate of its kind in existence. There will be 13,500,000 cubic feet of fresh air pumped into the store every hour. The air first passes through a heater, where it attains temperature of 50 degrees. It is then forced through a wall of running water, where it is washed more thoroughly than it would be by hard shower. This process removes 98 per cent. of the solid matter, making the air in the store purer than the air outside. The air is then drawn through an eliminator, where every particle of dampness is removed. From the eliminator, the air goes to a reheater, where it is heated to any degree desired. This is regulated by means of thermostats. It then proceeds by means of huge ducts to various parts of the store.

The Bamberger building represents the final word in store construction. It will be regarded as a model for many years to come. There are many features about it which may never be improved upon. Judged by present day standards, it is perfect.

The telephone switch-board, which is made up of thirty outside or "trunk lines," is large enough to serve a city the size of Harrison, N. J. It requires seven operators in addition to a "wire chief."

There are six entrances to the new store. Five for the public, and one for employes. Four of these entrances are protected by ornamental iron marquees.

The main floor ceiling is fully eighteen feet in height, which is considered extraordinary even in these days of lofty ceilings. The ceilings of the other floors are proportionately high, the basement in particular, being higher than is usually the case in department stores. It is needless to say the high ceilings throughout the store mean better ventilation.

Commodious wrapping stations are conveniently located in different parts of the store. Pneumatic tubes convey the cash carriers from these stations to the cashiers' desks, one of which is located in the basement and one on the fourth floor.

Notwithstanding that the New Bamberger store is a model of fireproof construction, in fact, one of the most fireproof structures in existence, no expense has been spared to prevent the spread of fire.

The water supply for fire protection purposes consists of a 1,000-gallon fire pump, located in the basement; one 6-inch low-pressure connection with the city mains, and two 6-inch connections with the high-pressure city mains. Suction for the pump is taken from a 20,000 gallon surge tank on the roof. This is supplied by the low-pressure city main already mentioned.

There are also three 4-inch Siamese steamer connections, from which fire engines can pump directly into the trunk main system, which is buried three feet below the basement floor.

The building is protected from fire by a complete automatic sprinkler system. In all stories except the eighth, the piping is concealed between the false ceiling and the floor beams above. The sprinkler heads project through this false ceiling, the spacing being 7 feet 4 inches in one direction, and 12 feet in the other. Each head covers an area of 88 square feet. The total number of heads is 5,210.

The Greater Barmberger Restaurant is situated on the fifth floor of the new building. It occupies the entire Washington street wing and is nearly twice the size of the restaurant in the old store. It has a seating capacity of over six hundred.

Not a single kitchen implement—dish, knife, or spoon, table cloth or napkin that has seen service in the old store, will be seen in the new Bamberger restaurant.

The kitchens are among the most complete in the country. Everything is of the most modern type. There are few great hotels that can boast of so many new appliances. The walls and floors are composed of sanitary tiling, which may be washed the same as a dish. A complete baking plant has been installed.

The ovens, ranges, broilers, etc., are of the most approved type.

The old-fashioned "ice box" is now a thing of the past. The refrigerators in the new Bamberger kitchens are equipped with coils which maintain an even freezing temperature at all times. No ice is allowed to come in contact with any of the meats or vegetables.

There will be about twenty-five people employed in the kitchen alone, while eighty competent and obliging waitresses will serve quickly and noiselessly.

Separated from the general restaurant, by a glass wall, there will be a large smoking restaurant where men may enjoy the comforts of their after-dinner cigars.

Notwithstanding all this convenience, cleanliness and luxury, there will be no advance in prices.

Time was, and not so very long ago, when merchants boasted of the fact that they were "not in business for their health." Not being in business for their own health's sake, they were naturally unmindful of the health of others.

The merchant of the modern school is in business for his health and for the health of those under him. Good health begets an alert mind and alertness is an asset nowadays.

The new Bamberger store contains a well appointed employes' restaurant, where good food is served at very moderate prices. This restaurant is not a cramped or illy lighted affair, either. It is big and roomy, and, being situated on the eighth floor, has the benefit of all the pure sunlight and fresh air possible.

Adjoining the big "daylight" restaurant is a rest and recreation room where the employes may gather during the noon hour and read or rest or play games, as the spirit wills. This room is also big and light and roomy.

There is also a well appointed hospital in the new store, fully equipped and in charge of a kindly nurse who knows how to minister to those who are ill. There is also a regular physician who attends employes in need of medical advice. All medicines are furnished free.

The lavatory features of the new store are probably without equal anywhere. The employes will be provided with twelve large wash-rooms in which will be found hot and cold water and plenty of clean linen.

There are sixteen elevators in the new Bamberger store; ten for passengers; one for employes, and five for freight. These elevators have an aggregate capacity of 64,000 pounds, or thirty-two tons.

The passenger elevators are divided into two batteries of five each. One of these batteries is located on the Halsey street side of the new building, the other is situated in the rear of the big store midway between Washington and Halsey streets.

The cars are 8½ feet wide and 5½ feet deep. Every one who has ridden in them marvels at their size. The doors are of the newest collapsible type, which, when folded back, practically open up the entire front of the car. This makes ingress and egress very easy and rapid.

Each elevator is provided with a telephone so that, in case of emergency, the runner may communicate with the engineer or starter.

There are also removable panels in each car, so that in case of a stoppage between floors, passengers may be transferred with safety to another car.

In addition to the great roomy elevators described above, there is a system of escalators, or moving stairways, from the first to the sixth floor, capable of carrying 4,000 persons per hour. These escalators run smoothly and without hitch. It is a pleasure to ride on them.

There are over 34,822 square feet of glass in the new store, or enough to construct a conservatory the size of a large city block.

The new building displaces over 121,000 cubic feet of earth. This earth, if spread over the ground an inch thick, would cover thirty-five acres.

7,500 tons of steel were used in the construction of the building. It would require 250 flat cars to haul this steel, and the train would be a mile long. Six great compound engines would be needed to haul this gigantic load.

575,000 feet of wire are used for lighting purposes. If stretched out in a continuous strand, this wire would reach a distance of 109 miles, or from Newark to Philadelphia and thence to Wilmington, Del.

There are 75,000 feet, or 14½ miles, of steam pipes, enough to carry heat from Newark to Long Island City.

The combined candle power of the electric lights exceeds 400,000. If divided into 16-candle-power lamps and placed at intervals of fifty feet, these lights would light a roadway 236 miles long.

There are 6,626 feet of wall cases in the new store, 3,233 feet of show cases, 2,073 feet of counters and 745 tables of different sizes. These fixtures, arranged in the order that you would find them in the average department store, would form an aisle one mile long.

There are 35,000 square feet of roof space for recreation purposes. Enough to comfortably accommodate 3,000 people.

The new building contains over 500,000 square feet of floor space, or twelve acres. If concentrated on a single floor, the Bamberger store would cover an area equal to twice the size of Military Park, or three times the size of either Washington or Lincoln Park.

The rest room in the new Bamberger store is fit for a queen. There are few stores anywhere that boast of such sumptuous lounging quarters. There are easy chairs and writing desks and settees galore. Adjoining this cozy room is one of the finest lavatories in the country. There are fifteen wash basins in this room, together with thirty-five toilets. Adjoining the rest room is a "silence" room, where tired shoppers may go for rest and meditation.

Adjoining the rest room is a department known as the Bureau of Public Convenience. Here one may consult time-tables, purchase tickets, send messages and solicit all sorts of information. The bureau is in charge of a corps of competent and courteous clerks.

On the eighth floor of the new store will be found two huge, cold dry air storage vaults, with a combined capacity of 30,000 garments. These vaults are of the most advanced type and an even temperature of eighteen degrees will be maintained throughout the year. The Bamberger storage vaults are among the best in existence.

The average big store is regarded as incomplete if it does not contain an auditorium where concerts, lectures and other educational attractions may be held. So far as auditorium facilities are concerned, the new Bamberger store is particularly well off. Located in the Washington street wing of the sixth floor, the visitor encounters a fair-sized theatre, with chairs and stage and dressing-rooms complete. The Bamberger auditorium has a seating capacity of over 700. Many interesting attractions have been planned.

The new Bamberger store contains many new departments, chief among which are furniture, pianos, talking machines, candy, optical goods, electrical goods, hair dressing, Oriental rugs, wallpaper, guns and firearms. The furniture department is particular noteworthy. This vast new section occupies two floors and contains an assortment of furniture of the most approved type. Solid mahogany is used throughout. The ture second to none in New Jersey.

The fixtures in the new store are show cases, wall cases and display fixtures in general are said to be the finest in the country.

The Bamberger store contains one of the most complete private power plants in the country, with boilers capable of generating over 1,600 horse-power. All of the elevators, ventilating fans, lights, refrigerating systems and power machines are operated from within the store.

The Bamberger delivery department, always regarded as a model of its kind, has been increased to an extent which enables the new store to make the promptest deliveries of any store in the whole metropolitan district. The delivery section proper is located in the basement of the old building. Two large tunnels have been bored under Halsey street, making a quick and convenient passage way between the selling point and the delivery centre. Many wagons have been added and several additional automobiles purchased. The delivery system of the new store reaches out into the remote corners of the State.

COLUMBUS DAY PICTURES.

The motion picture program at the Y. M. C. A. on Saturday will be appropriate to Columbus Day. It will include the following films: "Christopher Columbus," "Little Red Riding Hood," "Lost, Strayed or Stolen," "1,000 Miles Through the Rockies" "Seeing Cincinnati," "Oyster Industry," and "Sheep Shearing in New Mexico."

CLUB ENTERTAINMENT.

A jolly time was enjoyed by the Men's Club, of the Congregational church last night. The evening was spent in playing different games. The individual winners were Joseph Moon, E. L. Morgan, Dr. H. C. Hubbard and Miss Evelyn Fisher.

FEATURES SOX—GIANTS TIE GAME

Some Details of Contest Not Described in Yesterday's Baseball Press.

SCARE FOR SOX IN 8TH

How Giants Scored Three Runs in That Inning—Murray Did Acrobatic Stunt Into Grandstand, But Was Unhurt—Speaker's Home run

Boston, Oct. 10.—This city is breathlessly awaiting the next world's series clash between the Giants and Red Sox. Yesterday's game gave the fans enough to talk about for weeks. It ended with darkness in the eleventh inning with the score a tie, 6 to 6.

The two teams went at it hammer and tongs from the start. The lead swung back and forth, which added to the excitement, already feverish, because of the hard hitting with which the game abounded and the brilliant fielding and jagged fielding. The Giants battled their way from behind and with utmost tenacity hung on to the Red Sox until they had snatched the lead away from them in the eighth inning. Fully as tenacious, the Red Sox replied with heavy fire and tied the Giants in the eighth inning and again in the tenth. The scoring ceased with the tenth inning.

It was the battle scarred veteran Mathewson whom McGraw chose to face the heavy hitting Red Sox and stop them in their determination to go straight down the line winning victories. At recurrent periods Matty was bumped savagely by the Red Sox, but he stood up to the punishment like a major and with stout heart came back with the best he had and survived more than one dangerous situation. He had his usual good control, and that helped him, and he also used his fade away advantageously several times, but when the Red Sox did hit him they everlastingly made the sphere sing and shriek as it cleaved a line to distant points.

Collins Knocked Out of Box.

Not an iota less ruthless was the batting of the Giants. The Giants had the satisfaction of knocking one Boston pitcher out of the box. Ray Collins, the southpaw, pride of the Hub, was forced to vacate the eminence in the eighth inning so vehement was New York's onslaught in that period.

An error by Lewis, however, a muffed fly, opened the way to the slugging soiree which rocked Collins from his throne, and it was a costly error. Yet it was Boston's only error. The Red Sox outfielded the Giants. They were steadier, but showed no more fully in the brilliant fielding plays, which came often. The only inexpensive New York misplay was a muffed foul by Merkle. Fletcher was the weak spot in the New York fortress. His errors were extremely costly. In truth, five Boston runs can be traced directly to the transgressions of the unfortunate Fletcher. He muffed a liner and lost a liner, missed a throw for a double play; he muffed a throw to stop a steal, and he let a grounder go through him. There were men on bases every time he did these things, and the men on bases scored.

As the battle tightened in the later innings there was much manipulation of forces and deploying of the reserves by the rival managers. McGraw's moves in the transfer line served well even if they didn't enable him to win. Stahl displayed nice judgment at knowing just the right moment to take a pitcher out, and his dismissal of Collins in the eighth was summary. Speaking of Collins, he is a slow pitcher and the time consumed in peering at the catcher to get the sign increased the length of the game.

Murray's Acrobatic Feat.

The sun burst forth along toward the last half of the game and Murray was shifted to the left pasture to escape the sun. It was while he was doing transplanted duty that he backed out to the low fence in front of temporary seats for a fly with no thought of his own safety, plunged backward and headlong into the seats behind. He disappeared completely from sight. Spectators rushed to his aid, but he was all right, barring a shinning up and losing his cap.

HOOPER STEALING SECOND

Boston Player Snapped by Camera at Fenway Park Yesterday.

© 1912, by American Press Association.

All kinds of chances were taken by the Giants and Red Sox in the second world's series game at Boston. Daring base running and sensational fielding abounded. Hooper is here shown pilfering the middle bag.

Larry Gardner was slammed full in the face by a hot grounder of Meyers' propulsion, but he, too, stuck to his post. In the tenth inning Speaker hit a hot one to the center field boundary. It flew back to Becker, who relayed it to Shafer. Speaker tried for a home run and reached the goal only because Wilson muffed the throw in on the bound. Speaker was angry all over when he got up, declaring that Herzog had tried to block him at third base. He appealed to Rigler, and when the inning was over started out toward Herzog. Doyle met him halfway and acted as peacemaker. The incident caused no little comment, but it was the only sign of ill will.

There was a ground rule that a ball hit into the temporary left field stand should count as a two bagger only. Only a small proportion of hits went to waste and in the timeliness of their drives the Boston's were a shade the better. They made three of their runs with two out to two thus acquired by the Giants.

Will Play Today in Boston.

According to the rules governing the world's series, the drawn battle must be played over here today. In case of rain the teams will remain in this city until game No. 2 has been decided.

The players will share in the receipts, however, just as if there had been a winner. This play-off will not cause confusion for Boston fans, inasmuch as holders of reserved seats for the regularly scheduled second game in this city will be admitted. The Giants and Red Sox are now scheduled to play in New York on Friday, coming back here for Saturday's game.

While the rival teams naturally were disappointed by the outcome of the struggle, each being most eager to win, the players after Umpire Silk O'Loughlin had called the game on account of darkness said that it was just as well as the men needed a good night's sleep. The players had an experience which put many of them, highly strung as they are, in rather bad humor. After the victory of the Red Sox in New York on Tuesday, the teams hurried to a special train which had been chartered to bring them and the national commission here. The train left New York at 5 o'clock and was scheduled to arrive in this city at 10 o'clock, but owing to the wreck of a train at Saybrook Junction the train did not pull into the South station until 2:30 in the morning.

The food in the two dining cars had been consumed before 7 o'clock so that the ball players had nothing to eat until they stepped out of the train. The Red Sox hurried to their homes, but the Giants raided a beanery and an all night lunch wagon outside of the railway station and ate heartily. They did not tumble into bed until 3:30 o'clock, so that when the sunlight began to stream through the windows of their hotel further slumber was impossible. Lunch and breakfast were combined, and McGraw had his men ready to go to Fenway park shortly after 12 o'clock. Last night the Giants and Red Sox hit the hay early so to be right on edge for a decisive battle when they lock horns again this afternoon.

JUST TAPS BY "BUNTS"

Eleven innings to a 6-6 tie. That's going some, but think what might have happened if Boston had won another. Close call, don't let it happen this afternoon.

As on Tuesday, Jake Stahl was the first Bostonian to strike out. Matty was at his best and although he did not chalk up any great pile of strikeouts he had far less to do in retiring the Red Sox than the rival pitchers had to do in retiring the Giants. The four pitchers who took part in the game twirled a total of 290 balls over the pan and the three Boston heavers had to throw 34 more than Matty. He averaged 11 7-11 balls per inning and set up a record when he was compelled to put twenty-three balls over to retire the side in the first.

The crowd in front of the Daily Press office was even larger yesterday than on Tuesday and the sentiment of the wild mob seemed to be pretty evenly split up between Boston and New York. The final returns were sent out to the crowd three minutes after the game ended.

A decided shift occurred just before the game started and two changes had to be made before the contest began. Josh Devore's arm was injured in practice and is so badly swollen that the little fellow may be out of the game for the rest of the series. He tried to warm up but the arm was so weak that McGraw sent Becker to centre field and moved Snodgrass to left.

The sun came out in the second half of the fifth and shone so brightly that Murray and Snodgrass were at once forced to change places as the former cannot cover the sun field.

At any rate we are glad that the fans enjoyed themselves, of course some one had to win the game—not this time though.

Take a little tip and bet on the Giants today. Probable score—N. Y. 5, Boston 2.

Some people say that Fletcher ought to be Oslerized, well, maybe he will redeem himself today.

By the way, how did you like "Bill" Nash's second reign at the megaphone? The strenuous playing of the day before did not seem to have much effect on his vocal powers.

Tommy Muir is rooting for Boston and he is due to lose something besides his breath this afternoon, poor boy.

Hammy is wearing a broad smile today and also is smoking ten-cent cigars. The reason?

The wise guys are tipping the slow ones off. It won't be finished by Saturday, is their cry. There's a reason.

Marquard against O'Brien is the dope today.

HOLY CROSS PRACTISE AT HYDE FIELD

Holy Cross warriors will be called out to the Hyde Field gridiron tomorrow night to put on the finishing touches for the big game with Dewitt-Clinton next Saturday afternoon. Hamilton wants every available candidate to report at the field as early as possible and a definite line of attack will be planned for the coming game which is expected to be one of the hardest of the season for the local eleven.

Although Manager Doyle has not definitely arranged the game for Saturday afternoon, he is trying to bring the New York High School team to Cricket Field, and as Saturday is a legal holiday the Metropolitan bunch ought to pull a big crowd.

Philosophical Phelix Says:

FANS WITNESSED GAME OVER 200 MILES AWAY

Vast and Excited Crowd Heard Game at Daily Press Office.

North avenue, in the vicinity of the Daily Press office, was packed yesterday afternoon with a larger crowd than that which heard the score announced during the opening game. The throng was increased by many who had been at the Polo Grounds during the first game and the crowd lined the sidewalks and the center of the street. The crowd who heard the plays reproduced in detail more than 200 miles away from the field had all the tingling suspense and excitement of those on the ground witnessing the game.

The agonizing innings from the seventh until the game was called, kept the crowd breathless, except as cheers broke out when either team tallied. There were moments of panic when it seemed as though either one team or the other would get over the needed run to sew up the game.

When the game was described in detail by "Bill" Nash, the fans were able to supply, by the necessary imagination, all the scenes of the diamond. Enough was said about Fletcher's errors, which proved so costly, to make his ears burn at 200 miles away. The fans who were hammering Murray for his failure to hit the ball in Tuesday's game were put to ample pennance yesterday when he slammed the ball safely three times and his appearance at the bat always brought forth cheers from the crowd.

"12 GOOD MEN AND TRUE" TO BE BIG LEAGUE PLAYERS

William Costello, clerk of the Cleveland insolvency and juvenile courts, has devised a new winter employment for ball players. Costello announced today that he is to summon a jury the latter part of this week, and that every member of it will be a big league ball player, or one who has been a big leaguer. All reside in Cleveland.

This will be the venire as Costello announces it: "Rube" Marquard, New York Giants; "Dode" Packert, Philadelphia National League; William Bradley, Montreal International League; Jimmy Austin, St. Louis American League; "Marty" Craig, Boston American League; Napoleon Lajoie, Cleveland American League; "Steve" Evans, St. Louis National League; "Paddy" Livingston, Toledo American Association; Frank and James Delehanty, Minneapolis American Association; "Billy" Evans, American League umpire, and Charles Smith, Chicago National League.

Costello says baseball players think fast and should make good jurors.

REMOVE RESTRICTION FROM 4-BALL MATCHES

Change in Rules on Country Club Course—Columbus Day Events.

The golf committee of the Plainfield Country Club has decided to make a change in the rules now in force regarding four-ball matches. The present rules forbid such matches starting except within certain prescribed time limits. Beginning with Columbus Day these rules will be abolished entirely and four ball matches will be given the same standing as single matches and may start at any time. Single matches will no longer have right of way, but a four-ball match which fails to hold its place, may be passed by the following match in conformity with the regular rules of golf.

Players taking part in four-ball matches must, however, be very careful to observe the rule that all the players must leave the green immediately after one of the players has won the hole. In other words after a hole has been won or halved, the remaining players must not hole out their puts for their score, but lift their balls and leave the green clear for the match following.

Matches failing to observe this rule shall be considered to have lost their standing and must give way immediately to the match following. Where a medal play event is scheduled, as on a Saturday or holiday, if any of the players in a four-ball match are competing for that event they are entitled to hole out for their score regardless of whether it will affect the four-ball match or not, but the committee recommends that where players are competing in such events, they play single matches in preference to fourball matches. This is the only exception to the rule above stated.

It is the intention of the committee to try out this new arrangement for the rest of the year in order to give it a thorough test. Players are requested to make any suggestions that may occur to them to the golf committee which is trying to determine a satisfactory rule for next season.

The present rule forbidding players from cutting in at the 13th tee after 2 p. m. on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, has been changed to allow them to cut in at that point up to 2:30 p. m. Matches playing the full round have right of way, however, over those cutting in.

A number of events are scheduled for Columbus Day. The finals for the club championship will be between W. Lester Glenney and William T. Glenney, and the beaten eight, first sixteen, between H. R. Stockton and A. J. Watson. Both these matches are at 36 holes, match play. The finals for the second sixteen and beaten eight in that division are between Duncan W. Taylor and D. O. Rogers and T. S. Wheeler and G. M. Holstein, respectively, and the finals for the third sixteen between H. G. Phillips and John P. Stevens, who is vice president of the club. These matches are at 18 holes, match play handicap. There will be a four-ball 18 holes medal play handicap, selective score for the day.

In this last named event all scores must be returned by 5 p. m. Teams must consist of two players both of whom are in the same class. There will also be an 18 hole medal play handicap. Players may play either in the morning or afternoon for this event, but the round which a player makes immediately after he has posted his name as an entrant is the only round which will count. An entrance fee of 25 cents will be charged in each of these events.

Players are urged to give right of way when requested to the finalists in the various championship events. On October 19, the Cranford Golf Club will send a team of sixteen players to compete with the team from the Plainfield Country Club in a four-ball team match. This will be the second match between these two clubs this year, the first being played at Cranford last month and won by the country club. In courtesy to the Cranford players the team matches will have the right of way over all other matches on that day.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

TUMBLING AND GYMNASTIC TEAM FORMED AT Y. M. C. A.

A tumbling and gymnastic team was organized at the Y. M. C. A., last evening. Henry Kinney was elected manager and Albert Hansen, a well known North Plainfield tumbler, was made captain. The team is to give exhibitions of drills, work in tumbling and pyramid building during the fall and winter seasons.

E. C. Ostlin, the physical director, has worked out a program for the class. A medley drill, in which everything that is done in the gymnasium without apparatus will be held, with sixteen or more men. The gymnastic and tumbling teams will be made up of eight or ten of the best men. The other men will be trained for drill and pyramid work.

Wednesday evening of each week, between 7 and 8:30, the only men that will be allowed on the "gym" floor will be the ones that belong on the tumbling and gymnastic teams. At 8:30 o'clock the floor will be turned over to the basketball teams for practice.

The exhibition of the teams will be given for churches and clubs, free of charge, all over the State.

HIGH SCHOOL TENNIS TOURNAMENT STARTS

The Plainfield High School tennis tournament for boys was begun yesterday afternoon. Four matches were held, one in the preliminary round and three in the first round. Curtis Dall has been the star racquet wielder of the contest thus far. He is making an excellent showing in the interscholastic tennis tourney under the auspices of the Princeton Club. The finals of this latter contest will be held at the Plainfield Country Club, Columbus Day.

The scores yesterday were:

First round—Mathew Coughlan defeated Edward Middlekauff, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2.

Leroy Ellis defeated Edson Woodhull by default.

Curtis Dall defeated Robert Gavett, 6-2, 6-2.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

TOOTHSOME RELISHES.

IN spite of the fact that one may buy in the shops all sorts of pickles, jams, jellies, and preserves, there are many housewives who prefer to make their own. They are thus assured of pure food carefully prepared.

To Whet the Appetite.

Chili Sauce.—Take a dozen large chopped tomatoes, two medium sized onions and three green peppers chopped fine, two tablespoonfuls of salt, three cupfuls of vinegar, one tablespoonful of mustard, one teaspoonful each of cinnamon and nutmeg, two tablespoonfuls of sugar. Cook until of the right consistency or about one and one-half hours, then bottle for use.

Chutney.—Take four pounds of firm ripe tomatoes which have been chopped, one pound of tart minced apples, one cupful seeded raisins, six small onions and one and one-half pints pure cider vinegar. Let simmer a few minutes before adding one pound of brown sugar, four ounces of salt, two saltspoonfuls of cayenne pepper, one ounce crushed mustard seed and one-half ounce powdered ginger. Cook gently an hour or more until quite soft, then put through a sieve and set aside to cool. For several days stir daily, then seal in jars.

Excellent Condiments.

Tomato Relish.—Take a peck of ripe tomatoes, chop fine and add to them one cupful each of grated horseradish, white mustard seed, chopped onion, brown sugar, chopped nasturtium seed, three stalks of chopped celery, two red peppers, one-half cupful of salt, one tablespoonful each of ground black pepper and cinnamon and one teaspoonful of powdered cloves. Stir well; add a quart of vinegar; mix together and bottle without cooking.

Winter Relish.—Take two quarts of white onions, two heads of cabbage, six green peppers, six heads of celery, two heads of cauliflower, two quarts of green tomatoes, six red peppers and one ounce of celery seed. Sprinkle with salt and let stand overnight. In the morning drain and cook until tender in a sauce made by mixing two cupfuls of flour with three pounds of brown sugar, an ounce of mustard seed and a gallon of vinegar. The flour must form no lumps.

CHIC STYLES.

Picturesque Finish For an Effective Frock.

A wide lace scarf set arranged in fichu effect makes a very picturesque finish for a frock. It can be caught at the waist with ribbon and a buckle.

A number of the coat suits this fall are banded with braid. The bands

MOTHERS' WORK

Conducted by the Plainfield Mothers' Association. Every Thursday

Contributing Staff.
Mrs. G. Stuart Simons, Mrs. Jos. Smith, Mrs. Wm. M. Sandford, Jr.

The Daily Press for Thursdays containing the column on Mother's Work will be sent by mail for one dollar a year, in advance.

A meeting of the executive officers of the New Jersey Congress of Mothers was held last Friday at the home of the president, Mrs. Augustus H. Reeve, Riverton. Arrangements were completed for the annual meeting, which will be held at Riverton, November 8 and 9. Last year the annual meeting of the N. J. Congress of Mothers was held at Plainfield. All who attended remember the impetus given to the work for the welfare of the child. The meeting next month has been carefully arranged and the best speakers engaged. All Parent-Teacher Associations and Mothers' Clubs, which belong to the Congress, should arrange promptly for the sending of the delegates as this is one of the greatest advantages of belonging to the State Congress.

On October 24, 25 and 26, the Philadelphia League of Home and School Associations will hold its fifth annual conference, opening its session by a dinner at 6:30 o'clock in the drawing room of the New Century Club, at 124 South Twelfth street, at which the topic for consideration will be "Social Centres," with Walter T. Sumner, dean of Chicago University, as principal speaker, followed by Archbishop E. F. Prendergast, Bishop F. Rhinelander, Bishop J. F. Berry and Rev. Dr. Henry Berkowitz.

Friday morning, at the same place, the second session will be held for an open discussion of the Aims, Purposes and Working Plans of the League, including the subjects of School Luncheons, Futher Use of School Buildings, Membership, Literature, Home and School Visitors, Reconstructed Fourth of July, Social and Moral Education, Teaching Children Thrift by Means of the Penny Bank, and Financing the League Work, all to be opened by able speakers of experience in their several departments.

On Friday evening, October 25, the Mayor of Philadelphia will address the meeting at the West Philadelphia High School, Forty-sixth and Walnut streets, on the High School Situation in Philadelphia.

On Saturday morning, October 26, at ten o'clock, at the William Penn High School at Fifteenth and Mt. Vernon streets, the last meeting of the session will be held.

The topic for consideration will be "Constructive Activities," under the headings of the Penn. Congress of Mothers, Camp-fire Girls, School of Mothercraft, Kindergarten Helps for the Home, After School Clubs and Choosing Books for Boys and Girls. Dr. Martin Brumbaugh, superintendent of schools, will close the conference by summing up the three days' sessions, and suggestions for future work.

"There is no sphere—as parents are too apt to forget—in estimating the importance of living with their children—in which the physcological moment is so important than in the training of children. The action which a mother has seen in the morning should often first be mentioned by the child's bedside at night; the confidence which at the right moment might have burst from the child's lips will never be given if the father has not availed himself of that moment; the words which pained the mother this week, must wait perhaps until next, before a natural opportunity of effectively combating them occurs. The caress for which a little head feverishly longs this evening will perhaps leave it tomorrow indifferent. The word of affection which might have been all-powerful at one moment is powerless a couple of hours later. And above all, direct advice or correction is worthless in comparison with the unpremediated words that parents let fall in the course of the day, with the result that the child simply sees the full human life of its parents.

"Come let us live with our children"—those interests, however good, which keep parents from daily, hourly, simple, loving, human companionship and comradeship with their children are for both to be deplored, as the opportunities thus lost for sympathetic understanding with the little ones cannot be overestimated or regained.

The story of "The Rainbow," which Henry Miller will present at the Plainfield Theatre Monday, October 21, is direct and unstudied in its appeal. Neil Sumner, who has been separated from his wife for twelve years, has lived a somewhat lonesome existence in spite of the group of gay associates who have assisted him to spend his income. He has reached a period of life when the future seems gray and the past sere. Suddenly his horizon is illumined by a rainbow—a rainbow of promise, promise of new and wholesome joys in the freshness and youth of his 17-year-old daughter, Cynthia, who returns from France, where she has lived with her mother since the separation. It is this daughter who stirs the heart of Sumner, and causes the once gray ashes to glow with warmth. She is for him a rebirth into a fair and joyous world. His old companions are distasteful to the father now, because he wishes to shield Cynthia from their atmosphere of moral and social unhealthiness. But Cynthia's mother fears for her daughter's future, if allowed to remain in her father's home. The girl is suddenly snatched from her father and taken back to France. The final chapter in the romance concerns the readjustment of the domestic relationship and a most affecting reunion of father and daughter. The story gives Mr. Miller a wonderfully effective role, and he plays it with compelling tenderness and sympathy. He receives brilliant support from a really notable company—the same cast that created the roles a year ago, and continued in Mr. Miller's support throughout the all-season run at the Liberty Theatre in New York last year.

Aside from lessons of tireless industry and unlimited patience which are impressed by a pictorial nature study of "The Bee Industry" to be presented by Lyman H. Howe at the Plainfield theatre, October 25-26, close observers will also note the calmness, poise and self-possession of the apiarist. The bees tolerate no one without such qualifications. People with "nerves" could find no surer rest or nerve cure than living among the bees and allowing the little fellows to train them habits of self-control. They would find them more beneficial in this respect than a trip to Europe, and would see so much that is wonderful in their little lives that they would not have time to think of "nerves" or anything else. Another feature to be presented depicts every phase and detail of the burial of the Maine. Mr. Howe's camera men photographed the rare spectacle from every angle and also every incident of the entire ceremony leading up to the Maine burial. As the vessel struggles and finally sinks slowly as though fighting against her fate, the cameras record the closing scene in a manner that makes a profound impression. Among the twenty other subjects are those showing a thrilling race between a hydroplane and an 800 horse power motor boat at Monte Carlo, whaling, picturesque rivers of France, Paris—"The City Beautiful"—all in nature's own glorious tints, new studies of animal life; also a battle royal with a fericious lion during which the latter makes a frenzied leap to devour a terrified horse which is saved only by a well-aimed bullet fired not an instant too soon.

The unmistakable, unanimous verdict of praise accorded to "The Common Law," a dramatization of Robert W. Chambers' justly famous novel, determined Manager A. H. Woods to allow all sections of the country to pass critical judgment upon the merits of this remarkable play. Mr. Woods has turned loose four distinct organizations for the presentation of "The Common Law" which are touring in different directions, each one being interpreted by a cast unsurpassed for general excellence and the productions thoroughly equipped in every particular. "The Common Law" will be offered here Monday, October 14, at the Plainfield theatre. Mr. Chambers, the author of this strange and unconventional book of fiction, is recognized as being our most representative story teller, and in this, his latest and most sensational work, he has not only startled readers with his audacity but has furnished new arguments in favor of the social precepts bearing upon the marriage relation. "The Common Law" as a play is, in all probability, one of the most convincing dramas of heart interest offered in many years. There is a big melodramatic scene introduced, too, which Manager Woods has taken true advantage of, both in the acting quality and scenic embellishment.

N. P. H. S. NOTES.

The electric clocks are now working and the period bells ringing. For change of periods two bells now ring instead of one. The first is for dismissal from classes and the second, two minutes later, is for classes to come to order. This arrangement makes less confusion than before and classes are begun without delay with the second bell.

At a meeting of the Athletic Association Financial Committee yesterday it was decided that the interclass champion junior tennis team should not receive cups but the only prizes to be awarded will be given to the faculty team, champions of the school. Professors Phelps and Webster will each receive a loving cup suitably engraved for their great playing.

The committee, which consists of the captains and managers of all athletic teams and the treasurer of the association, decided that the junior team deserve nothing but the honor because they were finally defeated by the crack faculty team. But the juniors think it no disgrace to be defeated by such a team especially when they made the teachers play five sets. Although the third classmen will receive no prize they worked hard and long for the honor of the class. It was decided by the committee to give a silver medal to the High School champion in singles. This tournament will be run off next week and will probably be open to two representatives of each class. This includes the post-graduates but excludes the faculty entirely.

The chemistry class is so large it has been necessary to divide the class into two divisions for laboratory work. The first section meets Monday afternoon from 1:30 to 3:00, and the second section meets Thursday at the same time.

The Camp Fire Girls, a newly organized part of the Sigma Gamma Kappa, held their first meeting yesterday. Application cards were made out and Miss Terry, the history teacher, who has charge of the club, sent an application for guardianship. The girls will get signet rings instead of pins.

The High School basbetball team has decided to purchase black sweaters with maroon trimmings. There will be no pockets in the sweaters, which will have high collars.

SUPPRESSION OF FACTORY WHISTLE LAW WOULD BE VALID—BERGEN

The Fact That it Might Be Unenforcible in Some Cases Would Not Affect its Validity and Courts Would Sustain General Ordinance Frank Bergen Advises George Clay.

Responding to the question put by George S. Clay, chairman of the Common Council's public affairs committee, as to whether he would advise the passage of an ordinance prohibiting the blowing of factory whistles, Frank Bergen, acknowledged one of New Jersey's very best lawyers, says that he would. In answer to Mr. Clay's queries whether the Common Council has lawful power to do so and whether in his opinion should the ordinance be enacted it would be sustained by the courts as a lawful exercise, Mr. Bergen answers yes.

Corporation Counsel William M. Stillman had advised the Common Council, in the course of an opinion, to this effect:

"In my opinion any general ordinance passed by your honorable body, attempting or providing for the entire suppression of all factory whistles, would be adjudged unreasonable and therefore void, as each factory would necessarily stand on its own merits."

When consulted by the Daily Press, this paper taking exception to the soundness of the corporation counsel's opinion, Mr. Bergen, in an opinion published in this paper in answer to a question as to whether such a practice constituted a nuisance and was therefore within the power of the Common Council to stop, said that it was "in a city like Plainfield." This opinion prompted Mr. Clay to then ask, whether Mr. Bergen would advise the passage of an ordinance. Here's Mr. Bergen's opinion on that subject:

"Editors, Plainfield Daily Press::

"I think the notion that troubles Mr. Stillman and Mr. Clay is that if a general ordinance should be passed prohibiting the blowing of all whistles in Plainfield it might be unenforcible in some cases where the blowing of a particular whistle might not disturb the neighborhood, but that would not affect the validity of a general ordinance, only its application. In the case of North Jersey St. Ry. Co. v. Jersey City, reported in 75 New Jersey Law Reports at page 349, the Supreme Court considered an ordinance passed by the Board of Street and Water Commissioners of that city, which directed the street railway company to run enough street railroad cars from the terminals at the Pennsylvania and Erie stations to provide seats for all passengers between five-thirty and seven o'clock in the evening. The ordinance was taken up to the Supreme Court on certiorari, where it was shown that it was impossible for the company to comply with the ordinance during the rush hours at the Pennsylvania terminal. The court held that the ordinance should not be set aside, but that if its application in any particular instance would be unreasonable that fact could be shown as a defense in a prosecution to enforce the ordinance.

"No doubt a similar ruling would be made in case a general ordinance should be passed to prohibit the blowing of whistles in Plainfield.

"Very truly yours,
"FRANK BERGEN."
Newark, N. J., Oct. 10, 1912.

WHISTLES NOW CAUSE PROTEST IN ELIZABETH

Elizabeth, Oct. 11.—The smoke nuisance, which has been discussed time and again by the Board of Health, was again taken up by the body at the meeting held last night. E. E. Kerwin, superintendent of the Central Railroad company, was present at the meeting and he reported that few complaints had been made during the past month by residents living along the railroad's right of way. Further, he stated that the engineers employed by the road had been given orders to do their coaling before getting to or after passing the residential sections of the city.

It was reported by residents along the railroad tracks that the nuisance has been abated to quite an extent, but that the whistling of locomotives caused them annoyance. Superintendent Kerwin stated that the number of trains that stop at Lorraine was the cause of the whistling.

Fans gathered in front of the Daily Press office listening to the story of the Giants-Red Sox game yesterday afternoon, as told play by play by use of a huge megaphone. As each play was made from the start to the finish of the great contest it was reported by the Stock Quotation Telegraph Company's general news service ticker, a part of the news service equipment of the Daily Press and was quickly announced to the enthusiastic mob of fans. Five minutes after the struggle was over, the special baseball extra of the Daily Press was on the street and as usual away ahead of any other newspaper and with a superb detailed account of the world's championship battle. The picture reproduced above was taken by Raul Collier, photographer and arts and sporting goods dealer, just as the "terrible ninth" opened.

BOSTON NOW HAS TWO OUT OF THREE—SCORE 3 TO 1

New York, Oct. 11.—In a closely fought contest on a wet and comparatively slow field, Boston again defeated New York this afternoon before a crowd of 38,000, the largest yet to turn out for the series.

Score by innings:

Polo Grounds, New York, Oct. 11.—With a diamond inclined to be slow, and very soft in spots because of the heavy rain of early this morning, the Giants and Red Sox began their third battle to determine the world's baseball championship for 1912.

There are 38,000 estimated to be present. The Polo Ground gates were opened at 11:10 a. m. There was a great rush for seats. The delay in opening the gates was caused by indecision as to whether or not there would be a game because of the weather, and the crowd watched the umpires as they walked around the field to inspect it, and give their final decision as to whether the game would be played today. After completing their inspection and a talk with the team managers, it was officially announced to the waiting fans that the game would be played today unless there was more rainfall. The announcement was greeted with cheers, and as soon as the news got downtown the surface, subway and elevated trains began to drop large crowds at the nearest points to the gates of the ground.

Larry Doyle entered the grounds at 12:45 and was given a rousing round of applause. A big electric gong was set off as Chief Meyers entered and just a minute later Red Murray received a great ovation. The other players closely followed and were given the glad hand by the big enthusiastic crowd, which was increasing every moment.

The Red Sox arrived at 12:55 and the Boston section yelled, as did everybody else. The band played and the electric gong started. There was no change in the weather, the sky remaining overcast. The dollar seats were filled by one o'clock, and the reserved seats were filling slowly. Not a seat was vacant at the cry of "play ball," and thousands were standing.

As Marquard went across the field he was greeted warmly and in fact all the players received ovations as they trotted to the bench. The line-up today:

PROGRESSIVE WOMEN PLAN FOR A MEETING

To Be Held at the Residence of Mrs. Hyde Next Week.

A Progressive party meeting will be held at the residence of Mrs. Frank Hyde at 3:30 o'clock next Tuesday afternoon. The speakers will be Mrs. Frank A. Pattison, of Colonia, a member of the New Jersey Progressive Committee, and an ex-president of the New Jersey Federation of Women's Clubs, and Miss Alice Carpenter, a member of the National Progressive Committee. Miss Carpenter was a delegate from Massachusetts to the National Progressive convention in Chicago, and was the only woman on the committee on resolutions, which drew up the platform of the party. She is a very clever and entertaining speaker, and her presentation of the case for the Progressive party, its platform and principles, will be interesting alike to those in favor of and those opposed to the Progressive movement.

Mrs. Pattison is so well known for her household economics work in the State Federation that she needs no introduction to New Jersey club women.

MANUFACTURERS DEBATE TARIFF

Argument Between Ex-Senator E. R. Ackerman, Pres't Lawrence Cement Co., and Supporter of Republican Policies, and Ex-Mayor W. L. Saunders, Pres't Ingersoll-Rand Co., and Member Democratic State Committee.

(By W. L. Saunders).

Senator Ackerman says: "Foreigners want to see the tariff bars let down because they believe they can capture our markets." They may believe this, but it is a fact that they cannot capture our markets because they haven't got the natural advantages, the brains, money or the skill. The so-called foreign, cheap labor is the most expensive labor in the world. The cheaper it is the more it costs per unit of product, as will be shown later on.

The Senator states that he has "knowledge" that they are "putting up factories" with the intention "to locate one of the plants in Canada" in order to capture our markets. Let him be good enough to tell us the names of the parties concerned or at least the nature of the industry. There are a few industries that might flourish better in Canada than in most sections of the United States, as, for instance, a paper mill, because in the manufacture of paper from 80 to 90 per cent. of the cost is material and power, and as the Canadian water powers and forests are at hand the enterprise may be founded on good economics. But it is difficult to believe that manufacturing industries generally speaking will ever commit the blunder of attempting to supply the American market from Canada.

R. R. ENGINEER IN DEATH TRAGEDY IS REINSTATED

Elizabeth, Oct. 11.—The Brotherhood of Railroad Locomotive Engineers has succeeded in having William Hartman, of Lakehurst, the engineer in charge of the locomotive that killed two women and a man on the Elizabeth avenue crossing of the Central Railroad on Easter Sunday, 1911, reinstated. Hartman was tried for manslaughter, but was acquitted on testimony that there were so many signal lights at Elizabeth avenue that they were confusing.

However, his reinstatement is causing considerable surprise among railroad men. It is the custom of the railroad to discharge an engineer who has had to stand trial for an accident. A reinstatement under such circumstances is rare.

CRESCENT AVENUE CLUB INVITES MEN TO LECTURE

Ernest K. Coulter, the founder and head of the Big Brother Movement, is to speak before the Men's Club of the Crescent Avenue church on Tuesday evening, October 15, his subject being the brother movement. Mr. Coulter is well-known as a lecturer with very exceptional gifts as a speaker, and is perhaps better fitted to discuss the boy problem than any living man.

He was for ten years clerk of the Children's Court in New York City, and so came in close touch with the eighty or ninety thousand cases which were brought into what he calls the "world's biggest life saving station." He has a vivid way of presenting his theme and, with the desire of giving an opportunity to boy lovers of Plainfield to listen to Mr. Coulter, the Men's Club tenders an invitation to men of other churches and those of no church connection who are interested in this subject to be with them on the occasion mentioned. The meeting is to be held at 8 o'clock in the parlors of the church.

Each member of the order present received as a souvenir of the occasion a handsome watch fob of oxidized silver, bearing the name of the council, together with the dates "1887-1912," while the charter members present were especially remembered by receiving the same kind of a fob, with the extra adornment of a black silk ribbon. Charles C. Davis made a happy response at this time congratulating the council for its achievements.

When the roll was called by Forester Hartpence, a majority of the members responded. Others who could not be present sent greetings as follows: Joseph M. Sweeny, Springfield, Mass.; J. A. Grant, Princeton; Clarence McMurtrie, Perth Amboy; Clarence Leland, Waterbury, Conn.; Harry Kenney, New Britain, Conn.; Edward Vaughan, Westfield; Rev. Roval A. CIRCULATION HONESTY.

One thing which a newspaper should be perfectly frank about is its circulation. When an advertiser buys space in any paper, he is entitled to know exactly what he gets for his money, and it has come to be recognized by foreign and local advertisers that space should be paid for according to the number of papers printed. Since the present owners of the Daily Press took charge of the publication on January 1 last, the circulation records have been open for inspection for anyone who cared to look at them. It was frankly stated shortly after the change in ownership took place, that the total press run of the paper was about twenty-five hundred. Of that twenty-five hundred only a little more than two thousand papers were paid for, the rest being on the complimentary lists, and as the free list had no excuse for existence it was quickly wiped out. Today the press run is well over the three thousand mark, and is increasing each week, it having frequently been necessary to print from 3200 to 3300 papers to supply the demand. The net paid circulation for the six months ending October first, as required to be sworn to by the new government postal regulations, was printed one week ago tonight, and the figures are an average of 2,865 per issue, or an increase of over 800 paid readers in nine months.

That our advertisers believe that this is not an increase to be ashamed of is shown by the great increase in business and we pledge ourselves to continue to strive to add to this every week from now on.

When the government called for the statement the Daily Press was the first newspaper in this section of New Jersey to print it. We did not wait to see what others were going to do, we promptly printed the net circulation, not the total press run, or in other words the papers given away. It would be well for our advertisers to make a little note on their calendars about the Press circulation on October 1, 1912, and to compare the figures with those which will be printed six months from now. If we have less than at present we will say so frankly, but we expect to have a great deal more. And another thing about the Daily Press readers is what is known to the advertising trade as "quality" which means the real buyers.

One by one they are seeing the error of their way and are fast breaking away from "machine" domination. We mean the hide-bound party organs masquerading as newspapers serving the public. The Trenton State Gazette is the latest to repent. Its announcement of its decision to take itself "out of the list of Republican machine newspapers" contains this cardinal truth:

"The time has come in its career when its publishers believe that their interests and the interests of its readers demand that it shall treat public questions without political bias and give the news of the day without regard for personal friendship. The State Gazette will be the organ of no political party, nor will it be the mouthpiece of any clique, either political or social. The trend of the times is in the direction of independence of thought and independence of action."

In these days of progressive thought and action, the intelligent reader has little respect for the opinions of a newspaper that is merely a poll-parrot for some political boss or some political machine. The genuine newspaper is one that is independent and at the same time dares to stand for what it considers right and for the best interests of the people. It advocates measures and policies and supports candidates regardless of gang, faction or party and the public welfare is always its guide.

As one of the original features of the Daily Press, the Saturday contributed editorial has proven to be a winner. Representative Plainfielders are the writers and are free to express any views they desire. The contributing editor for tomorrow will be Rev. William S. McCoy, rector of the Church of the Holy Cross. His subject will be "The Co-operation of Parents with Church and School."

The tariff debate being carried on in the Daily Press by former State Senator E. R. Ackerman, Republican, and former Mayor W. L. Saunders, Democrat, is very instructive to the voters. These two representative Plainfielders both happen to be captains in manufacturing industry. On the first page today will be found Dr. Saunders' sur-rejoinder.

N. P. H. S. NOTES.

At the opening exercises today, Charles Drum, of New York, gave an address on "Independence."

George C. Webster's brother, of Oswego, New York, was a visitor at High School yesterday.

William Taylor, a graduate of 1912 and a post-graduate this year, has quit school to take a position in the city. He was crack basketball player and his absence will leave a big gap in the basketball lineup this year. His place will be filled by either Roy Love or Duclos Van Mater.

The High School literary meeting, which was to have been held on next Tuesday, has been postponed indefinitely. President Fetherstone has handed in his resignation to the society. The society will be run on a different basis hereafter.

There has been a change in the afternoon session of the High School. The session will start at 1:45 instead of 3 p. m., as heretofore. This arrangement will give the students more of the afternoon to themselves.

The Sigma Gamma Kappa Club has an enrollment of fifty girls. This means that over two-thirds of the girls in High School belong.

The freshmen class held a meeting yesterday to decide on colors and dues. Many sets of colors were put up but when the final vote was taken blue and gold came out ahead.

Professor Mertz, head of the English department, is planning a trip to New York to see Shakespeare's plays, "Macbeth" and "Merchant of Venice." A trip was taken last year to see "Oliver Twist" and a large party went, enjoying a fine evening. As the present junior class is studying "Macbeth" it is likely the entire class will go. The trip is limited to the juniors and seniors.

A rehearsal of the junior play was held last night at the home of Miss Lucile Ewart and all members of the cast were present. Everyone worked earnestly and Miss Terry, the coach, is well pleased.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The football team will play the High School of Commerce Second eleven tomorrow afternoon. The following men are to report for the 11:52 train to New York: Peacock, Capt. VanZandt, Carty, Good, Dunwell, Butler, Jenkins, White, Herman, McDowell, Green, Du Bois, Schenck, and Noonan. They will play on American League Park.

The Senior class pin committee consisting of the Misses Marguerite Arnold and Margaret Russell and Messrs. Albert Bryniaski and Silas Guttridge, have selected five pins and have submitted them to the vote of the class.

The matches of the tennis tournament held yesterday resulted as follows: First round—Arthur Briggs defeated William Davenport, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3; Douglas Henderson defeated McAeneny, 6-1, 6-0; Carter Goodrich defeated Dickinson, 6-0, 6-0. Second round—Matthew Coughlin defeated Leroy Ellis, 6-0, 6-3.

TO CONSIDER RAISING MORE SCHOOL MONEY

Officials Purpose Making a Much Larger Addition to High School.

A meeting of the Board of School Estimate is called for tonight for the purpose of passing on the question of raising the sum of $260,000 to be added to the amount already allowed, namely $40,000, making in all $300,000, to be used in enlarging, furnishing and repairing the High School building.

The first appropriation contemplated the erection of a six room extension, and it is now proposed to make a very much larger addition. The Board of Education recently decided that it was necessary to raise the above named sum of $300,000 instead of the $40,000 as originally planned, the idea being to take care of the needs of the future.

FRIENDS SURPRISE GUY PECK ON SIXTEENTH BIRTHDAY

DRUM AT P. B. C.

Charles R. Drum, who is to speak at the Y. M. C. A. this evening, delivered an address to the students at the Plainfield Business College and School of English this morning. Moral efficiency and business efficiency was the general theme of the discourse and the intimate knowledge of the speaker with his subject made his talk clear, concise and interesting.

Mrs. Miller will have charge of the Bible study at the meeting of the Primary Graded Sunday-school Union at the Y. W. C. A. Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, instead of 4 o'clock. The topic will be "Deborah." "The Women of the Bible" will be the topic of the Bible study for the coming quarter.

SAYS QUEEN CITY HAS EVIL SPOTS

"NOMINAL" CHRISTIANS

They Are a Hindrance to the Church Workers, Speaker Says—Gospel For the Work Days as Well as Sunday.

Charles R. Drum, evangelist in the Men and Religion Forward Movement, completed his first day in Plainfield with a dinner conference with pastors and laymen of the local churches at the Y. M. C. A. last evening. He was presented to the assembled churchmen by Howard McWilliams.

Mr. Drum took for the topic of his talk to the churchmen, Second Cor. 2:14, "As also ye have acknowledged us in part, that we are your rejoicing, even as ye also are ours in the day of the Lord Jesus." He said in substance: "The knowledge of the Lord is needed all over the world. Through the lack of our giving christianity is suffering and dying the world over.

"Get together, wipe out the evil places in town and make this city a fit place in which to bring up the young. The town is one of the most beautiful I have ever been in, but it has a number of evil places that should be wiped out.

"The men preaching and holding other positions in churches are living epistles and are known and read of all men. 'Ye are the Light of the World,' why don't they get on the job and do something for the advancement of christianity among men and boys. They may be worth any amount of money, own business and other things but that does not help the progress that the pastors are striving for, they are hindering, not helping. They should get out and tell what a wonderful Savior we have. Tell it to those that they come in contact with through the day, during business and pleasure, spread it at every chance that they have, then they will be helping the progress of christianity.

"The laymen of the church should be made to feel his responsibility and should use his daily opportunities to spread the word. Nominal christianity is the greatest foe that true christianity has to buck up against."

The meeting was brought to a close with a prayer by A. J. Gavett.

Mr. Drum spoke at the Saurer Motor Truck plant at noon today. This afternoon he will hold a conference with older boys at the Y. M. C. A., and tonight he will hold a conference with every man from 16 to 30 years old on the sex question. After that conference he met with men of 30 and over.

Sunday afternoon Mr. Drum will hold his closing meeting in the Plainfield theatre. The Convention Choir will sing. He will speak on "An Honest Man." Every man is invited to attend this meeting.

DUNELLEN ECHOES TO TREAD OF THE MOOSE

March Precedes Enthusiastic Rally on Lawns of A. A. Gray's Residence.

The Bull Moose woke up staid Dunellen last night. A red fire parade started from the Progressive party's club rooms in the bank building on North avenue at 7:30 o'clock, led by a band. One hundred and fifty men were in line. The paraders marched to the residence of Alvah Gray at Washington avenue and Front street, where speeches of the evening were made from the porch, which was decorated with flags. There were twenty-five Bull Moose leaders with their wives on the porch.

Jesse M. Barton, president of the club, introduced the speakers. Judge Adrian Lyon, of Perth Amboy, spoke on national issues, Mr. Jennings and William Edgar on State issues, and Henry Seidler, on Roosevelt.

Mr. Barto closed the meeting by inviting all the women interested in the movement to meet at the residence of Mrs. Dunovan at Bound Brook next Wednesday night and also inviting those present to join the Progressives at the regular meeting Monday evening next at the headquarters of the club in the bank building. The membership of the club is now 88.

MRS. LEVY'S FUNERAL.

The funeral service of Mrs. M. Levy was held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. Adelberg, 434 East Second street, at noon today. Mrs. Levy's death, which occurred yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, followed a two years' illness with cancer of the stomach. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Adelberg, and Mrs. N. Berger, of Elizabeth. Rabbi Davidson of this city officiated at the service. Burial was in Gateville cemetery, at Bound Brook, this afternoon.

NOMINATE OFFICERS.

Officers for the coming year were nominated at the first fall meeting of the Men's Association of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, last evening. Suggestions were made at the meeting that each member be responsible for the presence of a new man at the next meeting and in this way increase the membership. A social time followed the meeting.

SUSPECT FREED.

Tony Goldstein was arrested early this morning on suspicion of having stolen a bicycle, but as no evidence was produced to prove he came dishonestly by the wheel he was riding, he was allowed to go. Repeated reports have come to the police lately of bicycle thefts, and Chief Kiely has instructed his men to keep an extra watchout for the thieves.

Mrs. John P. Mosher, of Rochester, N. Y., is visiting Mr. Mosher's sisters, Mrs. Amy E. Lorton, Mrs. Austin Stryker, of this city, and Mrs. Edgar Vail, of New Market.

Mrs. M. Smith, of Flatbush, has returned to her home after spending two months with Mrs. J. E. Townsend, of East Fifth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Sandford, of Sycamore avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Wescott, of the Stirling, went to Mt. Holly Fair by auto.

Mrs. Howard Templin, of North avenue, is visiting her father at Harrisburg, Pa.

—A large and choice assortment of fresh vegetables will be offered to the trade at Neuman Bros.' tomorrow. **

MIND READER AT PROCTOR'S.

Proctor's has had many mind reading acts, good, bad and indifferent, but Eva Allen, the mystery girl, has it on them all. The one big feature of the act is that it is worked from the stage; the lecturer does not work from the audience during the act. Miss Allen is a marvel, her answers are wonderfully correct. The cabinet trick at the second show at night has everybody going. Can you solve it? Sophie Everett & Co., in "The Piano Tuner," are screamingly funny. Joe Hardman, the classy humorist, has a line of jokes, songs and walk that will make no over into a different being. Spero and Lovine, singing comedians, are good. Nettie Nice, is a nice girl, has a nice voice, and looks nice in her clothes.

SERVICE SR RELIABILITY

Upward and Onward Plainfield to the Front

Never were truer words spoken than these:

"You can't keep a good man down."

This maxim applies to a city as it does to an individual, and a city can only stand still when its inhabitants become inactive.

Never condemn the town in which you live, remember it's your home; that there is "NO PLACE LIKE HOME" and the man who condemns his home gains respect nowhere.

Plainfield is composed of active, industrious and alert business men and mechanics whose efforts cannot be confined to a small town, hence this city must expand.

These men are the bone and sinew, the vitalizing force of this community. They are men who possess an ideal and their ideal is a BIGGER, BETTER and more PROSPEROUS city than the Plainfield of today.

These men have banded together and are about to inaugurate a plan that will lead to a realization of their cherished ideal.

Today, Plainfield is on the map—that's all, but soon it will take its place among the progressive, industrial, communities of the East, and all will feel proud.

I extend a warm hand-grasp to the men who are working for this enterprise, they have my sincerest wishes for success in booming this, the most favorable place of abode in the State of New Jersey.

POLICE THINK WOMAN'S HOLD-UPS ARE MYTHICAL

The police are beginning to look upon the reports of hold-ups sent in by Miss Stegele, of 622 East Seventh street, with suspicion. Last night she telephoned to the police that a woman with a small child had been held up by two men one East Seventh street, between Kensington avenue and Berckman street shortly before nine o'clock. She said she was attracted by screams of the victim. On October 4, she told the police her mother had been stopped by two men in the same place as last night's occurence, but could not give a description of the assailants. In each case her accounts of the supposed crimes have been vague, the police say.
